(3) "Parts consumed in use" means those parts whose function in the operation of the vehicle results in a dissipation or deterioration of material, either in whole or in part, so that the residue has little or no salvage value.

(4) "Ignition contacts" means tungsten tipped parts such as screws, rivets, levers, arms or discs which are components of ignition circuit breaker assemblies.

(5) "Passenger automobile" means any passenger vehicle, including station wagons and taxicabs propelled by an internal combustion engine and having a seating capacity of less than eleven (11) persons.

(6) "Light truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of less than 9,000 pounds, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(7) "Medium and heavy motor truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of 9,000 pounds or more, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(14) "Distributor" means any person not a producer or supplier whose business consists, in whole or in part, of the sale of replacement parts, as defined in paragraph (a) (1) above, from inventory. Distributor includes wholesalers, jobbers, dealers, retailers and other persons performing a similar function including garages and service stations.

(15) "Consumer" means the owner or operator of the automotive vehicle for which replacement parts are required, or the user of such replacement parts for any other purpose, not including the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, and other agencies listed in paragraph (p) (1) below.

(16) "Inventory" means a stock of new replacement parts held by a distributor for his own account. Inventory does not include any new replacement parts held on consignment or any "as is", rebuilt, reconditioned or reconditionable parts.

Provisions Relating to Production

(b) Production of certain parts to be made as if orders were rated AA-1 and others AA-2X. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, Part 944, replacement parts, for medium and heavy motor trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire equipment, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1), except items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA-1. Replacement parts, for passenger automobiles and light trucks, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) and also items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA-2X.

(c) Special provision for production of truck and bus replacement parts. (1) To provide for production of automotive replacement parts (except parts for passenger automobiles) on orders for civilian use and on other orders to make automotive parts as Class B products, Priorities and CMP Regulations may be disregarded to the following extent: A producer of automotive parts whose facilities scheduled to produce a particular part are scheduled 95% or more for Class A production during a month, may schedule up to 5% of those facilities during the month for production of that part (or any other parts) to fill Class B orders for civilian or other use. In computing the 5% of the facilities referred to above, the term "facilities" means productive man-hours or productive machine-hours, or both. The calculation may be made on the basis of calendar months or of any successive periods of one month each beginning at any time.

(2) Whenever it appears to a producer that production under this paragraph (c) will result in serious interference with the production of orders for the Armed Services, he shall immediately notify the Automotive Division, War Production Board, in order that adjustments may be at once considered.

(3) No production under this paragraph (c) shall be allowed to interfere with any "frozen" schedule of Component Consumption Requirements issued under Order L-1-e or any other "frozen" schedule, as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 18.

(4) As the purpose of this paragraph (c) is primarily to secure additional critical replacement parts for commercial or civilian use, production must be made of those parts which are actually critical, against back orders where they exist.

(d) Correction of critical shortages. Whenever the War Production Board determines that a critical shortage exists in respect to replacement parts, the Board may order any producer or supplier to schedule and deliver his production in such manner as will relieve the shortage; and in addition, may direct any producer or distributor to deliver or sell to any other person, at regularly established prices and terms, such quantities of replacement parts available for civilian distribution as the War Production Board may determine.

(e) Production restricted to enumerated replacement parts; use of critical materials. (1) No producer shall manufacture any parts for use in the repair, maintenance or improvement of passenger automobiles, light, medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles or motorized fire equipment except the items, and their components, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above as items (1) to (53) inclusive.

(2) In the production of such parts no materials shall be used which are prohibited by any orders, regulations or other restrictions on the use of critical materials now or hereafter issued by the War Production Board.

Standardization and Simplification Provisions

(f) Pistons and bearings. On and after November 15, 1943, producers shall make replacement pistons, piston pins, piston rings and engine bearings as components of engines, only according to the following standards:

(1) Pistons as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060 and semi-finished.

(2) Piston pins as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .003, .005, .010.

(3) Piston rings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060; and in addition, for medium and heavy trucks and busses, .080, .100.

(4) Engine bearings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following undersizes: .002, .010, .020, .030, .040, .060, .090 and semi-finished. In addition, connecting rod bearings with oversize outside diameter, and the "special length Ford main bearings".

(g) Ignition contacts. On and after December 1, 1943, all discs cut from tungsten contact rod for ignition contacts for all vehicles shall be cut to a thickness not exceeding .030 inch, plus a tolerance of .002 inch.

Provisions Relating to Distributors' Inventories

(h) Restrictions on distributors' inventories. (1) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in the eastern or central war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a sixty-day (60) supply. Sixty-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding two months period.

(2) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in any other war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a ninety-day (90) supply. Ninety-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding three months period.

(3) Irrespective of the restrictions in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, a distributor may accept delivery of specific items of replacement parts even though his inventory then exceeds, or will by reason of such acceptance exceed, his maximum permissible inventory as specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above. The quantity of such specific items in dollar cost value shall not exceed the dollar cost value of his sales of such items during the preceding thirty days or the last thirty-day period in which a sale was made if the distributor is located in the eastern or central war time zones, and forty-five days in all other zones.

(i) Return of new replacement parts. New replacement parts, returned by a distributor to another distributor, if not included in the inventory of the person receiving the parts during the calendar quarter in which received shall be included in his inventory in the next succeeding calendar quarter.

(j) Disposition of traded-in used parts. No distributor may keep in his inventory, in his possession or under his control any used replacement parts which have been traded in and cannot be reconditioned for a period of more than thirty (30) days after they have been determined to be unserviceable, but he must dispose of them through customary disposal or scrap channels. Traded-in parts which can be reconditioned must be reconditioned, or returned to be reconditioned, as quickly as minimum quantities will permit.

(l) Traded-in ignition contact points to be reclaimed. As tungsten is a highly critical material, traded-in ignition contact points must be saved for possible reclamation. Therefore, they may not be scrapped. Where distributors can not reclaim the tungsten contacts for reuse, they must return them through normal trade channels to producers or suppliers for reclamation.

Provisions Relating to Distribution

(k) No preference ratings required for delivery of replacement parts for resale. No producer or distributor shall require any preference ratings for the purchase or the delivery of finished replacement parts for resale as such, except on Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration orders as provided in paragraph (m). All deliveries of such parts for resale or to consumers may be made as if the orders therefor bore the preference ratings assigned to their production in paragraph (b), and without regard to orders bearing a lower rating. In addition, the provisions of this paragraph are applicable to orders for finished parts required for rebuilding or reconditioning operations.

(l) Parts for emergency repairs—(1) How to order parts. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) above, a distributor may order and accept delivery of replacement parts which he does not have in stock when required by a consumer for the emergency repair of a particular vehicle which cannot be operated without such parts. In such emergency, a distributor must file with his order to the producer a certificate in the following form:

CERTIFICATE FOR EMERGENCY REPAIR ORDER

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that the replacement parts specified in the attached order are essential for the repair of the following vehicle, which cannot now be operated without such parts:

Make_____ Engine number_____

Signed_____
(Firm, partnership or corporation)

By_____
(Name and title of individual)

Dated: _____ _____
Address of firm, partnership or corporation.

A copy of the certificate must be retained by the distributor issuing it as a part of his records.

(2) Emergency repair orders take preference. A producer receiving an order accompanied by a Certificate for Emergency Repair must give such order precedence in shipment over other orders not of an emergency nature.

(3) Use of certificate restricted. The Certificate for Emergency Repair may be used only to secure essential replacement parts for emergency repairs as described in this paragraph (l). It must not under any circumstances be used by a distributor to replenish his stock.

(m) Preference ratings of AA-2X or higher required on sales by distributors to army, navy and maritime commission. Irrespective of the provisions of this order, no distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement parts, as enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above, to the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration except upon receipt of an order bearing a preference rating of AA-2X or higher.

(n) Additional provisions for army orders. Purchase orders for replacement parts (except parts for "post exchange" vehicles) submitted to distributors by the Army must specify, in accordance with War Department instructions, the type, manufacturer, model and United States Army registration number of vehicles covered by the purchase order; and must carry a certification that such vehicles are "dead-lined" for emergency repair. Delivery by distributors of replacement parts against such orders for the Army must be limited to replacement parts in distributors' inventory available for immediate delivery.

(n) Restrictions on sales to consumers—(1) No sale of new parts where old part can be rebuilt or reconditioned. No new replacement part shall be sold or delivered to a consumer to replace a part which the producer or distributor can rebuild or recondition by use of available local reconditioning facilities.

(2) Used part to be turned in. No producer or distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement part either new, used or rebuilt, to a consumer unless the consumer turns in to the producer or distributor, concurrently with his purchase, a used replacement part of similar kind and size for each such replacement part delivered to the consumer. However, a used replacement part need not be turned in in the following cases:

(i) Where the used part has been consumed in use, lost or stolen;

(ii) Where the used part is a cab assembly;

(iii) Where the consumer is a Federal or Territorial Department, Bureau or Agency, or a State or political subdivision thereof, which is forbidden by law from making such disposal of replacement parts;

(iv) Where the new or rebuilt part is ordered by telephone, telegraph or mail, or is to be installed by the purchaser.

(v) Where the new part to be purchased by the consumer will improve the efficiency of the vehicle, its capacity or usefulness, such parts being as follows: for all vehicles—oil filters; for medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire and police equipment — auxiliary springs, trailer connections, brakes, fifth wheels, auxiliary fuel tanks, governors, landing gears, heavy duty generators, auxiliary transmissions, power take-offs, heavy duty trailer axles, wheels and rims which do not increase tire sizes, marker, clearance and identification lamps, spot lamps (internally controlled only), fog lamps and backup lamps, signaling devices, reflex reflectors, windshield defrosters, truck and bus traction sanders.

(3) Use of consumer's certificates. In any of the cases provided for in subparagraphs (2) (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) above, in which the consumer is not required to turn in a used part, he must sign and deliver to the producer or distributor concurrently with each purchase, or on the written confirmation thereof if the order is placed by telephone or telegraph, a Consumer's Certificate in the following form:

CONSUMER'S CERTIFICATE

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that: (a) the replacement parts covered by this certificate are essential for the maintenance, repair or improvement of equipment he now owns or operates; (b) these parts will be used to replace parts which, to the best of his knowledge, cannot be rebuilt or reconditioned by use of available facilities; and (c) he will, within thirty days after receiving the parts, dispose of the old parts, if any through scrap channels.

INTERPRETATION 1

RESIZING OF ENGINE PISTONS AND BEARINGS BY PRODUCERS' BRANCHES

The question of resizing engine pistons and bearings in the field to sizes other than those specified in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (4), respectively, of § 3292.46. Limitation Order L-158, has been the subject of some uncertainty in the industry. In order to clarify the order, with respect to the intent of these paragraphs, the following interpretation is hereby issued:

Producers' direct factory branches of warehouses, wholly owned or controlled by them, may finish engine pistons and bearings to any intermediate sizes not specified in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (4), respectively, of Limitation Order L-158, when ordered from the factory branch by a customer for immediate use in a specific engine. None of these intermediate sizes may be ordered from a factory branch for stock or to be held in inventory. A certificate for emergency order, as provided for in Order L-158, paragraph (l), should accompany each order placed with the factory branch for the intermediate sizes other than those specified in the paragraphs mentioned above, as a means of identifying the need for the part in a specific vehicle. (Issued Oct. 1, 1943.)

PRODUCTION OF DECORATIVE HUB CAPS, WHEEL CAPS AND WHEEL TRIM RINGS NOT PERMITTED UNDER ORDER L-158

Hub caps, wheel caps and wheel trim rings which serve only as ornamental or decorative items are not considered components of wheels, Item (8), paragraph (a) (1) (i) of Limitation Order L-158, as amended November 13, 1943. Consequently, they may not be produced. However, hub caps which serve as grease retainers are considered components of wheels and may be produced. (Issued Dec. 29, 1943.)

REPLACEMENT PARTS FOR ARMY DELIVERED FROM INVENTORY

Paragraph (m) (1) of the order (which was paragraph (L) (1) before the amendment of April 12, 1944) permits delivery on certain Army orders of replacement parts "in distributors' inventory available for immediate delivery". This means that the parts must be in inventory at the time the order is received from the Army. It is not sufficient that they are in inventory immediately before delivery. (Issued Apr. 26, 1944.)

Acrylic monomer and acrylic resin are subject to allocation under General Allocation Order M-300, Appendix B, Schedule 17.

ACRYLIC MONOMER AND ACRYLIC RESIN

§ 3295.1017 Schedule 17 to General Allocation Order M-300—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule and Order M-300:

(1) "Acrylic monomer" means the first grade unpolymerized forms of the methyl and higher esters of acrylic and methacrylic acids.

(2) "Acrylic resin" means the first grade polymerized form of the methyl and higher esters of acrylic and methacrylic acids, in the following forms:

First grade cast sheet (unfabricated) not including pieces having an area of less than three square feet produced as a by-product of normal casting or fabricating operations.
First grade molded sheet (unfabricated).
First grade molding powder.
First grade rod.
First grade tube.
First grade solution.
First grade emulsion.
First grade cast primary shapes.
First grade acrylic denture-base material.
First grade granular polymers.

(3) "Supplier" of acrylic monomer and acrylic resin means any person who: (i) Synthesizes monomer from raw materials; or (ii) Manufactures acrylic monomer by de-polymerization of acrylic resin; or (iii) Manufactures acrylic resin by polymerization of acrylic monomer; or (iv) Purchases acrylic monomer or acrylic resin for the purpose of resale without further fabrication, processing or admixing.

(b) General provisions. Acrylic monomer and acrylic resin are subject to allocation under General Allocation Order M-300 as Appendix B materials. The initial allocation date is January 1, 1943, the date when these materials first became subject to allocation under Order M-260 (revoked). The allocation period is the calendar month. The small order exemption per person per month, without use certificate, is each and all the following:

Cast sheet	50 square feet
Molded sheet	50 square feet
Molding powder	100 pounds
Cast shapes	50 pounds
Tube	25 pounds
Rod	25 pounds
Solution	400 pounds (1 barrel)
Emulsion	400 pounds (1 barrel)
Monomer	10 gallons (80 pounds)
Granular polymers	100 pounds

Small order quantities may be received in addition to allocated quantities for experimental use and also to complete current jobs for which acrylic monomer or resin has been allocated, notwithstanding paragraph (p) (2) of Order M-300.

(c) Special interim provisions. Use, delivery and acceptance of delivery prior to June 1, 1944, will be authorized on the basis of applications filed in the form heretofore prescribed in Order M-260 (revoked).

(d) Special dental exception. A supplier who delivers acrylic monomer and acrylic resin exclusively for dental use may make such deliveries, and his customers may order and accept delivery for dental use, without restriction under this order.

(e) Special exception for suppliers' intra-company deliveries. In the case of any group of suppliers under common ownership and control who produce both acrylic monomer and acrylic resin for general purposes, the monomer producing units may deliver acrylic monomer to the resin producing units to the extent necessary to produce resin to fill authorized orders, and the resin producing units may receive and use the monomer for this purpose, without application or specific authorization.

(f) Suppliers' applications on WPB–2947. Each supplier (as defined in paragraph (a) (3) above) seeking authorization to use or deliver shall file application on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602). The filing date is the 15th day of the month before the proposed use or delivery month. Send three certified copies to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M–300–17. File a separate set of applications for each plant and for each different grade or type of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin as set forth in paragraph (a) (2) above. An aggregate quantity may be requested, without specifying customers' names, for delivery on uncertified small orders. Purchase orders or releases against purchase orders for aircraft glazing sheet shall not be listed individually, but totals shall be listed. Fill in Table II.

(g) Military emergency shipments. A supplier may make application on Form WPB–2947 for authorization to expedite shipments against anticipated emergency war orders from the Armed Services or their contractors. Column 1 shall read "Emergency shipments against Government contracts". Column 4 shall show the aggregate quantity of the proposed shipments. From the quantity allocated on this application the supplier may make such shipments without further authorization. Subsequently, on the first WPB–2947 form filed after the end of the month, the supplier shall report his emergency shipments by listing in the usual manner the customers, end uses and quantities. An entry shall be made in Column 7 for each such customer to show that the material was expedited and that shipment was made in the preceding month, as, for example, "Expedited—May". In the case of emergency shipments to contractors, suppliers must obtain written or telegraphic certification from the Armed Service involved, stating that an emergency exists. Any unused material in the "emergency pool" at the end of the month shall be returned to inventory.

(h) Certified uses with purchase orders. Each person placing purchase orders for delivery of more than the small order exemption quantity shall furnish each supplier with a certified statement of proposed use, in the form prescribed in Appendix D of General Allocation Order M–300. Examples of and uses are: "Aircraft radio lens", "Industrial steamgauge lens", "Military denture-base material" or "Civilian denture-base material". Military items are those which are being produced against a prime or sub-contract for the Armed Services. Confidential end uses may be described in general terms but the prime contract number must be specified.

(i) Budget Bureau approval. The above reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(j) Communications to the War Production Board. Communications concerning this schedule shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M–300–17.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. SR 14 to GMPR, Amdt. 180]

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES FOR WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S HANDBAGS, PURSES AND POCKETBOOKS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new section 3.14 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 3.14 Handbags, purses and pocketbooks—(a) Ceiling prices fixed by this section. (1) This section applies to you only if you make manufacturers' sales of women's or children's handbags, purses or pocketbooks. If you make manufacturers' sales of these articles, you must establish your ceiling prices under the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] except that on and after June 15, 1944, you may not establish a ceiling price, or sell or deliver at a price, which exceeds your "highest price line limit." Your "highest price line limit" is explained in paragraph (b), below.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(2) A manufacturer's sale is a sale of a handbag (other than to an ultimate consumer) by a person (i) who fabricated the handbag, or (ii) who sold or consigned to the fabricator any of the principal materials from which the handbag was fabricated.

A manufacturer's sale also includes a sale by a person described in (i) or (ii) above to a department, establishment or business which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by (or which directly or indirectly owns or controls) such person.

(3) The women's and children's handbags, purses and pocketbooks which are covered by this section are divided into groups or categories, according to the material from which they are made, and each group is identified by a category number. The categories are listed in paragraph (h) near the end of this section. You are required to find a separate highest price line limit for each category.

From here on, in this section, instead of repeating the phrase, "women's and children's handbags, purses and pocketbooks," the word "handbag" or "handbags" will be used.

(b) How to find your highest price line limits. Your highest price line limits are fixed on the basis of your own experience in delivering handbags during your "base period."

If you delivered handbags during October or November, 1942, your base period" is October 1 through November 30, 1942. However, if you also delivered handbags in October or November, 1941, you may, at your option, take as your base period October 1 through November 30, 1941, Provided, That you use that base period for all categories.

If you did not deliver any handbags during October or November, 1942, but delivered handbags at any time between December 1, 1942, and December 31, 1943, your "base period" is the two month period, beginning on the first day that you delivered a handbag between December 1, 1942, and December 31, 1943.

If you made no deliveries of handbags between October 1, 1942, and December 31, 1943, you have no "base period" under this section, and must apply to the Office of Price Administration for authorization of highest price line limits according to the instructions in paragraph (d).

(1) Rule 1: Highest price line limits for categories which you delivered during your base period. Your highest price line limit for any category which you delivered during your base period is the highest price, properly established under the General Maximum Price Regulation, at which you delivered a handbag of that category in the normal and regular course of your trade or business during your "base period."

There are three exceptions to this rule:

(i) In any category in which the highest price at which you delivered a handbag during your "base period" was lower than $1.00 per unit, you may establish a highest price line limit up to $1.31¼ per unit.

(ii) In any category in which the highest price at which you delivered a handbag during your "base period" was between $1.00 and $1.87½ per unit, both inclusive, you may establish a highest price line limit up to $1.87½ per unit.

(iii) If the highest price at which you delivered a handbag during your "base period" in category 4, 6, 7 or 8 was between $1.77 11/12 and $3.00 per unit, both inclusive, and if you also delivered a handbag in category 4, 6, 7 or 8 between $1.77 11/12 and $3.00 per unit, both inclusive, during 1941, then you may establish a highest price line limit in category 4 or 6 up to $3.00 per unit.

For the purposes of this rule, the prices at which sample deliveries and accommodation deliveries were made are not to be considered.

(2) Rule 2: Highest price line limits for categories which you did not deliver during your "base period." Your highest price line limit for any category which you did not deliver during your "base period" is determined according to the instructions given in paragraph (j) near the end of this section.

(c) Records and reports—(1) Highest prices line chart for all sellers under Rules 1 and 2. You must file on or before May 25, 1944, with the OPA district office having jurisdiction over your area, two copies of a chart signed by you showing (i) your name and address, (ii) the highest price at which you delivered a handbag in each category in the normal and regular course of trade or business during your base period, (iii) the name and address of a purchaser to whom delivery was made at that price, (iv) the terms of sale, and (v) the date of the delivery. If you qualify under exception (iii) to Rule 1, you must also enter under the proper category the name and address of a purchaser to whom delivery was made in 1941, the delivered price, the terms of sale, and the date delivery was made at that price. Highest price line limits established by any of the exceptions stated in Rule 1 are not to be entered.

After filling out your chart as outlined above, you must complete your chart by listing any category which you did not deliver during your base period and your highest price line limits set forth in paragraph (j) for each such category.

An example of a highest price line chart is set forth in paragraph (k) at the end of this section.

On and after June 15, 1944, you may not sell or deliver any handbags unless you have received acknowledgment from the Office of Price Administration of the filing of your chart. An additional copy of the chart must be retained by you.

The prices listed on your chart are your highest price line limits, except in those categories in which your highest price line limits are established by any of the exceptions stated in Rule 1. If you subsequently find that an entry on your chart is incorrect, you must file two copies of an application to amend your chart with the OPA district office with which you filed your original chart. The application must state the reason why your requested price line did not appear on your original chart, and if the request is to amend your chart with respect to a category which you delivered during your base period, your application must be accompanied by a copy of an invoice, shipping ticket or other evidence showing a delivery at the requested price. Until you receive authorization from the Office of Price Administration to amend your chart, you may not sell or deliver any handbag at higher price lines than those correctly determined under this section.

(2) Report for sellers whose base periods begin after November 30, 1942, and prior to January 1, 1944. If your base period begins after November 30, 1942, and prior to January 1, 1944, then, together with the chart required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, you must report to the district office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over your area the date of commencement of business and the date of your first delivery of handbags. In addition, you must file two copies of a report containing the following information:

(i) The section of the General Maximum Price Regulation under which the price for a style of handbag at your highest delivered price in each category was established. If you priced under section 2 (b), give the name and address of the competitor selected under that section for each such style and identify the competitor's handbag against which you priced yours. This identification must conform to the record kept under section 12 of the General Maximum Price Regulation (Current Records).

(ii) Method of operation:

(a) Type of trade to which you sell the handbags (e. g., retail stores, mail order houses, etc.);

(b) Method of manufacturing (e. g., contractors, inside shop, etc.; machine work, handcraft, etc.);

(c) Method of distribution (e. g., showroom sales, salesmen, advertising, etc.).

(iii) The names and addresses of your three most closely competitive sellers of the same class. The selected competitors must have the same manufacturing and distribution methods and must sell to the same type of trade as the seller reporting under this rule.

(3) Invoices. In connection with every sale of handbags, you must deliver to the purchaser an invoice showing: (i) the date, (ii) your name and address, (iii) the name and address of the purchaser, (iv) terms of sale, (v) the style number or other designation of each different style of handbag sold, (vi) the quantities of each different style of handbag sold, and (vii) the price charged by you for each different style of handbag sold.

You must keep available, for the inspection of the Office of Price Administration, a duplicate copy of each invoice delivered.

(d) Authorization of highest price line limits. (1) If you did not deliver handbags between October 1, 1942, and December 31, 1943, or for any other reason cannot determine your highest price line limits under Rules 1 and 2, you may not sell or deliver handbags after June 15, 1944, unless the Office of Price Administration has authorized your highest price line limits. Three copies of an application for highest price line authorization shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration at the district office having jurisdiction over your area. The application shall contain the following information:

(i) Name and address of applicant;

(ii) Names and addresses of all owners, officers or principals of the applicant, and their previous business connections;

(iii) Category numbers to be offered for sale;

(iv) Highest price line limit requested in each category.

These price lines must be taken from any group up to and including Group K of paragraph (j), except in the case of persons to whom the use of such price line limits would constitute substantial hardship. Such persons, in applying for authorization of highest price line limits above Group K, shall also state in detail the reasons why substantial hardship would result from the use of these price line limits.

(v) Proposed method of operation:

(a) Type of trade to which handbags are to be distributed (e. g., retail stores, mail order houses, etc.);

(b) Methods of manufacturing (e. g., contractors, inside shop, etc.; machine work, handcraft, etc.);

(c) Method of distribution (e. g., showroom sales, salesmen, advertising, etc.)

(vi) The names and addresses of your three most closely competitive sellers of the same class. The selected competitors must have the same manufacturing and distribution methods and must sell to the same type of trade as the seller applying under this pargaraph.

(2) If you have received an order under this paragraph (d) authorizing your highest price line limits in any category, you may not sell or deliver handbags in any additional category not listed in the order of authorization until your highest price line limits in such additional categories have been authorized. Three copies of an application for authorization of highest price line limits for additional categories must be filed with the district office of the OPA which issued the original order, setting forth the following:

(i) Applicant's name and address;

(ii) Additional categories desired to be sold;

(iii) Highest price line limit desired for each category listed in (ii);

(iv) If the competitors named in the original application do not manufacture handbags in the categories now desired, a list of your three most closely competitive sellers of the same class who do manufacture those categories.

(3) If you have received an order under this paragraph (d) authorizing your highest price line limits in any category, you must report any change in ownership to the district office of the OPA which granted the order. This report shall include the names of any new owners or principals and their previous business connections.

(4) The highest price line limits which will be authorized by the Office of Price Administration under this pargraph will be those price lines which are in line with the general level of prices prevailing in the industry during October and November 1942 among the applicant's most closely competitive sellers of the same class, or are in line with the applicant's previous business connections.

(e) Posting of highest price line limits. Within 5 days after receipt of acknowledgment of the filing of your chart, or within 5 days after receipt of authorization under paragraph (d), you must display a poster or sign in a prominent place in your showroom which lists (1) each category which you are offering for sale, (2) description of each category as it is described in paragraph (h), and (3) your highest price line limit for each category, established under Rules 1 and 2 and the exceptions to Rule 1, or by specific authorization.

(f) Records of General Maximum Price Regulation. You must maintain all records required by the record provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(g) Adjustment of price lines. All price lines reported under paragraph (c) (2) or authorized under paragraph (d) of this section shall be subject to adjustment at any time on written notice from the Office of Price Administration. Adjustments may be made whenever a reported or authorized highest price line does not conform to the general level of prices prevailing in the industry during October and November 1942. Previous business connections of an applicant and the price lines established under the General Maximum Price Regulation by competitors of an applicant or of a person reporting under paragraph (c) (2) shall determine the standards by which price line limits shall be adjusted.

(h) Commodities covered by this section. This section covers all women's and children's handbags, purses and pocketbooks. Luggage, billfolds, coin purses, sewing kits, waterproof bags, knitting bags and cosmetic kits are excluded.

Category Number:

1. Fur. When outside surface of the handbag is made of two principal materials (excluding frame and fittings), value of fur must be greater than value of the other principal component material; when outside surface of the handbag is made of three or more principal component materials, fur must be the material of greater value than any other single component material taken separately.

2. Alligator, crocodile and ostrich.

3. Reptile and aquatic leathers: Snake, lizard, frog, top grain seal, walrus, and shark.

4. All leather other than those listed in categories 2 and 3.

5. Corde, sequins, beads (other than wood), hand embroidery and hand crochet:

(a) "Corde" includes only handbags of which 70% of the outside surface is made of textile strings sewn together on a "Bonnaz" type machine or on a hand loom.

(b) "Sequins", "beads" and "hand embroidery" includes only handbags of which 50% of the outside surface of the handbag is covered with sequins, beads or hand embroidery.

6. 100% wool broadcloth and 100% wool felt.

7. Textiles: Woven and knitted cotton, wool (except wool listed in category 6), rayon and other synthetic fibers.

8. All others: String, cord, cordette, plastic, metal, straw, grass, wood, imitation leather, etc.

Except where the materials listed in a category have been specifically defined, if the outside surface of a handbag is made of two or more principal component materials, the handbag is included in the category listed the material which constitutes 70% or more of the outside surface. If no principal material constitutes 70 % or more of the outside surface, the handbag is included in the category listing the principal material of lower unit value. (Value is determined by a comparison of pieces of equal size of the materials involved).

(j) How sellers pricing under Rule 2 find their highest price line limits for new categories. The table in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph is divided into groups. Each group contains, for every category, a series of price lines which would customarily have been made during the base period by a seller operating in that group.

(1) To find your highest price line limit for handbags of a category which you did not deliver during your base period, you start with the highest price line for that category listed in the table in subparagraph (2) and run your finger across the table until you come to the first group which contains your price line limit for a category which you delivered during your base period. Your highest price line limits in all new categories are the price lines shown in that group. Highest price line limits established by any of the exceptions stated in Rule 1 may not be used in determining the group which gives you the highest price line limit for a new category. However if a price line shown in the proper group is below the price line allowed you under any of the exceptions to Rule 1 you may use the price line limit allowed by the exceptions.

For example, suppose that you are a manufacturer who in your base period produced only alligator (Category No. 2) and calf (Category No. 4) handbags. The highest price line limits listed on your price line chart are $6.25 for alligator handbags (Category No. 2) and $3.50 for leather handbags (Category No. 4). You now decide to produce faille handbags (Category No. 7). To find your highest price line limit for faille handbags, start with the $20.00 price line for textile handbags (Category No. 7) and run your finger across the table until you come to the first group which contains your price line limit for a category which you delivered in the base period. In your case, the first group is Group G since that is the group in which you delivered a $3.50 calf handbag (Category No. 4). Accordingly, your highest price line limit for your faille handbags is $3.50. You may not go higher than $3.50 for faille handbags since none of the groups above Group G includes a price line limit for a category which you delivered during your base period.

If you should also decide to sell reptile handbags (Category No. 3) your highest price line limit would be $5.00. In other words, for all new categories you must find your highest price line limit in Group G. You may, of course, sell handbags in new categories at any price lower than those listed in Group G.

There are two exceptions: (i) If the highest price line at which you delivered a handbag in a category during the base period is not listed in the table, you use the group containing the nearest price line listed in the table to determine the highest price line limit for any new category.

For example, if in the above example, your highest price line limit for leather handbags was $4.00, you still use Group G, since Group G contains a $3.50 price line for leather handbags, and $3.50 is the price nearest to $4.00 in that category.

Similarly, if you are a manufacturer of expensive leather handbags, and you want to sell textile handbags, you cannot go beyond Group R, even though you delivered leather handbags during the base period at price lines higher than $20.00.

(ii) If the price line for an old category which gives you the highest price line limit for the new category appears in more than one group, you use the lowest group.

For example, suppose that the highest price line which you delivered during your base period in Category No. 3 was $4.75. You use Group E, which gives you, for example, a textile handbag price of $2.33⅓. You cannot use Group F, although reptile handbags at $4.75 appears in Group F, because Group E is lower.

(2) Table of highest price line limits for new categories. All prices listed in this subparagraph are per unit prices.

(3) Shipment of any oilseed meal, set aside pursuant to this order must be made by a processor within twelve days of the receipt of any such certificate.

(4) The original and the processor's copy of appropriately executed certificates shall be sent by the person responsible for their issuance directly to the processor and a copy shall be sent to the designated buyer. The designated buyer and the processor shall arrange the details of transfer of materials designated on the certificate, using such intermediary parties as the processor may designate. The processor who delivers such oilseed meal pursuant to a certificate shall file such certificate as required under the provisions of paragraph (d) (2).

(5) No processor shall be required to honor a Certificate of Designated Buyer unless the designated buyer furnishes the processor or his agent, before midnight of June 20, 1944, with (i) shipping instructions, and, in the case of designated buyers other than feeders, (ii) the statement required by paragraph (h) of War Food Order No. 9. If a processor elects not to honor a Certificate of Designated Buyer under the provisions of this paragraph, he shall return such certificate to the issuing office and he may dispose of the oilseed meal covered by the certificate free from the restrictions of this order.

(c) Existing contracts. If this order makes it impossible for a processor to fill all of his contracts for the delivery of oilseed meal, which are in existence on the date of the issuance of this order, he shall not, by reason of this order, refuse to make delivery of more than 20 percent of the oilseed meal covered by any such contract.

(d) Processor's reports—(1) Report of tonnage for May delivery for credit against June set aside. If a processor wishes to make deliveries of oilseed meal pursuant to this order in May 1944 for credit against his set aside in June 1944, he must report to the Director in writing (or by telegraph) not later than May 25, 1944, the estimated tonnage of each kind of oilseed meal which will be available at each of his processing plants for delivery in May 1944 for such credit. Each processor may also submit such additional information as he deems pertinent to the allocation or distribution of oilseed meal to be set aside under this order.

(2) Report of tonnage set aside and deliveries made. Each processor subject to this order shall file a report with the Director on FPA Form 2 not later than July 10, 1944, for each plant operated by him. Certificates of Designated Buyers, pursuant to which oilseed meal has been delivered, shall be attached to and made a part of FPA Form 2.

(e) Certificates issued by County Agricultural Conservation Committees. No County Agricultural Conservation Committee shall issue Certificates of Designated Buyers unless authorized to do so by its State Agricultural Conservation Committee.

(f) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, unless instructions to the contrary are issued, shall be addressed to the Director of Production, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: WFO 9–9.

§ 35.8 Adjustments. * * *

(f) Delay in performance. * * *

(3) When liquidated damages provided for in contract. (i) Whenever, under a contract containing a liquidated damages clause, the contractor fails to perform within the stipulated period and the time is not extended or the liquidated damages waived, the disbursing officer will withhold from payment and, when final payment is made under the contract, will deduct the maximum amount of liquidated damages for which the contractor may be liable and claim credit for the net amount only, crediting the amount so deducted to the open allotment and project account No. 1–970 P 970–13, Reserve for Settlement of Claims, subject to final adjustment by the General Accounting Office. Except as provided in subdivision (v) below, amounts withheld on account of liquidated damages will not again become available for obligation or for payment by disbursing officers, and settlement thereof may only be authorized by the General Accounting Office. Any protests made by the contractor against the deductions of liquidated damages will be forwarded, together with a statement of all payments made, citations to all vouchers and a detailed statement from the contracting officer, through the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. [Procurement Reg. 3]

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

CONTRACTS

In § 81.303 paragraph (f) is amended as follows:

§ 81.303 General requirements for contracts. • • •

(f) Partial payments. It is to be noted that any type of contract, including the purchase order, may provide for partial payments upon completion of the delivery of one or more complete units called for under the contract, or upon the completion of one or more distinct items of service called for thereunder. Any existing contracts which provide for a single payment may be amended to provide for such partial payments. Likewise, prior to delivery, payments may be made on work in progress for the Government, provided that the contract contains a clause similar to one of the contract clauses set forth in §§ 81.330 and 81.331. Contracts (including purchase orders) under which it is contemplated that more than one payment will be involved must, of course, be numbered as required by § 81.309 (a) and distributed in accordance with § 81.316.

[1] For previous changes see 7 F.R. 9268, 10184, 10906; 8 F.R. 3339, 5210, 6576, 7526, 8629, 8918, 9908, 11609, 12043, 13083, 13791, 14512, 16009, 16100, 17464; 9 F.R. 1344, 2975 and 4066.

In § 81.308b (a) (1) (iii) inferior subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) are amended as follows:

§ 81.308b Correction of mistakes. (a) • • •

(1) • • •

(iii) • • •

(a) The notice of the mistake must have been given by the contractor to the contracting officer before completion of performance and before the giving of notice of termination of the contract; Provided, That in case of contracts for sale of government property, such notice must be given by the purchaser to the contracting officer before completion of deliveries by the government or before final payment by the purchaser, whichever is later.

(b) The charge involved must not result in an adjustment in excess of $50,000; and

(c) Where the contract was made as a result of a formal or informal invitation to bid the change must not result, in the case of contracts for the sale of government property, in the payment by the contractor of a sum less than the amount of any bid submitted by any other bidder upon substantially the same terms and conditions, and in the case of other contracts, in the payment to the contractor of a sum in excess of the amount of any bid submitted by any other bidder upon substantially the same terms and conditions, except that, in either case, if the contract was not originally placed on a basis of competition as to price but primarily on the basis of other considerations the limitation contained in this inferior subdivision (c) shall not be applicable.

Section 81.308f is amended as follows:

§ 81.308f Amendment of contracts after final administrative determination of amount due. The authority granted to the chiefs of the technical services pursuant to §§ 81.308b (a) (1), 81.308e (a), 81.379 and 81.380 will not be exercised (a) in the case of contracts for the sale of government property, after the completion of delivery by the government or final payment by the contractor, whichever is later or (b) in the case of other contracts, after the contracting officer has administratively determined the final amount due under the contract by communicating his determination to the contractor or by the approval of a final voucher therefor, except that if the contracting officer's determination is, by the terms of the contract, subject to review by the Secretary of War, or his duly authorized representative, such authority may be exercised at any time prior to final action on such review if the contractor perfects his right to such review. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 81.308g.

In § 81.309 paragraphs (a) and (b) (3) are amended:

§ 81.309 Numbering contracts—(a) When required. (1) Every contract involving the receipt or expenditure of public moneys will be numbered when:

(i) The actual or estimated amount involved is $5,000 or more, or

(ii) It is contemplated that more than one payment (or receipt) will be involved, regardless of the amount involved.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) are not applicable to delivery orders evidencing interbranch or interdepartmental purchases (see § 81.605a and §§ 81.606-81.614). Such delivery orders need only to be given such designation as may be prescribed by the chiefs of the technical services. If, however, it is contemplated that any such order will involve more than one payment, it must be numbered in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section or § 81.318b (e) unless the procedure prescribed in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of § 81.318 is followed.

(b) System. • • •

(3) The letter or letters representing the technical service. No approved letter symbol may be changed, nor may any new letter symbol be adopted, unless approval therefor is first obtained from the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, which, before granting any such approval is required to obtain formal approval of the Comptroller General of the United States.

• • • • •

§ 81.317 Unnumbered contracts. • • •

(e) Payments for partial deliveries under unnumbered contracts. A contract may be entered into under which it was anticipated that delivery would be completed in a single shipment but due to subsequent unforeseen conditions and circumstances the contractor is precluded from completing such delivery and instead makes partial shipments in order to fulfill his obligation as expeditiously as practical. Under such circumstances payments, not to exceed five (5) in number on any given contract, may be made with respect to partial deliveries under unnumbered contracts: Provided, That the original signed contract is attached to the first payment voucher and cross references thereto noted on successive partial and final payment vouchers. Such cross references will include the following information as to the first payment voucher: the date and the disbursing officer's name and voucher number.

In § 81.318b paragraph (e) (1) (ii) is amended.

§ 81.318b Contract procedure. • • •

(e) Numbering of service command contracts. (1) • • •

(ii) The station number, that is, the station or office as published in the War Department Fiscal Code. There may be added to the station number a capital letter or other designation to indicate the branch by which the contract was executed. The following symbols will be used to designate the respective branches set opposite each symbol:

Q—Quartermaster.
S—Signal.
T—Transportation.
O—Ordnance.
E—Engineer.
M—Medical.
C—Chemical.
U—Repairs & Utilities Branch.
Tng—Training Branch.
AST—Army Specialized Training Branch.

No symbol other than those enumerated in the preceding sentences will be used unless approval for such use is obtained from the Legal Branch, Office of Director of Material, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Any request for such approval should specify the reason why additional symbols are required. The Legal Branch will advise the Contract Service Section, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Washington, D. C., of any approvals granted for the use of such additional symbols. It is to be emphasized that the use of the additional symbols authorized by this subdivision (ii) is for the convenience of the post, camp or station and, accordingly, is optional. The use of these branch symbols may be dispensed with or, if desired, a single branch symbol (and one series of contracts) may be used for more than one, but less than all, branches at a given post, camp or station.

§ 81.321 Advance payments. • • •

(d) Security—(1) Requirements. Advance payments shall be authorized only upon the furnishing of adequate security by the contractor. The security to be furnished will be that required under the provisions of the standard clauses or standard forms of supplemental agreements referred to in paragraph (k) of this section. A guarantee by, or bond of, a parent corporation is desirable if the subsidiary corporation has limited financial responsibility, especially in the case of a newly formed subsidiary corporation. Whether guarantees, subordination agreements or other security devices should be required, in connection with advance payments, is within the discretion of the person having authority to approve the authorization of advance payments. Advance payment bonds will be required only in the most exceptional circumstances (see §§ 81.406 (d) and 81.407 (a)).

(2) Release of security upon liquidation of advance payments. The execution, upon the liquidation of advance payments, of releases and agreements to release mortgages, guarantors in guaranty agreements, sureties on advance payment bonds, and other security devices, which may be required in connection with advance payments, will facilitate the prosecution of the war. Accordingly, such releases and agreements to release may be executed pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001, by the chief of a technical service or his duly authorized representative, or by the person to whom he may delegate such authority, in those cases where such security devices have been given to secure a specific advance payment or advance payments and no other obligations to the Government, and such advance payment or advance payments have been fully liquidated.

In cases where releases or agreements to release security devices, given in connection with advance payments, cannot be executed pursuant to the authority above granted, proposed releases or agreements to release, together with recommendations as to action requested, should be submitted to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, for prior approval and execution by the Fiscal Director or his duly authorized representative to whom authority to execute such releases and agreements to release is granted pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001.

§ 81.342 Articles governing statutory renegotiation. • • •

In § 81.351 paragraph (d) is amended and paragraph (e) is deleted, as follows:

§ 81.351 Price adjustment articles. • • •

(d) Article for use in contracts for the purchase of lumber; coal; or basic steel products from steel mills (Schedule I of CMP Regulation 1, as amended from time to time).

Article ------ Escalation in relation to OPA ceiling prices. The contractor represents and warrants that the prices shown herein are not in excess of the maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration, or other authorized government agency, and in effect upon the date hereof for the supplies to be furnished hereunder. In the event such maximum price applicable to any item is increased or decreased the price payable for any subsequent delivery of such item made in accordance with the provisions of the contract, shall be increased, or decreased, by the same number of cents, or fraction thereof, per unit, that such maximum price may be increased, or decreased, up to and including the date of delivery.

NOTE: Where the foregoing article is used, the following clause may be added:

Price adjustment in relation to other factors. In the event that the establishment and maintenance by the Office of Price Administration or other Government agency of maximum prices for the type of [lumber] [coal] [steel] covered by this contract is terminated during the contract period, and if during the remainder of such period changes should occur in working hours, wage scales, or other conditions of employment, which changes are a part of the general revision of such conditions [within the producing district where the coal is mined], the parties hereto, upon the request in writing of one to the other within 30 days after the effective date upon which any such change occurs, may redetermine by negotiation the unit price affected: Provided, That pending such negotiation the contractor shall continue deliveries hereunder. Any price redetermination as herein provided shall be applicable to all deliveries after the effective date upon which the change occurs permitting redetermination as herein provided.

(e) Article for use only in long term contracts (six months or more) for the purchase of coal. [Deleted] See paragraph (d).

BONDS AND INSURANCE

Section 81.490 (d) and (e) are amended as follows:

§ 81.490 Settlement under the War Department insurance rating plan. • • •

(d) The insurance carriers will be notified to submit simultaneously (1) to the technical service concerned the number of properly completed copies of final settlement forms required by it and (2) directly to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces one (1) properly completed copy of such settlement form. The technical service concerned will promptly submit to the Contract Insurance Branch any information which it believes to be pertinent to the negotiations for settlement with the insurance carrier. The Contract Insurance Branch will take appropriate action to examine the final settlements, reach agreements with the carriers concerning the adjustment of losses and premiums, and secure Comprehensive Insurance Rating Plan Releases. If no changes are made in the settlement statement as submitted by a carrier, the Contract Insurance Branch will notify the technical service concerned of approval. In the event revised settlement statement is required, the Contract Insurance Branch will secure the necessary properly executed forms from the carrier and forward them to the technical service with the Contract Insurance Branch's approval of the settlement. When advised of approval by the Contract Insurance Branch, the technical service will take appropriate steps to close the account on the basis of the approved statement. The procedure prescribed in this paragraph will be followed on and after 29 April 1944.

(e) All appropriate action will be taken by the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, with respect to the valuation and adjustment of losses and claims.

In § 81.977ll paragraphs (i), (j), (m), and (n) are amended as follows:

§ 81.977ll Functions and jurisdictions of the Salary Stabilization Unit and its regional offices. • • •

(i) Conferences. The head of the regional office having jurisdiction of an application, or any of his legal or technical assistants, may grant a conference to the applicant or his representative when deemed advisable or when requested by the applicant but only after the applicant has complied with the provisions of paragraphs (d), (e), (f) and (h) of this section. At any such conference the applicant may be represented by a responsible officer or a duly authorized regular employee whose salary is not covered by the application. Any other representative must submit a power of attorney authorizing him to represent the applicant on salary stabilization matters and must also submit evidence of enrollment in accordance with the Conference and Practice Requirements of the Bureau, as revised February 1942. If additional facts are brought out at a conference they must be reduced to writing and sworn to as provided in paragraph (h) before they will be considered as a basis for a decision.

(j) Authority of heads of regional offices. The head of the regional office having jurisdiction of any application will have authority to approve or disapprove it for the Commissioner, wholly or in part, and his decision shall be deemed to be the Commissioner's determination under § 4001.4 of the general regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director (§ 81.976d of this chapter) (§§ 1002.10 and 1002.11 of the Salary Stabilization Regulations (§§ 81.977m and 81.977n of this chapter)), unless and until modified or reversed as provided in paragraphs (m) and (n) of this section; but any such decision may be set aside by the Commissioner if he finds that it has been arrived at through fraud, collusion, or misrepresentation of a material fact.

(m) Reconsideration and review of decisions. (1) If an application is disapproved wholly or in part and the applicant believes that all the facts in the case have not been fully presented and considered, he may submit a request for reconsideration to the head of the regional office having jurisdiction. Every such request shall be submitted in triplicate, shall be executed under oath in the manner provided by paragraph (h) of this section, and shall set forth fully all the additional facts on which the applicant relies. The regional office having jurisdiction will examine every such request and may grant a conference thereon, if deemed advisable or if requested by the applicant, under the conditions set forth in paragraph (i) of this section; but no such conference will be arranged until the regional office has had opportunity to consider the additional facts set forth in the request for reconsideration. On reconsideration the head of the regional office may modify his prior decision if he finds that the facts warrant such action.

(2) An applicant may request that the decision of the head of the regional office be reviewed by the Deputy Commissioner. If the applicant relies on additional facts as the basis for such a review, he shall submit with his request a full statement of such facts in triplicate, duly sworn to as provided in paragraph (h) hereof. If the applicant does not wish to present additional facts as a basis for review, he shall so state in his request for review. If, on examination of any additional facts submitted, the head of the regional office finds grounds for considering the case further, he may proceed as provided in paragraph (n) of this section. Otherwise, he will forward the file promptly to the Deputy Commissioner with a concise statement of the reasons for disapproval or partial disapproval of the application.

(n) Review of application. On receipt in the Deputy Commissioner's office, every such request for review will be examined to determine whether or not it makes a prima facie showing of error on the part of the regional office. If in the Deputy Commissioner's judgment it does not do so, the request will be denied. In cases in which a prima facie showing of error has been made, a conference may be granted, if deemed advisable or if requested by the applicant, under the conditions set forth in paragraph (i) of this section; but no such conference will be arranged until the Deputy Commissioner or his representative has had an opportunity to examine the file and determine whether further consideration of the case is warranted.

In § 81.979 paragraphs (a) (2) (iii), (b), (c), (i) (2), (1) (4), (m), (n), (o), and (r) (3) are amended as follows:

§ 81.979 Jurisdiction and procedure of Regional War Labor Boards. • • •

(a) Constitution of regions and regional War Labor Boards. • • •

(2) • • •

(iii) Representatives of the public, four of whom are to be available for service with the regional war labor board at any given time. There is a chairman and one or more vice-chairmen, designated by the National War Labor Board from among full-time members.

• • • • •

(b) Procedure in dispute cases not involving wages or salaries. (1) If the National War Labor Board refers a labor dispute over which it has obtained jurisdiction to a regional war labor board, the regional war labor board to which the case is referred will be notified and a formal certification, together with all other available data and reports, will be transmitted to it.

(2) Upon receipt of the certification, the case will be considered by a New Case Committee of the regional war labor board, composed of the chairman or vice-chairman, one industry, and one labor member, and the disputes director. The New Case Committee, in determining what action to take, will consult with the regional representative of the Conciliation Service. If the committee does not consider the case ready for a hearing, it may refer the case back to the parties for further negotiation or to the regional representative of the Conciliation Service for further information or further investigation or conciliation. If the case is deemed ready for a hearing, the committee will designate a tripartite panel to hear the case, unless the parties agree to have the case heard by a single person, in which event the regional war labor board will designate one of the public panel members or some other suitable person to hear the case. Wherever the term "panel" is hereafter used, it will be deemed to include a single hearing officer in the cases just mentioned.

(3) If a case is assigned to a panel, the panel shall advise the parties that they may if they so desire, submit their evidence and argument in writing. If the parties mutually agree in writing to such a presentation, the disputes director shall transmit to them any request for information required by the panel and shall advise them of the procedure to be followed in submitting their case. If the parties do not agree to present their case in writing, a public hearing shall be held in accordance with the Rules of Procedure of the National War Labor Board.

(4) Any member of the regional board who in a particular case serves as a hearing officer or on a panel shall be disqualified from participating in any other capacity in any further proceedings in the case.

(5) If the panel's report is unanimous, the regional war labor board will not, save in exceptional cases, hear argument upon the matter but will proceed to a decision. If the report is not unanimous, the regional war labor board may in its discretion hear argument upon the case before reaching a decision.

(6) Any regional war labor board may certify to the National War Labor Board any case, or any question in any case, upon which it desires the National War Labor Board's decision; but the National War Labor Board may in its discretion reject such certification and require the regional war labor board to decide the case or the particular question, with or without a subsequent review by the National War Labor Board.

(7) At any time before its decision of a dispute case, the regional board may, upon the request of a party or upon its own motion, order a further hearing to be held before the board or a panel for the purpose of receiving evidence not introduced at any prior hearing in the case. The conduct of such hearing shall be governed by the Rules of Procedure of the National War Labor Board.

(c) Procedure in dispute cases and in arbitration proceedings involving wages or salaries. The procedure will be the same as in other dispute cases (see paragraph (b) of this section), except as follows:

(1) If an agreement between the parties calling for a wage or salary adjustment is brought about, the conciliator assigned to the dispute or the panel chairman or the hearing officer, as the case may be, will file the agreement directly with the appropriate regional wage stabilization director together with a completed application Form 10, which he will assist the parties in preparing. Conciliators, through the regional representative and panels will be at liberty in all cases to consult the regional wage stabilization director in advance of any settlement regarding the application to the particular situation of the Board's wage stabilization policy.

(2) If an agreement to refer the wage or salary question to arbitration is brought about, whether as a result of conciliation or without it, and the arbitrator's award provides for a wage or salary adjustment, a copy of the award, together with all of the information submitted to the arbitrator relating to the wage or salary issue, shall be filed by the arbitrator directly with the regional board at the same time that it is issued to the parties. Arbitrators shall consult the regional wage stabilization director, in advance of any award, regarding the application to the particular situation of the Board's wage stabilization policy.

(3) If an agreement calling for an adjustment has been reached the procedure therefor will be the same as in voluntary wage and salary adjustment cases. If the case has resulted in an arbitration award, the procedure will be that set forth in the Arbitration Policy of the National War Labor Board. A ruling of the National Board approving, modifying, or disapproving the award shall have the same effect, and be subject to the same provisions for stay and review, as similar rulings of the National Board on an application for the approval of a voluntary wage or salary adjustment. In all cases the conciliator, hearing officer, or panel chairman should remind the employer that he should promptly upon receiving the award or report (and without waiting for the Board's decision) apply to the Office of Price Administration for price relief if he intends to make any order requiring increased payment of wages and salaries the basis for asking such relief.

(l) Disposition of applications for approval of wage or salary increases in which the application indicates that no price relief will be sought if approval is granted. • • •

(2) If the regional wage stabilization director disapproves the application (or approved a lesser increase than that requested), the applicant, or any applicant if there be more than one, may within ten days after the date of the issuance of the ruling file with the regional war labor board a petition for a review by that board of the action of the regional wage stabilization director. Upon receipt of such a petition the regional board shall rule upon the application on the basis of the entire record of the case and such other information as may be available to it.

(l) Applications for approval of voluntary wage or salary adjustments. • • •

(4) Rulings of the Regional Board on voluntary applications for approval of wage or salary adjustments shall take effect when issued to the parties. Such rulings may be issued to the parties when made unless two or more public members of the Regional Board who dissent from a ruling request that the issuance of the ruling or any specified portion thereof be stayed and at the same time state the reasons for their request. In such event the ruling or the specified portion thereof and the accompanying request shall immediately be transmitted by the Regional Board to the National War Labor Board and may be issued to the parties only upon the expiration of ten days after its receipt in Washington, unless (i) the ruling is earlier approved by the Board or (ii) within such ten-day period the National War Labor Board sets the case down for review. In the latter event the Executive Assistant to the National War Labor Board shall communicate the National Board's action to the Regional Board, and the requested stay shall continue in effect until the case is finally disposed of. If only a specified portion of a ruling is asked to be stayed, as herein provided, the Regional Board may, in its discretion, issue to the parties any other unrelated provisions of the ruling at any time after the ruling made.

(m) Directive orders in dispute cases. (1) Regional War Labor Boards are authorized to issue directive orders in dispute cases in conformity with the policy of the National War Labor Board. Each such directive order shall bear the date of its actual issue and shall be issued to the parties when made. If after the issuance of such an order no timely petition for review is filed (as provided in paragraph (n) of this section), and if the National War Labor Board within such a period does not review the order on its motion, the order shall on the day following the last day for filing such a petition stand confirmed as the order of the National War Labor Board and shall immediately be effective according to its terms: Provided, That the National War Labor Board may at any time prior to the expiration of the time for the filing a petition for review make such an order, or any part thereof, immediately effective pending any further proceedings. If a timely petition for review of a directive order of a Regional Board is filed by a party, or if the National War Labor Board reviews such an order on its own motion, the entire order shall be suspended, unless and until the National War Labor Board directs, or has directed, otherwise, or unless the parties otherwise agree. However, the date of expiration of the escape period fixed in a directive order of a Regional Board granting a maintenance of membership provision shall not be affected by the filing of a petition for review of this or any other provision of the order. If only a part of the order is sought to be reviewed, any party may petition the National War Labor Board to make the rest of the order immediately effective according to its terms. The parties may in any case mutually agree upon the date when the order, or any part thereof, shall take effect, except that where a wage or salary adjustment is made subject to the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, the parties may not by their agreement make such adjustment effective prior to the date of such approval.

(2) Copies of all directive orders and of any accompanying opinions (together with such other material as the Wage Stabilization Division may require) shall, when issued, be filed with the National War Labor Board.

(n) Petitions for review. Within fourteen days after a regional board mails to a party a ruling denying or modifying a voluntary application for approval of a wage or salary adjustment, or remits to him a directive order in a dispute case, such party to the case may mail to the Board at Washington, D. C., an original and four copies of a petition, including supporting documents, seeking review by the Board of such ruling or directive order. The petition shall (1) state the petitioner's reasons for believing that one or more of the criteria set forth below is satisfied, (2) set forth fully and in detail the contentions of the petitioner with respect to the merits of each issue raised by the petition, with specific references to any pertinent portions of the record in the case, and (3) state that a copy of the petition has been served upon the other parties to the case and upon the Regional Board whose ruling or order is sought to be reviewed and the dates of each such service. No such petition shall be granted unless the petitioner has demonstrated by substantial proof that (1) the order exceeds the National War Labor Board's justification, or (2) the order contravenes the established policies of the National War Labor Board, or (3) a novel question is involved of such importance as to warrant national action, or (4) the procedure resulting in the order was unfair to the petitioner and has caused substantial hardship. The party filing a petition shall at the same time serve a copy thereof, together with any supporting documents, upon each of the other parties to the proceeding and upon the Regional Board.

(o) The answer. Within fourteen days after a copy of a petition for review is mailed by the petitioning party to any other party to the case, such other party may mail to the National War Labor Board an answer to the petition. An original and four copies of the answer shall be transmitted to the National War Labor Board in Washington, D. C., a copy shall at the same time be served upon the Regional Board and upon each of the other parties to the case. Such an answer shall include a statement that a copy thereof has been served as required above, and shall show the date of such service. An answer may not contain a request for review of an order or any part thereof; such a request must be filed, if at all, in the form of a petition for review in the manner and within the time limit provided in paragraph (n) of this section. Each answer should state fully but concisely the respondent's reason for believing (1) that the petition ought not to be entertained, and (2) that, if the National War Labor Board decides to entertain the petition, the petition should be denied on the merits. The Regional Board may, within the same period, file comment on the petition with the National War Labor Board, copies of which shall be served upon the parties.

(r) Reconsideration of directive orders and rulings. * * *

(3) The Regional Board shall not act on any petition for reconsideration of a directive order or ruling unless (i) the petition is mailed to the Regional Board within fourteen days after the mailing by the Regional Board of the order or ruling in question and sets forth with particularity the the grounds upon which the petition is based, or, (ii) the petition is filed promptly upon the petitioner's discovering material and substantial evidence which the petitioner was unable, despite due diligence, to discover in time to present to the Regional Board before it issued its order or ruling, and sets forth with particularity such evidence, or (iii) the petition is filed promptly upon the occurrence of events after the date of the order or ruling which make the order or ruling harsh or unfair, and set forth with particularity such events. If a petition for reconsideration is filed under subdivision (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph, and the Regional Board deems that the evidence submitted warrants reconsideration of the directive order or ruling, it shall provide the parties a hearing on such new matters.

Sections 81.1250–81.1252 discuss the adjustment of prices under the First War Powers Act in order to adapt contracts to changing conditions and to relieve contractors from hardship. Sections 81.1207 to 81.1210 discuss the contract articles for statutory renegotiation and their use. Sections 81.1213 and 81.1214 deal generally with the policies and procedures governing statutory renegotiation. Renegotiation pursuant to the Renegotiation Act of 1942 (paragraph (a) (2) of this section) is not discussed herein. For the text of the 1942 Act and the procedures, policies and interpretations thereunder, reference is made to the Joint Renegotiation Manual and the Army Renegotiation Manual which are applicable to fiscal years ending before 30 June 1943.

Sections 81.1202 to 81.1205 are amended as follows:

§ 81.1202 Statutory provisions—(a) Renegotiation Act of 1943. For the complete text of the 1943 Act reference is made to the renegotiation regulations to be issued by the War Contracts Board.

(b) Section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 3806 of the Internal Revenue Code referred to in subsection (c) (2) of the 1943 Act provides that the amount of federal income and excess profits taxes paid or payable with respect to any excessive profits must be credited against the amount of such profits in computing the amount to be refunded by the contractor or subcontractor, or otherwise recovered.

§ 81.1203 Effect of 1943 Act—(a) Coverage. (1) The 1943 Act applies to all contracts made by the Departments and subcontracts thereunder, with the exceptions stated under paragraph (d) of this section and §§ 81.1204 and 81.1205. With those exceptions the 1943 Act directs the War Contracts Board to renegotiate with every contractor with a Department, and every subcontractor under a contract with a Department, whenever in its opinion the profits received or accrued under such contracts or subcontracts may reflect excessive profits, whether or not the contract or subcontract contains a renegotiation article (subsection (c) (1)).

(2) Subcontracts as defined in the 1943 Act include purchase orders or agreements to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article, material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property (except office supplies), required for the performance of another contract or subcontract, and any agreements to procure such contracts or subcontracts. Such subcontracts are not limited to those made by the prime contractor but include those made by subcontractors and lower tiers of subcontractors unless specifically exempt (subsection (a) (5)).

(b) Contract articles. With certain exceptions discussed under §§ 81.1204 and 81.1205, the 1943 Act requires that each prime contract over $100,000 contain a contract article dealing with renegotiation. (See §§ 81.1207–81.1210 and 81.342.) As stated in paragraph (a) of this section, contracts or subcontracts which do not include a renegotiation article are nevertheless subject to the 1943 Act unless such contracts or subcontracts are expressly excluded.

(c) Administration of renegotiation. In connection with the provisions of the 1943 Act relating to its administration and the application of such provisions, reference is made to the renegotiation regulations to be issued by the War Contracts Board and the supplementary instructions issued thereunder.

(d) Exclusions. (1) The 1943 Act is inapplicable to any contract or subcontract on which final payment was made before April 28, 1942.

(2) The 1943 Act is inapplicable if the aggregate amount received or accrued by the contractor or subcontractor and all persons under the control of or controlling or under common control with it under contracts with the Departments and subcontracts thereunder during its fiscal year ending after June 30, 1943, will not exceed $25,000 from subcontracts for procuring contracts or subcontracts or $500,000 from all other contracts with the Departments or subcontracts thereunder.

(3) Certain contracts or subcontracts are exempt or may be exempted from the provisions of the 1943 Act under subsection (i) of such act. These exemptions are discussed in §§ 81.1204 and 81.1205.

(e) Expiration of the act. Subsection (h) of the 1943 Act provides that it shall apply only to profits from contracts and subcontracts which are attributable to performance prior to the "termination date" of the act. Reference is made to subsection (h) of the 1943 Act and to the renegotiation regulations to be issued by the War Contracts Board for the definition of "termination date" and the determination of the profits which are deemed attributable to performance prior to such date.

§ 81.1204 Mandatory exemptions from statutory renegotiation—(a) Contracts with governmental agencies. (1) In this paragraph the term "other Government Agency" includes (i) any department, bureau, agency or governmental corporation of the United States, (ii) any territory, possession or state or any agency thereof, and (iii) any foreign government or any agency thereof.

(2) The 1943 Act does not apply to (i) any contract between a Department and any other Government agency; (ii) any contract between a contractor with a Department or a subcontractor thereunder, and any other Government agency; (iii) any contract made by the other Government agency in connection with a contract with one of the Departments, or one of their contractors, or subcontractors, unless the other Government agency is acting merely as an agent for the Department concerned (subsection (i) (1) (A) of the 1943 Act).

(3) Accordingly, no article for statutory renegotiation under the 1943 Act will be included in any such contract or subcontract.

(4) With respect to contracts with War Supplies Limited see § 81.509 (h).

(b) Contracts and subcontracts for products of natural deposits and timber.

(1) By subsection (i) (1) (B), the 1943 Act does not apply to

(B) any contract or subcontract for the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or other mineral or natural deposit, or timber, which has not been processed, refined, or treated beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use.

(2) Contracts hereafter made with the War Department solely for the product of a mine, oil or gas well, or other mineral or natural deposit or timber, should include the standard renegotiation article, if otherwise required, unless it is clear that the product is exempt under this subsection. If the application of this exemption is uncertain, the following provision may be added at the end of the article:

If any regulation issued pursuant to subsection (i) (2) of the Renegotiation Act interprets and applies subsection (i) (1) (B) to exempt from the provisions of said Act, contracts for any product or products covered by this contract, then the contract price for such product or products, if separately stated herein, shall not be subject to renegotiation under this article.

(3) Prior to the enactment of the 1943 Act, precisely the same language now contained in subsection (i) (1) (B) of the 1943 Act was interpreted as set forth in § 81.1290. Such interpretation will serve as a guide as to the inclusion or exclusion of a contract article dealing with statutory renegotiation pending action of the War Contracts Board.

(c) Contracts and subcontracts for agricultural commodities. (1) By subsection (i) (1) (C), the 1943 Act does not apply to—

(C) any contract or subcontract for an agricultural commodity in its raw or natural state, or if the commodity is not customarily sold or has not an established market in the raw or natural state, in the first form or state, beyond the raw or natural state, in which it is customarily sold or in which it has an established market. The term "agricultural commodity" as used herein shall include but shall not be limited to:

(i) commodities resulting from the cultivation of the soil such as grains of all kinds, fruits, nuts, vegetables, hay, straw, cotton, tobacco, sugarcane, and sugar beets;

(ii) natural resins, saps and gums of trees;

(iii) animals such as cattle, hogs, poultry, and sheep, fish and other marine life, and the produce of live animals, such as wool, eggs, milk and cream.

(2) Contracts hereafter made with the War Department solely for an agricultural commodity should include the standard renegotiation article, if otherwise required, unless it is clear that the commodity is exempt under this subsection. If the application of this exemption is uncertain, the following provision may be added at the end of the article:

If any regulation issued pursuant to subsection (i) (2) of the Renegotiation Act interprets and applies subsection (i) (1) (C) to exempt from the provisions of said Act, contracts for any product or products covered by this contract, then the contract price for such product or products, if separately stated herein, shall not be subject to renegotiation under this article.

(d) Contracts and subcontracts with certain religious, charitable and educational organizations. (1) Subsection (i) (1) (D) provides that the 1943 Act shall not apply to

(D) Any contract or subcontract with an organization exempt from taxation under section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Contracts hereafter made by the War Department with any charitable, religious or educational organization should include the standard renegotiation article, if otherwise required. If the contracting organization claims the benefit of this exemption, the following provision may be added at the end of the article:

This article shall be inapplicable if it is determined that the Contractor is exempt from the provisions of the Renegotiation Act by reason of subsection (i) (1) (D) of said Act.

(e) Construction contracts awarded as a result of competitive bidding. (1) By subsection (i) (1) (E), the 1943 Act does not apply to—

(E) Any contract with a Department, awarded as a result of competitive bidding, for the construction of any building, structure, improvement, or facility.

(2) This exemption applies to any contract for the construction of a building, structure, improvement, or similar facility, if such contract was entered into after advertisement and was awarded to the lowest qualified bidder of two or more independent and qualified contractors who competed for the contract.

(3) Accordingly, no renegotiation article will be inserted in any construction contract which meets the conditions set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. If the application of this exemption is uncertain, the renegotiation article should be inserted in the contract although the following provisions may be added:

If by regulation issued pursuant to subsection (i) (2) of the Renegotiation Act, subsection (i) (1) (E) is interpreted and applied to exempt this contract from the provisions of said Act, then the contract price stated herein shall not be subject to renegotiation under this article.

(f) Subcontracts under exempt contracts or subcontracts. (1) Subsection (i) (1) (F) provides that the 1943 Act shall not apply to—

(F) any subcontract, directly or indirectly under a contract or subcontract to which this section does not apply by reason of this paragraph.

(2) Accordingly, it is not necessary to insert in a contract or subcontract which is exempt by reason of subsection (i) (1) of the 1943 Act (paragraphs (a) to (e) inclusive) a provision requiring a renegotiation article to be inserted in subcontracts made thereunder.

(3) If a renegotiation article is inserted in a contract or subcontract and the application of subsection (i) (1) to such contract or subcontract is uncertain, the renegotiation article, if otherwise required, should be inserted by the contractor or subcontractor in all subcontracts made by him. However, the provisions set forth in § 81.1209 may be added at the end of the article.

(g) Subcontracts for office supplies. The definition of "subcontract" contained in subsection (a) (5) (A) of the 1943 Act specifically excludes therefrom subcontracts for office supplies.

(h) Interpretation and application of mandatory exemptions. Subsection (i) (2) of the 1943 Act provides that the War Contracts Board is authorized to interpret and apply the exemptions discussed in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (e) and (f) of this section with respect to fiscal years ending after June 30, 1943.

§ 81.1205 Discretionary power to exempt certain contracts and subcontracts.—(a) Statutory provisions. Subsection (i) (4) of the 1943 Act provides that the War Contracts Board, in its discretion, may exempt from some or all of the provisions of such Act individually or by general classes or types:

(1) Any contract or subcontract to be performed outside the United States or in Alaska;

(2) Any contracts or subcontracts, the profits from which can be determined with reasonable certainty when the contract price is established;

(3) Any contract or subcontract to the extent that the contract provisions are otherwise adequate to prevent excessive profits;

(4) Any contract or subcontract for a standard commercial article if competitive conditions with respect to the making of such contract or subcontract will reasonably protect the Government against excessive prices. The term "standard commercial article" is defined by subsection (a) (7) of the 1943 Act;

(5) Any contract or subcontract if there is effective competition with respect to the contract or subcontract price;

(6) Any subcontract or group of subcontracts if it is not administratively feasible to segregate the profits attributable to the subcontract or group of subcontracts from profits on business not subject to renegotiation.

(b) Discretionary power to exempt certain contracts and subcontracts by general classes or types. The authority to exempt by general classes or types contracts and subcontracts of the kind described in subsection (i) (4) of the 1943 Act is vested in the War Contracts Board and has not been delegated by it.

(c) Discretionary power to exempt certain individual contracts or subcontracts. (1) The Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, may exempt from statutory renegotiation any individual contract or subcontract of the types specified in paragraph (a) of this section in connection with the placement of such contract or subcontract or any amendment or revision thereof.

(2) The chief of a technical service may exempt any such individual contract or subcontract from statutory renegotiation only where express authority to do so is granted (i) by the provisions of Procurement Regulations (see e. g. paragraphs (d) (1), (e), (f), (h) of this section), or (ii) by special delegation from the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Except as otherwise provided in these regulations or by any such special delegation of authority, the chief of the technical service may not redelegate any such authority to exempt individual contracts or subcontracts from renegotiation to officers or civilian employees of the War Department under his directoin unless (iii) he prescribes standards for the exercise of the authority or discretion so redelegated and (iv) such standards and redelegations are approved in writing by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(3) When an individual contract is to be exempted from renegotiation pursuant (i) to subparagraphs (1) and (2) above or other provisions of Procurement Regulations, or (ii) to any special delegation of authority, the renegotiation article (Form II) described in § 81.342 (b) will be used in the contract so exempted, unless all subcontracts thereunder have also been so exempted. Each contract or subcontract so exempted must contain an explicit statement to that effect and also a statement showing the extent of the exemption, by whom it was granted and the provision of the 1943 Act upon which it is based, with appropriate findings of the existence of facts necessary to support the exemption.

(4) When a prime contract is exempted from renegotiation the statement in the contract as to the exemption will contain a statement whether or not and to what extent subcontracts thereunder are to be exempted from renegotiation.

(5) A written report of each exemption granted will be made to the Director, Renegotiation Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (through the Director, Purchases Division) giving:

(i) The name of the contractor or subcontractor;

(ii) The number and date of the contract or subcontract;

(iii) The contract price;

(iv) The nature of the work, supplies, or other items furnished under the contract or subcontract.

(d) Contracts and subcontracts outside of the United States. (1) The chief of a technical service is authorized, in his discretion, to exempt from some or all of the provisions of the 1943 Act any individual contract with his technical service, or any subcontract thereunder, which is to be performed outside of the territorial limits of the continental United States, or in Alaska. This authority applies to contracts and subcontracts heretofore or hereafter made or performed.

(2) Circular No. 43, War Department, 1943, delegated to each commanding general outside of the United States or in Alaska, like authority with respect to contracts made or administered under his authority, and subcontracts thereunder.

(3) When a contract is exempted under this paragraph, Form II (§ 81.342 (b)), will be inserted in it, unless all subcontracts thereunder have also been exempted.

(e) Patent licenses. (1) The chief of a technical service may exempt from some or all of the provisions of the Renegotiation Act of 1943 any individual contract or subcontract granting a license under a patent or patent application or transferring a patent or patent application to the Government, or to a contractor or subcontractor, if the aggregate royalty payable under the contract or subcontract for its duration or for any stated period is either (i) a fixed amount determinable at the time of the execution of the contract, or (ii) limited by contract to a maximum amount determinable at the time of the execution of the contract, and if, in his opinion, the fixed amount or maximum amount will not yield excessive profits to the contractor or subcontractor.

(2) No renegotiation article will be included in any contract exempted pursuant to this paragraph. (See, however, paragraph (c) (3)) (See also § 81.112).

(f) Exemption from renegotiation in connection with periodic adjustment of prices. Sections 81.1240 to 81.1247 of this Procurement Regulation No. 12 authorize the use under certain conditions of contract articles providing for periodic readjustment of price and corresponding exemption from renegotiation. Where these contract articles are used, the contracting officer in charge of the individual contract is authorized in his discretion, in connection with the placement of such contract or any amendment or revision thereof, to grant exemption from renegotiation in accordance with the contract provisions and the related Procurement Regulations.

(g) Exemption of short-term, fixed price contracts from renegotiation. (1) With the written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, any individual contract or the subcontracts thereunder or any individual subcontract which meets the following conditions may be exempted by the contracting officer from statutory renegotiation in connection with the placement of such contract.

(i) The contract or subcontract fixes the price and contains no provision for price adjustment except provisions for equitable adjustment of the price in case of changes in specifications, deliveries, rate of production, or increased expenses resulting from allocations or other Government action (see § 81.351);

(ii) The contract or subcontract provides for full performance within six months or less;

(iii) The contractor or subcontractor has had previous experience in producing the same or substantially similar articles;

(iv) The total costs of performance of the contract or subcontract can be determined with reasonable certainty at the time the contract or subcontract is made;

(v) The price contains substantially no allowance or charges for contingencies, and any remaining allowances or charges for contingencies are segregated, identified and explained;

(vi) The price is fair and reasonable in the circumstances of the particular procurement; and

(vii) The estimated profit and margin of profit are relatively low.

(2) Every request for the approval of an exemption shall contain

(i) An opinion that the contractor's or subcontractor's cost accounting system is adequate for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the exemption, such opinion to be given by a qualified representative of the technical service submitting the request;

(ii) An analysis of past and prospective costs sufficient to show that the particular contract or subcontract meets the requirements specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and

(iii) An adequate showing that all the other conditions set forth in subparagraph (1) are satisfied.

(h) Exemptions of individual contracts within stated classifications where profits can be determined with reasonable certainty when the contract price is established. (1) In connection with the placement, revision or amendment of any contract or subcontract falling within a classification set forth below, the chief of each technical service is authorized to exempt from statutory renegotiation (pursuant to section (i) (4) of the 1943 Act) any individual contract falling within such classification or the subcontracts thereunder or any individual subcontract falling within such classifications:

(i) Purchase or lease of property and leases: Contracts and subcontracts for the purchase or lease of any interest in real property.

(ii) Public utility contracts: Contracts (but not subcontracts) with public utilities to furnish gas or electric energy, involving an estimated expenditure not in excess of $50,000 in any one fiscal year, or with common carriers to furnish transportation (regardless of the amount involved) when made in either case at published rates or charges, fixed, approved or subject to regulation by a public regulatory body; and contracts and subcontracts for commodities, the minimum price for the sale of which has been fixed by a public regulatory body.

(iii) Foods: Contracts and subcontracts for such types of foods as the Quartermaster General may from time to time determine to be perishable (see § 81.1291).

(iv) Clothing and equipage: Contracts and subcontracts for clothing and equipage, including footwear.

(v) Textiles or textile products: Contracts and subcontracts for textiles or textile products.

(2) Such an exemption will be granted only where the chief of the technical service is of the opinion in the individual case, in the light of the circumstances then known to him:

(i) That the profits to be derived from any such contract or subcontract can be determined with reasonable certainty when the contract price is established;

(ii) That negotiations fixing the price under any contract or subcontract to be exempted have taken place or will take place in general consistently with the pricing principles set forth in Army Service Manual M-601 (if and so far as applicable); and

(iii) That the price set or to be set is fair and reasonable.

(3) Except as stated in the next sentence of this subparagraph (3), any redelegation, or authorization of successive redelegations, by the chief of a technical service of the authority given under subparagraphs (1) and (2) above to grant exemption with respect to individual contracts and subcontracts thereunder or with respect to individual subcontracts is subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) of this section. The authority to grant exemption with respect to individual contracts and subcontracts thereunder and with respect to individual subcontracts for perishable foods, clothing and equipage, or textile products (see subparagraphs (1) (i), (1) (iv), and (1) (v) above) may be redelegated with authorization of successive redelegations, without the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(4) Attention is directed to the fact that this paragraph (h) does not authorize the chief of any technical service to exempt all contracts of the types listed herein as a class or by groups. It merely authorizes the exemption of individual contracts and the subcontracts thereunder or individual subcontracts falling within the above mentioned classifications. The provisions of the memorandum formerly quoted in § 81.1204 (h) (as amended 12 November 1943) are no longer in effect.

Section 81.1213 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1213 Administration of statutory renegotiation—(a) Agencies responsible. Statutory renegotiation under the 1942 and 1943 Acts, and under contract provisions inserted pursuant to such Acts, is conducted by the War Contracts Board, Price Adjustment Boards or Price Adjustment Sections and not by contracting officers.

(b) Procedure and principles. The procedure and principles to be followed in renegotiation pursuant to the 1943 Act, pertaining to fiscal years ending after June 30, 1943, are prescribed by the War Contracts Board and the Chairman, War Department Price Adjustment Board and will be published respectively as "Renegotiation Regulations"[1] and "Army Renegotiation Manual, Part II".

Section 81.1214 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1214 Effect of statutory renegotiation on price adjustments by contracting officers—(a) Restrictions during and after statutory renegotiation. While renegotiation pursuant to the 1943 Act is in progress or after it has been concluded with respect to a fiscal period of a contractor, contracting officers will not accept or seek price reductions or refunds in lieu thereof, which will affect the sales or earnings of the contractor for such fiscal period without the prior consent of the Price Adjustment Board or section which is conducting or has conducted such statutory renegotiation.

(b) Inquiry by contracting officers regarding statutory renegotiation. Before accepting price reductions or refunds in lieu thereof and before initiating or continuing negotiations seeking reductions or refunds from a contractor, and at reasonable intervals during the continuance of such negotiations, contracting officers will make inquiry of the contractor or of the Price Adjustment Board or Section to whom the contractor is assigned for statutory renegotiation to determine whether such renegotiation is in progress or has been concluded with respect to the fiscal period of the contractor which will be affected by the reductions or refunds proposed.

(c) When statutory renegotiation is in progress. Statutory renegotiation shall be deemed to be in progress for a fiscal period of a contractor upon the mailing of the notice of time and place of a conference to be held with respect thereto as required by subsection (c) (1) of the 1943 Act.

(d) Price adjustments not restricted. Nothing herein contained shall preclude a contracting officer from at any time:

(1) Proposing and arranging adjustments in prices or fees in individual contracts containing express provision for redetermination or renegotiation of prices or fees, other than a provision for statutory renegotiation, or

(2) Making price adjustments to compensate for changes made by the Government in specifications, design, quantities to be delivered, delivery schedules, or similar matters, or

(3) Accepting the benefit of the price reductions resulting from maximum price regulations of the Office of Price Administration or orders of other Government price fixing agencies, or

(4) Negotiating with respect to the prices to be included in new contracts in connection with the making thereof, or

(5) Proposing and arranging price reductions or refunds in lieu thereof which will not affect the sales or earnings of the contractor for any fiscal period for which statutory renegotiation is in progress or has been previously concluded.

(e) Provision in supplemental agreements making price adjustment. The contract price as renegotiated or redetermined by the contracting officer or as voluntarily reduced will still be subject to statutory renegotiation under the 1943 Act and any contract article pursuant thereto. The supplemental agreement or other instrument affecting the adjustment in price or fixed-fee will therefore include a provision substantially as follows:

The adjustment hereby made in the contract price is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under the Renegotiation Act, or any contract article inserted pursuant to that Act.

In § 81.1232 paragraph (d) is amended:

§ 81.1232 Escalation. • • •

(d) Escalation in relation to OPA ceiling prices; lumber, coal, steel and gasoline. Escalation in relation to OPA ceiling prices is not permitted, except that escalation articles may be included in contracts for the purchase of certain basic commodities to the extent and in the form set forth in § 81.351 (d) (lumber; coal; basic steel products on Schedule I of CMP Regulation 1, as amended from time to time), and § 81.351 (f) (gasoline and fuel oils).

Section 81.1240 is amended:

§ 81.1240 Articles authorized. Alternative contract articles providing for periodic readjustment of the contract price, and for exemption from statutory renegotiation under the Renegotiation Act under certain conditions, are set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.360, (Form II). These articles are approved for use in lump sum or fixed price contracts in accordance with this section. Except as expressly authorized in this section or subsequent instructions, deviations from the standard articles will not be used.

Section 81.1241 is amended:

§ 81.1241 Effect of articles. Both articles divide performance under the contract into specified periods for the purpose of adjusting the contract price. Under paragraph (a) of § 81.360 the original contract price is exempt from statutory renegotiation for the first period of performance, but under paragraph (b) of § 81.360 the price for the first period will be adjusted at the end of that period and appropriate credit or refund made, and this adjusted price may be exempted from statutory renegotiation by the contracting officer, as hereafter described. Under both aticles the contracting officer and contractor will negotiate at the end of each period on the basis of cost experience and other data, and the contracting officer, at his discretion, may exempt the price so fixed from statutory renegotiation, if he believes that the cost data are sufficiently accurate and that the price is fair to the Government and will not result in excessive profits to the contractor.

In § 81.1251 (a) subparagraphs (2) and (3) are amended:

§ 81.1251 Amendments with consideration—(a) Price adjustment upward. • • •

(2) Whenever the amendment restricts or modifies the right of the contractor to perform the contract as he sees fit or on the basis most advantageous to him. Examples are cases where a contractor, who is not bound to do so by his existing contract, agrees to use particular methods of manufacture, substitute materials, specified or costlier sources of supply or subcontractors, or other specified methods or devices to conform with Government policy. (See, for example, paragraph (f) of § 81.225).

(3) Wherever the amendment modifies the volume or rate of production so as to affect adversely the contractor's cost (see, for example, §§ 81.227 and 81.307).

• • • • • •

Sections 81.1290, 81.1291 and 81.1292 are superseded by the following §§ 81.1290 and 81.1291.

§ 81.1290 Joint regulation interpreting and applying subsection (i) (1) (ii) of section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942. The following interpretation of section (i) (1) (ii) of the 1942 Act is herewith republished because until further action of the War Contracts Board (see § 81.1201 (a)) this ruling furnishes a general guide to the types of items, contracts for the purpose of which are exempt from renegotiation in accordance with § 81.1204 (b) (see especially subparagraph (3) thereof). It is emphasized that the foregoing list is merely a general guide to whether certain contracts for products of natural deposits and timber are excluded from the application of the 1943 Act pursuant to subsection (i) (1) (B) of that Act. Definitive and final interpretations of such subsection (i) (1) (B) will be made by the War Contracts Board.

The provisions of said Section 403, as amended, shall not apply to contracts or subcontracts for the exempted products.

3. In cases where a contractor or subcontractor (a) processes, refines or treats a product to bring it up to the form or state of an exempted product and, (b) further refines, processes or treats such exempted product beyond the first form or state suitable for industrial use in order to perform his contract or subcontract, then in such cases the exempted product in its first form or state suitable for industrial use shall be considered, for the purposes of renegotiation, under Section 403, as amended, as an item of cost at its established sale or market price.

[Procurement Reg. 15]

TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

Section 88.15–488 is added:

§ 88.15–488 Infraction of C. M. P. regulations. The War Production Board polices C. M. P. regulations and may impose applicable penalties for deliberate infractions, but it does not look for enforcement of such regulations to the contracting officers charged with settling terminated contracts. Contracting officers, therefore, may reach a decision, in accordance with the principles set forth in this Procurement Regulation 15, as to the materials allocable to a contract in process of termination, without deciding whether such materials are in excess of any amount permitted by C. M. P. regulations of the War Production Board.

REMOVAL OF PROPERTY FROM CONTRACTORS' PLANTS UPON TERMINATION AT THE OPTION OR FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF THE GOVERNMENT

Sections 88.15–850 to 88.15–868, inclusive, are added as follows:

§ 88.15–850 Introductory. (a) §§ 88.15–850 to 88.15–868 incorporate government policies which have been made effective with respect to the prompt removal and disposition of property from the plants of contractors upon termination of their contracts. They also contain instructions with respect to procedures to be followed in carrying out these policies pending final development of regulations with the Surplus War Property Administrator. The instructions apply generally in the case of all terminated fixed-price supply contracts and are designed primarily to implement the prescribed policy for prompt clearance of a contractor's plant prior to final settlement.

(b) In addition, certain instructions have been included with reference to the application of the policy and procedures to the removal of property from the plants of fixed-price subcontractors under terminated fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime supply contracts (§ 88.15–864) and with reefrence to the removal of property from plants of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime or subcontractors (§ 88.15–867).

(c) Special instructions have also been prescribed with reference (1) to the removal or storage of property which is to be taken over at the time of the execution of the final settlement agreement and (2) to the certification of final payment vouchers insofar as property which has been removed or stored is concerned (§§ 88.15–865—88.15–866).

(d) The provisions of these sections are not applicable to government-owned facilities (§ 88.15–868).

(e) These sections do not cover the handling in the final settlement agreement of property which for any reason cannot be removed or stored with the contractor at the time of the execution of that agreement.

GENERAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES WITH RESPECT TO FIXED-PRICE PRIME CONTRACTS

§ 88.15–851 Government policy on prompt plant clearance. The report of Messrs. Baruch and Hancock on war and post-war adjustment policies released by the Office of War Mobilization on 15 February 1944, recommends the prompt clearance of property from contractors' plants not later than sixty days after the filing of inventory lists. The report also incorporates a statement of the policy of the Joint Contract Termination Board as to removal and disposition of property from the plants of contractors in connection with termination of their contracts, in which it is provided that:

(a) As soon as possible after receipt of notice of termination of any contract, the contractor should submit partial or complete inventory lists of property furnished by the government or to which the government is entitled and which is no longer required for the performance of the contract;

(b) The contractor may, unless the contract otherwise provides, at any time after receipt of notice of termination, remove such property and store it at his own risk, and the government with his consent may remove and dispose of any such property prior to final settlement;

(c) The portion of this property not disposed of within sixty days after delivery by the contractor of such an inventory list, upon demand of the contractor and unless the contract otherwise provides, be removed from his premises by the procuring agency unless it may have previously determined that such property is not chargeable to the government or does not belong to the government; and

(d) Any such property not so removed upon demand may be stored by the contractor at the expense and risk of the procuring agency either on his premises or, if he determines that space is not available for that purpose, then elsewhere, provided in either case the contractor takes reasonable precautions for the protection of the property and notifies the procuring agency of the action.

These policies have been made effective, and, pending development of regulations with the Surplus War Property Administrator, the instructions set forth in these §§ 88.15–850 to 88.15–868 will be observed by the technical services in handling the removal and disposition of property involved in the terminated portions of War Department fixed-price supply contracts, whether the property is owned by the contractor and claimed by him to be allocable to the terminated contract, or has been furnished to him by the government. Where it is determined prior to final settlement that the government has removed or disposed of property which is not allocable to the terminated portion of the contract, then the government in arriving at the amount of the final settlement will take into account either the disposal value of the property at the time of removal or the proceeds realized from the disposal of the property, or will return the property to the contractor at government expense, all at the election of the government; and after final settlement the contractor will have no claim against the government by reason of any such removal or disposition.

§ 88.15–852 Prompt disposition of property. In order to make the property available for other production use at the earliest possible moment after termination, contractors and contracting officers upon termination and without waiting for the expiration of the sixty-day period (see § 88.15–851 (c)) will make every effort to dispose of the property with reasonable dispatch and as advantageously as is reasonably possible. This policy with respect to prompt disposition of property upon termination to or through contractors, as set forth in §§ 88.15–350 to 88.15–376 of this Procurement Regulation 15, will continue in full force and effect and is to be vigorously pursued. The prompt disposition of certain items of property may be important either to the contractor or the government. To expedite disposition in such cases, contractors should be encouraged to submit promptly after receipt of termination notice inventory lists (see § 88.15–856) of that portion of the inventory to be disposed of and without waiting to obtain more complete information than that necessary to meet the minimum requirements for property disposition.

§ 88.15–853 Removal of property upon demand of the contractor. Property not disposed of as provided in the preceding section within sixty days after it is first reported on an inventory list, will, upon demand of the contractor accompanied by tender of title (see § 88.15–863) and inventory lists (see § 88.15–856) and unless the contract otherwise provides, be promptly removed or a storage agreement entered into with him. Wherever this is not accomplished, the chief of the technical service concerned will promptly notify the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of the circumstances.

§ 88.15–854 Arrangements for storage of property. Property taken over from contractors and not otherwise disposed of may be stored (a) with the contractors concerned under a storage agreement entered into by the technical service terminating the contract; (b) in government-owned or leased installations available, or which are made available, to the technical services for storage purposes; (c) in commercial warehouses or other storage space under contracts to be negotiated by the technical service terminating the contract; or (d) in premises leased for storage purposes under current regulations. It is recognized that available warehouse space is wholly insufficient to store the large volume of property which may be involved in contract termination, and that appropriate contractual arrangements in most cases will have to be made for the storage of such property by the contractors whose contracts are terminated. The technical services are authorized to enter into contracts for the storage of property with such contractors, and where this cannot be accomplished and suitable government-owned or leased installations are not available, they are authorized to enter into contracts for commercial warehouse services. Any contract involving the acquisition of an interest in real estate will be executed by the Division Engineer in accordance with existing regulations. At Regional Quartermaster and Army Service Forces Depots there are commercial warehouse officers who are familiar with available storage space, prevailing storage rates in various areas and commercial warehousing practices. These officers will be available for advice on all storage matters and the technical services will consult with them before entering into service contracts with commercial warehouses solely for the purpose of storage, provided that such action will not unduly delay clearance of the contractor's plant. The Storage Branch, Storage and Distribution Division, Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C., will furnish the name and address of any or all of the commercial warehouse officers upon request. Both the contracts executed with contractors and those for warehouse services will be financed from funds available to the technical services concerned. To the extent, if any, that the provisions thereof are in conflict with ASF Circulars No. 65 (section VIII) and No. 71 (section III), 1944, the provisions hereof shall govern. Open storage will be utilized wherever consistent with the proper care and preservation of the property. Transportation and drayage costs will be kept to a minimum.

§ 88.15–855 Scrap determination prior to removal. To preclude unwarranted record keeping and physical handling of property, it is imperative that a determination be made prior to the removal of the property from the contractor's plant as to whether it is scrap and if so, the property should be classified as scrap and handled accordingly.

§ 88.15–856 Inventory lists to be submitted by contractors. (a) In addition to the inventory lists submitted in the first instance after receipt of notice of termination (see paragraph (a) in § 88.15–851), the contractor will be required to submit with his demand for removal inventory lists of the property requested to be removed. Each of these inventory lists, including those referred to in paragraph (a) in § 88.15–851, will be prepared on Inventory Schedules Numbers C–1, C–2, and C–3 (Forms, W. D., A. G. O. 247, 248 and 249) and will be certified as prescribed thereon adding to the certificate, in the case of lists submitted with the demand for removal, a statement that the property listed is on hand on the date thereof. In order to avoid unnecessary duplication of work, contractors should be encouraged to prepare these forms in as many copies as is anticipated will be needed by both the government and themselves in the termination proceedings.

(b) The contracting officer will require the contractor to submit with his demand for removal as many copies of the inventory lists as is anticipated will be needed to meet reasonable government requirements. As a minimum, five copies of the lists will normally be required for property disposition and property accounting purposes. The contracting officer will retain one copy for filing in the War Department's permanent file relating to the contract termination settlement and will furnish the other four copies to the designated accountable property officer for use as follows: One copy for use by government personnel in checking the accuracy of the lists and for filing in the accountable property officer's jacket file (see § 88.15–858 (a)); where required, one copy to be receipted in accordance with the provisions of § 88.15–860 (b) and returned to the contractor for retention by him; and two copies for forwarding to the appropriate government agencies charged with disposal of property.

(c) Where several contracts with the same contractor are grouped for termination settlement purposes, the inventory lists need not segregate contractor-owned property by contracts, but only by locations.

§ 88.15–857 Accountable property officers. (a) Subject to such procedures as the chiefs of the technical services may prescribe for purposes of uniformity, commanding officers of procurement districts or similar agencies terminating contracts will designate accountable property officers to be charged with the assumption and maintenance of accountability, as herein prescribed for the property under such terminated contracts, provided that in any event:

(1) Accountable property officers so designated must be stationed at the same location where other records with respect to the termination settlement are maintained, and

(2) If such a designation results in the activation of a new property account, a copy of the pertinent order will be sent to the Fiscal Director of the service command in which the new account is located.

(b) Neither accountable property officers nor contracting officers have responsibility, within the meaning of Army Regulations, for property in the possession of contractors or commercial warehousemen.

§ 88.15–858 Property accounting records. (a) Except for government property furnished to the contractor under a War Department contract and for which accountability has previously been established, accountability for all property taken over from the contractor or stored with him pursuant to an agreement will be established in the first instance by the accountable property officer designated in accordance with the provisions of § 88.15–857 (a). Accountable property officers involved are authorized to establish and maintain "jacket file accountability". Under this system a file will be established for each terminated contract, or group of contracts where they are so treated (see paragraph (c) of § 88.15–856, and in it will be included all documents pertaining to the assumption of and relief from accountability. Such files will be controlled by the contract number(s) to which they relate. Accountable documents pertaining to terminated contracts will be assigned property voucher numbers and recorded in a voucher register as prescribed in AR 35–6700. In those cases where an accountable property officer who is presently maintaining a property account is also charged with the duty of establishing and maintaining accountability for property under terminated contracts, accountable documents relating to the terminated contracts will be included in the established series of property voucher numbers for the account and will in each case bear reference to the terminated contract number(s) prefixed by the letter "T" or other appropriate symbol to clearly establish that the document pertains to termination transactions. This information will also be shown in the voucher register.

(b) In lieu of establishing individual stock record cards for each item of the inventory lists, accountable property officers are authorized to use their copy of the lists as work sheets for the purpose of reflecting the ultimate disposition of property. Under this procedure as an item is disposed of, the quantity involved together with the assigned credit voucher number of the document covering the disposition will be entered opposite the particular item on the list. Where numerous transactions with respect to a given item are involved, auxiliary records (stock record cards or other suitable forms) will be established or disposition will be recorded on the lists in a manner which will provide an accurate and complete record of disposition of the original balance of the item involved.

(c) At War Department storage installations receiving property from contractors' plants, usual War Department regulations with respect to property accountability will be observed and stock record cards will be maintained. In this connection, attention is invited to the simplified inventory adjustment procedure prescribed in Circular 94, War Department, 1944.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS WITH RESPECT TO FIXED-PRICE PRIME CONTRACTS

§ 88.15–859 Introductory. Detailed procedures are hereinafter set forth in these §§ 88.15–859 to 88.15–863 with respect to (a) property which will be removed from the contractor's premises by the technical service, (b) property which will be stored with the contractor pursuant to a storage agreement made with him by the technical service, and (c) property which is neither removed nor stored pursuant to such an agreement but is held by the contractor at the expense and risk of the government and for the protection of which the contractor is required to take reasonable precautions and to notify the contracting officer concerned of the action taken.

§ 88.15–860 Procedures with respect to property removed from the contractor's premises.—(a) Check of quantities. Contracting officers are instructed to waive 100% verification of the quantities of property at the time of removal from the contractor's plant by the government in all cases except those in which the contracting officer has reason to believe that complete verification is necessary. Taking into consideration the size of the inventory, nature of the property involved and past experience with the contractor, the contracting officer will prescribe the extent of selective checks of quantities to be made by government personnel. The quantities and weights stated in the inventory lists will ordinarily be accepted for all purposes if they are determined by such checks to be within reasonable plus or minus tolerances in accordance with good commercial practice. Government personnel making the selective check will be required to make suitable notation on the copy of the lists to be returned to the accountable property officer as to items selected for count and the results of their counts. If the position of an item on the production line at the time of the suspension of production is an important factor in a determination of allocability or extent of completion, an agreement should be reached as to these facts, where possible, prior to the removal of the item and while it is in place on the production line.

(b) Acknowledgment of receipt. Based on the procedures set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, technical service personnel charged with the supervision of removal of the property from the contractor's premises will furnish the contractor with appropriate acknowledgment of the physical receipt of property as removed. This receipt is executed prior to final settlement agreement, unless otherwise specifically directed by the contracting officer, will be without prejudice to any determination of allocability of contractor-owned property to the terminated portion of the contract and will expressly so provide. The receipt will otherwise be unconditional. Where feasible such receipt will be accomplished on copies of the lists to be retained by the contractor. When the property is removed from the contractor's premises in lots, copies of the covering shipping documents may be used for this purpose or reference may be made in the receipt to item identification numbers on the inventory lists. A suggested form of receipt for contractor-owned property is set forth in § 88.15–950.

(c) Accountability. Accountability for property removed from the contractor's plant, unless previously established, will vest in the accountable property officer designated pursuant to the provisions of § 88.15–857 (a) when he is advised that acknowledgment of receipt of the property by the government (see paragraph (b) of this section) has been furnished to the contractor. The accountable property officer will be relieved from accountability in such cases by means of the covering Vendor's Shipping Document, War Department Shipping Document or Shipping Ticket, whichever is in current use at the installation concerned; and where the shipment is made in connection with a sale by the War Department, the provisions of Section II, AR 35–6660 with respect to sales of property will be observed. Inasmuch as copies of the acknowledgment of receipt and of the covering shipping document normally should be received by the designated accountable property officer at the same time, the assumption of and relief from accountability under the "jacket file" procedure in most cases will occur simultaneously.

(d) Shipping documents. The prescribed certificates on the Vendor's Shipping Document normally required to be executed for purposes of payment of a vendor, will be deleted when this form is used for purposes herein prescribed inasmuch as payment to the contractor will be supported by the termination settlement agreement and not by the Vendor's Shipping Document. In all cases, distribution of copies of the shipping document forms (regardless of type) will be the same as is prescribed for the War Department Shipping Document. It is pointed out that this distribution does not require the forwarding of copies to Finance Officers for property audit or any other purpose. Where practicable, in lieu of duplicating the listing of property on the shipping document, a copy of the inventory list or applicable portions thereof will be appended.

(e) Discrepancies incident to shipments. Wherever discrepancies or damages are disclosed by a War Department consignee upon receipt of property removed and shipped from a contractor's plant, the following action will be taken:

(1) Where it is obvious that the delivering common carrier or other delivering transportation agency is not liable for the shortage or damage, or where there is an overage, the discrepancies will be listed for record purposes on W. D., Q. M. C. Form No. 445 (Over, Short and Damaged Report) prepared in duplicate. One copy will be attached to the receiving voucher in support thereof and the other copy appropriately marked "Information Copy" will be forwarded to the contracting officer under the terminated contract for his advice. In the event of recurring or abnormal shortages the contracting officer will (i) direct that government personnel intensify their check of quantities as removed from the contractor's plant (see paragraph (a) of this section), (ii) consider the advisibility of requesting an investigation of the conduct of the contractor, or (iii) initiate such other action as he may deem advisable.

(2) Where it appears that the common carrier or other transportation agency may be liable for shortages or damage disclosed upon receipt of a shipment, the report of survey procedure prescribed in paragraph 4, AR 35–6640, paragraph 28e, AR 55–150 and Circulars No. 147 (Section IV) and No. 295 (Section V), War Department, 1943, notwithstanding the provisions of the first two lines of paragraph 1 of Circular No. 295 will be observed.

§ 88.15–861 Procedures with respect to property stored with the contractor pursuant to storage agreement—(a) Form of storage agreement. Agreements with contractors for the storage of property will be executed substantially in the form set forth in § 88.15–951.

(b) Check of quantities. Prior to execution of the storage agreement by the government, the contracting officer for the terminated contract will make appropriate arrangements with the contractor for a joint check of quantities by representatives of both the contractor and the government. The extent and character of the checks to be required of both the contractor and government representatives will be prescribed by the contracting officer who in this connection will observe the instructions contained in § 88.15–860 (a).

(c) Acknowledgment of receipt. Acknowledgment of receipt of the property by the government is covered in the form of storage agreement and no further or other action in this respect is necessary.

(d) Accountability. Unless previously established, accountability for property placed in storage with contractors will vest in the accountable property officer designated pursuant to the provisions of § 88.15–857 (a) upon receipt by him from the contracting officer of a conformed copy of the storage agreement. It will be noted that under the form of storage agreement set forth in § 88.15–951 the contractor is responsible for the care and safekeeping of the property.

(e) Relief from accountability in connection with shipments. Relief of the designated accountable property officer from accountability for property removed and shipped from storage by a contractor will be accomplished by use of the Vendor's Shipping Document, War Department Shipping Document or Shipping Ticket, whichever is in current use at the installation concerned. In this connection, the provisions of § 88.15–860 (d) hereof with respect to deletion of inapplicable certificates on the Vendor's Shipping Document and distribution of completed documents, will be observed. The shipping document will be prepared by the accountable property officer upon receipt of instructions from appropriate authority to move the property and all copies must bear the notation "Shipped from Contractor Storage". Copies of the document will be used as an order directing the contractor to release the property for shipment. The contractor will be instructed to return one copy of the document bearing his certification that quantities listed have been shipped as directed. This copy will serve as an acceptable credit voucher to the accountable property officer's account for the property shipped; and where the shipment is made in connection with a sale by the War Department, the provisions of Section II, AR 35–6660 with respect to sales of property will be observed.

(f) Relief from accountability and related action with respect to losses in storage. Instances of losses of or damage to property which may occur while in storage will be reported to the contracting officer under the storage agreement for appropriate action with respect to the liability, if any, of the contractor under the terms of the storage agreement. The contracting officer will advise the accountability property officer in writing of the amount of the loss involved, his findings with respect to the contractor's liability, if any, the amount of liability assumed by the contractor, and a statement as to action initiated to collect amounts which may be due the government. In all cases an extra copy of the written advice will be prepared and held by the contracting officer for service command property auditors. The written advice received from the contracting officer will in all cases and regardless of the nature of the findings, serve as an acceptable credit voucher to the accountable property officer's account for the property involved.

(g) Discrepancies incident to shipments. Whenever shortages or damage are disclosed by a War Department consignee upon receipt of property which has been removed and shipped from storage by a contractor, the following action will be taken:

(1) Report of Survey procedure prescribed in paragraph 4, AR 35–6640, paragraph 28e, AR 55–150 and Circulars No. 147 (section IV) and No. 295 (section V), War Department, 1943, notwithstanding the provisions of the first two lines of paragraph 1 of Circular No. 295, will be observed; and

(2) Where it has been determined in the survey proceeding that the shortages or damage are not the delivering carrier's responsibility, W. D., Q. M. C. Form No. 445 (Over, Short and Damaged Report) will be prepared and forwarded to the contracting officer under the storage agreement requesting his statement of findings with respect to the liability, if any, of the storage contractor under the terms of the storage agreement for the shortages or damage and any action taken to effect settlement of amounts which may be due from the contractor. This statement will be attached as an exhibit to the Report of Survey.

§ 88.15–862 Procedures with respect to property neither removed from the contractor's premises nor stored with him pursuant to agreement. (a) Where property owned by the contractor and claimed by him to be allocable to the terminated contract is neither removed from his premises upon demand nor stored with him pursuant to agreement, accountability will not be established until such time as the property is removed, a storage agreement is executed or the government by other means accepts the property.

(b) Considering the nature and utility value of the property, the technical services will take appropriate steps to determine that the contractor is taking reasonable precautions for the protection of all the property in which the government has an interest.

§ 88.15–863 Transfer of title to the government. While it is considered that the formal demand of the contractor for removal of property owned by him and claimed to be allocable to the contract is in effect a tender of title, the demand must specifically include or be accompanied by a statement that title is tendered to the government free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. Unless otherwise expressly agreed between the contracting officer and contractor, the following instructions will be observed in connection with the transfer of title to such property to the government:

(a) In the case of property removed from the contractor's premises by the technical service (see § 88.15–860), title will be transferred to the government at the time of removal and receipt for such property. The provisions of the suggested form of receipt set forth in § 88.15–950, together with the tender of title accompanying the contractor's demand for removal, are considered adequate for this purpose in the normal case.

(b) In the case of property stored with the contractor pursuant to a storage agreement made with him by the technical service (see § 88.15–861), provision is made in the form of storage agreement set forth in § 88.15–951 for transfer of title to the government.

(c) The contracting officer may rely upon the statement of the contractor in the demand or in the storage agreement that the title to such property is free and clear of all liens and encumbrances.

(d) In the case of property which is neither removed from the contractor's plant nor stored with him pursuant to agreement (see § 88.15–862), title will not be transferred to the government unless and until the property is removed, a storage agreement is executed, or the government by other means agrees to accept title.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES WITH RESPECT TO FIXED-PRICE SUBCONTRACTS

§ 88.15–864 Property in the hands of fixed-price subcontractors. (a) The foregoing policies and procedures with respect to fixed-price prime supply contracts are applicable to property in the hands of fixed-price subcontractors of any level under War Department fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime supply contracts (when the property is not to be retained or disposed of by the prime contractor or a subcontractor) to the extent that whenever a subcontractor's required inventory lists (accompanied by a certificate of the prime contractor as hereinafter provided or other satisfactory evidence of allocability) are submitted to the contracting officer of the applicable prime contract, together with the subcontractor's demand for removal, every effort will be made by the technical service promptly to remove the property from the subcontractor's plant or to enter into a storage agreement with him, substantially in the form set forth in § 88.15–951, observing the instruction therein with respect to modifications. Such certificate of the prime contractor involved shall be to the effect that the subcontract had been terminated by reason of the termination of the prime contract and that the property involved is believed to be properly allocable to the prime contract, i. e., includible in the settlement of the prime contractor's claim. The lists must be forwarded to the prime contractor by the interseted subcontractor through intermediate subcontractors, if any, unless the contracting officer otherwise directs.

(b) In no case will the property be removed or a storage agreement entered into without such physical check of the accuracy of the lists by representatives of the government as the contracting officer under the terminated prime contract deems necessary in accordance with policies expressed in § 88.15–860 (a) hereof. In determining what physical check of the accuracy of a subcontractor's lists shall be made by representatives of the government, the contracting officer shall give due consideration to the checks made by the superior subcontractor or by the prime contractor.

(c) The privilege of contractors under paragraph (d) in § 88.15–851 to store property not removed on demand at the expense and risk of the procuring agency has not been extended to subcontractors. Thus the government does not assume risk of loss or expense of storage of subcontractor's property unless and until it is removed by the government or a storage agreement entered into, and in the latter case only to the extent, if any, provided in such agreement.

FINAL SETTLEMENT MATTERS

§ 88.15–865 Storage or removal of property in connection with final settlement. (a) To the extent applicable, the foregoing procedures with respect to removal or storage of property and the accounting therefor may also be employed in connection with any property which the fixed-price prime contractor still has on hand at the time of the execution of the final settlement agreement and which is to be taken over by the government at that time. The procedures may also be employed in connection with property which a fixed-price sub-contractor still has on hand at the time of a final settlement with him which is approved by the contracting officer; and the form of storage agreement, with appropriate notifications (including deletion of the provisions by which the government reserves the right to contest allocability to the contract) may be executed directly with the subcontractor, without liability of the prime contractor with respect to the subcontractor's performance of his obligations under the storage agreement.

(b) These §§ 88.15–850 to 88.15–868 do not cover the handling in the final settlement agreement of property which for any reason cannot be removed or stored at the time of the execution of that agreement.

§ 88.15–866 Certification of vouchers in connection with payments under final settlement agreement. Officers charged with the certification for payment of Public Vouchers, Standard Form No. 1034, covering a contractor's termination settlement are authorized to rely upon the statement of property shown on the inventory lists or other documents in the quantities for which acknowledgment of receipt has been furnished to the contractor (see § 88.15–860 (b)), or, in the case of property stored with a contractor pursuant to an agreement, in the quantities stated on the lists of property annexed to the storage agreement (see § 88.15–861).

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES WITH RESPECT TO COST-PLUS-A-FIXED-FEE SUPPLY CONTRACTS

§ 88.15–867 Removal of property under terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts. In the case of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, title to the property acquired in connection with performance of the contract is already vested in the government; accountability has been established; and procedures for taking joint inventories upon termination by both the contractor and the government and for relief from accountability have been prescribed in the War Department Industrial Property Accounting Manual, 16 February 1943, as amended. In order to carry out the underlying policy of prompt clearance of property from contractors' plant upon termination of their contracts, the policies and procedures set forth in these §§ 88.15–850 to 88–15–868 are applicable to property involved in terminated War Department cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts to the following extent:

(a) Government-owned property not otherwise disposed of within sixty days after it is first reported by the contractor on a certified inventory list as prescribed in § 88.15–856 to the extent that it is located in a plant or portion of a plant not owned by the government will, unless the terminated contract otherwise provides, be removed or a storage agreement entered into with the contractor for its storage promptly after demand accompanied by the prescribed certified list of the property so requested to be removed: Provided, That the property will not be removed or a storage agreement entered into unless the joint inventory by the government and the contractor as prescribed in section X of the War Department Industrial Property Accounting Manual shall have been accomplished. Where the property is to be removed or a storage agreement entered into with the contractor within a reasonable period after termination, then for purposes of convenience to both the government and the contractor the joint inventory prescribed in the Manual may be delayed until the date that the property is removed or the storage agreement is executed.

(b) The provisions of §§ 88.15–854, 88.15–855, 88.15–860 and 88.15–861 will be applicable in the case of such removal or storage. Where the property is to be stored with the contractor, an agreement substantially in the form set forth in § 88.15–951 may be used provided the recitals are suitably modified and the provisions with respect to transfer of title and allocability to the contract are deleted. In the case of property removed from the contractor's premises, the acknowledgment of receipt provided for in § 88.15–860 (b) will be appropriately modified, will not be qualified as to allocability and will omit reference to transfer of title. If it is later determined that property of the contractor was removed by mistake, an adjustment should be made in arriving at the amount of the final settlement which will allow the contractor the current disposal value of the property at the time of removal, or the government may return the property in kind.

(c) In the case of property removed or stored with the contractor pursuant to agreement, and where such action will simplify the task of record keeping, the accountable property officer is authorized to establish and maintain "jacket file accountability" as described in § 88.15–858 (a). In such cases the inventory lists covering the property removed or stored will serve both as a credit voucher to the established property account and as a debit voucher to the "jacket file" account.

(d) If property which the contractor is entitled to have removed by the government under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, is not removed or stored with him pursuant to agreement, the contractor, unless the contract otherwise provides, may store such property at the expense and risk of the government either on his premises or if he determines that space is not available for that purpose then elsewhere, provided in either case the contractor, regardless of any terms of the terminated contract providing for a lesser degree of responsibility for the care and preservation of property during performance of the contract, takes reasonable precautions for the protection of the property and notifies the contracting officer of the action taken.

(e) At any time after the joint inventory has been taken and agreed upon, the contractor may, unless the contract otherwise provides, remove such property and store it at his own risk and expense.

(f) The principles set forth in this § 88.15–867 are also applicable to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime supply contracts.

§ 88.15–868 Government-owned facilities. The provisions of these §§ 88.15–850 to 88.15–868 are not applicable to government-owned facilities in the custody or possession of contractors under facilities contracts and facilities clauses of terminated contracts. When removal and disposal policies as to these facilities have been determined, appropriate instructions will be issued.

FORM WITH RESPECT TO THE REMOVAL OF PROPERTY FROM CONTRACTORS' PLANTS UPON TERMINATION

§ 88.15–950 Suggested form of receipt.

The United States of America (government) hereby acknowledges receipt from ---------- ---------- (contractor) of the property listed ----------*, and claimed by the contractor to be allocable to terminated war contract(s) number(s) ---------- and title to which has been tendered by the contractor free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. Title has been accepted by the government in compliance with the contractor's demand that the property be removed from his plant(s) pursuant to Procurement Regulation No. 15. The execution of this receipt is without prejudice to any determination of the allocability of the property to the terminated portion(s) of said contract(s). If it is determined prior to final settlement that any of said property is not so allocable, then the government, in arriving at the amount of the final settlement will take into account either the disposal value of such property at the time of removal or the proceeds realized from the disposal of such property, or will return the property to the contractor at government expense, all at the election of the government; and after final settlement the contractor will have no claim against the government by reason of such property.

Whereas, the Contractor is willing to store the property for the Government, and the Government has agreed to such storage at the Government's expense;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the mutual promises of the parties hereto, it is agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. Transfer of Title. The Contractor (without prejudice to any right which the Contractor may have to compensation for such property in connection with the termination settlement of said terminated contract(s) does hereby transfer to the Government, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, title to the property set forth in said Schedule "A", as it may from time to time be amended (hereinafter referred to as the property), which is not already Government-owned; and in furtherance thereof the Contractor agrees to furnish to the Contracting Officer such evidences of ownership and other instruments of transfer as the Contracting Officer may reasonably require; provided, however, that pursuant to Article 7 hereof and except as therein specified otherwise, the Government reserves the right to contest the allocability of any or all of the property to the terminated portion(s) of said contract(s).

ART. 2. Services. The Contractor agrees to perform all the services necessary in the handling, storage, and preservation of the property in the quantities and conditions set forth in said Schedule "A" for the consideration of $---------- per month. The property is on the date hereof in the possession of the Contractor in the quantities and conditions set forth in said Schedule "A". With the consent of the parties Schedule "A" may be amended from time to time by the addition of other property. In the event property is so added or deliveries are made pursuant to Article 11 hereof, the compensation to be paid to the Contractor shall be equitably adjusted by mutual agreement of the parties hereto. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article 21 (Disputes) hereof.

ART. 3. Contract Period. (a) The Contractor agrees to perform the services described in Article 2 hereof beginning on ---------- ---------- until this contract shall be terminated either by party hereto giving to the other 30 days' previous notice in writing.

(b) Storage charges are per month. Any fraction of a month shall be deemed a full month. A storage month shall extend from a date in one calendar month to, but not including, the same date of the next succeeding calendar month; but if there be no corresponding date in the next succeeding calendar month, it shall extend to and include the last day of the month. When the last day of a final storage month falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, the storage month shall be deemed to expire at midnight on the next succeeding business day.

ART. 4. Location of Storage Space. The property shall be stored at the following premises: ----------

ART. 5. Inspection. The Government reserves the right to inspect at any time the Contractor's storage space and the property stored hereunder.

ART. 6. Segregation of Property. All the property shall be kept separate from all other property whether or not such property may, by law or by custom, be considered fungible. This does not require, however, that the property be stored in separate rooms, on different floor levels from other similar property, or in a particular space.

ART. 7. Allocability. (a) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this Article, as it may from time to time be amended, or in any other agreement, the Government does not concede, and may contest, the allocability of any of the property to the terminated portion(s) of said contract(s). If it is determined prior to final settlement of the terminated contract(s) that any of the property is not allocable to the terminated portion(s) thereof, then the Government, in arriving at the amount of the final settlement, will take into account either the disposal value of the property at the time of removal or the proceeds realized from the disposal of the property, or will return the property to the contractor at government expense, all at the election of the Government; and after final settlement the contractor will have no claim against the Government by reason of such removal or disposition.

(b) The parties hereto agree that the property identified as below indicated is allocable to the afore mentioned terminated contract(s):* ----------

ART. 8. Revision of Storage Charges. In the event it is determined that all or any part of the property is not allocable to the terminated portion(s) of said contract(s), the amount of consideration set forth in Article 2 hereof shall by mutual agreement of the parties hereto be revised downward retroactively to and including the month in which such property was first stored hereunder. The revised amount of consideration shall continue in effect until a subsequent revision in accordance with the terms of this Article or adjustment pursuant to Article 2 hereof. If the parties fail to agree upon the revision to be made, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article 21 (Disputes) hereof. Any revised amount of consideration shall be embodied in a supplemental agreement to this contract. If the Contractor has already been paid for the month or months as to which the amount of consideration is revised, the Government shall be entitled to a credit on all payments thereafter due the Contractor for the excess paid; or if so ordered by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall immediately refund to the Government the amount of such excess.

ART. 9. Watchmen or Guards—Plant Protection. In addition to the requirements for the care of the property contemplated by Article 14 hereof, the Contractor shall maintain in and about the storage space such adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may direct in writing, to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage. If, pursuant to the Contracting Officer's written direction the Contractor incurs any additional expenses during the period the property is stored pursuant to this contract, the Contractor shall be paid a reasonable amount therefor. If the parties are unable to agree on an amount, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article 21 (Disputes) hereof.

ART. 10. Payments. The Contractor shall submit monthly to the Contracting Officer a properly certified invoice for all accrued charges under this contract for the preceding storage month. Recognition is given to the fact that the Government fiscal year ends on 30 June. Payment for charges accruing hereunder after that date shall be contingent upon the availability of appropriations therefor.

ART. 11. Deliveries. Deliveries of all, or from time to time part, of the property from storage space to the Government at the storage site or to its designated carrier to transfer agent will be accomplished by the Contractor on receipt of a written order from the Government. Plus or minus tolerances of quantities and weights within reasonable limits in accordance with good commercial practice will be accepted. The Contractor shall be paid a reasonable amount for any charges for drayage to the said designated carrier or transfer agent incurred at the direction of the Contracting Officer. In the event that the parties fail to agree upon the reasonable amount to be paid for drayage charges, the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article 21 (Disputes) hereof.

ART. 12. Waiver of Lien. It is understood and agreed that the Contractor has no warehouseman's lien on the property and will not assert any warehouseman's lien thereon.

ART. 13. Transfer for Administration. This contract may be transferred by the Government at any time, in whole or in part, to any Government department or governmental agency for administration purposes.

ART. 14. Liability for Care of Goods. The Contractor shall be liable for any loss or injury to the property caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to it as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable for any loss or injury to the property which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

ART. 15. Records of Government-Owned Property. ---------- ---------- is designated as the officer to maintain the necessary property records in connection with this contract.

ART. 16. Federal, State and Local Taxes. (a) The consideration provided herein includes all applicable Federal, state and local taxes in effect at the date of this contract except that it does not include any taxes on the property stored under this contract.

(b) If after the date of this contract the Federal Government or any state or local Government shall impose, remove or change (including any change by the removal by statute of an exemption available to the contractor for the purposes of this contract) any tax or charge upon the transportation of storage or privilege of storing, the property, which tax or charge must be borne by the Contractor because of a specific contractual obligation or by operation of law; and, if in case of an increase in such an existing tax or the imposition of such a new tax, the Contractor has paid such tax or charge to the Federal Government or to a state or local government, or any other person; or, in case of a decrease or elimination of any such tax, and the Contractor is relieved to that extent; then the consideration named herein will be increased or decreased accordingly, and any amount due to the Contractor as a result of such change will be charged to the Government and entered on vouchers (or invoices) as a separate item: Provided, however, That the Government reserves the right to issue to the Contractor in lieu of such payment a tax exemption certificate or certificates acceptable to the Federal Government or state or local government, as the case may be. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph (b) may be determined by a written agreement between the parties hereto. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as requiring the Government to reimburse the Contractor for any Federal, state, or local income taxes, income surtaxes or excess profits taxes or any state or local property taxes, except as provided in paragraph (c) hereof.

(c) If after the date of this contract the Contractor incurs any state or local property tax with respect to the property allocable to the aforementioned terminated contract(s), the consideration will be increased in the manner set out in paragraph (b) hereof.

(d) In the case of any state or local tax or charge which the Contractor contends is chargeable to the Government because of the provisions of this Article, or any other provision of this contract, the Contractor agrees to refrain from paying such tax or charge upon the direction of the Contracting Officer (in which event the Government will save the Contractor harmless from penalties and interest incurred through compliance with the direction of the Contracting Officer not to pay such tax), to take such steps as may be directed by the Government to cause such tax or charge to be paid under protest; to preserve, and, if so directed by the Contracting Officer, to cause to be assigned to the Government any and all rights to the abatement or refund of such tax or charge; if so requested, to permit the Government to prosecute any claim, litigation or proceeding for the refund of such tax in the name of the Contractor, and to furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation requested by the Government in any litigation or proceeding for the recovery of such tax or charges.

Such articles may specify that certain items or groups of items may be placed in outside storage or should receive special maintenance. TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

[T. D. 5365]

PART 85—GIFT TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932, AS AMENDED

CERTAIN DISCRETIONARY TRUSTS

In order to conform Regulations 79 (1936 Edition) [Part 85, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] to section 502 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress), enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding article 1 [§ 85.1] the following:

SEC. 502. CERTAIN DISCRETIONARY TRUSTS IN CONNECTION WITH GIFT TAX. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title V, enacted February 25, 1944.)

(b) Amendment of Revenue Act of 1932. Section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1932 (imposing a gift tax) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

(c) Certain discretionary trusts. In the case of property in a trust created prior to January 1, 1939, if on and after January 1, 1939, no power to revest title to such property in the grantor could be exercised either by the grantor alone, or by the grantor in conjunction with any other person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, then a relinquishment by the grantor on or after January 1, 1939, and prior to January 1, 1940, of power or control with respect to the distribution of such property or the income therefrom by an exercise or other termination of such power or control shall not be deemed a transfer of property for the purposes of this title. If such property was transferred in trust, the grantor not retaining such power to revest title thereto in himself, or if such power to revest title to such property in the grantor was relinquished, while a law was in effect imposing a tax upon the transfer of property by gift, this subsection shall apply only if (1) gift tax was paid with respect to such transfer or relinquishment, and not credited or refunded, or a gift tax return was made within the time prescribed on account of such transfer or relinquishment but no gift tax was paid with respect to such transfer or relinquishment because of the deductions and exclusions claimed on such return, and (2) the grantor consents, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, for all purposes of this title to treat such transfer or relinquishment in the calendar year in which effected, and for all periods thereafter, as having been a transfer of property subject to tax under this title. This subsection shall not apply to any payment or other disposition of income occurring prior to the termination of power or control with respect to the future disposition of income from the trust property.

(c) Interest on overpayments. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of this section.

PAR. 2. Article 3 [§ 85.3], as amended by Treasury Decision 5010, approved September 19, 1940, is further amended by changing the last paragraph to read as follows:

Section 501 (c), as added by section 502 of the Revenue Act of 1943, provides in the case of property transferred in trust before January 1, 1939, under which the grantor, on and after such date, retained no power to revest title to such property in himself, exercisable by the grantor alone or in conjunction with any other person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, that the relinquishment by the grantor on or after January 1, 1939 and prior to January 1, 1940, by an exercise or other termination, of a power to change the disposition of the trust property, which completes the gift thereof, shall not be treated as a gift for the purposes of the gift tax statute. However, if the property had been transferred in trust without the grantor retaining power to revest title to the property in himself, or if such power previously retained had been relinquished, while a Federal gift tax statute was in effect, the exemption provided by section 501 (c) shall apply only if (1) gift tax had been paid with respect to such prior transfer or relinquishment, and not credited or refunded, or a gift tax return had been filed within the time prescribed on account of such prior transfer or relinquishment but no gift tax paid because of deductions or exclusions claimed on such return, and (2) the grantor agrees in writing to continue to treat such prior transfer or relinquishment as completing the gift for all purposes of the gift tax statute except as hereinafter indicated with respect to income. Upon submission of such written agreement, the Commissioner may make any necessary redetermination of the amount of the net gifts for such prior year, and, unless assessment is barred by statutory limitations or rule of law, assert any resulting deficiency tax. The exemption provided by section 501 (c) shall not apply to any payment or other disposition of income while the grantor retains the power of disposition of the future income from the trust property. For example, if a donor created a trust in 1930, reserving a power to change the beneficiaries and their proportionate interests with respect to principal and income, but without retaining the power to revest the property in himself, and terminates his reserved power in 1939, so that he is no longer able to change the beneficiaries or their respective interests, the interim payment of income to any beneficiary or other surrender by the donor of control over such income prior to such termination is nevertheless a taxable gift and to be treated accordingly. The same result follows if a similar trust was created while a gift tax law was in effect and the donor, prior to January 1, 1940, terminates the aforesaid reserved power, consenting to treat the original transfer in trust in the calendar year in which effected and for all periods thereafter as having been a transfer subject to gift tax. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of the exemption provided by section 501 (c).

(Secs. 501 and 530 of the Revenue Act of 1932 (47 Stat. 245, 259), approved June 6, 1932, and section 502 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.), enacted Feb. 25, 1944)

PART 86—GIFT TAX UNDER CHAPTER 4 OF INTERNAL REVENUE CODE, AS AMENDED

POWER OF APPOINTMENT

In order to conform Regulations 108 [Part 86, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, Cum. Supp.] to sections 502 and 505 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress), enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 86.1 the following:

SEC. 502. CERTAIN DISCRETIONARY TRUSTS IN CONNECTION WITH GIFT TAX. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title V, enacted February 25, 1944.)

(a) Amendment of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 1000 of the Internal Revenue Code (imposing the gift tax) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

(e) Certain discretionary trusts. In the case of property in a trust created prior to January 1, 1939, if on and after January 1, 1939, no power to revest title to such property in the grantor could be exercised either by the grantor alone, or by the grantor in conjunction with any other person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, then a relinquishment by the grantor on or after January 1, 1940, and prior to January 1, 1945, of power or control with respect to the distribution of such property or the income therefrom by an exercise or other termination of such power or control shall not be deemed a transfer of property for the purposes of this chapter. If such property was transferred in trust, the grantor not retaining such power to revest title thereto in himself, or if such power to revest title to such property in the grantor was relinquished, while a law was in effect imposing a tax upon the transfer of property by gift, this subsection shall apply only if (1) gift tax was paid with respect to such transfer or relinquishment, and not credited or refunded, or a gift tax return was made within the time prescribed on account of such transfer or relinquishment but no gift tax was paid with respect to such transfer or relinquishment because of the deductions and exclusions claimed on such return, and (2) the grantor consents, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, for all purposes of this chapter to treat such transfer or relinquishment in the calendar year in which effected, and for all periods thereafter, as having been a transfer of property subject to tax under this chapter. This subsection shall not apply to any payment or other disposition of income occurring prior to the termination of power or control with respect to the future disposition of income from the trust property.

* * * * *

(c) Interest on overpayments. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of this section.

SEC. 505. EXTENSION OF TIME IN CONNECTION WITH RELEASE OF POWERS OF APPOINTMENT. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title V, enacted February 25, 1944.)

* * * section 452 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 is amended to read as follows:

(c) Release before January 1, 1945. (1) A release of power to appoint before January 1, 1945, shall not be deemed a transfer of property by the individual possessing such power.

(2) This subsection shall apply to all calendar years prior to 1945.

PAR. 2. Section 86.2 (b) is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the second sentence of the first paragraph to read as follows:

The release before January 1, 1945, of a power to appoint created on or before October 21, 1942, the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942, is excepted from the application of the tax by reason of the express provisions of section 452 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942, as amended by section 505 of the Revenue Act of 1943.

(B) By changing the first part of the second paragraph preceding subparagraph (1) to read as follows:

During the calendar year 1943 and any calendar year thereafter, section 1000 (c) as added by the Revenue Act of 1942, applies, subject, however, to section 452 (c) of such act, as amended by section 505 of the Revenue Act of 1943. That is, during such years an exercise or release of a power of appointment (other than a release prior to January 1, 1945 of a power of appointment created on or before October 21, 1942) without an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth (including a power to appoint exercisable in conjunction with another person) constitutes a gift by the individual possessing such power, except in the case of the following:

(C) By striking out "March 1, 1944." wherever it appears in subparagraph (3) of the second paragraph and in the next to the last paragraph, and by inserting in lieu thereof "January 1, 1945."

PAR. 3. Section 86.3 is amended by changing the last paragraph to read as follows:

Section 1000 (e), as added by section 502 of the Revenue Act of 1943, provides in the case of property transferred in trust before January 1, 1939, under which the grantor, on and after such date, retained no power to revest title to such property in himself, exercisable by the grantor alone or in conjunction with any other person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, that the relinquishment by the grantor on or after January 1, 1940 and prior to January 1, 1945, by an exercise or other termination, of a power to change the disposition of the trust property, which completes the gift thereof, shall not be treated as a gift for the purposes of the gift tax statute. However, if the property had been transferred in trust without the grantor retaining power to revest title to the property in himself, or if such power previously retained had been relinquished, while a Federal gift tax statute was in effect, the exemption provided by section 1000 (e) shall apply only if (1) gift tax had been paid with respect to such prior transfer or relinquishment, and not credited or refunded, or a gift tax return had been filed within the time prescribed on account of such prior transfer or relinquishment but no gift tax paid because of deductions or exclusions claimed on such return, and (2) the grantor agrees in writing to continue to treat such prior transfer or relinquishment as completing the gift for all purposes of the gift tax statute except as hereinafter indicated with respect to income. Upon submission of such written agreement, the Commissioner may make any necessary redetermination of the amount of the net gifts for such prior year, and, unless assessment is barred by statutory limitations or rule of law, assert any resulting deficiency tax. The exemption provided by section 1000 (e) shall not apply to any payment or other disposition of income while the grantor retains the power of disposition of the future income from the trust property. For example, if a donor created a trust in 1930, reserving a power to change the beneficiaries and their proportionate interests with respect to principal and income, but without retaining the power to revest the property in himself, and terminates his reserved power in 1944, so that he is no longer able to change the beneficiaries or their respective interests, the interim payment of income to any beneficiary or other surrender by the donor of control over such income prior to such termination is nevertheless a taxable gift and to be treated accordingly. The same result follows if a similar trust was created while a gift tax law was in effect and the donor, prior to January 1, 1945, terminates the aforesaid reserved power, consenting to treat the original transfer in trust in the calendar year in which effected and for all periods thereafter as having been a transfer subject to gift tax. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of the exemption provided by section 1000 (e).

Chapter VI—National War Labor Board

DISPUTE CASES

The following sections of the Rules of Procedure have been amended to read as follows:

§ 802.52 Procedure in dispute cases not involving wages or salaries. * * *

(b) Upon receipt of the certification, the case will be considered by a New Case Committee of the Regional War Labor Board, composed of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, one industry and one labor member, and the Disputes Director. The New Case Committee, in determining what action to take, will consult with the Regional Representative of the Conciliation Service. If the Committee does not consider the case ready for a hearing, it may refer the case back to the parties for further negotiation or to the Regional Representatives of the Conciliation Service for further information, or further investigation or conciliation. If the case is deemed ready for a hearing, the Committee will designate a tri-partite panel to hear the case. The Labor representative on the Panel shall be of the same affiliation (AFL or CIO) as the union involved. If an independent union is involved, the labor representative on the panel shall be associated with another independent union. If the parties agree to have the case heard by a single person, the Regional War Labor Board will designate one of the public panel members, or some other suitable person, to hear the case. Wherever the term "panel" is hereafter used, it will be deemed to include a single hearing officer in the cases just mentioned.

§ 802.57 Authority of Regional War Labor Boards. * * *

(b) Directive orders in dispute cases. (1) Regional War Labor Boards are authorized to issue directive orders in dispute cases in conformity with the policy of the National War Labor Board. Each such directive order shall bear the date of its actual issue, and shall be issued to the parties when made. The issuance of any provision of a directive order, however, which relates to a wage or salary adjustment, may be stayed if two or more public members of the Regional Board dissent from the provision and request that its issuance be stayed. In such event a copy of the directive order and the request for the stay, together with a statement of the reasons for such request, shall be immediately transmitted to the National War Labor Board. The provision so sought to be stayed shall not be issued to the parties until the expiration of ten days after receipt in Washington of the request for the stay, unless (i) the issuance of such provision is earlier approved by the National War Labor Board or (ii) within such ten-day period the National War Labor Board sets the case down for review. In the latter event, the Executive Assistant to the National War Labor Board shall communicate the Board's action to the Regional Board, and the stay shall continue in effect until the case is finally disposed of.

(2) If after the issuance of a directive order no timely petition for review is filed within the period provided in paragraph (c) below, and if the National War Labor Board within such a period does not review the order on its own motion, the order shall on the day following the last day for filing such a petition stand confirmed as the order of the National War Labor Board and shall immediately be effective according to its terms: Provided, That the National War Labor Board may at any time prior to the expiration of the time for the filing of a petition for review make such an order, or any part thereof, immediately effective pending any further proceedings. If a timely petition for review of a directive order of a Regional Board is filed by a party in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) below, or if the National War Labor Board reviews such an order on its own motion, the entire order shall be suspended, unless and until the National War Labor Board directs, or has directed, otherwise, or unless the parties otherwise agree. However, the date of expiration of the escape period fixed in a directive order of a Regional Board granting a maintenance of membership provision shall not be affected by the filing of a petition for review of this or any other provision of the order. If only a part of the order is sought to be reviewed, any party may petition the National War Labor Board to make the rest of the order immediately effective according to its terms. The parties may in any case mutually agree upon the date when the order, or any part thereof, shall take effect, except that where a wage or salary adjustment is made subject to the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, the parties may not by their agreement make such adjustment effective prior to the date of such approval.

(3) Copies of all directive orders and of any accompanying opinions (together with such other material as the Wage Stabilization Division may require) shall, when issued, be filed with the National War Labor Board.

(c) Petitions for review. (1) Within fourteen days after a Regional Board mails to a party a directive order in a dispute case, or a ruling denying or modifying an application for approval of a voluntary wage or salary adjustment, such party may mail to the Regional Board an original and four copies of a petition, including supporting documents, seeking review by the National War Labor Board of such ruling or directive order. The petition shall (i) state the petitioner's reasons for believing that one or more of the criteria set forth below is satisfied, (ii) set forth fully and in detail the contentions of the petitioner with respect to the merits of each issue raised by the petition, with specific references to any pertinent portions of the record in the case, and (iii) state that a copy of the petition has been served upon the other parties to the case, and the date of such service.

No such petition seeking review by the National War Labor Board of a ruling or directive order of a Regional Board shall be granted unless the petitioner has demonstrated by substantial proof that (i) the ruling or order exceeds the National War Labor Board's jurisdiction, or (ii) the ruling or order contravenes the established policies of the National War Labor Board, or (iii) a novel question is involved of such importance as to warrant national action, or (iv) the procedure resulting in the ruling or order was unfair to the petitioner, and has caused substantial hardship. The party filing a petition shall at the same time serve a copy thereof, together with any supporting documents, upon each of the other parties to the proceeding.

(2) Within fourteen days after a copy of such a petition for review is mailed by the petitioning party to any other party to the case, such other party may mail an answer to the petition to the Regional Board which issued the directive order or ruling. An original and five copies of the answer shall be transmitted to the Regional Board and a copy shall at the same time be served upon each of the other parties to the case. Such an answer shall include a statement that a copy thereof has been served as required above, and shall show the date of such service. An answer may not contain a request for review of any order or any part thereof; such a request must be filed, if at all, in the form of a petition for review in the manner and within the time limit provided in subparagraph (1) above. Each answer should state fully but concisely the respondent's reasons for believing (i) that the petition ought not to be entertained, and (ii) that, if the National War Labor Board decides to entertain the petition, the petition should be denied on the merits.

(d) Reconsideration of directive orders and rulings. * * *

(2.) The party petitioning for reconsideration shall serve a copy of the petition on all other parties at the same time that it is filed with the Regional Board. The filing of such petition does not preclude the filing of a petition for review, but shall not extend the time for filing a petition for review nor change the date when the directive order takes effect.

* * * * * * *

(5) If the ruling or directive order issued by the Regional Board is modified by the Regional Board in response to a petition for reconsideration or upon its own motion, the Regional Board shall issue to the parties such ruling or order, as modified, in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. The order or ruling as modified shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, except that the period prescribed therein for filing a petition for review or answer thereto shall be seven instead of fourteen days.

Executive Director.

ORGANIZATION

§ 691.1 Camp responsibility. (a) The National Service Board for Religious Objectors will appoint the camp director. The camp director is responsible for all phases of camp operations, including maintenance of the camp and its environs and watchman service in accordance with standards acceptable to the technical agency directing the work project. He is also responsible for the reception, feeding, housing, clothing, recreation, education, health and camp life of the assignees.

(b) The technical agency responsible for the work project will provide a project superintendent and such other personnel as may be necessary. Such personnel will be governed by the laws and regulations governing the personnel of such agency. The project superintendent of the technical agency is responsible for all phases of job planning and direction, the direction of technicians detailed to the camp, job training, and the safety program while assignees are under his direction. The project superintendent of the technical agency will issue drivers' permits for the operation of government owned vehicles in accordance with the regulations established by his agency.

§ 691.2 Camp overhead. The camp director is authorized to relieve assignees not in excess of the number authorized by the Director of Selective Service from the work project and to detail them to the performance of administrative and housekeeping duties of the camp.

CARE, WELFARE, AND DISCIPLINE

§ 691.11 Subsistence. The feeding of assignees at the camp is the responsibility of the camp director. Standard specifications for foods as supplied in the Army or Navy will be applicable. Balanced rations will be provided. Menus will be prepared and posted in the mess hall at least 10 days in advance and a record will be kept of the number of persons and quantities of food served each day. Representatives of the technical agency personnel and of the Director of Selective Service using the camp mess will pay the camp director for meals at the rate of 25 cents for a single meal or not to exceed the average monthly per capita cost of meals for the camp when they are assigned to and live in the camp on a permanent basis.

§ 691.12 Clothing. (a) No uniforms for assignees are prescribed.

(b) The camp director will see that every assignee is provided with sufficient and proper clothing to perform his duties. The project superintendent of the technical agency will refuse to take men for work who are not properly protected against the weather and the hazards of the work. Unsatisfactory clothing will be reported by the project superintendent of the technical agency through his official channels to the Director of Selective Service.

§ 691.13 Medical care and hospitalization. (a) In each camp adequate services of a physician will be provided by the religious organization which operates the camp. This physician will be responsible for the medical care of the assignees. The religious organization which operates the camp will make arrangements with the nearest suitable local hospital for admission, on order of the camp physician, of assignees who require hospitalization.

(b) All assignees should receive immunization treatments against smallpox, typhoid, tetanus and against such other diseases as local conditions may require. Assignees who object will not be required to submit to immunization treatments but in lieu thereof will be required to sign a statement to the effect that they were offered such treatments and refused them. Such refusal will not exempt assignees from compliance with State and local health laws. Proper notations will be made on the assignee's camp record of the immunization treatments he has received. The standards for vaccinations and inoculations will be the same as those prescribed for the United States Army.

(c) The camp director, under the supervision of the camp physician, shall be responsible for holding the daily sick call. The camp director is responsible for the preparation, accuracy, and submission of such medical reports and records relating to the sick call, illness or injury of assignees as may be required from time to time by the Director of Selective Service. The camp director, with the advice of the camp physician, shall be responsible for camp sanitation and the camp shall be subject to inspection from time to time by representatives of the United States Public Health Service or the Director of Selective Service. The camp physician shall be available at all times for emergency calls.

(d) Assignees shall be instructed in and shall obey the rules of health, sanitation, and safety prescribed for the camp.

§ 691.14 Welfare and recreation. The welfare and recreation of assignees is the responsibility of the camp director. Such motor vehicles as are assigned to the camp may be used to provide transportation to the assignees for educational, religious, or recreational purposes under such rules as the technical agency operating the project and the Director of Selective Service may prescribe.

§ 691.15 Education. The educational program for assignees is the responsibility of the camp director. He may avail himself of such volunteer services as may be provided by members of the technical agency staff attached to the camp. On-the-job training is the responsibility of the project superintendent of the technical agency.

§ 691.16 Furloughs and liberty. (a) The camp director, with the concurrence of the project superintendent of the technical agency, may grant furloughs to an assignee at such times as he may be spared from his duties. No assignee may receive a furlough or furloughs in excess of a total of 30 days in any one year. Such furloughs shall include weekends and holidays falling within the furlough period. At the request of the project superintendent of the technical agency based upon unusual conditions such as fire hazards, emergency farm work, or short working season, the camp director will restrict or suspend the granting of furloughs to any or all men assigned to the camp. Such action may be taken by the camp director upon his own initiative whenever in his opinion circumstances render such restrictions or suspensions desirable. The number of assignees on furlough at any one time will not exceed 15% of the total number of assignees in a camp unless the authorization of the Director of Selective Service is first obtained.

(b) The camp director may grant liberty or leave to assignees during the hours outside of work hours. The camp director may restrict or suspend liberty or leave whenever in his opinion circumstances render such action desirable. A sufficient number of assignees will remain at the camp at all times to provide for watchman service and fire protection.

(c) The Director of Selective Service or the camp director may issue regulations governing furlough, liberty, and leave. The duty is hereby imposed on each assignee to abide by and obey such furlough, liberty, or leave regulations.

§ 691.17 Discipline. (a) An assignee who fails to perform the duties outlined in § 653.12 or whose conduct amounts to a violation of local, State, or Federal criminal statutes or to violation of these regulations or camp rules issued under the authority of these regulations, or to a violation of furlough, liberty, or leave regulations, will be subject to such restriction of privileges, extra duty, reclassification under the Selective Service Regulations, or prosecution under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, as the case may warrant.

(b) If an assignee is sought for violation of local, State, or Federal criminal statutes, he will be delivered to the appropriate authority upon proper warrant for his arrest being exhibited to the camp director. The camp director will make a full and immediate report to the Director of Selective Service through regular channels of all such arrests and the disposition of the matter. Upon receipt of the facts concerning such arrests and disposition, the Director of Selective Service will determine whether to submit such information to the assignee's local board with a request that the assignee's case be reopened and his classification considered anew under the Selective Service Regulations.

(c) If, after reporting to camp, an assignee departs or absents himself from the camp without authority, the Director of Selective Service will be notified not later than the 11th day following such departure or absence. The Director of Selective Service may take the necessary steps to report the assignee to the proper United States Attorney as a violator of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. In addition, forfeiture of 3 days of furlough time for each day of unauthorized absence is mandatory.

(d) Refusal to work or perform other assigned duties, counseling or inciting others to refuse to work or perform assigned duties, or failure to abide by the rules and regulations promulgated by the camp director or the Director of Selective Service constitutes a violation of these regulations. A full and immediate report of any violation of such rules and these regulations will be made to the Director of Selective Service through regular chanels. If the reported conduct indicates that the assignee may have been improperly classified, the Director of Selective Service may take the necessary steps to submit the information to the assignee's local board with a request that the assignee's case be reopened and his classification considered anew under the Selective Service Regulations or the Director of Selective Service may report the assignee to the proper United States Attorney as a violator of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended.

(e) Loss of time of over 24 hours because of the assignee's absence without leave, sickness or injury due to his own misconduct, confinement by civil authorities following conviction, or willful failure to perform duties must be made up; Provided, That no assignee may be retained in camp longer than his maximum period of service as prescribed by law.

(f) Subject to the approval of the Director of Selective Service, the camp director may make and enforce such additional rules as he may deem appropriate for the operation of his camp and the carrying out of these regulations, and he has wide latitude in imposing such additional disciplinary action as he may deem necessary.

(g) Representatives of the technical agency having difficulties with assignees will refer all such cases to the camp director for appropriate action. If the camp director does not take appropriate action to correct the situation, the camp superintendent may report the case through the usual channels of his technical agency to the Director of Selective Service.

WORK PROGRAM

§ 691.21 Allowable project work. An assignee at a camp may be employed on any authorized work of the technical agency involved in the work program of the camp, including farm labor and overhead and maintenance of the camp. Work priority shall be determined by the technical agency.

§ 691.22 Hours of work. While there is no legal limitation of the number of hours that an assignee may be required to work in any given day or week, the usual hours will be determined from time to time by the Director of Selective Service. In addition, assignees will be subject to emergency calls by the project superintendent of the technical agency on any day or night at any hour for the purpose of fighting forest fires or other emergencies affecting life or property.

§ 691.23 Assignees in supervisory positions. The project superintendent of the technical agency may designate such assignees as foremen and key men as he considers necessary for the operation of the project. Assignees so designated will be exempt from any rotation of duty system, will be trained to act as supervisors of other assignees, and will be responsible to the project superintendent of the technical agency for carrying out his orders and instructions.

§ 691.24 Records and reports. In accordance with instructions issued from time to time, the project superintendent of the technical agency will prepare such records and reports covering the work project as may be required. These reports will be forwarded to the Director of Selective Service through the technical agency concerned. They will be prepared so as to provide the Director of Selective Service with information as to the personnel available for the project work and a record of the work accomplished.

§ 691.25 Safety program and accident reports. (a) The applicable provisions of the Safety Manual formerly used by the Civilian Conservation Corps, with such modifications and additions as the Director of Selective Service may prescribe, are adopted for use as a safety program within the camp. A safety committee shall be organized as soon as a camp is placed in operation. This committee shall consist of the camp director, the project superintendent of the technical agency or his representative, and an assignee selected by the other members of the safety committee. The safety committee will hold meetings at stated intervals and will be responsible for the safety program.

(b) Any death or serious personal injury and any serious damage to either public or private property shall, within 24 hours of its occurrence, be reported by telegram to the Director of Selective Service, Washington, D. C. This report shall be made by the person charged with the duty of investigating and reporting the incident. The project superintendent of the technical agency is charged with the duty of investigating and reporting all such incidents involving assignees while under his supervision, and all such incidents connected with the work project or Government-owned vehicles. The camp director is charged with the duty of reporting all other such incidents.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service regulations shall be effective within the continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY, Director.

(c) Assignees will be instructed in and shall obey the rules of health, sanitation, and safety prescribed for the camp.

§ 692.14 Welfare and recreation. (a) The welfare and recreation of assignees is the responsibility of the camp director.

(b) Ministers or other recognized representatives of religious organizations having members at the camp, as well as friends and relatives of assignees, should be allowed to visit freely, subject only to such restrictions as the proper operation of the camp and work project may require.

(c) A chaplain or educational advisor approved by the Director of Selective Service may live at the camp to assist and supplement the educational, welfare, and recreational program. He may be provided with quarters and subsistence at no greater cost than that paid by the administrative personnel attached to the camp. His activities must have the approval of the camp director and he must conform to the general rules for the conduct of the camp.

(d) Motor vehicles assigned to the camp may be used to provide transportation of the assignees for educational, recreational, or religious purposes under such rules as the technical agency operating the camp and the Director of Selective Service may prescribe.

§ 692.15 Education. The camp director is responsible for training in first-aid, health and sanitation, safety, disaster and rescue work, and job training. All technical agency personnel will be available for use in connection with the educational program. All assignees will be required to take part and the services of qualified assignees may be used. The camp director should assist and encourage the formation of volunteer classes according to the needs and desires of the assignees.

§ 692.16 Furloughs and liberty. (a) The camp director may grant furloughs to an assignee at such times as he may be spared from his duties. No assignee may receive a furlough or furloughs in excess of a total of 30 days in any one year. Such furloughs shall include weekends and holidays falling within the furlough period.

(b) The camp director may temporarily restrict or suspend the granting of furloughs to any or all assignees whenever, in his opinion, the circumstances render such restrictions or suspensions desirable. The number of assignees on furlough at any one time will not exceed 15% of the total number of assigneees in a camp unless the authorization of the Director of Selective Service is first obtained.

(c) The camp director may grant liberty or leave to assignees during the hours outside of work hours. The camp director may restrict or suspend liberty or leave whenever in his opinion circumstances render such action desirable. A sufficient number of assignees will remain at the camp at all times to provide for watchman service and fire protection.

(d) The Director of Selective Service or the camp director may issue regulations governing furlough, liberty, and leave. The duty is hereby imposed on each assignee to abide by and obey such furlough, liberty or leave regulations.

§ 692.17 Discipline. (a) An assignee who fails to perform the duties outlined in § 653.12 or whose conduct amounts to a violation of local, State, or Federal criminal statutes or to violation of these regulations or camp rules issued under the authority of these regulations, or to a violation of furlough, liberty, or leave regulations, will be subject to such restriction of privileges, extra duty, reclassification under the Selective Service Regulations, or prosecution under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, as the case may warrant.

(b) If an assignee is sought for violation of local, State, or Federal criminal statutes, he will be delivered to the appropriate authority upon proper warrant for his arrest being exhibited to the camp director. The camp director will make a full and immediate report to the Director of Selective Service through regular channels of all such arrests and the disposition of the matter. Upon receipt of the facts concerning such arrests and disposition, the Director of Selective Service will decide whether to submit such information to the assignee's local board with a request that the assignee's case be reopened and his classification considered anew under the Selective Service Regulations.

(c) If, after reporting to camp, an assignee departs or absents himself from camp without authority, the Director of Selective Service will be notified not later than the 11th day following such departure or absence. The Director of Selective Service may take the necessary steps to report the assignee to the proper United States Attorney as a violator of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. In addition, forfeiture of three days of furlough time for each day of unauthorized absence is mandatory.

(d) Refusal to work or perform other assigned duties, counseling or inciting others to refuse to work or perform assigned duties, or failure to abide by the rules and regulations promulgated by the camp director or the Director of Selective Service constitutes a violation of these regulations. A full and immediate report of any violation of such rules and these regulations will be made to the Director of Selective Service through regular channels. If the reported conduct indicates that the assignee may have been improperly classified, the Director of Selective Service may take the proper steps to submit the information to the assignee's local board with a request that the assignee's case be reopened and his classification considered anew under the Selective Service Regulations or the Director of Selective Service may report the assignee to the proper United States Attorney as a violator of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended.

(e) Loss of time of over 24 hours because of the assignee's absence without leave, sickness or injury due to his own misconduct, confinement by civil authorities following conviction, or willful failure to perform duties must be made up: Provided, That no assignee may be retained in camp longer than the maximum period of service prescribed by law.

(f) After compliance with paragraph (g) of this section, the camp director has the following punitive powers which he may exercise singly or in combination:

(1) Admonition.

(2) Suspension of privileges.

(3) Assignment of extra work outside of usual working hours.

(4) Cancellation of furlough privileges subject to the approval of the Director of Selective Service.

(5) Forfeiture of three days of furlough time for each day of unauthorized absence. This provision is mandatory in every case where unauthorized absence is established.

(g) Before exercising any of the punitive powers under paragraph (f) of this section, the following procedure will be had:

(1) The charge and any evidence in support thereof will be placed in written form, dated and signed by the person making the charge or furnishing the evidence, and copies delivered or read to the accused assignee. The original charge and such evidence will be inserted in the Camp Punishment Book in which will be noted also the date and time at which a copy of the charge and evidence were delivered or read to the accused assignee. Within 24 hours of the time when a copy of the charge and evidence were delivered or read to the accused assignee, he may file with the camp director a written answer to the charge and written statements of any witnesses in support of his answer. The answer and written statements shall be inserted in the Camp Punishment Book. Promptly after the expiration of such 24-hour period, the camp director shall render judgment on the charge and answer, if any, shall reduce the judgment to writing, and shall insert the written judgment in the Camp Punishment Book. The judgment shall be read to or a copy delivered to the accused assignee. The camp director shall make a notation in the Camp Punishment Book of the date and time at which the judgment was read to or a copy was delivered to the accused assignee.

(2) The assignee may appeal from the judgment of the camp director to the Director of Selective Service. Such appeal may be taken at any time within three days of the day on which a copy of the judgment was delivered or read to him. The appeal shall be in writing but need not be in any particular form and shall be delivered to the camp director. When such appeal is taken by the accused assignee, he may at the same time file with the camp director such additional information as he wishes to call to the attention of the Director of Selective Service. The camp director will promptly forward any appeal to the Director of Selective Service and will attach thereto copies of the following documents: The charge, any evidence in written form in support of the charge, the answer if any, any evidence in written form in support of the answer, any additional information which the assignee may have filed with the appeal, and the judgment. The camp director will also forward to the Director of Selective Service a transcript of all other entries made in the Camp Punishment Book concerning the matter and the accused assignee.

(3) The judgment of the camp director shall not be carried out during the time afforded the accused assignee to take an appeal to the Director of Selective Service or during the time such appeal is pending.

(h) A brief summary of the information entered in the Camp Punishment Book, as provided in the foregoing paragraph, will be made and initialed by the camp director in the assignee's camp record.

(i) The forfeiture of furlough time will in all cases be promptly reported by the camp director to the Director of Selective Service.

WORK PROGRAM

§ 692.21 Allowable work project. An assignee at a camp may be employed on any authorized work of the technical agency involved in the work program of the camp, including farm labor and the overhead and maintenance of the camp. Work priority shall be determined by the technical agency.

§ 692.22 Hours of work. While there is no legal limitation on the number of hours an assignee may be required to work in any given day or week, the usual hours of work will be determined from time to time by the Director of Selective Service. In addition, assignees will be subject to emergency calls by the camp director on any day or night at any hour for the purpose of fighting forest fires or other emergencies affecting life or property.

§ 692.23 Assignees in supervisory positions. The camp director may designate such assignees as foremen and key men as he considers necessary for the operation of the camp or project. Assignees so designated will be responsible to the camp director and shall carry out his orders and instructions.

§ 692.24 Records and reports. The camp director will be responsible for the preparation and forwarding of such records and reports covering the operation of the camp and project as may be required from time to time by either the technical agency operating the camp or by the Director of Selective Service. Normally, these reports will be made through the regular channels of such technical agency with such exceptions as the Director of Selective Service may find necessary.

§ 692.25 Safety program and accident reports. The applicable provisions of the Safety Manual formerly used by the Civilian Conservation Corps with such modifications and additions as the Director of Selective Service may prescribe shall be used in the safety program within the camp. The same duties and responsibilities as are assigned to the company commander or camp superintendent in the Safety Manual of the Civilian Conservation Corps are imposed upon the camp director who is responsible for the safety program. A safety committee will be organized on which is imposed the same duties and responsibilities as are assigned to a safety committee in a camp in the Safety Manual of the Civilian Conservation Corps. Such committee shall consist of the camp director, the two chief administrative assistants, the camp physician, and one assignee to be chosen by the other members of the committee. The Director of Selective Service has the same duties and responsibilities concerning the safety program at a camp as were assigned to the director of the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Safety Manual of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

§ 692.26 Camp rules. Rules promulgated by the camp director for the administration of his camp will constitute rules issued pursuant to these regulations when notice has been duly given by posting the same on the camp bulletin board for a period of not less than 24 hours.

The foregoing amendment to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective within the Continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the Continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDER

C. S. WETHERILL, JR.

C. S. Wetherill, Jr., of Bristol, Pennsylvania is engaged in the wholesale and retail lumber and building material supply business. During the period from July 7, 1943, to November 16, 1943, he accepted orders for, and sold, delivered or caused to be delivered, material to John Polombo of Bristol, Pennsylvania, for two construction jobs, one at Edgley, Pennsylvania, and the other at 821 Pond Street, Bristol, Pennsylvania, at an estimated cost of construction of $1,811.71 and $769.58, respectively; he knew or had reason to believe that the materials were to be used in violation of Conservation Order L-41. These acts constituted wilful violations of Conservation Order L-41. During the period from July 7, 1943, to September 17, 1943, he made seventeen deliveries of softwood lumber as defined in Conservation Order M-208 to John Polombo of Bristol, Pennsylvania. At the time of making these deliveries, respondent had reason to believe that the lumber was to be used in violation of Conservation Order M-208; the making of these deliveries constituted wilful violation of Conservation Order M-208.

These violations of Conservation Orders L-41 and M-208 have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.541 Suspension Order No. S-541. (a) Deliveries of material to C. S. Wetherill, Jr., his successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference ratings shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation, including allotments, shall be made directly or indirectly to C. S. Wetherill, Jr., his successors or assigns, of any material or product the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve C. S. Wetherill, Jr., from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on May 5, 1944, and shall expire on July 5, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 19, as Amended May 6, 1944]

FARM SUPPLIES

(b) How a farmer gets farm supplies from his dealer. (1) Whenever a farmer orders farm supplies on the list from a dealer who has them in stock, the dealer must fill the order if the farmer gives him a signed certificate as follows:

I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the supplies covered by this order are needed now and will be used for other than household purposes in the operation of a farm.

The dealer may sell the supplies to the farmer without a certificate, but the dealer must get a certificate at the time he sells if he wants to use it to get a priority for replacing the supplies in his inventory, as explained in paragraph (d) and paragraph (e) below.

(2) If a farmer wants to use the above certificate to get farm supplies which are not in the dealer's stock, except items on the list marked "*", he may do so by giving the dealer his order and a certificate. In that case the dealer may accept the certificate, and use it to get a priority on his own order for the supplies the farmer wants, as explained in paragraph (d). Supplies obtained in this way by the dealer must be sold first to those farmers who left their orders with him and gave him their certificates.

(3) A farmer may also use this certificate at a repair shop to get a priority on the use of its equipment in repairing his farm equipment.

(4) A farmer's order for repair services or for farm supplies listed in paragraph (m) (1) and supported by a certificate is the same as an order rated AA-2x. A farmer's order for farm supplies listed in paragraph (m) (2) and supported by a certificate is the same as an order rated AA-3.

(c) Farmers' certificates must be approved by rationing committees in the case of large purchases. If a farmer wants to use a certificate to buy more than $50 worth at one time of any item on the list, he must first get his certificate approved in writing by the County Farm Rationing Committee.

(2) To get the priority, the dealer signs the following statement on the purchase order which he places with his supplier:

I certify, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that the dollar amount of this order is not more than 75% of the sales price of farm supplies which I have sold or for which I have received orders under Priorities Regulation No. 19 against farmers' certificates now in my possession, and that I have not used the same certificates as the basis for getting a priority on any other order.

(3) In the special case of a dealer, such as a farmers' cooperative, a creamery, a milk-receiving station, or a dairy processing plant, all of whose sales of listed farm supplies are made at cost or at a mark-up not exceeding 3% of cost, the provisions of paragraph (d) (1) apply except that such a dealer can get priority on supplies on a dollar-for-dollar basis using the following certificate in place of that provided in paragraph (d) (2):

I certify, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that the dollar amount of this order is not more than the sales price of farm supplies which I have sold or for which I have received orders at cost or within 3% of cost under Priorities Regulation No. 19 against farmers' certificates now in my possession and that I have not used the same certificates as the basis for getting a priority on any other order.

(4) Each dealer must keep for at least two years all farmers' certificates which he receives, and whenever he uses a certificate as a basis for a priority he must mark the certificate to show which of his own orders he has used it for.

(5) An order for farm supplies bearing one of the above certifications by the dealer placing the order must be filled by the supplier with whom it is placed, unless he is a manufacturer of those supplies. (Paragraph (f) explains how to get supplies from a manufacturer.) Certified dealers' orders for farm supplies listed in paragraph (m) (1) are to be filled as if they were rated AA-2x. Certified dealers' orders for farm supplies listed in paragraph (m) (2) are to be filled as if they were rated AA-3. However, these are technically not preference ratings, and suppliers may not extend them.

(6) [Deleted May 6, 1944]

(e) Dealers use different methods in getting certain items. (1) A dealer may not use the method explained in paragraph (d) above to get the steel items which are marked "" on the list in paragraph (m), because these are things which the War Production Board handles as "controlled materials." If the item is marked "", and he has sold it to fill orders accompanied by farmers' certificates, he can get it replaced by an equal quantity of the same or other basic steel products under Order M-21-b-1, or Order M-21-b-2. A dealer handling these items should become familiar with these orders, or his supplier should explain them to him.

(2) The War Production Board may issue orders or regulations making priorities inapplicable to certain items. If any items on the list become subject to these special rules, the dealer's supplier cannot recognize the dealer's certificate as giving him a priority on them. Farmers' certificates can still be used to buy such items from the dealer and the dealer can use the certificates as a basis for a priority for buying other items on the list under paragraph (d) above. For example, Priorities Regulation No. 3 restricts the use of ratings for items on List A of that regulation, but the restrictions of List B (regarding maintenance, repair and operating supplies) do not apply to orders for farm supplies under this regulation.

(f) How to get farm supplies from manufacturers. Suppliers, and dealers who buy direct from manufacturers, can get farm supplies from manufacturers either by placing unrated orders, or by using any ratings given them on Form WPB-547 or under other orders and regulations of the War Production Board. They may not extend an AA-2x or AA-3 rating to a manufacturer on the basis of farmers' certificates or dealers' certificates. The War Production Board may sometimes use special ways to get farm supplies to suppliers or direct buying dealers, including the following:

(1) In cases of urgent need the War Production Board may tell manufacturers of farm supplies, other than those marked "*," to make part of their production available only to suppliers and direct buying dealers who show that they serve the farm trade. Whenever this is done, it will be publicly announced by the War Production Board. Farm suppliers and dealers will be told at that time how to get these supplies from the manufacturers, and how they must distribute the supplies in order to meet urgent farm requirements.

(2) Sometimes the War Production Board may decide to give special help on Form WPB-547 to suppliers and direct buying dealers serving the farm trade. The way to ask for help and the kind of help to be given them will be publicly announced at the proper time. Usually they will have to give the War Production Board some sort of special certification or special information on their WPB-547 applications. Until the way to get special help is announced, they can file their WPB-547 applications as usual.

(g) Effect of this regulation on ordinary sales of farm supplies. Suppliers and dealers may sell farm supplies not only to persons furnishing certificates under this regulation but also to other persons, as long as certified orders are given the priority to which they are entitled. Moreover, suppliers and dealers may extend in the usual way any preference ratings received from their customers for farm supplies.

NOTE: Paragraphs (h), (i) and (j), formerly paragraphs (f), (g) and (h), redesignated May 6, 1944.

(h) Penalty for violations. Any person who makes a false statement in a certificate to get a priority on farm supplies is guilty of a crime and may be punished by a fine or imprisonment.

(i) What is meant by "farmer". As used in this regulation, "farmer" means a person who engages in farming as a business, by raising crops, livestock, bees or poultry. It also includes a custom operator who uses farm supplies in performing services for farmers. It does not include a person who just has a "victory garden" or raises food or other agricultural products entirely for his own use.

(j) What is meant by "dealer". "Dealer" means any person engaged in the business of selling farm supplies directly to farmers, including a mail order house.

(k) What is meant by "supplier". "Supplier" means any person engaged in the business of selling farm supplies, which he does not manufacture himself, to dealers.

(m) What farm supplies are covered. This regulation covers only new farm supplies of the kinds listed in this paragraph which are needed and will be used by a farmer in farm work. It does not cover supplies bought for household use, for use on the farm house, or for use in any construction job for which the farmer has been given other priorities to get the materials required.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

WALTON INDUSTRIES, INC.

Walton Industries, Inc., is a corporation doing business at 30 Ionia Avenue, S. W., Grand Rapids, Michigan. During the period from January 1, 1944, to April 5, 1944, it violated General Limitation Order L–81 in that it processed, fabricated, worked on and assembled between 6,000 and 10,000 toys in the form of wagons. These wagons were on four wheels with a box or body approximately twenty-eight inches by thirteen inches by three and one-half inches, and with a handle approximately twenty-six inches long; they were made of wood, steel and rubber, and were toys as defined in General Limitation Order L–81. The responsible officers of Walton Industries, Inc., were aware of General Limitation Order L–81 and these actions must be deemed to constitute wilful violations of General Limitation Order L–81.

These violations of General Limitation Order L–81 have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.543 Suspension Order No. S–543. (a) Walton Industries, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not directly or indirectly process, fabricate, work on, or assemble any four wheel wagons (or parts thereof) containing any material prohibited by General Limitation Order L–81 with a body or box approximately twenty-eight inches by thirteen inches by three and one-half inches, or any wagons (or parts thereof) of this type or similar thereto, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Walton Industries, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 6, 1944.

Issued this 29th day of April 1944.

Recording Secretary.

[CMP Reg. 1, Direction 49]

ACCEPTANCE OF ORDERS AND SHIPMENT OF ALUMINUM INGOT (INCLUDING PIG, BILLETS, SLABS AND SIMILAR RAW FORMS)

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 1:

(a) This direction explains the conditions under which aluminum ingot producers and smelters may accept orders for and make shipment of aluminum ingot, and the method of reporting such shipments on Form WPB-2593 (formerly CMP–23). The term "ingot", as used in this direction includes pig, slabs, billets, shot and similar other raw forms. It does not include powder, flake, paste or pigment.

(b) Aluminum ingot may be delivered only to fill authorized controlled material orders and "AM" orders as follows:

(1) Authorized Controlled Material Orders. (i) Placed by the War Department only and bearing the symbol "W" or "O". The War Department will order ingot only for use in their own establishments.

(ii) For export under a program of the Foreign Economic Administration. These orders for aluminum ingot will bear allotment numbers in the "E" or "L" series and may be placed by the United States Treasury Department, or by another person on the basis of an export license.

(iii) Bearing CMP allotment numbers of which the first four digits follow in the series S–2950 through S–2975. Allotments are made in this series only for destructive or similar direct use of aluminum. Application for allotments for these purposes should be made on Form WPB–2360 to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(iv) Bearing the CMP allotment symbols "MRO–P–43" or "V–9". These symbols are used by persons purchasing aluminum ingot for experimental and research work under Order P–43.

(v) For use in casting patterns by foundries which do not have AM authorization numbers. Such orders should be designated "MRO patterns".

No other CMP allotment symbols are acceptable as authority for shipment of aluminum ingot. In any instance, in which the consumer wishes to purchase aluminum ingot under the MRO symbol, except for those uses permitted under paragraphs (b) (1) (iv) and (b) (1) (v), above, he should be referred to the Ingot Section of the Aluminum and Magnesium Division.

(2) "AM" orders bearing a number in the series listed below:[1]

AM–0100 through AM–0499 usable by producers and smelters of aluminum ingot.

AM–0500 through AM–0599 usable by aluminum powder manufacturers.

AM–1000 through AM–1099 usable by producers of aluminum rolled rod and bar.

AM–1100 through AM–1199 usable by producers of aluminum rolled structural shapes.

AM–3000 through AM–3999 usable by aluminum forge shops.

AM–4000 through AM–4099 usable by producers of aluminum extruded products.

AM–6000 through AM–6099 usable by producers of aluminum sheet, strip and plate.

AM–7000 through AM–9499 usable by aluminum foundries and die casting plants.

No other "AM" authorization numbers are acceptable for the shipment of aluminum ingot. An "AM" order placed with an ingot producer as provided above must be accepted and filled as though it were an authorized controlled material order.

(c) In reporting shipments of ingot on Form WPB–2593, show the full CMP allotment number if it falls in the S–2950 to S–2975 series. Only the abbreviated CMP allotment number (Claimant Agency letter and first program number) need be shown for shipments on allotment numbers in the "E", "L", "O", or "W" series. For shipments on "AM" numbers show the full "AM" authorization number.

(d) Any questions concerning authorization for the movement of aluminum ingot should be addressed to the attention of the Ingot Section, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(e) This direction supersedes aluminum directive P–8, dated October 1, 1943, and any previous instructions or directives relative to the acceptance of orders for shipment of aluminum ingot, and paragraph (t) (3) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1. Aluminum Directive No. P–3, dated July 15, 1943, to "approved" aluminum smelters is hereby revoked.

Issued this 8th day of May 1944.

[1] (See paragraph (b) (2)). Footnote: Orders for aluminum ingot are identified by authorization numbers preceded by the symbol "AM". These numbers are assigned to aluminum producers, smelters, fabricators, and foundries as authority to purchase of aluminum ingot or other raw material stock for further fabrication into other forms of aluminum controlled materials. If a person or firm wishes to purchase aluminum ingot for such fabrication and does not have such an authorization number, he should be referred to the Ingot Section, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, War Production Board.

(g) Producers' reports. Each producer shall file with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M21, reports at such times and on such forms as may from time to time be prescribed, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: Paragraphs (h), (i) and (j), formerly (g), (h) and (i), redesignated May 8, 1944.

(1) "Wool" means the fiber from the fleece of the sheep or lamb, or the hair of the Angora goat (mohair) or the Cashmere goat, camel, alpaca, llama, vicuna, and related fibers, including carpet wool, but does not include noils, waste, tanners' wool waste, reprocessed or reused wool, or yarn or cloth;

(2) "Waste" means the by-product resulting from carding, combing, spinning and subsequent operations on any system, but does not include the by-product resulting from scouring and carbonizing operations;

(3) "Put into process" means:

(i) On the worsted system, the first operation of drawing after combing;

(ii) On any other system using tops, cut tops or broken tops, the first operation of cutting, breaking, picking or carding, as the case may be;

(iii) On the woolen, felt, or any other system not using tops, the first operation after scouring, carbonizing, dusting or similar cleaning or preparatory process;

(4) [Deleted Nov. 19, 1943]

(c) Restrictions. (1) No person shall put into process any wool other than carpet wool or mohair for the manufacture of any floor covering.

(2) No person shall put into process or use any alpaca or tops therefrom (except alpaca seconds, llama, huarizo, pieces, low offsorts or locks), except for the manufacture of yarns or cloth to be delivered to or for the account of, or to be physically incorporated into material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration.

(3) No spinner shall deliver on an unrated order any knitting yarn which he puts into process in the period from May 13, 1944, through July 15, 1944. He shall in that period produce at least the same proportion of knitting yarn to all other Bradford yarn as he produced in the first calendar quarter in 1944.

In this subparagraph "yarn" means yarn containing any wool, produced on spinning, twister or roving frames on the Bradford system, "spinner" means a person who in the first calendar quarter in 1944 produced such knitting yarn for use by himself or others, and calculations are in pounds.

(e) General exceptions. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to any person to the extent that such person puts wool into process for the making of wool products entirely by hand, including the spinning and weaving of the cloth.

(f) Equitable distribution. It is the policy of the War Production Board that wool, noils, waste, tanners' wool waste, and reprocessed or reused wool, and yarns, cloth, felts and products containing any of the foregoing, not required to fill rated orders, shall be distributed equitably. In making such distribution due regard shall be given to essential civilian needs, and there should be no discrimination in the acceptance or filling of orders as between persons who meet the seller's regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment. Under this policy every seller of such items, so far as practicable, should make available an equitable proportion of his merchandise to his customers periodically without prejudice because of their size, location or relationship as affiliated outlets. It is not the intention to interfere with established channels and methods of distribution unless necessary to meet war or essential civilian needs. If voluntary observance of the policy outlined is inadequate to achieve equitable distribution, the War Production Board may issue specific directions to named concerns. A failure to comply with a specific direction shall be deemed a violation.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 5,[1] Amdt. 59]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 22.1 is amended by inserting the following definition between the definition of "ration credits" and definition of "rationed food".

"Ration evidence" means any written or printed document authorizing the transfer, delivery or acquisition of rationed commodities or the transfer of ration credits, and includes stamps, coupons, certificates and ration checks.

2. New sections 25.3 and 25.4 are added to read as follows:

SEC. 25.3 Institutional users who cease serving military or naval personnel. (a) An institutional user who has fed Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel in the manner described in section 25.1 and who ceases feeding such personnel in that manner, must account for all rationed foods and ration credits for feeding such personnel which he has on hand.

(b) He must file a statement with the board prior to June 1, 1944, or within thirty (30) days after ceasing to feed such military or naval personnel, whichever is later, showing:

(1) The quantities and kinds of rationed foods on hand when he ceased feeding such personnel which had not been previously reported to the board under any provisions of this order;

(2) The point value at the time of filing the statement of each kind of processed foods or foods covered by Ration Order 16 included in the statement; and

(3) The amounts of any unexpended ration credits or ration evidences on hand at such time which were acquired in the manner described in section 25.1.

(c) At the time of filing that statement he must, in addition, turn over to the Board all unexpended ration credits and ration evidences described in the statement.

(d) After filing the statement, he must:

(1) Sell or transfer the rationed foods listed therein for ration evidences in the same way that a retailer is permitted to sell or transfer such foods. (NOTE: Such transfers may not be made in exchange for tokens.) Within five (5) days after the sale or transfer, he must surrender to the Board all ration evidences received and account for any foods sold at less than full point value; or

(2) Retain all or part of the food for institutional use at his establishment, and issue to the Board a certified ration check (or surrender ration evidences if he has no ration bank account) for the amount of the food retained.

(e) Thirty (30) days after filing the statement he shall be charged with excess inventory of sugar, processed foods and foods covered by Ration Order 16, each computed separately, in the following way:

(1) The total amount of ration credits or ration evidences surrendered to the Board is determined;

(2) If he sold or transferred any processed foods or foods covered by Ration Order 16 at less than their full point value, the difference between the point value of those foods and the number of points received by him for those foods is determined;

(3) The figures obtained in (1) and (2) are added, and the sum is deducted from the total of the value (in pounds for sugar, in points for processed foods and foods covered by Ration Order 16) of the foods and unexpended ration credits and evidences reported on his statement; and

(4) The difference is charged as excess inventory.

SEC. 25.4 Disposing of excess stocks by institutional users feeding military or naval personnel. (a) An institutional user who feeds Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel in the manner described in section 25.1 and who has a stock of rationed foods for that purpose which is not charged to excess inventory may dispose of any part of those foods although he will continue to feed such personnel. He may dispose of those foods in the following way:

(1) He must obtain the permission of the officer in command (or other authorized officer) to sell or transfer such foods or to use them for service other than to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed in the manner described in section 25.1; and

(2) Upon obtaining such permission, he may sell or transfer those foods in the same way that a retailer is permitted to sell or transfer such foods. Within five (5) days after the sale or transfer he must surrender to the officer in command all ration evidences received. He must also account to the officer in command for any foods transferred for which he did not receive ration evidences. If he wishes to retain such foods for institutional use in his establishment for service other than to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed in the manner described in section 25.1, he must surrender to the officer in command ration credits or ration evidences in an amount equal to the value of the foods retained by him for such service. Any ration credits or ration evidences so surrendered shall be deposited in the ration bank account maintained for the use of the officer in command.

This amendment shall become effective May 10, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Gen. RO 5,[1] Amdt. 63]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new section 5.7 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 5.7 Reduction of allotments for Ration Order 16 foods. (a) The meal service allotment under sections 6.2, 7.3, 7.6, 7.9, 26.1 and 31.1, and Article XI, for foods covered by Ration Order 16 for all institutional users for the allotment period May–June, 1944, shall be reduced by fifty percent (50%). If the allotment for that period has already been issued, the amount of this reduction in the allotment shall be charged as excess inventory. An institutional user may not, after May 3, 1944, use foods covered by Ration Order 16 which have a point value if, between May 1 and May 3, 1944, he used such foods up to the amount of that reduced allotment plus any unused parts of his prior allotments, or if the use of those foods would cause his total use of such foods in points during the allotment period May–June, 1944, to exceed that reduced allotment plus any unused parts of his prior allotments.

(b) Any institutional user other than a Group I user who, after April 30, 1944, acquired for points foods covered by Ration Order 16 which have a zero point value beginning May 4, 1944 from his reserve allotment or from points issued to him for the allotment period May–June 1944, may apply for an adjustment in the amount by which his allotment is reduced under paragraph (a) of this section. (b) Children's allowance. If one or more children under six (6) years of age regularly live in the dwelling, the renewed ration shall be increased by:

§ 1394.5362 How the renewed hot water ration for a private dwelling is figured. (a) The renewed ration for domestic hot water in a private dwelling (other than a house trailer), shall be figured as follows:

(1) Central heating equipment or separate water heating equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of central heating equipment or separate water heating equipment, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person plus five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly living in the dwelling, and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the ration is needed.

OTHER PREMISES

(Residential using central heating; non-residential using any equipment)

§ 1394.5366 How the renewed heat or hot water ration is figured for residential premises (other than a private dwelling) using central heating or separate water heating equipment or for non-residential premises using any equipment. (a) The renewed ration for the 1944–45 heating year for furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to residential premises (other than a private dwelling) by means of central heating equipment or separate water heating equipment, or to non-residential premises by means of any heating or water heating equipment shall be figured as follows:

(1) If a renewed ration for the purpose was granted to the applicant for the 1943–44 heating year, the renewed ration (for the 1944–45 heating year) shall be the same amount as that ration.

(2) If a ration for the purpose for the 1943–44 heating year was granted to the applicant as a new applicant under Section 21 Appendix A, the renewed ration shall be the amount of fuel oil that the applicant was entitled to use for that year (excluding all additional rations).

(3) If a ration for the purpose for the 1943–44 heating year was granted to the applicant as a late applicant under § 1394.5332, the renewed ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil consumed for the purpose (adjusted to normal according to section 9 (c) of Appendix A) during the base period (i. e., from June 1, 1942 through May 31, 1943.) However, if fuel oil was not used for the purpose during the base period, or if for any reason (other than weather conditions) the fuel oil consumption during the base period is not representative of normal fuel oil requirements during the 1944–45 heating year, or if the consumption during the base period cannot be determined, the renewed ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil needed to meet the normal fuel oil requirements of the premises for such purpose.

RATION EVIDENCES FOR RENEWALS

§ 1394.5367 The renewed ration will be evidenced by coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates.—(a) When Class 3 coupon sheets will be issued. Class 3 coupon sheets (OPA Forms R–1107 through R–1110) will be issued where the amount of fuel oil which the applicant may acquire for heat or hot water, or both, for the 1944–45 heating year is three hundred (300) gallons or less.

(b) When Class 4A, 5A and 6A coupon sheets will be issued. Class 4A, 5A and 6A coupon sheets (OPA Forms R–1137A through R–1166A) will be issued where the amount of fuel oil which the applicant may acquire for heat or hot water, or both, for the 1944–45 heating year is more than three hundred (300) gallons.

(1) All unit value coupons will be issued on the basis of ten (10) gallons per unit.

(2) If the gallonage for which coupons are to be issued is not a multiple of the value (at ten (10) gallons per unit) of the unit value coupons of the coupon sheets to be issued, coupons may be issued to the next highest multiple of the value of such unit value coupons.

(c) When fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued. If the amount of fuel oil which the applicant may acquire for heat or hot water, or both, for the 1944–45 heating year is twenty thousand (20,000) gallons or more, fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued, instead of coupons, upon request of the applicant. However, if fuel oil deposit certificates evidenced the previous ration for the purpose issued to the applicant, fuel oil deposit certificates only will be issued.

(1) The gallonage value of the first fuel oil deposit certificate issued to the applicant will equal one-third (⅓) of the amount of the fuel oil he may acquire and will include the first validity period. A certificate, representing the allocable part of the ration for each subsequent validity period, will be issued after the value of the unit value coupons for the period and zone has been fixed. If the value of the Class 4A, 5A and 6A unit value coupons for any validity period is changed from ten (10) gallons, a proportionate adjustment will be made in the amount of the fuel oil deposit certificate issued for that period.

§ 1394.5368 Class 4A, 5A and 6A coupon sheets.—(a) They have both unit and fixed value coupons. Class 4A, 5A and 6A coupon sheets have coupons with a value of one (1), five (5) and twenty-five (25) units, respectively, as well as coupons of definite gallonage value.

(b) When and where unit value coupons may be used by consumers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a consumer in exchange for a unit value coupon only during the validity period and in the zone printed on the coupon. (The zones are described in § 1394.5330.) There will be five (5) validity periods all extending through August 31, 1945. The date on which each period will begin for each zone will be added by subsequent amendments to this order.

(c) When unit value coupons may be used by dealers and primary suppliers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a unit value coupon on and after the first date when the coupon may be used for a transfer of fuel oil to a consumer. The coupon may not be used in any zone for any purpose (as for example, for obtaining an exchange certificate or for deposit in a ration bank account) after September 30, 1945.

(d) When and where fixed value coupons may be used by consumers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a consumer in exchange for a fixed value coupon from a Class 4A, 5A or 6A coupon sheet only during the validity period of the coupon sheet.

(e) When fixed value coupons may be used by dealers and primary suppliers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a fixed value coupon from a Class 4A, 5A or 6A coupon sheet only on and after the first date on which the coupon may be used for a transfer of fuel oil to a consumer, but not after September 30, 1945.

§ 1394.5369 Application for, determination and issuance of, renewed rations for heat and hot water for use outside the limitation area. Regardless of any provisions of this order:

(a) Application for a renewed ration for heat or hot water, or both, for use without the limitation area shall be made to the nearest Board in the thermal subzone nearest the premises in which the renewed ration is to be used.

(b) The Board shall, in such case, figure the renewed ration and issue coupons for a fuel oil deposit certificate in the same manner as if such premises were located in the thermal subzone in which the application is made.

6. Section 1394.5452 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.5452 Notations on coupon sheets. At the time of issuing a coupon sheet, the Board shall enter thereon the name of the person to whom it is issued, the address of the place where the ration is to be used, and the total gallonage value of the coupons attached to the coupon sheet. In the case of a Class 3 coupon sheet issued as a ration other than for domestic cooking or lighting, the Board shall also enter on it the first day when the coupons attached to the sheet may be used for acquiring fuel oil.

7. Section 1394.5455 (b) is added as follows:

(b) An applicant to whom a Class 4A, 5A or 6A coupon sheet has been issued shall, in addition to signing the coupon sheet, enter on it the date he received it from the Board. No coupon from any such sheet shall be valid until the coupon sheet to which it is attached has been signed and dated as required.

8. Section 1394.5458 is amended by substituting for the phrase "Class 4, 5 or 6 coupon sheet" the phrase "coupon sheet containing unit value coupons."

9. Section 1394.5462 (a) is amended by adding after the period at the end of the paragraph the following sentence: "The issuance of such certificates as renewed rations for heat or hot water for the 1944–45 heating year is covered by § 1394.5368 (d)."

10. The text of § 1394.5653 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.5653 Transfers to consumers in exchange for coupons. Fuel oil may be transferred to consumers (and consumers may accept such transfers) in exchange for currently valid coupons attached to coupon sheets on the following conditions:

11. Section 1394.5653 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Transfers may be made only during the period of validity noted on the coupon sheet (or in the case of a coupon sheet containing unit value coupons, only during the valid period of the coupon in exchange for which the transfer is made), and only in exchange for coupons valid in the zone in which the transfer is made.

This amendment shall become effective on May 10, 1944.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

MEAT, FATS, FISH AND CHEESES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 16 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 7.6 (j) is added to read as follows:

(j) Reduction of allotment and adjustments for meat (including canned fish) having a zero point value. (1) The allotment for the second allotment period of 1944 of any industrial user who used meat (including canned fish) during the second quarter of his base period, shall be reduced by two-thirds of the amount which represents that use. The amount of the reduction shall be treated as excess inventory. He may not, after May 3, 1944, use foods covered by this order which have a point value, if, before that date, he used such foods up to the amount of that reduced allotment plus any unused parts of his prior allotments or if such use of foods covered by this order would cause his total use, in points, during the second allotment period to exceed that reduced allotment plus any unused parts of his prior allotments.

(2) An industrial user who acquired meat (including canned fish) for points after March 15, 1944, from points issued to him for the second allotment period, may apply for an adjustment of his excess inventory. (An industrial user who, on March 15, 1944, had points on hand or in his ration bank account is considered to have acquired meat (including canned fish) from points issued to him for his second allotment period only to the extent that the point value of the meat (including canned fish) he acquired after March 15, 1944, exceeds the points he had on hand and in his ration bank account on that date.) Application shall be made on OPA Form R–315 to the board with which he is registered and must state, with respect to each such acquisition:

(i) The point value of meat (including canned fish) acquired for points after March 15, 1944, from points issued to him for the second allotment period;

(ii) The types and quantities of meat (including canned fish) acquired, with these points;

(iii) The dates on which such foods were acquired; and

(iv) The names and addresses of the persons from whom such foods were acquired.

(3) If the board finds the statements made in the application are true, it shall grant the application and reduce his excess inventory by the number of such points which he used to acquire meat (and canned fish) between March 16 and May 3, 1944, inclusive. His excess inventory may not, however, be reduced by more than two-thirds of his allotment based on his use of meat and canned fish.

(4) An industrial user who, during the second quarter of his base period, used meat which on May 4, 1944, has a point value may apply for an allotment covering such meat. The application shall be made on OPA Form R–315, and must estimate the number of pounds of such meat, separately for "bone in and separated suet" and for "boned and boneless," which he used during the second quarter of his base period. The board may grant the application if it finds that the industrial user used, during the second quarter of his base period, meat which on May 4, 1944, has a point value, and shall determine the amount of his allotment for the balance of the second allotment period of 1944 in the following way:

(i) The number of pounds of meat (having a point value on May 4, 1944) in the class "Bone in and separated suet" which he used during the second quarter of his base period is multiplied by the factor 2.6;

(ii) The number of pounds of meat (having a point value on May 4, 1944) in the class "Boned and Boneless" which he used during the second quarter of his base period is multiplied by the factor 3.4;

(iii) The resulting figures are added together and represent his allotment for the balance of the second allotment period of 1944 for meat having a point value on May 4, 1944. (Section 7.6 (d) applies in determining whether an industrial user who receives an adjustment under this subparagraph is entitled to a certificate, and determining the amount of the certificate.)

However, there shall be deducted from the allotment granted under this subparagraph (4) the amount of any adjustment obtained under subparagraph (3).

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m., May 4, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of the amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1944.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Supp. Order 87]

SALES OF SURPLUS COMMODITIES BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT OR ITS AGENCIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this supplementary order, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1305.115 Sales of surplus commodities by the United States Government or its agencies—(a) Purpose of this supplementary order. This order is a temporary measure intended to facilitate the movement of surplus goods at fair and equitable prices pending the issuance by the Office of Price Administration of a comprehensive order governing prices of surplus goods sold by Government agencies.

For the purposes of this order: "Surplus commodities" shall include all commodities, except food, that are in new condition (that is, have not been used, damaged or become deteriorated) and that were originally purchased for use; "Government agency" shall include the United States Government or any department, agency, commission, corporation, or other such instrumentality of the United States Government.

(b) Maximum prices at which Government agencies may sell. In the case of any surplus commodity for which no price regulation establishes maximum prices in terms of dollars and cents or by incorporating published price lists by specific reference, any Government agency may sell at a price not to exceed its cost of acquisition. Such price shall be "where is" or f. o. b. point of shipment, whichever is the current practice of the selling agency with respect to the commodity being sold. This supplementary order does not limit any Government agency to cost of acquisition in any case in which an exemption from price control is otherwise provided in any price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration, and further, any Government agency may use alternative methods of establishing maximum prices provided in any such regulation or order.

"Cost of acquisition" means actual delivered cost, or if actual delivered cost is unknown, the estimated average delivered cost to the Government. All other expenses, including handling, warehousing, costs of trans-shipment, and contract termination allowances by the Government agency are excluded.

"Price regulation" means a price schedule effective in accordance with the provisions of section 206 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, a maximum price regulation or temporary maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, or any order issued pursuant to any such regulation or schedule.

This Supplementary Order No. 87 shall become effective May 6, 1944.

(i) An amount which may be adjusted later, up to but not to exceed the maximum price in effect at the time of putting the raw sugar being priced by the contract into the refiner's melt, or

(ii) An average of the prices not to exceed an average of the maximum prices of raw cane sugar at the specified port of arrival which prevail during the period of the contract, or

PART 1413—SOFTWOOD LUMBER PRODUCTS

[2d Rev. MPR 13,[1] Amdt. 1]

DOUGLAS FIR PLYWOOD

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 13 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new sentence is added at the end of section 2 (a) as follows: "This regulation also covers plywood made of other softwood species, but does not cover any plywood which contains one or more laminations of hardwood veneer."

2. Section 6 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for items not specifically priced—(a) Pricing method for cut-backs, rejects, and plywood produced from short length veneers. This paragraph (a) applies to plywood which has been rejected by grading process, reclaimed plywood of odd sizes developed by cutting back rejects, and plywood produced from short length veneers developed because of defects in logs. The maximum price is as follows:

The price per thousand feet specified in Appendices A or B for the grade and thickness in the size next lower than the developed size. Where, as in the case of plywall, plyscord, and plyform, the price tables do not carry differentials down to a 24" width, the differentials established for plypanel Sound Two Sides shall be used. For example, if a piece of 5/16" plyscord in a 28" width is developed, the price of $29.70 must be reduced by $1.10, since in 5/16" plypanel the differential between 36" width, which is the narrowest plyscord size, and 24" width is $1.10. Similarly, for 5/16" plywall in a width of 40" the price would be $33.00 less $2.05, since that is the differential between 48" width and 36" width, which is the next narrower width in 5/16" plypanel. For rejects in widths of 24 inches and lower, the 24 inch standard width price shall apply as a yardstick.

(b) All other grades, services and extras not listed. If a seller wishes to sell a grade or species of plywood which is not specifically priced in the price tables, or wishes to make an addition for special workings, specifications, services, or other extras for which additions are not specifically permitted (except as provided in paragraph (a) above), he must apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for a maximum price. He must provide the following information:

(1) The requested price;

(2) A complete description of the item to be priced;

(3) The price differential between it and the most comparable item in the price tables between January 1 and August 1, 1941, from the seller's own records or if that is impossible, from the experience of the trade. If no established price differential existed, a detailed analysis of comparative value should be furnished.

(4) A true copy of the order or of customer's inquiry on the basis of which the application has been submitted.

(5) A statement by the purchaser that none of the grades specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is intended to be used, which purpose is to be stated; and that it has been his custom or that it is now necessary to purchase plywood on such special specifications.

In each case where a special price is approved, an authorization number will be assigned which must appear on all final invoices covering shipments at such special price. Quotations and deliveries may not be made at the requested price until the price has been approved. Action on the request may be by letter or telegram.

Prior to May 31, 1944, the Lumber Branch will assign authorization numbers for each special price previously approved and thereafter such authorization numbers must appear on all invoices covering shipments at such special prices. Special prices are subject to cancellation by letter or telegram at any time.

3. In section 4 (a), the first sentence in Item II is amended by adding a semicolon and the following words "except that in sales in the primary market the inbound transportation shall be computed at a rate of 10½ cents per hundred pounds".

4. In section 5, the last sentence in paragraph (a) is amended by adding after the closing parenthesis the following words "except that in sales in the primary market the inbound transportation shall be computed at a rate of 10½ cents per hundred pounds".

This amendment shall become effective May 11, 1944.

SECTION 1. Sales of Western primary forest products at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after May 22, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any Western primary forest products at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 2. Products, species and transactions covered. This regulation covers all sales and purchases of the primary forest products listed below when produced in the territory described, except as provided in paragraph (d) below.

(a) Products covered. (1) Western mine pit posts and stulls, whether peeled or unpeeled and whether processed or unprocessed, Western mine ties, timbers, blocks, cross bars, caps, lagging, and wedges, and any other wooden mine material.

(2) Western railroad cross ties and switch ties.

(3) Poles and piling.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

(4) Miscellaneous primary forest products.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 3, effective 5-13-44]

(b) Species covered. Ponderosa pine (Pinus ponderosa), Idaho white pine (Pinus monticola), sugar pine (Pinus lambertiana), Douglas fir, (Pseudotsuga taxifolia), West Coast hemlock (Tsuga heterophylla, Tsuga mertensiana), true firs (Abies), larch (Larix occidentalis), Engelmann spruce (Picea), incense cedar (Libocedrus decurrens), tamarack (Larix lyallii), redwood (Sequoia sempervirens), lodgepole pine (Pinus contorta), Western red cedar (Thuja plicata), and all other species produced in the territory described below.

(c) Territory covered. Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming; Cimarron, Texas and Beaver Counties, Oklahoma; those counties in Texas west of the east line of Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Childress, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, and Maverick Counties; Mexico; and Canada.

(d) Excepted products and species. Sawn railroad ties of the Redwood species (Sequoia sempervirens) are not covered by this regulation but remain subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 253.[2] Railroad ties of Redwood species are subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 284 only when they are split or hewn. Wooden mine materials of Redwood, Douglas fir, hemlock or true firs, produced in Oregon and Washington west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains, are not subject to this regulation but to Maximum Price Regulation No. 26[4] or Maximum Price Regulation No. 253.

SEC. 3. Basic maximum prices. The basic maximum prices for Western mine materials are set out in section 16, Appendix A; for Western railroad ties in section 17, Appendix B; and for Western poles and piling in section 18, Appendix C; and for miscellaneous primary forest products in section 19, Appendix D. These maximum prices are all f. o. b. the railroad loading-out point or towable waters, nearest the mill or point of production in the normal direction of delivery to the point of destination.

[Sec. 3 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43, and Am. 3, effective 5-13-44]

SEC. 4. Transportation addition. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of this section applying to poles and piling (other than lodgepole pine) and in footnotes to Tables 5 and 8, the transportation charges set forth below may be added to the maximum f. o. b. railroad loading-out point or towable water prices when the seller makes delivery to the destination. Transportation from the mill or point of production to the railroad loading-out point or booming and rafting ground must, in every instance, be provided on the seller's account. All additions for transportation must be shown separately on the invoice.

[Sec. 4 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43; and Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

(a) Common or contract carrier. (1) When estimated weights or guaranteed mean diameters are used, the appropriate published rate times the estimated weight or mean diameter is the proper transportation charge, even though the estimated weights or diameters may be higher than actual. Estimated weights higher than those set forth in the appendices may not be used. The estimated weight must be taken from the appendices for the exact type of product actually ordered. To compute mean diameters add 1" to the top or butt diameter, whichever is the controlling factor, and increase or decrease that figure by 1" for each 10 lineal feet. Add the top and butt diameters thus determined and divide by two to find the mean diameter. The charge for transportation shall be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per MBM, quarter cent per lineal foot, or five cents per pole, whichever is applicable.

(2) When estimated weights are not used, the amount added for transportation must not be more than the amount actually paid to the common or contract carrier.

(b) Private truck. (1) When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the maximum permissible addition (on hauls involving any point outside of metropolitan areas) shall be computed as 5 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of not over 10 miles, 7 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 10 but not over 20 miles, 9 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 20 but not over 30 miles, and for each mile over 30 miles, two tenths of a cent per 100 pounds to be added to the 30-mile charge. No addition is allowed for the return trip.

(2) A "metropolitan area" includes all territory within 10 miles of the city limits of any city having a population of 250,000 or more according to the Census of 1940. On shipment by private truck entirely within a metropolitan area, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the published motor common carrier rate for such haul times the estimated weight or other unit of measure used. If there is no published rate, then the actual cost of trucking may be added, that is, the seller's out-of-pocket expense in making delivery. In the case of poles and piling only, if the order and shipment are for less than a truckload, a minimum charge for 10,000 pounds may be made."

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43; and Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

(c) Rail shipments of poles and piling (other than lodgepole pine.) (1) On eastbound shipments by rail the transportation addition for all shippers may be computed as the estimated weights shown in the appropriate table times the rail freight rate from Seattle, Washington.

(2) On southbound shipments by rail or combined water and rail in the case of poles and piling produced in Canada to destinations covered in Pacific Freight Tariff Bureau Tariff No. 80-H or appropriate intrastate tariffs the transportation addition may be computed as the estimated weights shown in the appropriate table times the rail freight rate arrived at as follows:

(i) When the published rail rate is greater than the Seattle, Washington rate, the Bellingham, Washington published rate may be used; on shipments of poles or piling produced in Canada the Bellingham rate may be used regardless of the location of rail shipping point.

(ii) When the published rail rate is greater than the Portland, Oregon rate but not greater than the Seattle, Washington published rate, the Seattle, Washington published rate may be used.

(iii) When the shipping point is North of the California-Oregon State line and takes a published rail rate not greater than the Portland rate, the Portland published rate may be used.

(iv) When the shipping point is in the State of California the published rate from Arcata, California may be used.

(3) On shipments of Western red cedar poles and piling from points in Idaho, Montana, and that part of Washington east of the crest of the Cascade Mountains to points for which there is no published through railroad freight rate via the Minnesota Transfer-Twin Cities Gateway, the transportation addition may be computed on the basis of the local freight rate or rates from the original loading-out point to destination.

(4) Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c), if a milling-in-transit rate is applicable and results in a lower total cost of transportation, the milling-in-transit rate must be used.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

(d) For other means of transportation, where there are no published rates the actual cost of such transportation may be charged, that is, the out-of-pocket cost to the seller whether public or private means of transportation are used.

[Paragraph (c) and (d) added, former (c) redesignated (e) by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

(e) Averaging-out. (1) When a single order, for which a single flat delivered price was quoted and accepted, is shipped from two or more railroad loading-out points to a single destination on varying freight rates, the seller may average out the transportation charges applying from the railroad loading-out point to the destination.

(2) In order that no single invoice shall appear to be false or over the ceiling, the seller must write on each invoice that the particular shipment is part of a larger order. Then, when shipment has been completed, he must render a final invoice which shows the individual prices, loading-out point, the amount shipped from each loading-out point, each destination, the freight charge for each shipment, and a reconciliation of the total amount so computed with the agreed delivered sale price and also with the maximum price permitted by this regulation.

SEC. 5. Treatment addition. An addition for preservative treatment other than treatment specifically priced in this regulation may be made at prices not higher than those permitted by the General Maximum Price Regulation[5] or any other applicable maximum price regulation of the Office of Price Administration.

[Sec. 5 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

SEC. 6. Tie contractors' addition. (a) In Table No. 5, Appendix A, a "tie contractors' addition" is provided. It applies to cross ties (not switch ties) produced in the Fringe Area (as defined in the following section) of Western pine and the associated species listed in Table 5.

(b) The term "tie contractor" is used to describe a person who, prior to October 1, 1942, was engaged in the business of supplying Western railroad cross ties to ultimate users of ties (such as railroads, street railways, industrial plants maintaining track facilities), to contractors engaged in building or maintaining track for war projects, or to persons purchasing ties for resale, and who can meet the following specific requirements:

(1) He must have maintained a concentration yard with necessary supervisory employees at which ties were bought for resale, or he must have operated producing units on timber owned or controlled by him which were primarily engaged in the production of Western railroad cross ties;

(2) During one calendar month of any of the 12 months preceding October 1, 1942, he must have either purchased or produced not less than 200,000 board feet of Western railroad cross ties; and

(3) During the entire 12 months preceding October 1, 1942, he must have successfully fulfilled a contract for the supply of at least 1,000,000 board feet of Western railroad cross ties.

(c) The Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., may by letter or telegram authorize any person not meeting these qualifications to act as a tie contractor upon presentation of proof that the granting of this authorization will supply a service needed by tie users by increasing production and availability of cross ties in the area covered by this regulation.

SEC. 7. Definitions of territories. (a) The term "North and West Area" means the States of California, Idaho, Montana, and Nevada, and those parts of Oregon and Washington east of the crest of the Cascade Mountains; and Canada.

(b) The term "Fringe Area" means the States of North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico; Cimarron, Texas, and Beaver Counties, Oklahoma; and those counties in Texas west of the east line of Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Childress, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, and Maverick Counties; and Mexico.

(c) The term "Western Schedule" as used in section 18, Table 10, refers to sales of treated poles shipped from treating plants or concentration yards located in California or in those parts of Oregon, Washington, and Canada west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains (regardless of the location of the original loading-out point), and to sales of untreated poles shipped from original loading-out points or from concentration yards in that same territory.

(d) The term "Eastern Schedule", as used in section 18, Table 10A, refers to sales of treated poles shipped from treating plants or concentration yards located outside the area described in paragraph (c), regardless of the location of the original loading-out point. It applies also to sales of untreated poles shipped from original loading-out points or from concentration yards located outside the area described in paragraph (c).

[Paragraphs (c) and (d) added; section heading amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

SEC. 8. Prohibited practices.—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings, and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were on April 1, 1942. The cash and credit periods recognized by the seller on April 1, 1942, shall not be reduced.

(2) Refusing to sell on a loading-out point basis and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(3) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(4) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want.

SEC. 9. Purchasing commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating Western primary forest products, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of those products, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer which is higher than the maximum price of the products. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the products in connection with which the service is performed.

SEC. 10. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

[Sec. 10 amended by Supplementary Order 50, 8 F.R. 10568, 14310 effective 7-27-43]

SEC. 11. Special pricing. Grades, specifications, lengths, sizes, species and extras of Western primary forest products not specifically priced in the appendices are nevertheless subject to this regulation. Maximum prices for these products will be determined as follows:

[Above paragraph amended; former subparagraphs (1) and (2) redesignated (a) and (b) and amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

(a) The seller should check his records to determine the highest prices at which he sold, during the first month prior to November 1, 1941, both the item to be priced and the most comparable item of Western primary forest products priced in the regulation, which shall be the "yardstick" grade for this computation.

(b) He shall ascertain the difference between the prices of the "yardstick" grade and the item to be priced, and shall determine the tentative maximum price for the item to be priced by adding the difference to the maximum price established for the "yardstick" grade if the item is of greater value than the "yardstick", or subtracting it, if of lesser value. The tentative price obtained by application of the method of computation outlined above shall be submitted to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days of the use of the price, together with copies of the invoices of the sales which were used to determine the maximum price. If, within 30 days after the receipt of the request for approval, the Office of Price Administration does not adjust or require further justification of the maximum price, it shall be considered approved and shall thereafter be the maximum price for that seller for that item. Pending action by the Office of Price Administration, the seller may deliver the item and receive payment, subject to the condition that a refund will be made if the price is in excess of that finally approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) For any grade, specification, length, size, species, or extra for which a maximum price is not provided in the appendices, or which cannot be priced according to paragraphs (a) and (b) above, the maximum price shall be the price established by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., after full facts have been submitted in support of a request for the establishment of a maximum price. The maximum price may be established by letter or telegram. The period allowed for consideration by the Lumber Branch, and the seller's rights pending disposition of his application, are the same as set out in paragraph (b) above.

SEC. 12. Petitions for adjustment and amendment. (a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6 [6] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or subcontracts.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Supplementary Order 83, 9 F.R. 973, effective 2-1-44]

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[7] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 13. Records. All sellers of Western primary forest products must keep records which will show a complete description of the item sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought 5,000 board feet or the equivalent in other measure of Western primary forest products. The records must be kept for two years for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 14. Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by the regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(c) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10-1-43; and Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

SEC. 15. Exports. The maximum price for export sales of Western primary forest products is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[9]

SEC. 16. Appendix A: Maximum prices for Western mine materials. All maximum prices set forth below are f. o. b. the railroad loading-out point nearest the mill or point of production in the normal direction of delivery to the point of destination. These maximum prices do not include treatment.

The species covered by this Appendix A are: Lodgepole pine, Ponderosa pine, larch, Tamarack, Douglas fir, Engelmann spruce and related species, or any combination of these species, except sawn mine materials of Douglas fir, hemlock and true firs produced in Oregon and Washington west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains.

	Per M' BM	Estimated weight per M' BM
A. R. E. A. or Par. 172	$38.50	4,000

1. When split redwood ties are delivered by truck from a production or concentration point to any place other than a railroad loading-out point, the maximum price shall be computed on the basis of $32.50 per M'BM f. o. b. the truck loading point, and to this price may be added the trucking charges provided in section 4 (a) or (b), computing the addition for the truck mileage from the truck loading point to destination.

2. When split redwood ties are delivered by truck from the production or concentration point to a railroad loading-out point other than the nearest railroad loading-out point, the maximum price shall be computed on the basis of $32.50 per M'BM f. o. b. the truck loading-out point, and to this price may be added the trucking charges provided in section 4 (a) or (b), computing the addition by multiplying the railroad mileage from the nearest loading point to destination by the applicable trucking rate.

[Footnotes 1 and 2 added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

SEC. 18. Appendix C: Maximum prices for poles and piling. (a) All maximum prices set forth below are f. o. b. cars at the railroad loading-out point or dumped, boomed, and rafted on towable waters nearest the point of production in the normal direction of delivery to the point of destination.

[Paragraphs (a) amended, (c) (formerly (b)) added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43]

(b) Averaging inbound transportation charges from multiple basing points. The addition for inbound transportation may be calculated by multiplying the estimated weight of the material by the local freight rate from the basing point of the untreated poles or piling. If the untreated material is received from more than one basing point, an average rate of all inbound freight may be used. The average must be determined by the following formula:

(1) The total inbound freight charges on all receipts during the preceding three months of the type and species of the item to be priced—divided by—

(2) The total weight of all receipts of such items during the three-month period, regardless of whether inbound freight actually was involved, but excluding any material sold f. o. b. original loading-out point.

This average rate may be used in computing the "inbound freight" addition on all sales f. o. b. treating plant made during the quarter next following that on which the average is based. The average may also be used in selling on a delivered basis as provided in section 4, except that where treating-in-transit rates are available, the entire addition for transportation (including inbound) must be figured on the through rate from the loading-out point indicated on the freight bills surrendered in connection with the outbound shipment. The transit charge itself may be added.

[Paragraph (b) added; former (h) redesignated (c) by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

(c) Quantity discounts on treated poles. When the seller takes a firm order for treated poles, he must make discounts for quantity as follows:

	Percent
For 3,000 to 4,999 poles	2½
For 5,000 poles or more	5

For purposes of this paragraph a "firm order" is one requiring shipment from time to time over a period of 12 months, as ordered by the buyer, with guarantee of payment for any poles not ordered shipped at the end of the 12-month period, and covering at least 5 lengths with 3 classes in each length. The maximum price for treated poles subject to this discount is the sum of the appropriate untreated price taken from Table 9, 10, 10A, or 11 and the additions for treatment and services made according to Table 10C or section 5, excluding any addition for transportation.

[Sec. 18 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10560, effective 8-2-43, and as otherwise noted]

GENERAL NOTES APPLYING TO TABLES 10, 10A, AND 10B

1. These prices include all production costs before processing and treating such as yarding and inspection.

2. Piling. The maximum price for Western Red Cedar piling shall be the price for the closest equivalent A. S. A. size pole in the same length.

3. On orders to established concentration, distribution or treating plant yards for less than carload minimum weight as established by railroad tariffs, and where the invoice value at maximum prices for the untreated poles or other round material does not exceed $300.00 on items 50 feet and shorter, or $450.00 where 50 percent of the items are more than 50 feet in length, the seller may add a service charge of not more than 25% of the total invoice value of the treated or untreated material not including transportation but including the treating and processing additions provided in Table 10C. The transportation addition on "less than carload sales" must not exceed that permitted by section 4 for transportation from the point of origin to the concentration, distribution or treating plant yard from which the shipment is made. The service charge may be made only on sales, f. o. b. seller's yard, with transportation outbound for the buyer's account.

4. Cut back allowance. When requirements of the buyer exceed the available supply of the seller for one or more classes or lengths of poles for delivery required, the seller may cut back the most similar class pole in the five foot longer length and may charge the maximum price for the class and length pole actually used. The additions for transportation, treatment, processing, etc., on such cut back poles, shall be those additions applicable to the class and length pole ordered by the buyer, plus an addition for inbound freight computed at the difference in estimated weights times the freight rate to the concentration yards. No addition may be made for the labor included in such cutting back operations. The seller shall keep a record of such sales and show this charge as a separate item on the invoice.

5. Inspection service. On shipments where the buyer requests special inspection service, furnished by an approved inspection agency, an addition may be made to cover the actual cost of such service. This charge must be shown separately on the invoice.

6. Branding and marking. The manufacturer's brand showing year mark, class, and length of pole may be branded on the face of butt treated poles at no extra charge. For any additional branding or marking on butt treated poles, and for all branding on untreated poles, an addition of not more than 7½ cents may be made for each additional branding or marking operation required by the buyer and performed with one iron.

[Table heading and footnotes 3 and 6 amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

7. Heavy duty and 30" top poles. On sales of heavy duty and 30" top #1 and #2 poles an addition for inbound freight may be added computed at the difference in estimated weights between the pole as sold and the pole cut back times the freight rate to the concentration yard.

8. Untreated poles, stubs, anchor logs and short round material. On shipments from treating plant yards of untreated poles, stubs, anchor logs and short round material, the seller may add a charge of not more than $.075 per cwt. times the estimated weight for that length and size in the appropriate table.

9. Storage. When the buyer requires storage of treated poles until released for shipment as required, the seller may add a yarding charge of not more than $.05 per cwt. times the estimated weight for the same class and length in the appropriate table.

10. Specifications not priced. To price any specification of pole other than American Standard Association, the seller shall determine the size A. S. A. pole of the same length having the same or nearest larger circumference 6' from the butt, and this price is the tentative maximum price for the specification to be priced. The tentative price so determined and any price for other lengths or extras not specifically priced shall be submitted to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. as provided in section 11.

[1] On poles treated west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains or in California these prices may be increased by 5%. If poles are not incised no increase to these prices is allowed.

[2] If the buyer does not require ground-line incising with this type of treatment deduct 5½ from the price of under 8 hours' treatment.

[4] This addition is permitted when the sapwood is reduced in machine shaving to less than ½" average thickness.

[Table heading, box headings, and footnotes 1 and 3 amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

1. Additional height butt treatment: An additional charge may be made for creosote butt treatment of one foot or portion thereof in excess of the standard height, but the total charge must not be more than the maximum charge for creosote butt treatment of the same class pole five feet longer.

2. Extended incised area: When the buyer requires an extended ground-line incised area greater than 3 feet, the maximum charge for creosote butt treatment shall not exceed the maximum charge for the next larger class pole in the five foot longer length to provide for this service and any additional height treatment.

3. Bolt holes and step holes: For the first boring in any plane of a pole, stub, anchor log or other short round material add $0.05. For each additional boring in that same plane add $0.03.

4. Continuous slag gain: An addition may be made for each 12 inches or part thereof of continuous slab gain not to exceed the charge for "Each Additional Gain."

5. Full length immersion of butt treated poles: For butt treated poles immersed full length in creosote, stain or other preservative, under 2 hours the seller may add to the butt treated price the staining and painting charge for the same length and class of pole.

6. Push braces. For framing and boring on push brace poles, an addition of $0.50 may be made to the maximum price for class and length of pole used.

[Footnote 5 amended; 6 added; and former 6 redesignated 7 by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15906, effective 11-27-43]

7. Specifications not priced: For any specification of treating or processing not priced in this table a maximum price addition may be determined in accordance with section 11.

1. To price any specification of pole other than American Standard Association, the seller shall determine the size A. S. A. pole of the same length having the same or nearest larger circumference 6' from the butt and this price is the tentative maximum price for the specification to be priced. The tentative price so determined and any price for other lengths or extras not specifically priced, such as roofing or framing, shall be submitted to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as provided in section 11.

For length specifications

All additions allowed by the following footnotes must be shown separately on the invoice.

In all the specified length groups below, the lengths shall be evenly distributed.

2. For specified length groups, 5 or more consecutive lengths in A. S. A. multiples: No addition.

3. For specified length groups, of 4 consecutive lengths in A. S. A. multiples: add $.005 per lin. ft.

4. For specified length groups, of 3 consecutive lengths in A. S. A. multiples: add $.01 per lin. ft.

5. For specified length groups, of 2 consecutive lengths in A. S. A. multiples: add $.015 per lin. ft.

6. For specified single length: add $.02 per lin. ft.

7. For random length orders when the purchaser specifies restricted loading, the seller may add ⅓ of the appropriate specified length addition above.

Winter or bark stuck peeling

8. For clean peeled poles which are delivered during the winter peeling or bark stuck season (October 1 to February 28 or 29, inclusive): add $.02 per lin. ft.

9. For rough peeled poles which are delivered during the winter peeling or bark stuck season (October 1 to February 28 or 29, inclusive): add $.01 per lin. ft.

10. Butt treating. When fir poles are sold butt-treated, the seller may apply, in accordance with section 11, for authorization of an addition to the untreated fir pole price.

11. Less than carload sales. On orders to established concentration, distribution or treating plant yards for less-than-carload minimum weights as established by railroad tariffs and where the invoice value at maximum prices for the untreated poles or other round material does not exceed $175.00 on items 50 feet and shorter, or $250.00 where 50 percent of the items are more than 50 feet in length, the seller may add a service charge of not more than 25% of the total invoice value of the butt treated or untreated material not including transportation but including the treating additions provided in footnote 10 above. The transportation addition on "less-than-carload sales" must not exceed that permitted in section 4 for transportation from the point of origin to the concentration, distribution or treating plant yard from which the sale is made. The service charge may be made only on sales f. o. b. seller's yard, with transportation outbound for the buyer's account.

12. Cut back allowance. When requirements of the buyer exceed the available supply of the seller for one or more classes or lengths of poles for delivery required, the seller may cut back the most similar class pole in the five foot longer length and may charge the maximum price for the class and length pole actually used. The additions for transportation, treatment, processing, etc., on such cut back poles, shall be those additions applicable to the class and length pole ordered by the buyer, plus an addition for inbound freight computed at the difference in estimated weights times the freight rate to the concentration yard. No addition may be made for the labor included in such cutting-back operations. The seller shall keep a record of such sales and show this charge as a separate item on the invoice.

13. Inspection service. On shipments where the buyer requests special inspection service, furnished by an approved inspection agency, an addition may be made to cover the actual cost of such service. This charge must be shown separately on the invoice.

14. Branding and marking. The manufacturer's brand showing year mark, class, and length of pole may be branded on the face of butt treated poles at no extra charge. For any additional branding or marking on butt treated poles, and for all branding on untreated poles, an addition of not more than 7½ cents may be made for each additional branding or marking operation required by the buyer and performed with one iron.

15. Untreated poles, stubs, anchor logs, and short round material. On shipments from treating plant yards of untreated poles, stubs, anchor logs and short round material, the seller may add a charge of not more than $.075 per cwt. times the estimated weight for that length and size in the appropriate table.

16. Storage. When the buyer requires storage of butt treated poles for a minimum of 30 days until released for shipment as required, the seller may add a yarding charge of not more than $.05 per cwt. times the estimated weight for the same class and length in the appropriate table.

The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this regulation to the General Maximum Price Regulation and the Maximum Import Price Regulation. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and the Maximum Import Price Regulation, and their amendments, with respect to sales and deliveries of imported vegetable tanning materials for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 6. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for imported vegetable tanning materials. The maximum prices established under this regulation for each seller of imported vegetable tanning materials shall be subject to the same discounts, credit terms, freight allowances, and all other deductions and trade practices as prevailed on his sales of such materials during the month of March 1942.

(a) Maximum prices for quebracho extract and wattle extract and bark. The maximum prices of commercial grades and types of quebracho extract and wattle extract and bark in original packages by importers, liquefiers and grinders are set out in Appendices A and B of this regulation. Such maximum prices are subject to the following adjustments:

(1) Less than original packages. For sales in lots totalling less than the quantity in an original package, the following may be added to the maximum prices for sales in the smallest quantity listed in Appendix B:

(i) 25 pounds or more, but less than an original package—3 cents per pound.

(ii) Less than 25 pounds—10 cents per pound.

(2) Variations in basic tannin content. The maximum prices designated in the schedules for commodities "basis ____ per cent tannin" shall be adjusted up or down in proportion to variations in actual tannin content from that base as determined in accordance with sampling and analysis methods approved by the American Leather Chemists' Association.

(3) Variations in guaranteed tannin content. The maximum prices designated in the schedules for commodities guaranteed to contain a given percentage of tannin, shall be adjusted downward in proportion to variations in actual tannin content as determined by sampling and analysis methods approved by the American Leather Chemists' Association. No additional charge shall be made for any percentage or fraction thereof of tannin content found in excess of the guaranteed minimum percentage.

(4) Sales by importers of material landed off the Atlantic seaboard. In the case of sales ex warehouse by importers of material landed at ports off the Atlantic seaboard and at which no warehouse is maintained, the seller may add to the maximum prices designated in Appendix A the actual freight charges (not in excess of applicable tariffs) from dock to warehouse. Such additional charge and the method of calculating same, shall be shown separately on the invoice and a copy thereof furnished the Office of Price Administration on request.

(5) Sales by liquefiers and grinders of material received from abnormally distant ports. In the event of sales of ground, powdered or liquefied extract produced from quebracho or wattle landed at a port from which such grinder or liquefier received less than 25 per cent of his shipments in the six months period immediately preceding April 1, 1944, he may add to the maximum prices established by Appendix B the amount by which the actual freight charges to his plant from such port exceeds the actual freight charges from the port supplying at least 75 percent of his supply during said period. The amount of such additional charge and the method of calculating same shall be shown separately on the invoice and a copy thereof furnished the Office of Price Administration on request.

(b) Maximum prices for special sales of quebracho extract and wattle extract and bark. Maximum prices for all sales by distributors and for sales by all sellers of grades or types of quebracho extract or wattle extract or bark, not listed or defined in section 1 of this regulation, and for which no maximum prices are specified in Appendices A or B (or shipped from points not designated therein), shall be the maximum prices authorized by the Office of Price Administration in response to an application therefor filed by the seller and in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

Applications for the establishment of such maximum prices shall be submitted by registered mail to the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., prior to sale, and shall be accompanied by a description of the particular quebracho extract or wattle extract or bark and the nature of the transaction involved, the seller's maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation or the Maximum Import Price Regulation, the current selling price and the maximum price proposed. Sales may be made at such proposed price after the date of mailing such application subject, however, to approval by the Price Administrator. If, at the expiration of 20 days from the date of receipt thereof, the Office of Price Administration has not in writing disapproved or modified the proposed maximum price, such proposed price, shall be considered as authorized.

SEC. 8. Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales of imported vegetable tanning materials after May 12, 1944, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and the seller, the price contracted for or received and the quantity of each type and grade of such imported vegetable tanning material purchased or sold.

(b) Such persons shall keep such other records and shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section or the reports mentioned in section 7 hereof as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

SEC. 9. Evasion. Price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to imported vegetable tanning materials, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, discount, premium, or other privilege, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

[SR 14B[1] to GMPR,[2] Amendment 2]

BREAD AND BAKERY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Supplementary Regulation 14B is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Weight increases. (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section, whenever the weight of any product subject to this regulation is increased over its weight as produced in March 1942, such product shall be deemed a new product and the maximum price of every seller of such new product must be determined under § 1499.2 (b) or § 1499.3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation or under Order No. 375 under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) If a producer increases the weight of his loaf of bread or sales unit of rolls not more than 25 percent over the weight of his loaf of bread or sales unit of rolls, as produced in March 1942, he may elect to determine his maximum price therefor pursuant to this paragraph, in which case he must increase his maximum price therefor proportionately per ratio of weight, but so calculated as to result in an increase in price of one cent or a multiple thereof, and all other sellers of such increased loaf of bread or sales unit of rolls must increase their maximum prices by an amount in cents equal to the increase herein provided for the producer: Provided, That increased unpackaged rolls shall not be sold at the increased prices, herein provided, until the producer has filed a report with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration in the district in which such unpackaged rolls are produced, showing the weights and maximum prices of the rolls in question both as produced in March 1942, and when increased in size as herein provided.

2. Section 6 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. Orders of other governmental agencies. No increase or decrease in the maximum price for the sale of any product subject to this regulation shall be made by reason of an order of another government agency unless such increase or decrease in maximum price is specifically required by some provision of this regulation or of some other regulation or order of the Office of Price Administration.

3. Section 7 (b) is hereby revoked.

4. Section 9 (a) (4) is hereby revoked.

5. Article V is added to read as follows:

ARTICLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 10. Adjustment of maximum prices.—(a) Producer's maximum prices. The Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] or on its own motion, adjust the maximum prices of a producer of any commodity subject to this regulation where

(1) The producer's maximum price is below the general price level prevailing for similar products, and

(2) The producer is or will be unable to maintain his production at his maximum price or prices, and

(3) The loss of his production would result in consumers having to pay higher prices for the most nearly similar substitute product available, and

(4) An increase in his maximum price or prices will enable him to continue production, and

(5) The Administrator is of the opinion that an increase in his maximum price or prices would, under all the circumstances, be in furtherance of the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended.

The maximum price increase that may be granted under the provisions of this section shall not cause his price to exceed the general price level prevailing for similar products. Subject to this limitation, (i) an increase may be granted not to exceed the total cost of the product, or (ii) if the applicant's earnings from all operations before income and excess profits taxes are low in comparison with those of a "representative peace-time period", adjusted for subsequent changes in investment, and if in view of such over-all earnings a small margin of profit is reasonably necessary to permit production, an increase may be allowed estimated to yield such a profit margin.

A "representative peace-time period" means the period of the years 1936 to 1939, inclusive. When 1936 to 1939 does not represent a reasonably normal prewar (December 7, 1941) period, some other period may be used but its use must be positively justified in the application.

(b) Maximum prices of wholesalers and retailers. If a product for which the producer's maximum price is increased pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section is also sold by wholesalers or retailers or both but is not subject to the provisions of Maximum Price Regulations 421, 422 or 423 as to such sales the Office of Price Administration may increase the maximum prices for sales by wholesalers or retailers or both in an amount not to exceed the increase provided for the producer.

(c) Filing of applications for adjustment. All applications for adjustment submitted pursuant to this section shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., except applications for adjustment of maximum prices for bread and rolls which shall be filed with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration for the region in which the bread or rolls are produced.

SEC. 11. Notification of change in maximum prices. With the first delivery of any commodity (except bread and rolls) subject to this regulation, after the maximum price for such commodity has been changed by any provision of this regulation, the producer shall:

(a) Supply each wholesaler and retailer who purchases from him with written notice as set forth below:

NOTICE TO WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our OPA ceiling price for (describe item by kind, variety, brand and container type and size) has been changed by the Office of Price Administration. We are authorized to inform you that if you are a wholesaler or retailer pricing this item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, 422 or 423, you must refigure your ceiling price for this item on the first delivery of it to you from your customary type of supplier containing this notification after (insert date of change in maximum price). You must refigure your ceiling price following the rules in section 6 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, 422 or 423, whichever is applicable to you.

For a period of 60 days after making such change in the maximum price of an item, and with the first shipment after the 60-day period to each person who has not made a purchase within that time, the producer shall include in each case or carton containing the item the written notice set forth above.

(b) Notify each purchaser of the item from him who is a distributor, other than a wholesaler and retailer, of such change in maximum price by written notice attached to or written on the invoice issued in connection with his first transaction with such purchaser as follows:

PART 1510—SUPPLY

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of facilities for the transportation of petroleum and shortages in the supply of petroleum and petroleum products, and the following operating directive is deemed necessary for the prosecution of the war.

§ 1510.27 Definitions. (a) "Principal petroleum products" means (1) automotive gasoline (other than war products, as specified by the Petroleum Administration for War), (2) kerosene (including range oil, stove oil, and No. 1 distillate fuel oil), (3) distillate fuel oil (other than kerosene as defined, but including light gas oil and light and heavy Diesel fuel oil), and (4) residual fuel oil and crude oil used for purposes other than refining, except that any petroleum product when used as a fuel in the operation of refineries shall not be included as a principal petroleum product. In order to provide for a more equitable distribution of any class of principal petroleum products as herein defined or to conserve, for essential uses, supplies of a product in which a shortage is threatened, this definition may be changed from time to time by subdividing any classification herein named into two or more classifications, such change to be effected by a letter signed by the Director in Charge, District One, Petroleum Administration for War, addressed to the affected committees and to each original supplier, setting forth the new classifications.

(b) "Original supplier" means any person designated as such for the zone in question on Exhibit A attached hereto: Provided, That if such a person is engaged in business, part of which is included in the definition of an intermediate supplier under § 1510.27 (c) (2), then he shall be considered as an original supplier only as to that portion of his business not included within such definition and as an intermediate supplier for the balance of his business.

(c) "Intermediate supplier" means any person who in 1941 (1) regularly imported into District One from any point outside District One any principal petroleum product or products for sale or resale in District One and who does not qualify as an original supplier under paragraph (b) hereof, or (2) regularly received principal petroleum products in District One from an original supplier in other intermediate supplier for redelivery to others: Provided, That the term shall not include a service station, peddler, or other retail outlet, or a transporter of principal petroleum products to the extent that he is engaged merely in such transportation for others.

(d) "Unassigned inventory" means that portion of the inventory of any principal petroleum product in a supply terminal which was not taken into account in the inventory adjustment made under § 1510.33 (a) and which has not been distributed by the committee pursuant to § 1510.31 (a) or (c) hereof.

(e) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association or business trust, corporation, Governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(f) "Committee" means the Distribution and Marketing Committee of District One, and "Supply and Transportation Committee" means the Supply and Transportation Committee for District One.

(g) "Zone" means any one of the zones shown on Exhibit B hereof.

(h) "Supply terminal area" means the area served by a supply terminal, as shown on the schedule prepared under § 1510.30 (b).

(i) "Supply area" means the area for which no supply terminal is designated, as shown on the schedule prepared under § 1510.30 (b).

(j) "Storage facility" means one or more tanks or other facilities, used for the storage of principal petroleum products, which are normally operated as a single unit.

§ 1510.28. Supply and demand programs and statements—(a) Supply and demand program for Districts One, Two and Three. Petroleum Administration for War shall prepare monthly and forward to the general committees of districts One, Two and Three statements showing the petroleum supply and demand programs for such districts for the period of three months succeeding the month in which issued, or for such other period as may be determined.

(b) Source of supply. The appropriate committees or subcommittees for Districts Two and Three shall prepare at designated times and submit to the Petroleum Administration for War such statements as may be required under applicable petroleum directives, showing the sources and amount of principal petroleum products available for shipment into District One and such other information as may be required.

§ 1510.30 District One supply program—(a) Crude petroleum and principal petroleum products to be imported or manufactured in District One. The Supply and Transportation Committee of District One shall obtain from the Refining Committee for District One a monthly statement showing: (1) the crude petroleum and other products to be used at each District One refinery in manufacturing and (2) the net amount of principal petroleum products expected to be manufactured at each refinery. The Supply and Transportation Committee of District One shall thereupon prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, containing this information and also showing the amount of principal petroleum products expected to be imported into each zone.

(b) Terminal and storage facilities. The Supply and Transportation Committee shall prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, showing for each zone the terminals and storage facilities (hereinafter referred to as supply terminals) and a description of the supply terminal areas and the supply areas. The plants included in each supply terminal shall be those which are so equipped and so located as will provide for a receipt within the area of the maximum amount of principal petroleum products and, to the extent consistent therewith, which will permit the efficient use of transportation equipment in distributing products therefrom to customers or to other bulk plants. The schedule shall show the location of the supply terminals and supply areas, the area to be served thereby, the original suppliers operating therein, the plants included in each supply terminal, name of railroad serving such terminal, its storage capacity for each principal petroleum product, its daily loading and unloading capacity for each method of transportation, and the thru-put rates (including in-transit storage and shipping losses) for receiving, handling and delivering principal petroleum products at each supply terminal, provided the amount covering losses shall be shown separately from the other items making up the thru-put rates. Upon issuance of the schedule, pursuant to § 1510.34 (c), the supply terminals specified therein shall, unless otherwise directed by the Petroleum Administration for War, be used for all principal petroleum products imported by original suppliers into the area served thereby, and the rates charged for any principal petroleum product put through each supply terminal shall not exceed the applicable rate specified in such schedule. The owner of principal petroleum products and the operator of the plant within a supply terminal, if he be other than the owner of the products, shall account for unassigned inventory and no part of such inventory shall be removed from the plant or disposed of in any way except pursuant to § 1510.31 (a) and (c), or by authority of the Petroleum Administration for War. Refineries shall be deemed supply terminals with respect to the principal petroleum products they produce.

(c) Shipment of crude and principal petroleum products into and within District One. The Supply and Transportation Committee after consulting with the Refining Committee for District One, shall prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, assigning to original suppliers the duty of arranging for the shipment of crude petroleum to be imported for purposes other than refining, and principal petroleum products from origins outside District One to destinations within District One and arranging for infra-district shipments from and to designated points. Principal petroleum products required for infra-district shipment may be made available by the Committee, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, to the original supplier who has been assigned the duty of making such shipment by assignment issue by the committee and such principal petroleum products shall be transferred, unless the parties otherwise agree, by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32, and the amount of such principal petroleum products shall, upon such assignment, be deducted from unassigned inventory at the point of origin and added to unassigned inventory in the area at point of destination. Insofar as practicable the suggested schedule shall be arranged to provide (1) each supply terminal area and supply area with the principal petroleum products required to meet the expected demand after providing for inventory changes deemed advantageous to the overall supply position; and (2) for the efficient use of facilities and for shipment into District One of the maximum amount of crude petroleum and principal petroleum products. Subject to the foregoing, the duty of importing principal petroleum products shall be assigned as nearly as practicable among original suppliers, in proportion to their zone sales position. Principal petroleum products manufactured at a District One refinery shall be deemed to have been imported by the refiner. Upon issuance of such schedule pursuant to § 1510.34 (c), each original supplier shall make every effort to increase the volume of products available for distribution within District One and shall perform the duties assigned to him, except that any original supplier may arrange to have another original supplier, willing to assume such responsibility, perform such duties, and notice of any such arrangement or any change or modification thereof shall be given immediately to the Supply and Transportation Committee. When in the opinion of the committee and the original suppliers affected, the transfer of the ownership of a principal petroleum product at a supply terminal to another original supplier will facilitate the administration of this directive, the product shall be transferred without losing its character as unassigned inventory. Any such transfer, unless the parties otherwise agree, shall be by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by them but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. The Petroleum Administration for War shall, from time to time, acting through appropriate governmental agencies, arrange for necessary adjustments to be made in the use of transportation facilities when required to facilitate the carrying out of assignments made hereunder. In making such adjustments, consideration shall first be given to the carrying capacity available to each original supplier by tanker, pipe line, barge, or any form of transportation other than tank car, and insofar as possible, any original supplier's deficit of carrying capacity shall be made up by the allotment of tank cars. Wherever necessary, the Petroleum Administration for War may arrange for the specific use of any transportation facility without regard to the provisions of any schedule issued in connection herewith. The Supply and Transportation Committee shall review the use of all supply terminals and transportation available for shipment of products into or within District One to determine whether the maximum efficient use (including the movement of loaded tank cars, return of empty tank cars in trainload lots, and the distribution of products from the supply terminals) is being attained, and in that connection such committee shall recommend to the persons, committees or subcommittees affected and the Petroleum Administration for War that such action be taken as will, in its opinion, improve the efficient use of transportation and increase the volume of principal petroleum products available for distribution in District One.

§ 1510.31 Distribution of available supplies—(a) Supply of principal petroleum products for specified government uses. Petroleum Administration for War shall notify the Supply and Transportation Committee for District One as far in advance as is practicable of the quantities of principal petroleum products required for sale and delivery under contracts which, subsequent to April 24, 1943, have been or will be entered into with the Treasury Procurement Office, and to the extent not contracted for by the Treasury Procurement Office, for sale and delivery to the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, the War Shipping Administration, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Foreign Economic Administration. Whenever possible the notice shall specify the time and the supply terminal areas and supply areas where such products are to be delivered. Principal petroleum products needed to make deliveries under the above contracts or to the above government agencies will be assigned by the Committee from unassigned inventory to original suppliers who have assumed or whose customers have assumed the obligation to make such deliveries. Distribution shall be effected by the committee issuing assignments directing the owner of unassigned inventory to transfer a designated amount of such inventory to the original supplier in whose favor the assignment is drawn, and unless the parties otherwise agree, such transfer shall be made by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties, but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. Unless the operator of the plant in which the unassigned inventory is stored and the assignee make other arrangements, the assignee shall remove such product within ten days or within such other period as the committee designates. It shall be the duty of each original supplier on behalf of intermediate suppliers buying from him to obtain promptly an assignment of principal petroleum products and make such products available to such intermediate suppliers in the amount necessary to meet the intermediate suppliers' commitments for delivery under such contracts or to such government agencies. Each original supplier who has or whose customers have contracts with any such government agency shall promptly notify the committee thereof and of the amount of each principal petroleum product which will be required for delivery thereunder and the time and place of delivery. Monthly statements shall be submitted by each original supplier to the committee setting forth the quantities of principal petroleum products actually delivered under such contracts or to such agencies during the preceding month.

(b) Distribution of principal petroleum products among supply terminals and supply areas. The committee shall prepare a monthly statement showing each original supplier's proportionate part of each principal petroleum product expected to be available for distribution within each zone as shown on the schedule prepared pursuant to § 1510.30 (a). Each original supplier's proportionate part shall be computed by applying his zone sales position percentage to the total amount of each principal petroleum product expected to be available within each zone, after deduction of the amount of principal petroleum products which it is estimated will be required for delivery under § 1510.31 (a). Upon receipt of such statement each original supplier shall promptly notify the committee of the portion of its proportionate part of principal petroleum products which will be required at each supply terminal or supply area, the distribution among the supply terminals and supply areas to be made in such a manner as will permit such supplier to meet as nearly as possible its obligations. The committee shall thereupon issue to all original suppliers a statement showing, for each supply terminal area and supply area, the percentage distribution to be made among the original suppliers of the principal petroleum products available at each such terminal or area.

(c) Distribution of unassigned inventory. After meeting the requirements specified in § 1510.31 (a), all or any part of the principal petroleum products remaining in unassigned inventory shall be distributed by the committee among original suppliers, in accordance with the percentage specified in § 1510.31 (b), subject to adjustments being made from time to time so as to provide each original supplier with an amount equal to his zone sales position percentage of the total principal petroleum products available for distribution within the zone after making such changes as are required under § 1510.33. Except for deliveries of principal petroleum products made by tank truck directly from a bulk depot outside of District One to consumers or retailers who were receiving deliveries in this manner in the calendar year 1942, receipt of any principal petroleum products by an original supplier or for its account, not accounted for in unassigned inventory, shall be considered as receipts by such original supplier pursuant to an assignment from unassigned inventory. Distribution of unassigned inventory shall be made to transfer a designated amount of such inventory to the original supplier in whose favor the assignment is drawn, and unless the parties otherwise agree, such transfer shall be made by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties, but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. Such principal petroleum products shall thereupon become the property of the assignee and shall not be subject to further assignment hereunder, except as provided in § 1510.31 (d). Unless the operator of the plant in which the unassigned inventory is stored and the assignee make other arrangements, the assignee shall remove such product within ten days of the date of assignment, or within such other period as the committee designates. If, within such period, an original supplier fails, except for causes beyond its control, to accept title to and remove or make other arrangements for such product as may be assigned to it, then such original supplier shall forfeit its right to such quantity or to any future assignment thereof, and such quantity shall be deemed as having been received by such original supplier under an assignment, but the amount thereof shall be returned to unassigned inventory. The committee shall obtain from each original supplier a report, at such times and in such forms as it may prescribe, with the approval of the Petroleum Administration for War, of all principal petroleum products received from outside District One by such original supplier or for its account (including principal petroleum products manufactured in District One), excluding only those deliveries made by tank truck directly from a bulk depot outside of District One to consumers or retailers who were receiving deliveries in this manner in the calendar year 1942.

(d) Redistribution of supplies. If, within any zone, the amount of any principal petroleum product available to any original supplier is insufficient to meet the rationed demand of persons currently buying from it, then such original supplier may apply to the committee for a reassignment to it of additional supplies of such principal petroleum product. The application shall be in writing and shall contain the following information: (1) the estimated amount of additional product needed; (2) the inventory of such principal petroleum product in storage facilities within the zone, having a capacity of 5,000 barrels or more, which are owned or controlled by the applicant or by intermediate suppliers receiving all or a portion of their supplies from the applicant; (3) a statement explaining the shortage; and (4) such other information as may from time to time be requested. If the committee, after taking into account supplies available for distribution within the zone and the relative requirements of all other original suppliers therein, determines that the applicant should be awarded additional supplies to enable it to make deliveries to its customers in the same proportion as deliveries are generally being made in the area to like persons, then, the committee shall assign, with the approval of the Petroleum Administration for War, to the applicant the amount of such product or products required by the applicant as is determined is needed for such purpose and is fair and equitable under the circumstances. Reassignment shall be made from the inventory of principal petroleum products belonging to other original suppliers or from principal petroleum products thereafter assigned to other original suppliers under § 1510.31 (c), which supplier or suppliers appear, after taking into account expected receipts, their existing inventory, the inventory of intermediate suppliers supplied by them and such other factors as may be pertinent, to have a greater proportion of such principal petroleum products than will be required to meet the rationed demand of their customers in the same proportionate amount as deliveries are generally being made in the area to like persons. Redistribution shall be effected by the committee directing the owner or owners of the product for which a reassignment is issued to transfer a designated amount of such product to the original supplier in whose favor the reassignment is drawn, and such original supplier shall thereupon immediately remove such product or make other arrangements with respect thereto. The parties to any such reassignment shall endeavor to agree upon a price at which such reassignment is to be made. In the event such parties are unable to agree upon such price, it shall be determined by the Director in Charge, Petroleum Administration for War; District One, or by such person or persons as such Director may designate. In determining such price, such Director, or the person selected by him, shall be guided by the principle that the price is to be the average amount at which the product is sold to consumers thereof, less an appropriate amount for cost of marketing and distribution incurred by the purchasing original supplier and subsequent owners other than the ultimate consumer. The price determined by such Director or by the person designated by him shall not in any event be less than the selling original supplier's maximum price, permitted to be charged by the Office of Price Administration, for the product reassigned at the place of delivery, for the type of delivery employed. If the price for such reassignment determined as hereinabove provided is in excess of the price permitted to be charged by the Office of Price Administration, then the maximum price permitted to be charged by such Office shall be the price charged for reassignments. The delivery shall be made by the method specified by the buyer, if physically possible, and if the means selected constitutes an efficient use of the available transportation facilities. Any dispute over the method of delivery shall be referred to the Petroleum Administration for War for such action as may be directed.

(e) Comparative statement showing supply position. The Committee shall issue to all orjginal suppliers a monthly statement showing assignments and reassignments made under § 1510.31 (a), (c), and (d), and the zone percentage supply position of each original supplier as compared to its zone sales position.

§ 1510.32 Maximum price formula. The terms of any purchase and sale made pursuant to §§ 1510.30 (c), 1510.31 (a) or (c), or 1510.33 (a) shall be negotiated between the parties thereto: Provided:

(a) Sales made in Zones One, Two, Three, Four, or Five. If delivery under the sale is made in Zones One, Two, Three, Four, or Five, then no price agreed upon shall exceed the applicable maximum price established under any maximum price regulation, as amended or supplemented, or other order of the Price Administrator, or the sum of the following items, whichever is lower:

(1) The value of the product at the normal origin as provided in Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, issued by the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(2) Except as provided in (3) below, the cost of transporting the product from the normal origin to the specific point and facility at which the seller delivers the same to the buyer, such cost to be by the facilities which would have been used by the seller under the Normal Method of Transportation as defined and determined under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, or if the seller has no such normal method of transportation, there shall be used in lieu of such normal method the transportation method which would most probably be used by the seller, assuming that in the absence of a tanker shortage the seller would transport the products from the normal origin via tanker or tanker in combination with other transportation means through an eastern seaboard terminal to the specific point and facility at which the seller delivers to the buyer: Provided, That, if the normal method of transportation which would be used in computing a claim under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, terminates before reaching the point of delivery, then a charge for transportation from such point of termination to the specific point and facility at which delivery is made (such charge to be equal to the applicable current rate generally prevailing for such transportation, or in the absence of such a rate, then the actual cost of the movement) shall be added to the cost of the normal method of transportation to the extent that it is not recoverable by the seller under such Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised. In determining the cost of the normal method of transportation (or the most probable tanker method used in lieu of the normal method of transportation), the normal cost of in-transit handling incurred under the normal method of transportation shall be computed at the rate of 4¢ per barrel at each place at which in-transit handling occurs by the normal method of transportation, except that no in-transit handling charge shall be included with respect to handling at any District One refinery of product manufactured at such refinery, unless such charge is recoverable under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, or unless the product delivered from such refinery is transported directly to a point other than a tanker terminal of the receiving original supplier.

(3) If the product sold has been imported from an actual origin in District Three and the cost of transporting the product from the actual origin to the point of delivery by the facilities used (including the substitute cost of in-transit handling) is less than the total sum determined under the preceding subparagraph (2), such actual cost shall be used in lieu of the sum determined under such paragraph (the actual origin and the cost of transportation and in-transit handling being determined in accordance with Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended, or revised).

(4) Reasonable storage and handling charges (exclusive of product losses) actually incurred by the seller at the point from which the product is delivered to the buyer for which no recovery may be had under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised: Provided, however, That such charges shall not exceed and applicable thru-put rates which may be established and approved pursuant to § 1510.30 (b), less the amount shown on the schedule for product losses included in making up the thru-put rates, or, if there is no such applicable rate at a particular point, the sum of 10½¢ per barrel; And provided further, That no handling charge shall be included with respect to handling at any District One refinery of product manufactured at such refinery, unless such charge is recoverable under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, or unless the product delivered from such refinery is transported directly to a point other than a tanker terminal of the receiving original supplier.

(5) The amount of revenue resulting from any increase in the maximum price of the product sold which must be accounted for and paid by the seller under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised, or under the plan for the equitable sharing of revenues and extra transportation expenses, as amended, approved under Recommendation No. 12.

(6) Any and all Governmental taxes and fees which the seller is required to pay with respect to the sale of the product sold or the transportation either of such product or of the crude petroleum from which such product is manufactured, for which taxes no recovery may be had under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised. The committee shall prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administrator for War designated for the purpose, establishing a reasonable charge for each supply terminal area and supply area covering transportation taxes for shipments into such areas. Upon issuance of the schedule pursuant to § 1510.34 (c), the charges specified therein shall be used in lieu of any other charge or sum for taxes imposed with respect to transportation, regardless of point of origin or method of shipment.

7. The cost of any losses of product including, but not by way of limitation, losses due to shrinkage or evaporation (including pipe line deductions) actually incurred by the seller for which no recovery may be had under Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulation No. 1, as amended or revised: Provided, however, That charges for such losses shall not exceed any applicable rates shown on the schedule prepared pursuant to § 1510.30 (b).

If the parties to any purchase and sale cannot agree upon a price pursuant to this subparagraph (a), the dispute shall be referred to the Petroleum Administration for War for such action as may be directed.

(b) Sales made in Zone Six. If delivery be made in Zone Six, the price agreed upon by the parties shall allow for a reasonable margin below the prices generally prevailing for sales to other classes of resellers and shall not exceed the applicable maximum price established under any maximum price regulation or other order of the Price Administrator. If the parties cannot agree upon a fair and reasonable price hereunder, the dispute shall be referred to the Petroleum Administrator for War for such action as may be directed.

(c) Sales made pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to be discriminatory. Sales between original suppliers made at or below the maximum price formula set forth in § 1510.32 (a) or determined in accordance with §§ 1510.31 (d) or 1510.32 (b), and which are made pursuant to §§ 1510.30 (c), 1510.31 (a), (c), or (d) or 1510.33 (a) shall not be deemed to effect any discrimination against any buyer (including any original supplier) to whom any other sale is made at any higher or different price.

§ 1510.33 Inventory and sales adjustments—(a) Inventory adjustments. The committee shall determine for each principal petroleum product in each zone each original supplier's share of the net inventory as of November 30, 1943, by multiplying the total net inventory for such zone by each original supplier's zone sales position percentage for the product for which the determination is being made. In any case where an original supplier's share of the net inventory is greater or less than his actual net inventory as of such date, the actual net inventory shall be adjusted, either by assignments of actual net inventories or by adjustments in the proportionate part of such principal petroleum product which such original supplier is or will be entitled to receive under § 1510.31 (c), or by a combination of both. If the product be transferred by assignment then, unless the parties otherwise agree, such product shall be transferred by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. The committee in collaboration with a staff representative of Petroleum Administration for War, designated for the purpose may, prior to determining the final adjustments to be made in net inventory, determine preliminary adjustments, and the committee may make assignments to carry such preliminary adjustments into effect subject to such limitations as may be imposed by the Petroleum Administration for War to prevent any exceptional and unreasonable hardship. The net inventory for each zone shall be determined as follows: The committee shall obtain from each original supplier a report showing for each zone in District One, as of November 30, 1943, or as of the last day of the month in which this revised directive becomes effective, whichever time first occurs, (1) the total physical inventory of each principal petroleum product within each zone owned or controlled by such original supplier in all storage facilities having a gross storage capacity for principal petroleum products of 5,000 barrels or over; (2) the amounts of such inventories which are unavailable for distribution by reason of being tank bottoms, pipe line fills or are otherwise unusable; (3) the amounts of such inventories specifically set aside for delivery exclusively to the Army, the Navy, or the Foreign Economic Administration; and (4) a statement showing the amounts of each principal petroleum product then due to or from such original supplier in each zone as a result of loans and exchanges made with other original suppliers, and the names of the original suppliers from which or to which each of such amounts is due. Any portion of that inventory reported under (2) or (3) hereof, which subsequently becomes available for a use other than that for which it is earmarked, shall be promptly reported to the committee by the owner thereof, and shall be transferred to unassigned inventory. Upon receipt of such reports, the committee shall determine for each principal petroleum product in each zone the actual net inventory of each original supplier by deducting from such original supplier's total physical inventory, as reported under (1) hereof, the amount of unavailable inventory, as reported under (2) hereof, and the amount of inventory set aside for the Army, the Navy, or the Foreign Economic Administration, as reported under (3) hereof, and by adding the net amount due to, or by deducting the net amount due from such original supplier as reported under (4) hereof. The total net inventory in each zone shall be deemed to be the sum of the net inventories in the zone of all original suppliers as determined hereunder.

(b) Sales adjustments. (1) The committee shall obtain from each original supplier a report for the period which shall commence October 1, 1942, and end November 30, 1943; which report shall show by calendar month for each zone, and for each principal petroleum product: (i) total sales other than of products exported from District One (principal petroleum products consumed other than as a fuel in the operation of a refinery shall be considered as a sale); (ii) purchases made as an intermediate supplier; (iii) sales made to another original supplier which were not made as intermediate sales; (iv) sales made to Federal Governmental departments or agencies for which products were made available under Amendment No. 2 to Petroleum Directive No. 59, as amended, dated April 24, 1943, or under § 1510.31 (a) hereof; (v) sales made to bunker ocean going vessels when such fuel oil was furnished by the Navy; and (vi) such adjustments as, in the opinion of the original suppliers, should be made to allow for directives or instructions issued by the Petroleum Administration for War, which provide for increasing the amount of Principal Petroleum Products such supplier is entitled to receive under Petroleum Directive No. 59, or for action taken pursuant to the appeal section of Petroleum Directive No. 59.

(2) Upon receipt of the above reports, the committee shall prepare and submit to the Petroleum Administration for War a statement summarizing, for each original supplier, the adjustments which the supplier claims should be made as shown in (vi) of the above report, together with the comments and recommendations of the committee with respect thereto. To the extent that the directives or instructions issued or action taken require a modification of the amount of principal petroleum products to which an original supplier is entitled under Petroleum Directive No. 59, the Petroleum Administration for War shall direct the Committee as to what adjustments are to be made. Directives or instructions issued by the Petroleum Administration for War to provide for preferential deliveries under Petroleum Administrative Order No. 1 shall not be taken into account for purposes of this adjustment. The committee shall thereupon compute the total net adjusted sales made within each zone by each original supplier in his capacity as an original supplier, by deducting from its total domestic sales shown in (i) the amount of purchases made as an intermediate supplier as shown in (ii), sales to other original suppliers as shown in (iii), sales to the Federal Government as shown in (iv), sales made to bunker ocean going vessels as shown in (v), and adjustments as directed by the Petroleum Administration for War. The adjusted total principal petroleum products sold in each zone shall be deemed to be the sum of the net adjusted sales made by all original suppliers therein after taking into account any other adjustments that may be required by the Petroleum Administration for War.

(3) The committee shall prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, showing for each principal petroleum product in each zone the amount by which the net adjusted sales of each original supplier made during the above adjustment period exceeded or was less than its proportionate part of the adjusted total amount of such product sold in the zone by all original suppliers during the same period. Each original supplier's proportionate part shall be ascertained by multiplying the adjusted total volume of each principal petroleum product sold by all original suppliers in the zone, by such original supplier's applicable zone sales position percentage which, for the purpose of this calculation, shall be determined as provided in § 1510.29, except that deductions for sales made to the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, the War Shipping Administration, the United States Maritime Commission, the Foreign Economic Administration, and pursuant to contracts entered into with the Treasury Procurement Office, shall include only sales made in the months of May, June, July, August, and September, 1941, and, in any case where a deduction is to be made on account of bunker fuel oil furnished by the Navy, the amount of the deduction shall be limited to sales made during the month in 1941 which corresponds to the month in 1942 or 1943 for which the Navy was supplying such fuel oil.

(4) Upon approval and issuance of the schedule by the Petroleum Administration for War, the original supplier within each zone shall confer with each other and endeavor to adjust their over and under sales by any means acceptable to both parties, including a financial adjustment. Upon the first day of the second month following the month in which such schedule is issued each original supplier shall notify the committee what adjustments, if any, have been made with other original suppliers. The committee shall thereupon deduct from each over-selling supplier's proportionate part of principal petroleum products which it is entitled to receive under § 1510.31 (c) the amount of over-sales for which a voluntary adjustment could not be made, and adding to each under-selling original supplier's proportionate part of principal petroleum products the amount of under-sales for which a voluntary adjustment could not be made: Provided, however, That the entire adjustment applicable to any original supplier need not be made in any one month if, in the opinion of the Petroleum Administration for War, it would result in a serious disruption of the supply program, or of the original supplier's current supply position.

§ 1510.34 General provisions—(a) Minimum specifications. Petroleum Administration for War, may, from time to time, establish minimum specifications for one or more of the several petroleum products included within the definition of Principal Petroleum Products. Petroleum products imported into or produced in District One shall meet these specifications if any be established, and any person in District One shall accept products conforming to such minimum specifications for all deliveries required under this directive, except that, if there be any variation in the quality of products at any supply terminal, each original supplier shall insofar as practicable be given an equal opportunity to obtain a proportionate part of the products of like quality.

(b) Schedules, programs, statements, and communications. The schedules, programs, and statements prepared pursuant to this directive as amended, shall be submitted at such times and for such periods and shall be in such form and include such information in addition to that specified as Petroleum Administration for War may determine. Copies of all the issued schedules, programs, and statements prepared by committees or subcommittees shall be forwarded to the appropriate committees and subcommittees and to all original suppliers. All communications or other matters pertaining to this directive which are for the attention of the Petroleum Administration for War, and all schedules called for herein, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Director in Charge, District One, Petroleum Administration for War, 122 East 42d Street, New York 17, New York, Ref: P. D. 59. All communications relating to this directive which are for the attention of the committee or to a functional committee shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the appropriate committee or subcommittee, 122 East 42d Street, New York 17, New York.

(c) Effectuation of schedules. No schedule provided for hereunder shall become effective until it has been approved by the Chief Counsel, or District Counsel designated by him, Petroleum Administration for War, and issued by the Petroleum Administrator for War, or the Deputy Administrator, or person designated by him. Upon such approval and issuance of any such schedule, copies thereof shall be forwarded to the appropriate persons, committees, and subcommittees, and all persons, committees, and subcommittees affected thereby shall carry it into effect according to its terms, conditions, and intent. Should any person refuse to comply with any issued schedule, this fact shall be immediately reported by the appropriate committee to the Petroleum Administration for War.

(d) Verification and records. All reports and information submitted hereunder by original suppliers shall be subject to verification, and the Petroleum Administration for War may from time to time require any original supplier to submit an opinion of a certified public accountant as to the accuracy of any report or information submitted hereunder and whether such report or information conforms to the requirements established therefor. The Petroleum Administration for War may also require an independent audit of any report or information submitted hereunder, and for this purpose the original supplier affected shall permit such auditors or other representative of the Petroleum Administration for War to have access to its plants, books, and records to the extent necessary to verify such reports and information.

(e) Surveys and investigations. The several committees designated in this directive shall make such surveys and investigations and shall obtain and analyze such facts, figures, and other data as may be necessary or appropriate in connection with the performance of the functions and duties with which such Committees are charged: Provided, however, That wherever available, such facts, figures, and other data shall be obtained from other appropriate committees or subcommittees rather than by new surveys or investigations.

(f) Administration. In carrying out their functions under this directive, the committees (including persons employed or designated by them to act as their representatives or in their behalf) and persons affected shall hold meetings and shall consult with each other and with other committees and subcommittees to the extent that may be necessary or desirable to effectuate the terms, conditions, and intent of this revised directive or for the purpose of considering any proposed modification or amendment hereof. All committees, subcommittees, and persons shall supply the committees having the function of carrying any part of this directive into effect with such information, material, and assistance as may be necessary to carry out their functions under this directive. Each of the committees herein referred to shall maintain such staff and appoint such persons as may be necessary to carry out its responsibilities, duties, and functions under this directive. Operating expenses of such committees shall be met as provided in § 1500.7 (j) of this chapter, as amended or supplemented, or as provided in any other recommendation, directive, or order of the Petroleum Administration for War, which may be issued as a substitute therefor.

(g) Activities of committees. All action taken hereunder by any committee or subcommittee shall be subject to the supervision of the Petroleum Administration for War. The committees or subcommittees designated in this Directive shall also perform their functions hereunder pursuant to the general supervision and direction of the General Committee.

(h) Appeals. (1) Any person not included in Exhibit A shall be added thereto upon application to Petroleum Administration for War, showing that such person (i) during the calendar year 1941 produced or manufactured any principal petroleum product or products in District One; or (ii) during the calendar year 1941 maintained within District One at least one storage facility of 5,000 barrels or more for each principal petroleum product for which the determination as original supplier is being made, and imported regularly into said storage facility from any point outside District One such principal petroleum product or products for sale or resale in District One; or (iii) in 1941 regularly purchased for sale supplies of petroleum or principal petroleum product in District One by tanker and received such principal petroleum products in ocean terminals, owned or controlled by him, such terminals having adequate facilities to accommodate the berthing and unloading of tankers delivering petroleum or principal petroleum products; or (iv) who, in the opinion of the Petroleum Administration for War, can thereby contribute to the war program.

(2) Any person, natural or artificial, affected by this directive or by any schedule provided for hereunder, who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal to the Director in Charge, District One, Petroleum Administration for War, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why he considers himself entitled to relief, who shall act promptly upon such appeal and render a decision thereon within a period of 15 days. If dissatisfied with the decision of the District Director in Charge, such person may appeal within 15 days after receipt of notice of the District Director's decision to the Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War or such representative as he may designate.

Issued this 1st day of May 1944.

RALPH K. DAVIES,
Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War.

Vessels engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war.

The Acting Secretary of the Navy having by order dated 1 October, 1942 (7 F.R. 7979) waived compliance with the Navigation and Vessel Inspection laws administered by the United States Coast Guard, in the case of any vessel engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war to the extent and in the manner that the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, shall find to be necessary in the conduct of the war; and FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 5155]

FERRO ENAMEL CORP., ET AL.

ISSUANCE OF COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of Ferro Enamel Corporation, Pemco Corporation, the O. Hommel Company, a corporation, Chicago Vitreous Enamel Product Co., a corporation, Ingram-Richardson Mfg. Co. of Indiana, Inc., and Stevenson, Jordan & Harrison, a corporation; and Harry L. Moody, an individual.

Complaint

Count I. Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act and by virtue of the authority vested in it by said act, the Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that Ferro Enamel Corporation, Pemco Corporation, The O. Hommel Company, a corporation, Chicago Vitreous Enamel Product Co., a corporation, Ingram-Richardson Mfg. Co. of Indiana, Inc., Stevenson, Jordan & Harrison, a corporation, and Harry L. Moody, an individual, hereinafter referred to as respondents, have violated the provisions of section 5 of the said act, and it appearing to the Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be in the public interest, hereby issues its complaint stating its charges in that respect as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent Ferro Enamel Corporation, sometimes hereinafter referred to as respondent Ferro, is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Ohio with its principal office and place of business located at 4150 East 56th Street in the City of Cleveland in said State.

Respondent Pemco Corporation, sometimes hereinafter referred to as Pemco, is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Maryland with its principal office and place of business located at Eastern and Pemco Avenues in the City of Baltimore in said State. It is a successor to Porcelain Enamel & Manufacturing Co. of Baltimore.

Respondent The O. Hommel Company, sometimes hereinafter referred to as respondent Hommel, is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania with its principal office and place of business located at Carnegie in said State.

Respondent Chicago Vitreous Enamel Product Co., sometimes hereinafter referred to as respondent Chicago Vitreous is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Illinois with its principal office and place of business located at 1427 South 55th Court in the City of Cicero in said State.

Respondent Ingram-Richardson Mfg. Co. of Indiana, Inc., sometimes hereinafter referred to as respondent Ing-Rich, of Indiana, is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Indiana with its principal office and place of business located at Frankfort in said State.

PAR. 2. The respondent corporations named in paragraph one hereof, hereinafter referred to collectively as respondent manufacturers, are all engaged in manufacturing, compounding or smelting of chemicals used in the manufacture of porcelain enamel, popularly known and sometimes hereinafter referred to as "frit" (which is the porcelain enamel in its raw state), and in the sale of said product to manufacturers and fabricators of porcelain enamel products, such as table tops, kitchen tables, drain boards, bath tub covers, also parts for stoves, refrigerators, store fixtures, wall coverings and porcelain enamel signs, and cause said product, when so sold, to be shipped and transported from their respective places of business and factories in the States of Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana, as aforesaid, to the purchasers thereof located in the several States of the United States other than the States of origin of the shipments. Said respondent manufacturers in the course and conduct of their said businesses manufacture and sell approximately 96% of all the commercial "frit" manufactured and sold in the United States. Prior to the adoption of the practices hereinafter described, said respondent manufacturers were in active and substantial competition with each other and with other members of the industry in making and seeking to make sales of their said product in commerce between and among the several States of the United States and in the District of Columbia, and but for the practices hereinafter described such active and substantial competition would have continued until the present, and said respondent manufacturers would now be in active and substantial competition with each other and with other members of the industry.

PAR. 3. Respondent Stevenson, Jordan & Harrison, sometimes hereinafter referred to as respondent S. J. & H., is a corporation organized, existing and doing business under the laws of the State of New York, having its principal office and place of business located at 19 West 44th Street in the City of New York in said State. Said respondent is engaged in business management and business engineering, specializing in management of trade associations.

Respondent Harry L. Moody, at all times hereinafter mentioned was a director of respondent S. J. & H. in charge of the activities of the respondent manufacturers and is named as respondent herein individually and as director of respondent S. J. & H.

PAR. 4. Respondent manufacturers, acting in cooperation with each other and with respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody, for more than three years last past have been engaged in an understanding, agreement, combination, and conspiracy to hinder and suppress competition in the manufacture and interstate sale and distribution of "frit" or porcelain enamel in its raw state, to purchasers thereof; and to create and maintain a monopoly in the manufacture and interstate sale and distribution of said product in the said respondent manufacturers. Pursuant to said understanding, agreement, combination, conspiracy and in furtherance thereof, the respondents have acted in concert and in cooperation with each other or have followed a planned or prearranged common course of action in doing, among others, the following acts, practices and things:

(a) Respondent manufacturers have fixed minimum and identical prices f. o. b. their respective plants for the sale of various grades or coats of "frit" or porcelain enamel in its raw state, sold and distributed by them.

(b) For the purpose and with the effect of equalizing and making identical to any given purchaser at any given destination the delivered costs from all of respondent manufacturer's plants and of neutralizing the differences in freight costs from their respective plants as a factor in price competition, respondent manufacturers have established and utilized a program or system of so-called freight equalization. Under such program or system each manufacturer having the greatest freight disadvantage with reference to any given destination is enabled to quote and sell to any purchaser at the same delivered cost as the manufacturer having the greatest freight advantage. The accomplishment of such purpose, effect, program and system is conditioned upon each manufacturer reciprocally and in alternation adopting the equivalent of each other's f. o. b. plant price in their respective freight advantage territories; upon each manufacturer refusing to permit purchasers to take possession f. o. b. plant and provide their own transportation, and upon each ignoring differences in their respective costs of production, of selling and of overhead. Said freight equalization program is in effect an undertaking by all respondent manufacturers to make no delivered price at any place that will preclude the most disadvantaged of their number from matching it.

(c) Respondent manufacturers have classified their respective customers according to the total annual volume of "frit" purchased by each of them from all sources and make identical delivered prices and discounts on all sales of said product to all such customers according to such classification.

(d) Respondent manufacturers file with the respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody price lists containing the quoted prices and discounts on each grade or coat of said product to each class of customer; and copies of invoices and orders covering the sales of their said product, each invoice to contain the name of the purchaser, the quantity sold of each grade and coat and the price and discount of same for each class of customer; and said respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody disseminate among the respondent manufacturers the prices and discounts so filed, with the understanding that respondent manufacturers will maintain the said prices and discounts and will notify said respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody of any changes in price or discount already in effect or new grades or coats of said product; and that said respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody will disseminate to the respondent manufacturers information as to price and discount changes and new products put on the market by any respondent manufacturer.

(e) Respondent manufacturers file with said respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody credit reports setting forth the names of the customers receiving credit and the credit limit allowed, said credit information being disseminated by said respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody to other respondent manufacturers in a composite credit report with the understanding that any customer who is in arrears beyond a fixed credit limit cannot purchase from any other respondent manufacturer on open account nor be sold by the respondent manufacturer to whom he is indebted on open account, but shall be required to purchase on a c. o. d. basis in the future until he has paid up his account in arrears.

(f) Respondent manufacturers file from time to time with respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody "credit memoranda" disclosing the nature of credit given their respective customers and respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody circulate among the respondent manufacturers a bulletin showing the information contained in said "credit memoranda" filed by respondent manufacturers.

(g) Respondent manufacturers file with respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody monthly reports of shipments of "frit" to their customers, both gross and net, and respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody disseminate among the respondent manufacturers a composite statement of the total volume of shipments of "frit" by the respondent manufacturers during each month.

(h) Respondent manufacturers have adopted the practice of declining to sell "frit" on consignment; and also of declining to perform certain services for their customers such as mounting the product on skids or pallet for carload shipments; also of declining to give certain extra demonstrations of their product in the places of business of their customers; also of declining to make special inducements to take customers away from each other.

(i) Respondent manufacturers from time to time hold and attend meetings in cooperation with each other and under the auspices of respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody, at which meetings the various acts and practices and things hereinbefore set forth are discussed, including various reports received by respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody from the respondent manufacturers, also complaints of respondent manufacturers with respect to the maintenance or non-observance by respondent manufacturers of the acts, practices and understandings hereinbefore mentioned.

(j) The respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody cooperate with and assist said respondent manufacturers in the enforcement and observance of the foregoing acts, practices and understandings by disseminating monthly volume reports showing the industry and each respondent manufacturer's total volume in pounds and dollars and percentages of each manufacturer in pounds and dollars for current month and year to date; monthly report showing industry and each respondent manufacturer's freight equalization charges for the month and year to date; monthly reports in pounds and dollars showing the industry and each respondent manufacturer's volume by classification, grade and type, and price per pound for the industry and for each respondent manufacturer and each manufacturer's percentage of the total industry volume and the percent of the average per pound price; other periodical reports showing volume in pounds and dollars of each customer's purchases from the industry, and by checking up on the respondent manufacturers to determine whether or not they are living up to or maintaining the said acts, practices and understandings and reporting at said meetings or otherwise to the respondent manufacturers any deviations therefrom or violations thereof to the end that said acts, practices and understandings shall be uniformly and universally observed by the respondent manufacturers.

PAR. 5. The acts, practices and things performed by the respondents as hereinabove alleged are all to the prejudice of the public; have a dangerous tendency to and have actually hindered and prevented price competition between and among respondent manufacturers in the sale of "frit", porcelain enamel in its raw state, in commerce, within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act; have placed in respondent manufacturers the power to control and enhance prices in said product; have created in the respondent manufacturers a monopoly in the sale of said product in such commerce; have unreasonably restrained such commerce in said product; and constitute unfair methods of competition in commerce within the intent and meaning of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Count II. The Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Ferro Enamel Corporation, Pemco Corporation, The O. Hommel Company, a corporation, Chicago Vitreous Enamel Product Co., a corporation, Ingram-Richardson Mfg. Co. of Indiana, Inc., hereinbefore referred to as respondent manufacturers, have violated and are now violating the provisions of section 2 of the act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies and for other purposes approved October 15, 1914, (The Clayton Act) as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act (U. S. C. Title 15, sec. 13)" hereby issues this its complaint against said respondents and states its charges with respect thereto as follows; to-wit:

PARAGRAPH 1. For its charges in this paragraph of this count, said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph one of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein and said paragraph one of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. 2. For its charges in this paragraph of this count, said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph two of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein and said paragraph two of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. 3. For its charges in this paragraph of this count, said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph three of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein and said paragraph three of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of their said businesses as described in paragraphs one and two of Count I of this complaint, said respondent manufacturers have been for more than three years last past and are now discriminating in price between different purchasers buying "frit", porcelain enamel in its raw state by selling their said product to some of their customers at lower prices than they sell said product of like grade and quality to other of their customers, many of which customers are competitively engaged one with another throughout the several States of the United States, in the sale of manufactured and fabricated products containing said "frit" as an important and substantial part thereof. The respondents during the said period of time have engaged in the following discriminatory practices and methods in determining the prices at which they sell their said product to their said customers;

(1) Respondent manufacturers classify their customers according to the annual dollar volume of purchases of "frit" from all sources and grant discounts to each customer based upon such classification;

(2) Respondent manufacturers furnish respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody with regular periodical reports of annual dollar volume of sales of said product to their respective customers and respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody disseminate among respondent manufacturers a volume report containing a summary of all sales of said product by all respondent manufacturers each month;

(3) Respondent manufacturers utilize the said customer volume reports disseminated by the respondent S. J. & H. and respondent Moody to determine the classification of any customer and the amount of discount to be allowed from list prices, said classification being adjusted from time to time in accordance with said customer volume report;

(4) Pursuant to such classification and determination the respondent manufacturers have, during said period of time, followed and maintained the following schedule of discounts from list prices based on total purchases from all sources:

Classification	Amount of purchase	Discount
		Percent
A	$5,000 per year	Base
B	$5,000 to $10,000	5
C	$10,000 to $20,000	10
D	$20,000 to $29,000	12½
E	$29,000 to $40,000	15
F	Over $40,000	20

PAR. 5. The effect of the said discriminations in price mentioned in paragraph four hereof has been or may be substantially to lessen competition in the line of commerce in which said respondents are engaged and to injure, destroy and prevent competition between and among the said respondents and to injure, destroy and prevent competition between the customers of said respondents in the sale and distribution of products containing said "frit" as a substantial component part and has been and may be to tend to create a monopoly in said commerce in the various localities or trade areas in the United States in which said respondents and their customers are engaged in the sale and distribution of said product.

PAR. 6. The foregoing acts and practices of respondents are violations of subsection 2 (a) of section 1 of the said act of Congress approved June 1, 1936, entitled "'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies and for other purposes', approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U. S. C., title 15, sec. 13), and for other purposes."

Wherefore the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 29th day of April A. D., 1944, issues its complaint against said respondents.

THE NORTH AMERICAN COMPANY

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 4th day of May 1944.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The North American Company, a registered holding company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 19, 1944, at 5:30 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may be granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Street, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

The North American Company proposes to pay on July 1, 1944, a dividend to its holders of common stock of record on June 3, 1944. Such dividend will be payable in the common stock of Pacific Gas and Electric Company having a par value of $25 per share, owned by The North American Company, at the rate of one share of common stock of Pacific Gas and Electric Company on each 100 shares of the common stock of The North American Company outstanding. No certificates will be issued for fractions of shares of stock of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, but, in lieu thereof, cash will be paid at the rate of 31 cents for each 1/100th of a share of stock of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, this rate being based on the approximate market price as of April 25, 1944, the date the proposed dividend was declared. The North American Company estimates that the payment of the above-mentioned dividend will involve the distribution of not more than 75,000 shares of the 1,712,802 shares of common stock of Pacific Gas and Electric Company owned by it and use of not more than $410,000 of cash; and that the payment of such dividend will result in a charge of approximately $2,800,000 to earned surplus.

The North American Company has requested that the Commission enter an order permitting said declaration to become effective or granting said application on or before May 27, 1944.

GEORGIA POWER AND LIGHT CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAN, ETC.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 3d day of May 1944.

In the matter of Georgia Power and Light Company, Florida Power Corporation, General Gas & Electric Corporation, File No. 54-95; in the matter of Georgia Power and Light Company, General Gas & Electric Corporation, File No. 59-62; in the matter of General Gas & Electric Corporation, Florida Power Corporation, Florida Public Service Company, Sanford Gas Company, Sante Fe Land Company, Georgia Power and Light Company, File No. 70-641.

Notice of filing of plan under Section 11 (e) of the Act and applications-declarations to effectuate related transactions, order consolidating with pending proceedings pursuant to Section 11 (b) (2), order for hearing on consolidated matters, and order granting request for withdrawal of portion of previous filing.

Notice is hereby given that filings under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the act) have been made by General Gas & Electric Corporation (Gengas), a registered holding company, and two of its direct public utility subsidiaries, Florida Power Corporation (Florida) and Georgia Power and Light Company (Georgia).

All interested persons are referred to said documents which are on file in the offices of this Commission for a treatment of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

1. Gengas, Florida, and Georgia have jointly filed a "Plan of Recapitalization of Georgia Power and Light Company", in which it is proposed that:

(a) Gengas will sell to Florida, for $75,600 in cash, 4,200 shares of Georgia's $6 Series, no par value, cumulative preferred stock; and Gengas will donate to Florida $310,600 in cash and all of the common stock of Georgia, consisting of 21,650 shares of common stock, no par value.

(b) Florida will donate to Georgia $1,400,000 in cash, the 4,200 shares of Georgia's preferred stock previously acquired from Gengas, and 600 shares of Georgia's common stock.

(c) Georgia will discharge its publicly held preferred stock, consisting of 6,327 shares, by a payment in cash of $150 for each share, this payment to be in full settlement for all claims of such preferred stockholders, including dividend arrears to June 30, 1944. The filing indicates that this proposed settlement is based on the liquidation value of $100 per share, plus the discounted value of the arrears in dividends (which arrears will amount to $62.25 per share at June 30, 1944), the computation of the discounted value being based on a 6% discount rate applied to an estimate that the dividend arrears can be eliminated from available earnings in eight to nine years.

2. Florida has filed a declaration to issue and sell, at competitive bidding, 40,000 shares of preferred stock. The proceeds from the sale of these securities are to be used to redeem presently outstanding preferred stock of Florida consisting of 5,940 shares of 7% cumulative preferred, par value $50 per share (call price $52.50 per share), and 28,762 shares of Series A 7% cumulative preferred, par value $100 per share (call price $110 per share) and to raise part of the cash proposed to be donated to Georgia.

3. Georgia is to reduce its outstanding indebtedness by redeeming $527,500 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5% Series, due June 1, 1978, and restate its capital, surplus, and other accounts to reflect the consummation of the transactions above outlined.

The consummation of the "Plan of Recapitalization of Georgia Power and Light Company" is made contingent upon: (a) Approval of the plan by the Securities and Exchange Commission, together with the granting of applications and permitting declarations to become effective which are related to the consummation of the plan; (b) a determination by the Securities and Exchange Commission that the proposed transactions are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Georgia is a member, all in accordance with the meaning and requirements of the Internal Revenue Code; (c) the entry of an appropriate decree by the United States District Court for the District of Georgia finding the plan fair and equitable and directing its consummation; and (d) the obtaining by the Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, direct parent of Gengas, of an order of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York authorizing the Trustees to acquiesce in the consummation of the plan.

Sections 7, 9, 10, 11 (e) (12 (b), 12 (c), 12 (d), and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-42, U-43, U-44, and U-50 have been designated as being applicable to these proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is proper and in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said plan and the applications-declarations, and that said plan should not be effectuated, said applications should not be granted, or that said declarations should not become effective, except pursuant to further order of the Commission; and

These same applicants-declarants having heretofore made filings with this Commission concerned with, among other things, the merger into Florida of certain of its associate companies, namely, Florida Public Service Company, Sanford Gas Company and Santa Fe Land Company, and the transfer of the controlling interest in Georgia from Gengas to Florida (File No. 70-641), the Commission having issued a notice of and order for hearing pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act with respect to Georgia and consolidating the hearing thereon with the merger proceedings (File No. 59-62); in granting the applications and permitting the declarations to become effective regarding the merger, the Commission having expressly reserved jurisdiction over the section 11 (b) (2) proceedings, the proposed transfer of Georgia, and related transactions; the instant filings stating that they supersede that portion of the previously filed applications-declarations concerned with the acquisition by Florida of the controlling interest in Georgia and related transactions; and a request to withdraw that portion of the previous filings having been made:

It is hereby ordered, That the portion of the application-declaration in File No. 70-641 not heretofore granted or permitted to become effective be, and hereby is, permitted to be withdrawn pursuant to the request of applicants-declarants.

It is further ordered, That the proceedings on the instant plan, applications-declarations, and the pending proceedings under section 11 (b) (2) of the act directed to Georgia be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

It is further ordered, That a hearing be held upon such matters on June 1, 1944, at 10 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such date the the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why the applications-declarations should be granted and permitted to become effective. All persons desiring to be heard or wishing to participate otherwise in the proceeding should notify the Commission in the manner provided by Rule XVII of its rules of practice on or before May 29, 1944.

It is further ordered, That Allen MacCullen, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented in the consolidated proceeding, attention will be directed at the public hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the plan, as proposed or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and is, in all respects, fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

2. Whether the provisions for the consummation of the plan are fair and equitable and in accordance with applicable law.

3. The propriety of the proposed accounting treatment on the books of applicants-declarants.

4. Whether the proposed issuance of securities by Florida meets the relevant standards of the act.

5. Whether, and if so, to what extent, the holdings of preferred stock of Florida by associate companies of Florida should be permitted to participate in the proceeds of the refunding of such preferred stocks.

6. Generally, whether the proposed plan and all transactions incidental thereto are, in all respects, in the public interests and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder, or, if not, whether and what modifications and what terms and conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given applicants-declarants and all other interested persons, notice to be given to Gengas, Florida, and Georgia by registered mail and to all other interested persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to all persons on the mailing list for the releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That either Gengas or Georgia give notice of this hearing by mailing a copy of this order and a copy of the "Plan of Recapitalization of Georgia Power and Light Company" to each of the public security holders of Georgia (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known or available to either Gengas or Georgia) to his last known address, at least fifteen days prior to the date of this hearing.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and hereby is reserved to separate, whether for hearing in whole or in part, or for disposition in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions, or matters embraced by this proceeding, or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to said consolidated proceedings, or to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

By the Commission.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER POWER CO., ET AL

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON PLAN AND ON APPLICATIONS AND DECLARATIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 5th day of May 1944.

In the matter of Mississippi River Power Company, Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, and Union Electric Company of Illinois, File No. 54-96.

Notice is hereby given that Mississippi River Power Company, a subsidiary of Union Electric Company of Missouri, a registered holding company which is a subsidiary of The North American Company, also a registered holding company, has filed a plan pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and that Union Electric Company of Missouri and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Iowa Union Electric Company and Union Electric Company of Illinois, have filed applications and declarations pursuant to other applicable sections of the act relating to transactions incident to the plan of Mississippi River Power Company and other matters. The purpose of the plan and the transactions covered by said applications and declarations is the simplification of the structure of the holding company system of Union Electric Company of Missouri by the elimination of Mississippi River Power Company and Iowa Union Electric Company; if the plan and other proposed transactions are consummated, the holding company system of Union Electric Company of Missouri will consist solely of that company and Union Electric Company of Illinois. All interested persons are referred to said documents which are on file in the offices of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

1. Mississippi River Power Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Mississippi) proposes to reduce its common capital by the amount of $4,800,000 by changing the par value of its 160,000 shares of outstanding common stock from $100 to $70 per share; the capital surplus so created together with a capital surplus of $9,560,000 to be created by a capital contribution by Union Electric Company of Missouri (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Union Missouri [1]) will provide for the aggregate charge of $14,360,000 to capital surplus to eliminate, in compliance with orders recently issued by the Federal Power Commission and the Illinois Commerce Commission, certain inflationary items in Mississippi's plant account.

2. Mississippi proposes, after making other accounting adjustments in compliance with the last-mentioned orders and otherwise, to transfer all of its physical properties, except properties, consisting principally of transmission lines, located in the State of Missouri and certain current assets and liabilities, to Iowa Union Electric Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Iowa Union) and to acquire, in exchange therefor, 461,000 shares of common stock, without par value, of Iowa Union. (Prior to such transfer Mississippi will have called for redemption on July 1, 1944, all of its outstanding First Mortgage Five Per Centum Forty Year Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $15,161,900, representing all of its funded debt. Most of the funds for such redemption will be supplied by the capital contribution referred to in paragraph numbered 1 above and by the payment of an open account indebtedness in the approximate amount of $5,700,000 owing by Union Missouri to Mississippi.)

3. Mississippi proposes thereafter to merge into Union Missouri by (a) transferring all of its then assets to Union Missouri, (b) converting each share of its outstanding 82,344¾ shares of 6% cumulative preferred stock into one share of Preferred Stock, $4.50 Series, of Union Missouri, and (c) converting each share of its 408 shares of common stock, held by others than Union Missouri, into three-fourths of a share of said Preferred Stock, $4.50 Series. (No certificates for fractional shares of the $4.50 Series, Preferred Stock, will be issued, but in lieu thereof, fractional scrip will be issued. Said scrip, during the period of one year will be exchangeable in combination with other similar scrip for full shares. At the expiration of one year, the scrip will be paid off in cash on the basis of the average closing prices of the New York Stock Exchange during the five-day period immediately following the expiration date.)

4. Mississippi proposes, coincident with the merger, to accept for cancellation the remaining 159,592 shares of its common stock owned by Union Missouri and to dissolve;

5. Mississippi proposes to effect said merger under the applicable statutes of the States of Maine and Missouri, to submit the merger agreement to the stockholders of Mississippi and Union Missouri, and to submit the reduction of its capital and the transfer of its properties to Iowa Union to the stockholders of Mississippi.

6. Union Missouri proposes to acquire the properties of Mississippi located in the State of Missouri, certain current assets and liabilities of Mississippi, and the 461,000 shares of the common stock of Iowa Union to be issued for the purpose set forth in paragraph numbered 2 above;

7. Union Missouri proposes to issue approximately 82,650 additional shares of its Preferred Stock, $4.50 Series, without par value, upon conversion of the 82,344¾ shares of 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 408 shares of the common stock of Mississippi as set forth in paragraph numbered 3 above;

8. Union Missouri proposes to surrender for cancellation the 159,592 shares of the common stock of Mississippi now owned by it;

[1] See Holding Company Act Release No. 5005.

9. Iowa Union proposes to issue 461,000 shares of its common stock to Mississippi and to acquire in exchange therefor the physical properties of Mississippi, other than those located in the State of Missouri, and certain current assets which are subject to certain current liabilities;

10. Iowa Union proposes, after the acquisitions mentioned in the last preceding paragraph, to merge with Union Electric Company of Illinois (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Union Illinois) by transferring all of its then assets, subject to all liabilities, to Union Illinois and, in connection therewith, to convert the 492,000 shares of its then outstanding common stock into common stock of Union Illinois on the basis of nine shares of the common stock of Union Illinois for each four shares of the common stock of Iowa Union, and to then dissolve;

11. Union Illinois proposes, in connection with the proposed merger with Iowa Union, to acquire all of the latter company's assets, subject to all liabilities, and to issue approximately 1,107,000 additional shares of its common stock, of the par value of $20 per share to Union Missouri in conversion of the 492,000 shares of the common stock of Iowa Union;

12. Union Missouri proposes to acquire, as a result of the conversion referred to in the last two preceding paragraphs, aproximately 1,107,000 additional shares of the common stock of Union Illinois and to pledge said common stock with the Trustee under its mortgage as additional security for the outstanding bonds of Union Missouri.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of said act, before approving any plan thereunder, to find after notice and opportunity for hearing, that the plan of Mississippi River Power Company, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan; and

It being appropriate that notice be given and a hearing held with respect to the applications and declarations of Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, and Union Electric Company of Illinois and that said applications and declarations shall not become effective or granted except pursuant to the further order of the Commission; and

It appearing that the common issues of fact and law arising in connection with the plan of Mississippi River Power Company and the applications and declarations of Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, and Union Electric Company of Illinois make it appropriate that the hearings thereon be consolidated; It is hereby ordered: (a) That the hearings on the plan of Mississippi River Power Company and on the declarations and applications of Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, and Union Electric Company of Illinois be consolidated, subject to a reservation of jurisdiction to separate, whether for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in these proceedings, or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to said plan or take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved;

(b) That the consolidated hearings be held on the 8th day of June, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on such date by the hearing room clerk in Room 318. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings should notify the Commission in the manner provided by its rules of practice, Rule XVII, on or before the 31st day of May 1944.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given to Mississippi River Power Company, Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, Union Electric Company of Illinois, Illinois Commerce Commission, and Public Service Commission of Missouri, and to all other persons; such notice to be given to Mississippi River Power Company, Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, Union Electric Company of Illinois, Illinois Commerce Commission, and Public Service Commission of Missouri by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under said act; and

It is further ordered, That Mississippi River Power Company mail a copy of the plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act together with a copy of this notice and order to each of its stockholders at his last known address at least twenty days prior to the 8th day of June 1944.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the plan and by the applications and declarations, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the plan of Mississippi River Power Company as proposed or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

2. Whether the accounting entries proposed in connection with the plan and applications and declarations are appropriate and in accordance with sound accounting principles and practice;

3. Generally, whether the proposed transactions of Union Electric Company of Missouri, Iowa Union Electric Company, and Union Electric Company of Illinois are in all respects in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder, and, if not, what modification should be required to be made therein and what terms and conditions should be imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

By the Commission.

CONSENT ORDER

Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., a corporation which was located at 307 East 53d Street, New York, New York, and which was engaged in the upholstery business, was charged by the War Production Board on February 25, 1944, with having substantially and with gross negligence violated Limitation Order L-135, as of September 30, 1942, in that during the period beginning on or about November 1, 1942, through May 25, 1943, it violated Limitation Order L-135 by processing, fabricating, working on and assembling in excess of 370 pieces of wood upholstered furniture containing steel springs and coils, although Limitation Order L-135 provided that on and after November 1, 1942, no new wood upholstered furniture manufacturer should process, work on or assemble any new wood upholstered furniture which contained any iron or steel other than joining hardware. It was further charged that Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., formerly located at 307 East 53d Street, New York, New York, submitted to the War Production Board misleading information regarding the extent to which it was complying with Limitation Order L-135, thereby subjecting itself to administrative action under the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 issued by the War Production Board.

Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., subsequent to the date of the violations charged as above, assigned its assets and business to William Rinn and Jack Rinn, a partnership, doing business as Georgian Furniture Company, located at 307 East 53d Street, New York, New York. William Rinn and Jack Rinn were the principal officers, directors and stockholders of the corporation. Subsequent to this assignment, the corporation was dissolved.

Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., and the above described William Rinn and Jack Rinn admit the violations as charged and have consented to the issuance of this order. Wherefore, upon the agreement and Consent of Georgian Furniture Co. Inc. and the above described William Rinn and Jack Rinn, the Regional Compliance Chief, and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered:

That (a) Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., and William Rinn and Jack Rinn, a partnership, doing business as Georgian Furniture Company, their successors or assigns, during the three months period beginning April 1, 1944, and ending June 30, 1944, shall not consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than eleven per cent (11%) of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by it in the production of furniture during its metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders); and during the three months period beginning July 1, 1944, and ending September 30, 1944, Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., and William Rinn and Jack Rinn, a partnership, doing business as Georgian Furniture Company, their successors or assigns, shall not consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than eleven percent (11%) of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by it in the production of furniture during its metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders).

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Georgian Furniture Co., Inc., and William Rinn and Jack Rinn, a partnership, doing business as Georgian Furniture Company, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 1, 1944, and shall expire on September 30, 1944.

The consent order herein referred to, issued January 1, 1944, be, and hereby is, amended by the substitution of the following paragraph (d) for the present paragraph (d):

(There may be included in such notice any additional information or advice the bank may deem desirable.)

(b) The bank shall furnish to the Corporation the following records and information:

(1) An affidavit of the mailing and an affidavit of the publication of the notice to depositors. The affidavit of mailing should be executed by the person mailing the notice and should state (i) the date of mailing, (ii) that it was mailed to each depositor at his last address of record as shown on the books of the bank and (iii) that a copy of the notice as mailed is attached.

(2) A certified copy of the resolutions pursuant to which the bank was placed in liquidation and/or any other document or instrument required by law to place the bank in liquidation.

(3) The bank shall continue to file certified statements and pay assessments thereon for the period its deposits are insured, as provided by the Federal Deposit Insurance Law:[4] Provided, That after the bank shall have paid in full its deposit liabilities and the assessment to the Corporation required to be paid for the semiannual period in which its deposit liabilities are paid in full, and after it shall under applicable law have ceased to have authority to transact a banking business and to have existence except for the purpose of, and to the extent permitted by law for winding up its affairs, it shall not be required to file further certified statements nor to pay further assessments.

(4) When the deposit liabilities of the bank shall have been paid in full, the bank shall furnish to the Corporation an affidavit executed by two of its officers, which affidavit shall state the fact that the deposit liabilities have been paid in full and give the date of the final payment thereof.[5]

(5) Where the bank has unclaimed deposits the affidavit to be furnished pursuant to the preceding paragraph, shall further state the amount of such unclaimed deposits and the disposition made of the funds to be held to meet such claims. For assessment purposes, the following will be considered as payment of such unclaimed deposits, viz:

(i) The transfer of cash funds in an amount sufficient to pay such unclaimed and unpaid deposits to the public official authorized under the law to receive the same; or

(ii) If no provision is made by law for the transfer of funds to a public official, the transfer of cash funds or compensatory assets to an insured bank in an amount sufficient to pay the unclaimed and unpaid deposits in consideration of such insured bank assuming the payment thereof: Provided, That, prior to such transfer, the liquidating bank shall have given notice, as hereinafter provided, to the owners of the unclaimed deposits of the intended transfer and a reasonable time shall have elapsed after the giving of such notice to enable the depositors to obtain their deposits. Such notice shall be mailed to each depositor and shall be published in a local newspaper of general circulation. The notice shall advise such depositors of the liquidation of the bank; shall request them to call for and accept payment of their deposits; and shall state the disposition to be made of their deposits upon their failure to promptly claim the same.

If such unclaimed and unpaid deposits are disposed of as provided in (i) above, a certified copy of the public official's receipts issued for such funds shall be furnished to the Corporation. If such unclaimed and unpaid deposits are disposed of as provided in (ii) above, an affidavit of the publication and of the mailing of the notice to depositors, together with a copy of such notice, and a certified copy of the contract of assumption shall be furnished to the Corporation.

(6) The liquidating bank shall advise the Corporation of the date on which the authority or right of the bank to do a banking business shall have terminated and the method or means whereby such termination shall have been effected, that is, whether such termination has been effected by the surrender of its charter, by the cancellation of its authority or license to do a banking business by the supervisory authority, or otherwise.[6]

[5] The issuance of a draft or officer's check does not constitute the discharge of a deposit liability or relieve the bank of assessment until such draft or other evidence of payment has been duly presented for payment and has been paid.

[6] As the governing law of the various jurisdictions is not uniform in this respect, it is suggested that the applicable statute be consulted and that this Corporation be advised of the manner in which the termination or cancellation of such authority has been effected.

§ 309.2 Steps to be taken and records to be furnished the Corporation by a member bank in liquidation (both State and national). (a) Whenever a bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve System goes into liquidation and its insured status has not been terminated by the board[7] and its deposit liabilities are not assumed by another insured bank, it shall notify its depositors of the date of the termination of its insured status.[8] Such notice shall be given in the form prescribed in the preceding section and shall be given at the time and in the manner therein provided.

(b) The bank shall furnish to the Corporation the records and information mentioned in, and comply with the requirements of, paragraph (b) of the preceding section.

§ 309.3 Steps to be taken and records to be furnished the Corporation where deposits are assumed by another insured bank.[9] (a) Whenever the deposit liabilities of an insured bank are assumed by another insured bank, the bank whose deposits are assumed or the assuming bank as its agent shall give notice to its depositors of such assumption. Such notice shall be (1) mailed to each depositor at his last address of record as shown upon the books of the bank; (2) published in not less than two issues of a local newspaper of general circulation, and (3) in form substantially as follows:

The bank shall furnish to the Corporation an affidavit of mailing and an affidavit of publication of the notice to depositors. The affidavit of mailing should be in the form prescribed in § 309.1 (b) (1).

(b) The liquidating bank shall continue to file certified statements and pay assessments thereon for the period its deposits are insured, as provided by the Federal Deposit Insurance Law: Provided, That if the liquidating bank, or the assuming bank as its agent, has given the requisite notice to the depositors of the assumption of the deposit liabilities within thirty days after such assumption takes effect, then the liquidating bank shall file a final certified statement, which statement shall be executed to reflect its average daily deposit liabilities for the semiannual period in which its deposit liabilities are assumed and shall pay to the Corporation the normal assessment thereon.[11]

(c) The Corporation will consider receipt of the following as satisfactory evidence of such assumption:

[9] Said subsection (i) (4) provides, in part, as follows: "Whenever the liabilities of an insured bank for deposits shall have been assumed by another insured bank or banks, the insured status of the bank whose liabilities are so assumed shall terminate on the date of receipt by the Corporation of satisfactory evidence of such assumption with like effect as if its insured status had been terminated on said date by the board of directors after proceedings under paragraph (1) of this subsection: Provided, That if the bank whose liabilities are so assumed gives to its depositors notice of such assumption within thirty days after such assumption takes effect by publication or by any reasonable means, in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the board of directors, the insurance of its deposits shall terminate at the end of six months from the date such assumption takes effect, and such bank shall thereupon be relieved of all future obligations to the Corporation, including the obligation to pay future assessments."

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER[1]

[Conservation Order M-70, as Amended May 9, 1944]

JUTE AND JUTE PRODUCTS

§ 3290.271[1] Conservation Order M-70—(a) Control and allocation. No processor shall make or accept delivery of, or use or put into process raw or scrap jute, jute products or scrap jute manufactured products in violation of directions of the War Production Board issued pursuant to this paragraph. The War Production Board may from time to time allocate the supply of raw and scrap jute, jute products and scrap jute manufactured products, and specifically direct the time, manner and quantities in which deliveries to or by particular processors shall be made or withheld. It may also direct or prohibit particular uses of raw and scrap jute, jute products and scrap jute manufactured products.

(b) Restrictions on processing, sale and use. (1) (i) No person shall use or put into process any raw jute, except for the manufacture of the products listed in List A.

(ii) No person shall use any product listed in List A, except for the uses there specified.

(iii) No person shall use any imported jute product listed in List C, except for the uses there specified.

(iv) Where restrictions on sale are listed in List A or C, no person shall sell any product covered by such restrictions, except in conformity with those restrictions.

NOTE: Subparagraphs (2) and (3), formerly (3) and (4), redesignated May 9, 1944.

(2) No processor shall put into process in any calendar month more raw jute than is necessary to meet his required deliveries of jute products and to maintain a practicable minimum working inventory. The term "practicable minimum working inventory" is to be strictly construed as meaning the minimum inventory which will permit of economical operation of plant and will depend, in each case, upon the practicability of changing a spinning system from the manufacture of one product to another.

(3) Whether he uses jute or any other fiber, no person shall use any soft fiber carding, drawing, roving or spinning machinery in the manufacture of any products other than products specifically permitted in this order, or in any other conservation order of the War Production Board specifically regulating the end uses for which fiber may be processed. This subparagraph does not apply to machinery normally used for processing scrap jute.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell or deliver any product controlled by this order if he knows or has reason to believe that the person who is buying or accepting delivery of the product will use it in a manner which this order, including Lists A and C, does not permit. He should satisfy himself as to this in some reasonable manner before making delivery. He may, but need not, require a statement in writing showing the specific purpose or use for which the item is ordered.

(d) Importations. The importation of jute and jute products shall be made in conformity with the provisions of General Imports Order M–63, as amended from time to time.

(e) Restrictions on the use of damaged jute and damaged jute products. Any processor, person or dealer who has in his possession damaged jute defined in paragraph (f) (13), or jute products defined in paragraph (f) (3) that are damaged, shall report to the War Production Board the nature of the damage and the quantity not suitable for the manufacture of the products, or for the end uses, permitted by this order. The report shall be by letter setting forth all pertinent facts, including a statement of the portion of each bale or package actually damaged. After making that report and receiving from the War Production Board an acknowledgement which does not object to his claim of damage, he may then use or dispose of the portion of each bale or package, actually damaged and so reported, free from the restrictions of this order excepting the restrictions in paragraph (b) (3).

NOTE: Paragraphs (a) through (e), formerly (b) through (f), and paragraph (f), formerly (a), redesignated May 9, 1944.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS: TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND RELATED PRODUCTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of textiles, clothing, leather and related products for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3290.120 Conservation Order M-328B—(a) Definitions. "Special program" means a program approved by the War Production Board for the production with priority assistance and for distribution of any item on Schedule A.

"Priority assistance" includes preference ratings, allocations and directions.

(b) Applications to participate in special programs. Any person proposing to manufacture an item on a special program may apply for the priority assistance applicable to that program on the form and within the time stated, all as specified for the item on Schedule A.

(c) Priority assistance. The War Production Board may assign ratings, make allocations or issue specific directions to carry out special programs, subject to such terms and conditions as may be specified. Directions issued under paragraph (c) of General Conservation Order M-328 may be made applicable to such program.

(d) Rules applicable to granting assistance. So far as practicable, the following rules shall apply in granting priority assistance:

(1) Applications will be granted with respect to a particular item on Schedule A only to persons who were regularly engaged in the production of the item in the year 1943, if the applications from such persons are sufficient to carry out the program.

(2) If the applications exceed the quantity of production of a particular item required by the program, the grants of priority assistance will conform as near as may be to the production of the item by the applicant in the year 1943.

(3) When it appears that the requirements for a particular item can be met without priority assistance, all applications for the item under the special program may be denied.

(4) When the applications are insufficient to meet requirements, the applications generally will be granted in full and the War Production Board may issue orders to obtain additional production.

(5) The application of any person who in the past has failed to fulfill his portion of any special program may be denied.

(6) Other rules may be specified with respect to a particular program in Schedule A. If the rules set forth in Schedule A differ from the above, the provisions of the schedule shall govern.

(e) Directions. The War Production Board must be able to rely on the actual production of the items for which applications are made and granted. Therefore, persons to whom priority assistance is granted will be directed to produce specific quantities of the item under the special program. These directions may include a requirement to produce more of the item than the amount for which priority assistance is requested or granted. They may require that the applicant report in writing monthly to the War Production Board the quantities of material covered by the special program for which orders have been placed and accepted, the names and addresses of the suppliers with whom the orders were placed, the date of delivery promised by the suppliers, and any factors which might prevent the applicant from carrying out the directions on schedule, and such other data as may be covered in the direction.

All data requested in the directions shall be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Equitable distribution. Every applicant who is granted priority assistance under special program must to the extent of at least 75% of his production of the item fill orders for the item that are placed with him by persons who purchased from him during the year 1943. Each person who purchased from him in 1943 shall be entitled to have his orders filled for a pro rata share of this production based on his 1943 purchases from the applicant. Further specific directions may be issued as to the distribution of items.

The above provisions are in addition to the provisions of paragraph (d) of General Conservation Order M-328.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, and General Conservation Order M-328, as amended from time to time.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order or of any direction issued under it shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Any person who receives a direction to produce an item on Schedule A without his having made an application to participate in a special program and who claims that the direction would require him to produce items which he could not sell in the normal course of his business, may appeal for relief from the direction.

(i) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or of any direction issued under it, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-328B.

Issued this 9th day of May 1944.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Conservation Order M-131, as Amended May 9, 1944]

CINCHONA BARK AND CINCHONA ALKALOIDS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of cinchona bark and cinchona alkaloids for the war effort, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the war effort:

§ 3293.131 (Conservation Order M-131)—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Cinchona alkaloids" means any of the alkaloids or their salts obtained from cinchona bark whether alone or in combination with other alkaloids from cinchona bark, including, but not limited to quinine, totaquine, cinchonine, cinchonidine, quinidine, quinine sulfate, etc., and such alkaloids in standard dosage forms (pills, tablets, capsules, ampoules, etc.) or totaquine in packages of one-half ounce or less.

(2) "Quinine" means quinine alkaloid obtained from cinchona bark and its salts and derivatives.

(3) "Cinchonine" means cinchonine alkaloid obtained from cinchona bark, and its salts and derivatives.

(4) "Cinchonidine" means cinchonidine alkaloid obtained from cinchona bark, and its salts and derivatives.

(5) "Quinidine" means quinidine alkaloid obtained from cinchona bark, and its salts and derivatives.

(6) "Totaquine" means a mixture of alkaloids obtained from cinchona bark.

(7) "Cinchona bark" (also known as Calisaya, Peruvian or Jesuit's bark) means the bark obtained from Cinchona succirubra P. et K., C. Calisaya W., C. Ledgeriana M. et T. and from its hybrids.

(8) "Anti-malarial agent" means any product or material which according to modern medical opinion is recognized as a specific for suppression, alleviation or cure of malarial infections.

(9) "Producer" means any person who produces or imports cinchona bark or cinchona alkaloids or has cinchona alkaloids produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(10) "Distributor" means any person who buys cinchona alkaloids for resale without further processing.

(11) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. No person other than Defense Supplies Corporation or any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the RFC Act, as amended, or any duly authorized agent of such corporation, shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use cinchona bark or cinchona alkaloids unless specifically authorized by War Production Board, on Forms WPB 2945 or WPB 2946, whichever is appropriate. However, the U. S. Army, Navy, the U. S. Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration need not apply for authorization to accept delivery of and use cinchona bark or cinchona alkaloids, but their supplier must list the proposed deliveries, and contract numbers on his application Form WPB 2946, and such supplier shall not make delivery until authorized by War Production Board. Such authorization will also constitute authorization to those services and agencies named to accept delivery of and to use the cinchona bark or cinchona alkaloids.

(c) Exceptions to restrictions on delivery and use. Nothing contained in this order shall prohibit the following transactions:

(1) Deliveries of uncompounded cinchona alkaloids under toll agreement. Any person may, without authorization from War Production Board, accept delivery of cinchona alkaloids pursuant to toll agreement for the purpose of compounding into standard dosage forms, and thereafter redeliver the same to the owner thereof, provided the person making the delivery in the first instance has received specific authorization to use the cinchona alkaloids and retains title to such cinchona alkaloids and to the products made therefrom.

(2) Small deliveries of cinchona alkaloids. Any person may, without authorization from War Production Board, accept small deliveries of cinchona alkaloids for the purpose of resale to licensed physicians, veterinarians or to ultimate consumers, or for the purpose of compounding into dosage form and thereafter reselling the same in such form, provided that small deliveries do not exceed in any calendar month:

(i) 8 ounces of totaquine (uncompounded), 4 ounces of cinchonine or its salts in the aggregate (uncompounded), 4 ounces of cinchonidine or its salts in the aggregate (uncompounded), 4 ounces of quinine or its salts in the aggregate (uncompounded).

(ii) 2 ounces of quinidine or its salts in the aggregate (whether compounded or in standard dosage form), unless acceptance of delivery of this amount, taken together with such person's stock of quinidine on hand the delivery date exceeds 4 ounces of quinidine or its equivalent in standard dosage form.

No authorization from War Production Board is required for the compounding of such cinchona alkaloids or for any subsequent delivery, acceptance of delivery, or use of such cinchona alkaloids, whether in compounded form or otherwise. However, the appropriate certification referred to in paragraph (d) of this order is required for all small deliveries unless the small delivery is made to an ultimate consumer. Deliveries of quinidine to an ultimate consumer may only be made upon a physician's prescription as explained in paragraph (e) of this order.

(3) Deliveries of totaquine, quinine, cinchonine and cinchonidine in standard dosage forms. Any person may, without authorization from the War Production Board, accept deliveries of totaquine in packages of one-half ounce or less, or quinine, cinchonine or cinchonidine in standard dosage forms. No authorization from War Production Board is required for any subsequent delivery, acceptance of delivery or use of such cinchona alkaloids. However, the certification referred to in paragraph (d) of this order is required for all such deliveries in standard dosage forms, unless the delivery is made to an ultimate consumer.

(4) Delivery and use of cinchona bark on hand April 30, 1942. Any person may deliver, accept delivery of or use, without authorization from War Production Board, any stock of cinchona bark consisting of less than 50 pounds and which was physically located at any one place on April 30, 1942.

(5) Delivery and use of cinchona bark or cinchona alkaloids previously compounded. Any person may deliver, accept delivery of, or use, without authorization from War Production Board:

(i) Any quinine which had been combined or compounded with other medicinal agents on or before April 4, 1942;

(ii) Any totaquine or cinchona bark which had been combined or compounded with other medicinal agents on or before April 30, 1942;

(iii) Any quinine and urea hydrochloride (USP) or quinine hydrochloride and urethane which had been combined or compounded with other medicinal agents on or before January 9, 1943;

(iv) Any cinchonine, cinchonidine or quinidine which had been combined or compounded with other medicinal agents on or before June 19, 1942.

(v) Any anti-malarial agent manufactured on or before January 9, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of this order as in effect up to that date; provided that the certification for "quinine, cinchonine, cinchonidine and totaquine" referred to in paragraph (d) of this order as now amended is required for all deliveries of such anti-malarial agents, unless delivery is made to an ultimate consumer.

(d) Certification required. No person shall deliver cinchona alkaloids pursuant to paragraphs (c) (2), (c) (3) and (c) (5) (v) of this order except upon receipt of a certificate in substantially the form shown below (whichever is appropriate), signed manually by a duly authorized official or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The quantity of material delivered should be specified on the reverse side of the certificate. A certificate is not required in those cases where delivery is made to an ultimate consumer.

PHENOLIC RESINS AND PHENOLIC RESIN MOLDING COMPOUNDS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of phenolic resins and phenolic resin molding compounds for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.341 General Preference Order M-246—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Phenolic reactant" means:

(i) Any of the synthetic phenols except resorcinol, of all grades and from whatever source derived.

(ii) Phenolic acids, either in pure or crude form, comprised in whole or in part of one or more of the following: phenol, ortho cresol, meta cresol, para cresol, xylenols and commercial grades of higher boiling cresylic acids, from whatever source derived.

(iii) Any of the substituted phenols, including para phenyl phenol, para tertiary butyl phenol, para tertiary amyl phenol and bis-phenol.

(2) "Aldehyde" means any organic compound containing the monovalent —CHO radical.

(3) "Phenolic resin" means any synthetic reaction product of a phenolic reactant with an aldehyde or a derivative of an aldehyde such as, for example, formaldehyde, furfural, para formaldehyde or hexamethylenetetramine. Such term includes, but is not limited to phenolic resins, modified or otherwise in liquid, lump, spray dried, cast or pulverized form and in solutions commonly termed laminating varnishes and resin solutions as well as resin dispersions, emulsions and cement. The term does not include any reaction product of resorcinol, lignin, cashew nut shell liquid or cardinol unless enriched with another phenolic reactant.

(4) "Phenolic resin molding compound" means any combination of phenolic resin and bulk filler such as, for example, wood flour, asbestos, mica, cotton fibres, or macerated fabrics, which can be molded. Such term includes, but is not limited to, molding compound, molding board and molding blanks.

(5) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, and includes any person who has any such material produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(6) "Toll agreement" means any agreement by which title to material remains vested in a person other than the one processing the material.

(7) "Distributor" means any person who purchases phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound for resale as phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound.

(8) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(9) "Products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound" mean the following products when made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound:

(i) Molded products;

(ii) Protective coatings (other than resins used by protective coatings manufacturers in the formulation of protective coatings);

(iii) Plywood (including shaped plywood and shaped impregnated wood);

(iv) Laminates (sheets, rods, tubes and molded shapes); and

(v) Specialties which shall include all other products, such as abrasive wheels, friction elements and resin bonded insulating batting.

(10) "Product manufacturer" means any person who manufactures any product defined above in paragraph (a) (9).

(b) Restrictions applicable to suppliers only. (1) No supplier shall deliver any phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound to any other person (except pursuant to a toll agreement) without (i) the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board to make the particular delivery or (ii) general authorization to deliver specific amounts as provided in paragraph (b) (2) hereof. The term "other person" when used in the previous sentence, includes a branch, division or section of the same enterprise as that of the supplier unless the branch, division or section accepting delivery accepts it for the purpose of producing phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, or unless the branch, division or section accepting delivery normally keeps the same inventory as the branch, division, or section making the delivery. Application by a supplier for authorizations to deliver shall be made pursuant to Appendix A.

(2) Each supplier shall be entitled to deliver against general authorizations amounts of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound not exceeding in the aggregate the amount authorized for such purposes in writing by the War Production Board, as follows:

(i) Against purchase orders marked "Small Order", deliveries aggregating not more than five pounds of resin containing any para phenyl phenol or resin in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant in any one calendar month to any one customer; [1] and against purchase orders marked "Small Order", deliveries aggregating not more than 50 pounds in the case of all other phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds to any one customer [1] in any one calendar month.

(ii) Against orders marked "Previously Authorized" an amount not exceeding 2,000 pounds in any one month to any one customer.[1] This provision shall, however, not be applicable to cast phenolic resins or to phenolic resins containing tung oil or para phenyl phenol, or to resins in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant.

(iii) Against orders marked "For experimental purposes only", and as free samples for experimental purposes, deliveries aggregating not more than ten pounds in any one calendar month to any one customer of resins containing any para phenyl phenol or resins in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant, and deliveries aggregating not more than 110 gallons in any one calendar month to any one customer in the case of all other phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds.

(3) Each supplier shall comply with such directions as may be given from time to time by the War Production Board with respect to the production, use, or delivery of any phenolic resin or any phenolic resin molding compound. If the War Production Board stamps or writes the word "Defer" in Column 7 of a supplier's Form WPB-2946 (formerly Form PD-601), the supplier shall not produce, use, or deliver any phenolic resin or any phenolic resin molding compound to fill the orders described on the lines so marked if its production, use, or delivery interferes in any way with the production, use or deliveries necessary to fill on time all other orders which the supplier is entitled to fill.

(c) Restrictions on accepting deliveries from suppliers and restrictions on use. (1) (i) No person (except a person acting pursuant to a toll agreement) shall accept delivery of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound from a supplier without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, or except as provided in paragraph (c) (2) below. The term "no person" when used in the previous sentence, includes a branch, division, or section of the same enterprise as that of the supplier, unless the branch, division, or section accepting delivery accepts it for the purpose of producing phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, or unless the branch, division or section accepting delivery normally keeps the same inventory as the branch, division, or section making the delivery.

(ii) No person shall use phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound to manufacture products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound (except pursuant to a toll agreement), without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board or except as provided in paragraph (c) (2) below.

(iii) No person shall cause another person to use phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound pursuant to a toll agreement to manufacture products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, unless he has himself been specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board to make the particular product or except as provided in paragraph (c) (2) below.

(iv) Applications for specific authorization to accept delivery of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound from a supplier should be made pursuant to Appendix B, as should all applications for specific authorization to use phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound to manufacture products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound.

(2) In addition to being able to accept delivery from a supplier and use phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound pursuant to the specific authorization of the War Production Board,

(i) During any calendar month, a product manufacturer [1] may accept from all suppliers deliveries aggregating not more than 2,000 pounds of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound for use in previously authorized end uses, and a product manufacturer may use in any calendar month, and cause others to use pursuant to a toll agreement, not in excess of 2,000 pounds of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound for previously authorized end uses. A product manufacturer placing a purchase order under the provisions of the last sentence should mark his order "Previously Authorized." A "previously authorized use" of a particular manufacturer is an end use described by him on his Form PD-600 or Form WPB-2945 filed under Order M-246 for phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, which end use has been approved in writing by the War Production Board for the particular manufacturer at any time after September 30, 1943. This 2,000 pound provision does not apply to cast phenolic resins or phenolic resins containing tung oil or para phenyl, phenol, or to resins in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant.

(ii) During any calendar month, a product manufacturer [1] may accept from all suppliers, deliveries aggregating not more than 5 pounds of resin containing any para phenyl phenol or resin in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant, and a product manufacturer may use in any calendar month, and cause others to use pursuant to a toll agreement, not in excess of 5 pounds of such resin. In addition, during any calendar month, a product manufacturer [1] may accept deliveries aggregating not more than 50 pounds in the case of all other phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds, and may use in any calendar month, and cause others to use pursuant to a toll agreement, not in excess of 50 pounds of each other material. A product manufacturer placing a purchase order under the provisions of either of the last two sentences should mark his order "Small Order".

(iii) A product manufacturer may accept, as free samples and as deliveries against orders, phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds, solely for use for experimental purposes and subject to the other conditions stated in this subparagraph. Any phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds so accepted may be used at any time for experimental purposes only. In the case of resins containing any para phenyl phenol or resins in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant, not more than ten pounds may be accepted from any one supplier in any one calendar month. In the case of all other phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compounds not more than 110 gallons may be accepted from all suppliers in any one calendar month. A product manufacturer placing a purchase order under the provisions of this subparagraph (iii) should mark his order "For Experimental Purposes Only".

(3) No product manufacturer who has received a specific authorization from the War Production Board covering a quarterly period which authorization permits him to acquire during any one calendar quarter 20,000 pounds or more in the aggregate of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, shall place orders specifying the delivery of more than 40% of the total amount authorized by that authorization in any one month.

(4) If the War Production Board stamps or writes the word "Defer" in Column 10 of a product manufacturer's Form WPB-2945 (formerly Form PD-600), the product manufacturer shall not produce or deliver to his customer the products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound described on the lines so marked, if their production or delivery interferes in any way with the production or delivery on time of other products which the product manufacturer is entitled to make.

(5) Each product manufacturer receiving phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound pursuant to an authorization of the War Production Board, must use it solely for the purposes specified in writing in the authorization. However, despite the provisions of Form WPB-2945 and Form PD-600, a product manufacturer may include in the 2000 pounds of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound which he may use in any calendar month for previously authorized end uses (as that term is defined in paragraph (c) (2) (i), material which he was specifically authorized by the War Production Board to accept for a different purpose.

(d) Sales by a product manufacturer of frozen or excessive inventories. No product manufacturer shall sell any frozen or excessive stocks of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound except in compliance with Priorities Regulation No. 13. In general that regulation prohibits him from selling, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, to any person other than a supplier.

[1] In accordance with Interpretation 8 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) (i), (b) (2) (ii), (c) (2) (i), and (c) (2) (ii), shall be available to each operating unit of the same company which does its own buying of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound.

(e) Disposition by product manufacturers of primary products which may not be delivered or used for allocated end uses. If a product manufacturer has on hand any product made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound which he cannot dispose of for the specific end use for which the phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound was allocated, he shall not deliver or use the product without first receiving the specific written authorization of the War Production Board to do so. This paragraph (e) applies to, but is not limited to, products which do not meet specifications, or products for which military contracts have been cancelled.

Application for specific authorization to dispose of the products should be made by letter in triplicate directed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-246, setting forth the material facts.

(f) Restrictions on persons acquiring products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound. (1) Each person placing or seeking to place a purchase order with a product manufacturer for products made from or treated with phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound shall furnish with his order a certificate specifying the end use of the product ordered. Such certificate may be placed on or attached to the purchase order and shall be in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

DESCRIPTION OF END USE

Pursuant to Allocation Order M-246, the undersigned hereby certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the product covered by the accompanying purchase order will be used solely for the purposes listed above.

(Purchaser)	(Address)
By
(Signature and title of duly authorized officer)	(Date)

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f) (1) above, no purchaser of such products shall be required to file a certified description of end use for the purpose of this order, if the end use is apparent to the product manufacturer from his own observation and experience (for example, in the case of the sale of a molded distributor head). However, where the purchase is by or for the account of one of the Armed Services, the product manufacturer must receive and retain in his files written evidence of that fact even if the end use is apparent.

(3) In the event that two or more end uses are involved in a single purchase order for products, the amount of the product required for each different use shall be listed as a separate item in the certificate. Each item shall bear an identifying number so that it will be possible for the product manufacturer to advise his customers, by purchase order number and item number, as to the action taken by the War Production Board on his application for the phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound needed to make the product ordered by the customer.

(4) Each product manufacturer is requested to notify each customer as soon as possible of a denial, in whole or in part, by the War Production Board of any item or items for which application has been made by such customer.

(5) Any product manufacturer may accept and rely upon any certified description of end use furnished pursuant to this paragraph (f) unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(6) Each person furnishing a certified description of end use with a purchase order pursuant to paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (3), shall use the products delivered on such purchase order only for the purpose specified in such certificate, except as otherwise specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. Application for such authorization may be made by letter in triplicate directed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-246, setting forth the material facts.

(f) Reports. The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Each supplier and each product manufacturer shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-246.

Issued this 9th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUPPLIERS' APPLICATIONS FOR AUTHORIZATION TO DELIVER

Each supplier seeking authorization to deliver phenolic resins or phenolic resin molding compound shall file application on FORM WPB-2496 (formerly Form PD-601) in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions:

Form WPB-2946 (formerly Form PD-601). Copies may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time of filing. Applications shall be filed in time to ensure that copies will have reached the War Production Board on or before the 23d day of the month preceding the month for which allocation is required.

Number of copies. The signed original application and one copy shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-246.

Number of sets. A separate set of forms shall be submitted for each of the six classes of products described in Appendix B, under the heading "Number of Sets"—namely, molded products, protective coatings A, protective coatings B, plywood, laminates, and specialties. In case of doubt as to how to classify a particular end use, be guided by the Forms PD-601 and WPB-2946 previously returned to you by the War Production Board. Even where deliveries are to be made from more than one producing plant, only one set of forms shall be submitted for each class of use.

Monthly or quarterly forms. A supplier shall always file monthly on Form WPB-2946.

Heading. Under "Name of Chemical" specify "Phenolic resin" or "Phenolic resin molding compound"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-246"; under "This schedule is for deliveries to be made during the month of", specify "Delivery month"; under "Unit of measure", specify "Pounds (net)"; and otherwise fill in as indicated.

Table I. The application need only cover the request for a general authorization to make deliveries in any one of the following categories: (1) "Small orders"; (2) "Previously authorized"; (3) "Experimental purposes—orders and samples". The supplier will list in Column 1 any one or more of the foregoing categories against which he desires to make deliveries, and in each case will enter in Column 4, as one lump sum, the total quantity proposed to be delivered during the month covered by the application. All orders not included in one of the foregoing categories should be individually listed. The War Production Board will issue to suppliers specific authorization to make deliveries against individually listed orders on the basis of information furnished by the customers of the suppliers to the War Production Board.

Rolling stock. Leave blank columns at end of Table I relating to rolling stock requirements.

Table II. Fill out Table II on each set of Form WPB-2946 filed by you. The instructions as to filling out this table contained in the letter of the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board dated November 10, 1942, are hereby revoked.

In lieu of a listing of each separate grade in Column 8, one listing should ordinarily be made to cover all grades. There are two exceptions to this. List separately any grade or sub-class where manufacturing capacity or some other specific limitation exists which prevents the supplier from fulfilling all demands placed upon him. Also list separately by grade number each grade of protective coating resin containing any para phenyl phenol and of any other protective coating resin in which para tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant. Fill out all columns.

On the last two lines of Table II, write in the following captions: "Total small orders delivered last month"; "Total previously authorized orders delivered last month"; and "Total deliveries for experimental purposes last month"; and fill in the respective figures.

APPENDIX B—INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLICATIONS FOR AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT DELIVERY AND APPLICATIONS FOR AUTHORIZATION TO USE

General. Each person seeking specific authorization to use or accept delivery of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound shall file application on Form WPB-2945 (formerly Form PD-600) in the manner described therein, subject to the following instructions:

Form WPB-2945 (formerly PD-600). Copies may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time of filing. Applications shall be made in time to ensure that copies will have reached the supplier and the War Production Board on or before the 18th day of the month preceding the period for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is sought.

Number of copies. One copy of Form WPB-2945 shall be sent to the supplier and on this copy, Tables II, III and IV may be left blank. The original and three copies shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-246. The original shall be completely filled out, but on the copies, Tables II, III, and IV may be left blank. Attention of applicants is called to the fact that a copy of each application may be sent to the supplier named on it. The original must be signed.

Number of sets. If the applicant has more than one operating unit which does its own buying of phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound, each such unit shall be treated as a separate company for the purposes of determining how many sets of Form WPB-2945 shall be filed. An applicant who wishes phenolic resin or phenolic resin molding compound for the manufacture of two or more of the six classes of products specified below shall file a separate set of WPB-2945 forms for each. A separate set of Forms WPB-2945 shall also be filed if the applicant is seeking permission to use material for an end use other than that for which it was originally acquired or for permission to use material obtained for inventory subject to further authorization. All applicants, whether or not manufacturing more than one class of product, shall indicate the product covered by the application on the right side of the upper margin (using only the appropriate italicized word or words):

Molded Products

Protective coatings A (coatings to contain any resin made with any para-phenyl phenol or to contain any other resin in which para-tertiary butyl phenol is the sole phenolic reactant).

Protective coatings B (coatings other than the above).

Plywood—Laminates

Specialties (which include all other products).

Monthly or quarterly forms. Applications shall be monthly or quarterly as follows, unless the product manufacturer has been authorized by the War Production Board to do otherwise:

Monthly

Manufacturers of molded products.

Manufacturers of protective coatings A and B.

Quarterly

Manufacturers of plywood (including shaped plywood and shaped impregnated wood).

Manufacturers of laminates.

Manufacturers of all other products (specialties).

Heading. Under "Name of chemical" specify "Phenolic resin" and/or "Phenolic resin molding compound"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-246"; under "Unit of measure", specify "Pounds, net"; and otherwise fill in as indicated. If the application is for permission to use material for an end use other than the one for which it was obtained, or for permission to use material obtained for inventory subject to further authorization, insert the words "From inventory" under the heading "Your supplier's name".

Table I. Specify in the heading the calendar month or quarter for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is sought.

Column 1. Specify supplier's grade number or other identifying symbol or words.

Column 2. Specify separately the quantities (in pounds, net) required for each primary product and each end use specified in Columns 3 and 4.

Column 3. In the case of a manufacturer of molded products, describe the product to be produced and identify by giving its function. For example, specify "aircraft radio condenser" not merely "aircraft", "radio" or "condenser".

In the case of a manufacturer of protective coatings, indicate the primary product by its code number used in WPB-I-217 (primary Products and End Use List) prepared by the Protective Coating Section, Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board.

In the case of a manufacturer of plywood (including shaped plywood and shaped impregnated wood) specify "Plywood".

In the case of a manufacturer of laminates, specify "sheets, rods, tubes, and molded shapes".

In the case of a specialty manufacturer, describe the product to be produced and identify by giving its function. For example, specify "brake-lining" not "friction material".

All manufacturers may insert the word "inventory" when they wish to acquire material to be kept in inventory in the original form. Distributors should insert the word "resale".

Column 4. Opposite each primary product listed in Column 3, specify in Column 4, end use as stated in certified description of use, or, in the absence of such certificates, on the basis of the applicant's own observation and experience. Indicate that governing contract is by or for the account of the Armed Services if you have written evidence of that being the case.

Manufacturers of protective coatings shall use the End Use List (WPB-I-217) to give information as to the specific end use to which the coating is to be put by the ultimate user.

Columns 9 and 10. Leave blank.

Table II. Make one listing in Column 11 covering the total of material acquired from all suppliers of "All grades" subject to this order which fall into this particular broad class (molding, specialty, etc.) under which application is being made. Then specify separately in Column 17, each grade listed in Column 1 of the application. In all cases, leave Columns (15a), (15b), and (15c) blank.

Where applications are being made on a quarterly basis, list figures for the quarters indicated below. In Columns 13, 14, and 15, strike out the words "Last month" and indicate the quarters (which are not calendar quarters) in these columns as follows:

Quarter Number:	Period covered
DJF	Dec. 1 to Feb. 28, inclusive.
MAM	Mar. 1 to May 31 inclusive.
JJA	June 1 to Aug. 31, inclusive.
SON	Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, inclusive.

Even when application is on a quarterly basis, fill in Column 16 as indicated on the form.

Table III. Fill in Column 17 and 18 as indicated, and leave Column 19 blank.

Table IV. Leave blank.

II. Special instructions for laminators. Laminators may use this variation of the General procedure given above as desired. When it is not practicable for a laminator to give product end use in Column 4 of his Form WPB-2945, he should write "subject to further authorization" in this column.

The laminator shall then apply on a Form WPB-2947 (formerly Form PD-602) for authorization to deliver the sheets, rods, tubes, and molded shapes for specific end uses, and may not make delivery unless authorized in writing to do so by the War Production Board.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

[MPR 532]

MARYLAND TOBACCO

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for Maryland tobacco by a maximum price regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of, and comply with, the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with the members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another government agency.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

AUTHORITY: § 1358.258 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION No. 532—MARYLAND TOBACCO

CONTENTS

Sec.
1. Explanation of this regulation.
2. Compliance with this regulation.
3. General pricing provision.
4. Records and reports.
5. Export sales.
6. Petitions for amendment.
7. Geographical applicability.
8. Meaning of certain terms.

SECTION 1. Explanation of this regulation. This regulation establishes maximum prices that may be paid by a dealer, manufacturer or other purchaser for Maryland tobacco. It also establishes maximum prices that may be charged for certain resales of that tobacco.

"Maryland tobacco" means United States Type No. 32 tobacco (as specified in Regulatory Announcement No. 118 of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture) of the 1943 crop, and of previous crops, purchased or delivered after May 7, 1944.

SEC. 2. Compliance with this regulation—(a) No buying or selling above maximum prices. On and after May 8, 1944, regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation, no dealer or other purchaser shall buy or receive, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to buy or receive, and no person, maximum prices for whose sales of Maryland tobacco are established by this regulation, shall sell or deliver, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to sell or deliver any Maryland tobacco at prices higher than the appropriate maximum price established by this regulation. However, lower prices may be charged, paid, offered and received.

(b) Evasion—(1) In general. The price limitations in this regulation shall not be evaded, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; or by tying agreement, by any change in manner of packing, or any business practice or trade understanding or in any other way.

(2) Specific practices which are evasions. Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are evasions:

(i) In the case of a dealer, making a separate charge for warehousing or for services in the purchase of Maryland tobacco on direct order or otherwise where no practice of separate charge has previously existed.

(ii) In the case of a dealer, reduction or elimination by the dealer of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sale of the 1941 crop to the same purchaser, or if he made no sales of the 1941 crop to the purchaser, reduction or elimination of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class, except where accompanied by a compensating reduction in his maximum price.

"Intial credit terms" means terms fixing the time for payment of the purchase price agreed to by the dealer and buyer at or prior to delivery of the tobacco.

(c) Penalties for violations. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing al persons who make sales under price control, apply to dealers buying and selling Maryland tobacco. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 3. General pricing provisions—(a) Maximum prices for dealer's sales of Maryland tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets—(1) Tobacco purchased on direct order. For Maryland tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets on direct order by dealers, the dealer's maximum price shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) Divide his highest selling price per pound in his similar sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class by his purchase price per pound of the tobacco thus sold.

NOTE: Definitions of "selling price" and "purchase price" follow subparagraph (2) below.

(2) Tobacco purchased other than on direct order. For a dealer's sales of Maryland Tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets (other than on direct order) the dealer's maximum price shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) The dealer shall ascertain his average purchase price per pound for his purchases of the 1941 crop by dividing the number of pounds he purchased of that crop by the purchase price he paid therefor.

(ii) The dealer shall ascertain his average selling price per pound for his sales of stemmed tobacco of the 1941 crop by dividing the number of pounds of stemmed tobacco of that crop he sold by his total selling price therefor.

(iii) The dealer shall ascertain his average selling price per pound for his sales of unstemmed tobacco of the 1941 crop by dividing the number of pounds of the unstemmed tobacco of that crop he sold by his total selling price therefor.

(v) The dealer shall then multiply .52 cents per pound farm weight of the Maryland tobacco being priced or his purchase price therefor per pound farm weight (whichever price is the lower) by the appropriate markup factor obtained at (iv) according to whether the tobacco being priced is to be sold as stemmed or unstemmed tobacco. The resulting figure is the dealer's maximum price.

"Selling price" means the net amount paid the dealer for the tobacco plus any discount allowed to the purchaser for prompt payment but exclusive of any transportation expense paid by the dealer for the account of the purchaser. Amounts received for tobacco purchased by the dealer on direct order shall not be included.

"Purchase price" means the price actually paid by the dealer in his purchase in the loose leaf or hogshead markets plus any discounts allowed to him for prompt payment but exclusive of any transportation expenses paid by him. Amounts paid by the dealer for tobacco purchased on direct order shall not be included.

(b) Maximum prices that may be paid for Maryland tobacco. The weighted average purchase price paid by any purchaser for Maryland tobacco purchased on and after May 8, 1944, on the loose leaf or hogshead markets or otherwise (except tobacco purchased from dealers in sales for which maximum prices are established under paragraph (a) (2) above) shall not exceed $52.00 per hundred-weight.

NOTE 1: All buyers are cautioned that in paying more than $52.00 per hundred-weight for Maryland tobacco they do so at their peril, and inability to make subsequent purchases of Maryland tobacco at prices which will reduce their own weighted average purchase price to the maximum weighted average purchase price fixed by this regulation will not constitute a defense to a charge of having violated this regulation.

NOTE 2: A purchase price paid by a dealer buying on direct order is to be included in figuring the weighted average purchase price paid by the buyer for whose account the dealer purchases, but is not to be included in figuring the dealer's own weighted average purchase price. A purchase price paid to a dealer in sales for which maximum prices are established by paragraph (a) (2) is not to be included in figuring the purchaser's weighted average purchase price, but the purchase price paid for such tobacco by the dealer is to be included in figuring the dealer's weighted average purchase price.

(c) Dealers unable to determine maximum prices under paragraph (a). If a dealer is unable to determine a maximum price under paragraph (a) above for a particular sale of Maryland tobacco purchased by him on the loose leaf or hogshead markets, he shall apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., requesting that a maximum price, or a method for determining a maximum price for that sale be established. The letter shall set forth:

(4) Any other pertinent information which the dealer desires to submit.

After receipt of the letter, the Office of Price Administration will by order establish a maximum price for such sale found to be in line with maximum prices established under paragraph (a) for similar sales of other dealers, or prescribe a method for determining such maximum price. Until a maximum price, or a method of determining a maximum price, is thus established, the dealer may deliver the tobacco but may not receive payment for it.

SEC. 4. Records and reports. (a) Every purchaser of Maryland tobacco shall make and preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration for as long as the Emergency, Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records setting forth with respect to each purchase of such tobacco (1) the name of the seller and the date of purchase, (2) the total number of pounds purchased, (3) the purchase price paid, and (4) any other records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices he pays for Maryland tobacco after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) Every dealer for whose sales of Maryland tobacco maximum prices, or a method determining maximum prices, are prescribed by this regulation, must make and keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices he charges for and the persons to whom he sells that tobacco.

(c) Within 20 days after the close of the 1944 marketing season for Maryland tobacco, but in no event later than October 15, 1944, every purchaser of Maryland tobacco shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Tobacco Section, Washington, D. C., a statement showing the total number of pounds of that tobacco purchased by him between May 8, 1944, and the date on which the statement is filed, the portion thereof purchased at maximum prices determined under sections 3 (a) and 3 (c), and the amount paid for that portion of his purchases, and the total amount paid for all his purchases of that tobacco.

(d) Every dealer or purchaser of Maryland tobacco must submit to the Office of Price Administration any reports based on the records required to be kept by this section as may later be required, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 49,[1] Amdt. 23]

RESALE OF IRON OR STEEL PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Price Schedule No. 49 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1306.156 (c) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) That circumstances such as the withdrawal of special competitive prices by the mill, the granting of amendment or exception under Revised Price Schedule No. 6 by the Office of Price Administration to the supplying mill, the use of the emergency basing point by the mill etc., have led to the inadequacy of a gross spread (except that inadequacy of gross spread resulting from the purchase of excess stock in transactions where no maximum price is applicable shall not be considered as grounds for relief under this paragraph); and

2. Section 1306.159 (k) (7) is revoked.

3. Section 1306.166 is added to read as follows:

§ 1306.166 Appendix H: Maximum prices for sales of excess stock of iron or steel products. The maximum prices for domestic sales of excess stock of iron or steel products by any person shall be those set forth in this Appendix H. The maximum prices for export sales of excess stock of iron or steel products shall be determined by the Second Revised Maximum Export Regulation.

(a) Relationship to other regulations. This Appendix H supersedes Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 204 (Special Sales of Industrial Materials) and all other maximum price regulations and price schedules issued by the Office of Price Administration establishing maximum prices for domestic sales of excess stock of iron or steel products. It also supersedes Supplementary Order No. 87 (Sales of Surplus Commodities by the United States Government or Its Agencies) but does not supersede any other Supplementary Order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Definitions. When used in this Appendix H, the term:

(1) "Excess stock" means any iron or steel product purchased for any purpose other than resale in substantially the same form as received and which is resold by the holder in such form. It also includes any iron or steel product which was purchased for export but which is sold for delivery within the continental limits of the United States. Once material has been resold by the holder, it shall be considered excess stock through all subsequent sales: Provided, That in the case of a holder who is both a fabricator (or manufacturer) and distributor of iron or steel products, material of the same product group and type which the holder is permitted to purchase from a producer or other distributors for resale under the provisions of War Production Board orders M-21-b-1, in effect on August 16, 1943, and M-21-b-2, in effect on November 4, 1943, shall not be considered excess stock.

(2) "Holder" means any person who acquires iron or steel products for any purpose other than resale in substantially the same form as received, but who, nevertheless, resells such products in such form. It includes the United States or any agency thereof and any other Government or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(c) Transfers to Government upon termination of contracts. There shall be no maximum price for the sale or transfer of iron or steel products by contractors or subcontractors to the United States Government or any of its agencies in connection with the cancellation of such contracts with the United States Government or any of its agencies.

(d) Maximum price for sales by the holder. The maximum delivered price for a sale of excess stock by the holder shall be the delivered base price set forth in subparagraph (1) below, adjusted for differentials as set forth in subparagraph (2) below: Provided, That there shall be no maximum price for the sale of that portion of exeess stock by a holder to a person acquiring it for resale for which the holder has not received a firm offer to buy at the full maximum price from a person acquiring it for use.

(1) Delivered base price. The delivered base price shall be the aggregate of:

Mill base price to a consumer;

Rail rate of freight for the quantity sold, from governing basing point to holder's location of material. "Governing basing point", in this instance, means that established basing point the use of which results in the lowest delivered price at the holder's location of material; and

Actual transportation costs paid for delivery from holder's location of material to destination. "Destination" means the place at which the material is required for the buyer's operation.

(2) Differentials. Extras permitted by this paragraph may be added to and deductions provided in this paragraph shall be made from the delivered base price established in subparagraph (1) above:

(i) Quantity differentials. Quantity extras shall not exceed the mill quantity extras established by Revised Price Schedule 6. Quantity deductions shall not be less than mill quantity deductions established by Revised Price Schedule 6. Quantity differentials (extras or deductions) shall be determined by the total quantity ordered in one day from the holder by one person for shipment to one destination. Any quantity differentials paid by the holder to his source of supply at the time of purchase shall be disregarded.

(ii) Other differentials. Other extras shall not exceed the mill extras established by Revised Price Schedule 6. An extra may be added only if such extra was paid to the holder's source of supply and the holder can identify the material sold as that for which he paid the extra. Other deductions shall not be less than the mill deductions established by Revised Price Schedule 6.

(e) Maximum prices for sales by resellers.—(1) Warehoused material. The maximum delivered price for the sale of excess stock by persons other than the holder shall be the maximum delivered price established in § 1306.159 Appendix A, § 1306.164 Appendix F, or § 1306.165 Appendix G of Revised Price Schedule 49 for the material involved when all of the following requirements are met:

(i) It has been purchased for resale in substantially the same form as received and has been removed, after such purchase, from the holder's location.

(ii) It has been delivered, before receipt of any order or acceptance of any offer for the specific lot of material or any portion thereof, to premises regularly maintained and operated by an owner of this material for the assembling of iron or steel products from several sources for resale in substantially the same form as received; and

(iii) It has been put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products (as defined in § 1306.157 (s)) by a person not connected directly or indirectly, with the holder.

(2) Unwarehoused material. The maximum delivered price for all other sales of excess stock by a person other than the holder shall be the delivered base price set forth in subdivision (i) below, adjusted for differentials as set forth in subdivision (ii) below.

(i) Delivered base price. The delivered base price shall be the aggregate of:

Mill base price; and

Rail rate of freight, for the quantity, from governing basing point to destination. "Governing basing point", in this instance, means that established basing point the use of which results in the lowest delivered price at destination. "Destination" means the place at which the material is required for the buyer's operation.

(ii) Differentials. Extras permitted by this paragraph may be added to and deductions provided in this paragraph shall be made from the delivered base price established in subdivision (i) above.

(a) Quantity differentials. Quantity extras shall not exceed the mill quantity extras established by Revised Price Schedule 6. Quantity deduction shall not be less than mill quantity deductions established by Revised Price Schedule 6. Quantity differentials (extras or deductions) shall be determined by the total quantity ordered in one day by one person for shipment to one destination.

(b) Other differentials. Other extras shall not exceed the mill extras established by Revised Price Schedule 6. Other extras may be charged only if (1) the material can be identified as that upon which the producer is permitted to charge such extra, (2) the invoices issued in connection with the purchase of the material by the reseller specified the extras, and (3) the extras are specified by the buyer as a requirement of his purchase. Other deductions shall not be less than the mill deduction established by Revised Price Schedule 6.

(f) Special invoicing and record keeping requirements. (1) Every seller of excess stock, including the holder, shall mark the invoice issued in connection with the sale of such material with one of the following phrases: "Excess Stock," "Idle or Surplus Stock," or "Idle and Excess Stock."

(2) Every holder shall indicate upon his invoice "for resale" when the material is being sold for resale. It shall be the responsibility of any buyer of excess stock to indicate on his purchase bid or offer whether he intends to use or resell the material. This indication to the holder constitutes a representation to the holder and the Office of Price Administration and relieves the holder of responsibility in the determination unless he has knowledge that the representation is false.

(3) All other invoice and record keeping requirements set forth in § 1306.154 shall be observed.

This amendment shall become effective June 1, 1944.

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. The center headnote "Registration of place of business" immediately preceding § 1394.8201, and §§ 1394.8201, 1394.8202, 1394.8204, and 1394.8205 are revoked.

2. In § 1394.8207 (a) (1) the phrase "except as provided in § 1394.8209" is amended to read "except as provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph and in § 1394.8209", and the phrase "coupons which bear the notations required by paragraphs (d) and (e) of § 1394.8004, paragraph (c) of § 1394.8006" is amended to read "coupons which bear the notations required by paragraph (e) of § 1394.8004."

3. In § 1394.8207 (a) (2) the phrase "except as provided in § 1394.8209" is amended to read "except as provided in subparagraph 4 of this paragraph and in § 1394.8209."

4. Section 1394.8207 (a) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) The gasoline on hand at a place of business of a dealer or distributor at the time of a bona fide transfer of such place of business to a dealer or distributor may be transferred to and acquired by the transferee of the place of business, without an exchange of a ration check, coupons or other evidences.

5. Section 1394.8216 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Replenishment of shortages—(1) General. Dealers and intermediate distributors may apply for replenishment for losses or shortages of gasoline through evaporation, handling, accident, or other extraordinary circumstances, and for unavoidable loss or shortage of coupons or other evidences. Except for an application made on or before July 12, 1944, applications must be made within three months after the loss occurs.

(2) How application is made. Application shall be made by certification of shortage on Form OPA R–549 Revised to the Board having jurisdiction over the area where the place of business incurring the shortage or loss is located. The application shall be prepared in duplicate, or in triplicate if two copies are required by the Board, shall show the nature and quantity of the loss or shortage with a full explanation of the reasons therefor and must contain, among other things, the following information:

(i) The period covered by the certification;

(ii) The applicant's storage capacity as shown on his certificate of registration;

(iii) The gallonage value of all gasoline deposit certificates, coupons and other evidences on hand;

(iv) The quantity of ration credits on deposit in a ration bank account;

(v) The gallonage value of all evidences due from others for deliveries already made;

(vi) The gallonage value of evidences owing by the applicant to others;

(vii) The quantity of gasoline on hand at the beginning of the period covered by the certification;

(viii) The quantity of gasoline received during the period covered by the certification;

(x) The total quantity of gasoline transferred by the applicant during the period covered by the certification.

(3) Action by the Board and District Office on the application. If the Board finds that the applicant has incurred the shortages claimed, that such shortages were not incurred as a result of any acts performed in violation of this order, and that the claimed shortages or any part are reasonable, the Board shall file the certification and issue to the applicant inventory coupons (or a gasoline deposit certificate, if the applicant is an intermediate distributor), equal to the amount of the shortages allowed. This, however, is subject to the following two exceptions:

(i) A shortage attributed to a loss, theft or destruction of evidence or a theft of gasoline must not be allowed unless the application has first been approved by the District Director or a person designated by him for that purpose or unless the District Director instructs the Board that it may act without such prior approval. The shortage shall in no event be allowed if it occurred because of the applicant's failure to use reasonable care in safeguarding the gasoline or evidences.

(ii) The District Director may, in his discretion, require the Board to refer any application or applications of any type to him or to some person designated by him for that purpose. An application referred in this manner shall be considered and acted upon by the District Director or the person designated by him for that purpose in the same manner in which the Board considers and acts upon applications which are not referred in this manner.

(4) No allowance of loss or shortage made under this paragraph shall operate as a waiver of any violation of this order.

4. Section 1394.8216 (b) is amended by inserting a headnote before the text to read: "Disposal of Invalidated Coupons and Evidences."

7. In § 1394.8217 (a) subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) are amended to read as follows:

(1) Any shortage of gasoline which the dealer or distributor has incurred within the preceding three months (or for which he has applied to the Board for replenishment by July 12, 1944) for which he may be able to account by reason of evaporation, handling, contraction, accident, theft, absentee deliveries made pursuant to § 1394.8209, deliveries made under the conditions enumerated in § 1394.8153 (c) (1) (i), (ii) or (iii), or other extraordinary circumstances;

(2) Any excess of gasoline which the dealer or distributor has accumulated within the preceding three months (or which he has reported to the Board by July 12, 1944) for which he may be able to account by reason of expansion, deliveries made to him pursuant to § 1394.8209, or other extraordinary circumstances;

(3) Any shortage of ration credits, gasoline deposit certificates, coupons or other evidences which the dealer or distributor has incurred within the preceding three months (or for which he has applied to the Board for replenishment by July 12, 1944), for which he may be able to account by reason of theft or unavoidable loss, or by a surrender of coupons or a ration check or other evidences pursuant to § 1394.8209 in advance of a transfer of gasoline, or by a failure to receive inventory coupons or gasoline deposit certificates having a gallonage value equal to the number of gallons of gasoline which would be required to fill the storage capacity of such place of business at the time of registration, or other extraordinary circumstances;

(4) Any excess of ration credits, gasoline deposit certificates, coupons or other evidences which the dealer or distributor has accumulated within the preceding three months (or which he has reported to the Board by July 12, 1944) for which he may be able to account by reason of delivery to consumers of less gasoline than the unit value of a coupon, in accordance with § 1394.8153 (a), by absentee deliveries made to him, or by coupons, ration checks or other evidences surrendered to him in advance of transfers of gasoline, pursuant to § 1394.8209, or by other extraordinary circumstances.

Every dealer and intermediate distributor who acquires an excess of gasoline or evidences shall, by July 12, 1944 or within three months after getting the excess, report this fact to the Board with which his place of business is registered or to a representative of the District, Regional, or National Offices of the Office of Price Administration and surrender to the Board or representative evidences equal to the excess.

8. The center headnote immediately preceding § 1394.8220 is amended to read as follows: "New Registration, Reregistrations and Cessation of Business."

9. Sections 1394.8220, 1394.8221, 1394.8222, 1394.8223, 1394.8224, 1394.8225 and 1394.8226 are revoked.

10. New §§ 1394.8220, 1394.8221, 1394.8222, 1394.8223 and 1394.8224 are added to read as follows:

§ 1394.8220 Current registration is required. (a) No dealer or distributor shall acquire or transfer gasoline at or from any place of business unless the place of business is currently registered by him pursuant to the provisions of Ration Order 5A or 5C, with the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which it is located. (Sections 1394.8221 through 1394.8226 explain the procedure and requirements for currently registering a place of business and the circumstances under which a place of business already registered must be registered again to be considered currently registered.)

§ 1394.8221 Reregistration—(a) When a place of business must be reregistered. Application must be made to reregister a place of business already registered with a Board under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The place of business is transferred for continued operation.

(2) The registrant ceases to operate the place of business as a licensed distributor but desires to operate it as a dealer or intermediate distributor.

(3) The registrant ceases to operate the place of business as a dealer or intermediate distributor but wishes to operate it as a licensed distributor.

(4) The total gasoline storage capacity of the place of business of a dealer or intermediate distributor is altered in any manner.

If application for reregistration of a place of business is required, the place is treated as not currently registered until application is made and granted in accordance with §§ 1394.8222 and 1394.8223.

(b) When a place of business may be reregistered. A place of business registered pursuant to the provisions of Ration Order 5A or 5C may be reregistered for the purpose of correcting an error in the last previous registration.

§ 1394.8222 Application for registration—(a) General. Application for registration shall be made by filing Form OPA R–545 with the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which the place of business is located. A separate application must be submitted for each place of business and must contain the following information:

(1) The applicant's name, firm name, business address, and type of business.

(2) The total gasoline storage capacity of the place of business.

(3) The total inventory of gasoline on hand at the place of business, at the time the application is filed, as determined by a physical inventory.

(4) The unfilled storage capacity at that time.

(5) Whether the place of business was transferred to the applicant or whether a dealer or distributor establishment preceding it at the same location was closed by a person; if so, the names of the transferor and of such person.

(6) Whether the transferor or such person referred to in subparagraph (5) controls or shares in the control of the place of business.

(7) A statement describing and explaining any relationship by blood, marriage or adoption existing between the applicant and the transferor or such person referred to in subparagraph (5); whether applicant is a creditor, debtor, employer or employee of the transferor or such person; whether the transferor or such person has any financial or proprietary interest in the business; and, if the applicant is a corporation, whether the transferor or such person holds or owns any bonds or shares of stocks issued by it.

(8) A certification as to the truth of the information disclosed by the application.

A licensed distributor or consignee of a licensed distributor desiring to operate a place of business, which, under the terms of § 1394.7551 (a) (56), is deemed to be a part of the facilities of a licensed distributor, shall omit Items 2, 3 and 4 from his application and shall state instead that the place of business is operated by a licensed distributor or by such a consignee. If the applicant will operate as such a consignee, he shall also note the name of the licensed distributor.

(b) Additional requirements where the place of business has been transferred to the applicant—(1) Additional requirements for all transfers. At the time of the transfer of the place of business the applicant must obtain from the transferor and the transferor must surrender to him the certificate of registration (Part A of Form OPA R–545), if any, for the place of business. The applicant shall endorse his name upon the certificate and deliver it to the Board with his application for registration. He must also endorse his name upon the duplicate copy of the transferor's certificate of registration on file with the Board.

(2) Additional requirements where the transferor is a dealer or intermediate distributor. At the time the place of business is transferred to the applicant by a dealer or intermediate distributor the applicant must obtain from the transferor and the transferor must surrender to him all gasoline deposit certificates, coupons and other evidences on hand and ration credits on deposit for the place of business. If the transferor is an intermediate distributor, he must surrender the ration credits by delivering to the applicant a check issued to the Office of Price Administration for the net balance in the ration bank account for such place of business after deducting the gallonage value of all outstanding checks. The applicant must surrender to the Board with his application the evidences thus received. He must endorse on the copies of the transferor's certificate of registration the gallonage value of these evidences.

(c) Additional requirements upon change of status of a place of business. A person who wishes to change his place of business from a licensed distributor establishment to a dealer or intermediate distributor establishment shall treat the change as a transfer within the meaning of paragraph (b) (1). A person who wishes to change his place of business from a dealer or intermediate distributor establishment to a licensed distributor establishment shall treat the change as a transfer from a dealer or intermediate distributor within the meaning of paragraph (b) (1) and (2).

(d) Additional requirements upon change of storage capacity of a place of business of a dealer or intermediate distributor. If a dealer or intermediate distributor changes the total gasoline storage capacity of his place of business, he must, at the time of making application to the Board, surrender to it, for cancellation, the certificate of registration issued to him, and the Board shall attach to its copy of the new certificate both copies of the cancelled certificate. If the total gasoline storage capacity is decreased, the applicant shall surrender to the Board evidences equal in gallonage value to the amount of the decrease.

§ 1394.8223 Action on application—(a) Approval or disapproval of application. If the Board finds that the information submitted by the applicant is correct and that he in good faith intends to engage in business as a dealer or distributor at the place of business described in the application, the Board shall approve the application. However, if the place of business or a dealer or distributor establishment preceding it at the same location was registered in the name of a person against whom an administrative suspension order applying to that place of business or establishment is outstanding, the Board shall not act upon the application but shall transmit it to the District Director. If the District Director or any person designated by him to consider and act upon the application finds that the person against whom the administrative suspension order is outstanding controls or shares in the control of the place of business, he shall direct the Board to: (1) disapprove the application and deny registration, if the applicant is a dealer; or (2) limit approval of the application and registration to transfers to persons other than consumers, if the applicant is a distributor.

(b) Issuance of certificate of registration. If the Board approves the application for a place of business, the Board shall, by authorized signature, approve the certificates, file part B thereof, and return Part A to the applicant. The applicant shall retain it at that place of business and shall present it as an identification at the time of transacting business with any Board. If the Board gives only limited approval to the application of a distributor, the Board shall note on both copies of the certificate that the applicant is probihited from making any transfers to consumers. A distributor receiving a certificate of limited registration for a place of business shall not make any transfers of gasoline from there to consumers.

(c) Issuance of inventory coupons. The Board shall not issue inventory coupons or a gasoline deposit certificate to a registrant of a place of business of a licensed distributor or a facility of a licensed distributor. Otherwise, the Board shall, at the time it issues the certificate of registration to the applicant, also issue to him inventory coupons (or a gasoline deposit certificate, if he is an intermediate distributor) in a gallonage value equal to the number of gallons, if any, by which the total registered gasoline storage capacity for the place of business exceeds the total inventory of gasoline on hand. However, this is subject to the following three exceptions:

(1) If the applicant is a dealer and he acquired the place of business from a dealer or intermediate distributor who did not transfer to him gasoline and evidences at least equal in gallonage value to the total registered gasoline storage capacity of the place of business, the Board shall issue to the applicant evidences equal in amount to the evidences surrendered to him by the transferor of the place of business and report these facts to the District Director. The District Director shall determine whether the remaining evidences shall be issued. He may designate the Board or another person to make this determination. The remaining evidences shall not be issued if the District Director (or his designee) finds that the transferor of the place of business controls or shares in the control of the place of business.

(2) Even though the place of business was not transferred to the applicant but instead a dealer or intermediate distributor establishment immediately preceding that place of business at the same location was closed by a person and such person did not surrender to the Board evidences at least equal in gallonage value to the total registered gasoline storage capacity of the place of business or establishment, the Board shall issue to the applicant inventory coupons for the gallonage value of the evidences surrendered to the Board by such person and report these facts to the District Director. The District Director shall determine whether the remaining evidences shall be issued. He may designate the Board or another person to make this determination. The remaining evidences shall not be issued if the District Director (or his designee) finds that the operator of the predecessor establishment controls or shares in the control of the applicant.

(3) If a place of business is reregistered because of a change in its total storage capacity, the Board shall only issue to the registrant inventory coupons (or a gasoline deposit certificate, if he is an intermediate distributor) equal in gallonage value to the amount of the unfilled storage capacity which is added.

(d) If an application for registration is denied or is given only limited approval, pursuant to paragraph (a), or evidences are not issued, pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) or (2), because the transferor of the place of business or the operator of a predecessor establishment controls or shares in the control of the place of business, the application may be granted in full and the remaining evidences issued when the applicant shows to the satisfaction of the District Director or his designee that the transferor or the operator of the predecessor establishment does not, and will not, any longer control or share in the control of the place of business of the applicant.

(e) No action taken under this section shall operate as a waiver of any violation of this order.

§ 1394.8224 What constitutes gasoline on hand. (a) The registrant shall register all gasoline on hand whether in storage tanks, tank trucks, tank cars delivered to railroad sidings, drums or other containers, except gasoline in the fuel tank of a motor vehicle.

11. Section 1394.8203 is redesignated § 1394.8225.

12. A new section 1394.8226 is added to read as follows:

§ 1394.8226 Inventory in excess of storage capacity. (a) In any case in which the total inventory of gasoline on hand at the time of registration exceeds the total registered gasoline storage capacity at the registrant's place of business, the registrant must surrender to the Board at the earliest possible moment consumer coupons or other evidences for the difference.

13. Section 1394.8227 is redesignated § 1394.8235; the center headnote, "Inspections", preceding former § 1394.8227 is transferred to precede § 1394.8235; and a new section 1394.8227 is added to read as follows:

15. Section 1394.8235 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) Representatives of Boards, District, Region and National Offices of the Office of Price Administration are authorized to receive the surrender of any gasoline deposit certificates, coupons, or other evidences in the hands of any dealer or distributor in excess of those he is required to have on hand for his place of business under the provisions of §§ 1394.8217 (a) and 1394.8218 (b) relating to the accountability of dealers and distributors for such certificates, coupons and evidences, and invalid coupons in the hands of any dealer or distributor.

This amendment shall become effective May 13, 1944.

Chapter IX—War Food Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders)

PART 904—MILK IN THE GREATER BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREA

Order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, Marketing Area.

Findings. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and milk orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1–900.17; 7 F.R. 3550; 8 F.R. 2815), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order as amended regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of evidence introduced in such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk. The minimum prices specified in the said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk which is marketed within the said marketing area refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amending the aforesaid order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the aforesaid order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of the approval of the order, and who during the determined representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is, therefore, ordered that, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. Revise § 904.3 (a) (9) to read as follows:

The "delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to and including the last day of each month.

2. In § 904.6 (a) (3) revise the last clause to read as follows:

• • • and then that milk, including skim milk and buttermilk, which was shipped from the nearest plant located more than 40 miles from the State House in Boston, including milk received at such plant pursuant to § 904.8 (b).

3. In § 904.6 (b) (2) (iii) delete the words "• • • except April, May, and June," and delete § 904.6 (b) (2) (iv).

4. Add two new paragraphs to § 904.6 as follows:

(e) Butter and cheese adjustment. Until the termination of each of Food Distribution Orders numbered 8, 13, 79, and 92, including amendments thereto or other similar orders supplementing or superseding such orders, in lieu of application of § 904.6 (b) (3), in the case of butterfat made into butter, Cheddar cheese, American Cheddar cheese, Colby cheese, washed curd cheese, or part skim Cheddar cheese, during April to September, inclusive, of each year, at a plant of the first handler of such butterfat or at a plant of a second person to which such butterfat is moved, the value of milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) shall be reduced by a value computed for such delivery period as follows:

(1) From the average price for the delivery period as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or by such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this function) for 92 score butter at wholesale in the New York market, deduct 5 cents and add 20 percent;

(2) Divide the value determined pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (2) (i) or (ii), whichever applies, by 3.7, and subtract therefrom the value determined in (1) hereof; and

(3) Multiply the value determined pursuant to § 904.10 (d) by 10, and subtract therefrom the value determined in (1) hereof.

(4) Multiply the number of pounds of butterfat by the value determined in (2) hereof, except that for butter or cheese manufactured from milk of more than 3.7 percent butterfat content, the quantity of butterfat represented in the excess over 3.7 percent butterfat content of such milk, shall be multiplied by the value determined in (3) hereof.

(f) Casein differential. In the case of skim milk manufactured into casein during April, May, and June, the value of a handler's milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) shall be adjusted by a value determined by multiplying the number of hundredweight of skim milk used in the manufacture of such casein by a differential computed for each delivery period as follows:

(1) Divide the value determined pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (2) (iii) by .9075;

(2) Compute the average of all quotations (using midpoint of any range as one quotation) published during the delivery period in the Oil, Paint, and Drug Reporter, for domestic, acid-precipitated casein in bags, 100 bags or more, shipment point, subtract 6.6¢ and multiply this result by 2.42; and

(3) Subtract the value determined in (2) from the value determined in (1) hereof.

5. In § 904.6 (c) add 10 zones to the table as follows:

A	B	C
301–310	51.0	28.0
311–320	51.0	28.0
321–330	52.0	28.0
331–340	52.0	28.0
341–350	52.5	28.0
361–370	52.5	28.5
371–380	53.0	28.5
381–390	53.0	28.5
391–400	53.0	28.5

6. Revise § 904.7 (f) (3) to read as follows:

(3) Make such examination of records, operations, equipment, and facilities as the market administrator deems necessary for the purpose specified in this paragraph.

7. In § 904.9 (a) add a third paragraph as follows:

(3) Adjust the value determined in (2) hereof as provided in §§ 904.6 (e) and (f).

8. Revise § 904.10 (i) to read:

(i) Adjustment of overdue accounts. Any balance due pursuant to this section, for any delivery period since August 1, 1937, to or from the market administrator on the 10th day of any month, for which remittance has not been received in, or paid from, his office by the close of business on that day, shall be increased one-half of 1 percent, effective the 11th day of such month.

(48 Stat. 31, 670, 675; 49 Stat. 750; 50 Stat. 246; 7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 5th day of May 1944, to be effective on and after the 13th day of May 1944.

Regulations 111 amended to conform to section 125 of the Revenue Act of 1943, relating to exclusion from gross income of certain cost-of-living allowances paid to civilian officers and employees of the Government stationed outside continental United States.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (Part 29, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, Cum. Supp.) to section 125 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress), enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

Cost-of-living allowances and post allowances, excluded from gross income pursuant to the provisions of section 116 (j), shall be considered as retaining their characteristics under the subsection notwithstanding any possible combination thereof with any other allowance, such as a quarters allowance, as, for example, in a "living and quarters allowance", whether or not such other allowance is excluded from gross income.

For the purposes of section 116 (j) the term "continental United States" includes only the States of the Union and the District of Columbia.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

JOE ELLIOTT AND CLARA ELLIOTT

Joe Elliott and Clara Elliott of Stockyards Station, Adams County, Colorado, in November, 1943, began construction on Lot 43, Northwest Quarter, Section 2, Township 3, Range 68 West, Adams County, Colorado, without authorization from the War Production Board. Their purpose was to construct a celery farm comprising a farm residence, a celery-processing house, and a pipe line trench, at a cost of more than $7,000, which exceeded the limit of $1,000, permitted by Conservation Order L–41 and was in violation of that order. They applied to the War Production Board on Form PD–200–C on November 2, 1943, for authority to begin construction; this application was denied on December 2, 1943, but construction was continued until February 21, 1944. Joe Elliott and Clara Elliott were aware of War Production Board restrictions on construction, and doing this construction without authorization constituted wilful violations of Conservation Order L–41.

These violations of Conservation Order L–41 have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing; it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.546 Suspension Order No. S–546. (a) Neither Joe Elliott nor Clara Elliott, their successors or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any construction on their premises on Lot 43, Northwest Quarter, Section 2, Township 3, Range 68 West, Adams County, Colorado, including putting up or altering any structure or construction, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Joe Elliott and Clara Elliott, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 9, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

MARSAM NOVELTY CORPORATION

Marsam Novelty Corporation, 90 Grand Street, New York City, is a manufacturer of toys. During the period September 1, 1942, through September 30, 1943, the company consumed 25,000 pounds of steel in the assembly of toys. This was a violation of Limitation Order L–81, which prohibited the assembly of toys containing steel. The company was aware of the terms of Order L–81, and its violation of the order was wilful. As a result of this violation, critical material has been diverted to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and the war effort of the United States has been hampered and impeded. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.547 Suspension Order No. S–547. (a) Deliveries of material to Marsam Novelty Corporation, its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation, including allotments, shall be made to Marsam Novelty Corporation, its successors or assigns, of any material or product the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Marsam Novelty Corporation, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on May 9, 1944, and shall expire August 9, 1944.

[General Limitation Order L–61, as Amended May 10, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the national defense has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of retreading, recapping and repair equipment for the national defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1114.1 General Limitation Order L–61—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Retreading, recapping or repair equipment" means any mechanical device used in connection with applying uncured rubber (in the form of camelback, patching rubber or otherwise) to rubber casings or innertubes for the purpose of renewing or repairing a rubber casing or innertube. The term includes, but is not limited to; full circle molds, full circle matrices, holders, tables, steam chambers, kettle curing devices, curing rings, curing bands, pressure plates, spacer rings, curing rims, sectional molds, sectional matrices, tire and tube repair and spot equipment, tire spreaders, tire buffers, mechanical stitchers, mechanical rollers, regroovers. It does not include, however, small tools such as knives, hand rollers, hand stitchers, jacks, shears, and other miscellaneous shop tools and supplies.

(3) "Delivery" means any physical delivery of any item of retreading, recapping or repair equipment, or parts of such equipment to other persons.

(4) "Approved order" means an order for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment authorized on Form WPB–1319, which bears the certification in paragraph (d). It also means any order for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment which the War Production Board has authorized under Order L–61 before March 23, 1944, to be produced or delivered.

(b) Restrictions on production and delivery. (1) No person shall manufacture or deliver any item of new retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of more than $85, or curing rings, full circle and sectional matrices, regardless of retail value, except to fill approved orders.

No person shall manufacture or deliver new parts except for the maintenance and repair of existing equipment or to fill approved orders. Any order for curing rings, full circle and sectional matrices (new items only) must be an approved order even though the items are for the maintenance or repair of existing equipment.

Any person engaged in the business of retreading, recapping or repairing tires may purchase parts for the maintenance and repair of his equipment under CMP Regulation 5. That regulation assigns a rating of AA–2 for this purpose. Single items of retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of $85 or less other than curing rings, full circle and sectional matrices may also be purchased under the provisions of CMP Regulation 5. The regulation may not, however, be used for new items of equipment for which an approved order is required.

(2) Facilities which can be used in the production of items of retreading, recapping or repair equipment in more than one of the groups of the following production pattern are called interchangeable facilities in this paragraph. For the purpose of the production pattern, "molds and matrices" include curing rings, curing tables, steam chambers and kettle curing devices.

PRODUCTION PATTERN

Group	Type of Equipment
1	Airplane, full circle tire molds and matrices.
2	Tractor-implement rear wheel full circle tire molds and matrices.
3	Earth-mover and road grader full circle molds and matrices.
4	Repair parts for retreading, recapping or repair equipment produced after December 7, 1941
5	Tractor front wheel full circle tire molds and matrices.
6	Truck-bus full circle tire molds and matrices.
7	Sectional molds and matrices, all types.
8	Repair parts for retreading, recapping or repair equipment produced prior to December 7, 1941.
9	Inner tube repair equipment.
10	Buffers and tire spreaders.
11	Passenger tire full circle molds and matrices and miscellaneous equipment not specifically covered in groups 1 to 10 inclusive.
12	Any discontinued or obsolete types of retreading, recapping or repair equipment which the manufacturer is unable to produce without loss of production.

Interchangeable facilities must be used to produce orders for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment or for parts in the sequence established by the above production pattern. This means that a manufacturer must use interchangeable facilities to produce orders classified in each higher group before he may use the same facilities to fill orders in any lower group. If he is using interchangeable facilities for a lower group and is required by the production pattern to divert those facilities to unfilled orders in a higher group, he may postpone the diversion of facilities to the higher group for not more than 15 days after receipt of an order in the higher group.

Preference ratings for retreading, recapping or repair equipment or for parts of equipment shall have no effect upon the use of interchangeable facilities to fill orders in different groups. Orders classified in the same group, however, shall be produced and shipped in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(c) How approval is obtained. Any person who wishes to purchase any item of new retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of more than $85, or curing rings, full circle and sectional matrices regardless of retail value, must make his application on Form WPB–1319. The form together with instructions for its use and filing may be obtained from the nearest War Production Board Field Office.

If the application is granted by the War Production Board, the form will be returned to the applicant authorizing the production or delivery of all or part of the items requested and a preference rating or ratings may be assigned.

(d) Purchaser's certification to supplier. The person receiving authorization by the War Production Board on Form WPB–1319 may serve an approved order upon his supplier for the items of equipment authorized on the form by making certification to his supplier and to the War Production Board in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

Form WPB–1319, Serial Number ------.

(Authorized Official)

The above standard form of certification is set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The information added to this certification consists of the date and serial number of the authorization on Form WPB 1319.

(e) [Deleted Mar. 23, 1944]

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b), this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board Office of Rubber Director, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–61.

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Records. Each manufacturer or distributor of new retreading, recapping and repair equipment affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales of such equipment.

Issued this 10th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–38, as Amended May 10, 1944]

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATING AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel, copper, and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.6 Limitation Order L–38—(a) Purpose and scope. This order tells how to get new refrigerating or air conditioning "systems" and "parts". With certain exceptions, these may be delivered only for essential uses as explained in Lists B and C, and pursuant to an "approved order" rated AA–5 or higher. In some cases a purchaser is allowed to apply his MRO or other ratings without any special authorization, but in other cases he must apply to the War Production Board for approval. The order also states how much a producer may manufacture during any calendar quarter. It will be noted that certain types of equipment, such as domestic refrigerators, are not included in this order, since they are covered by other orders of the War Production Board.

Definitions

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "System" means any refrigerating or air conditioning system, consisting of an assembly or combination of machinery, equipment, or other apparatus designed primarily to lower temperature or remove water vapor, directly or indirectly, by mechanical, chemical or physical means. The term does not include a domestic mechanical refrigerator, a domestic ice refrigerator, or heat exchanger equipment, as defined, respectively, in paragraphs (b) (5), (b) (6) and (b) (9) of this order; or coils or low sides which are incorporated into "food processing machinery" (as defined in Order L–292).

(2) "Parts" includes any assemblies of parts, equipment, insulated enclosures and cold storage doors (except insulation materials used therein), accessories, implements or devices designed or intended for incorporation or use in a system or for installation therewith in causing it to perform its functions, except the following materials:

Liquid or gaseous refrigerants
Oil or other lubricants
Cleaning fluids or other solvents
Anti-freeze fluids
Drying agents
Paints, enamels, varnishes, thinners and seam fillers
Wax polishes and rust preventives
Soldering and brazing fluxes and welding rods
Non-metallic filters
Belts and belting
Gaskets
Packing
Insulation materials
Small hardware, such as nuts, bolts, washers, screws and cotter pins

(3) "Producer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the manufacture, fabrication, or assembly of new systems or parts, or industrial type extended surface heating equipment, or industrial type humidifying equipment. The term does not include any sales or distribution outlet of a producer.

(4) "Deliver" means: (i) to transfer physical possession, title, or ownership; or (ii) to install for use (but not including a temporary installation solely for the purpose of testing the system or part, or the moving of an installed system from one point on the owner's property to another); or (iii) to place in the hands of any carrier or otherwise in transit for transfer of possession to another person; (regardless of whether such transfer, installation, or shipment is for the purpose of sale, trade, loan, lease, consignment, or other type of transaction).

(5) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity of 16 cubic feet or less (National Electric Manufacturing Association rating), but does not include any low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen foods or for the quick freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(6) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box for home use.

(7) "Industrial type extended surface heating equipment" means any apparatus employing a heat transfer element and designed primarily to increase the temperature of gaseous matter, in connection with the operation of any refrigerating or air conditioning system.

(8) "Industrial type humidifying equipment" means any apparatus designed primarily to add water vapor to gaseous matter, in connection with the operation of any industrial or commercial refrigerating or air conditioning system, or for any purpose other than the health or comfort of persons.

(9) "Heat exchanger equipment" means an assembly, bundle or nest of bare or finned tubes installed in a shell or pressure vessel, and designed for the transfer or exchange of heat between two or more fluids (liquids, gases, or vapors), without the use, as a refrigerant, of (i) ammonia, carbon dioxide, methyl chloride, sulphur dioxide, or chlorinated hydro-carbon refrigerants (trichloromonofluoromethanes, dichlorodifluoromethane, dichloromonofluoromethane, trichlorotrifluoroethane, and dichlorotetrafluoroethane), or (ii) brine or water which has been cooled by the use of ice or any of such refrigerants.

(10) "For direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration" means for direct use by the regular personnel or regular employees of such an agency only (or "for military exchanges or service departments" under Priorities Regulation 17), but regardless of whether delivery is made by the producer or dealer directly to such an agency, or through or to an intermediate dealer or contractor. The term does not mean for use in any privately operated plant or shipyard financed by, or controlled by, any of such agencies, or operated on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

Deliveries: Approved Orders

(c) Restrictions on deliveries—(1) No deliveries except on approved orders. No person shall deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any new system or new parts except pursuant to an approved order, as defined in paragraph (d). Exceptions to this general rule are stated in paragraph (e). Additional restrictions on delivery are stated below in subparagraphs (c) (2), (3), (4) and (5).

(2) List B items. No person shall knowingly deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any new item on List B, (i) unless the item is for direct use by the ultimate consumer and for the specified use, if any, as shown on that list, or (ii) unless delivery is otherwise permitted pursuant to an approved order of a kind specified in subparagraphs (d) (1) or (d) (4).

(3) Items for a use permitted by List C. No person shall knowingly deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any new system or parts not shown on Lists A or B, unless the system or parts are to be used by the ultimate consumer for an essential purpose specified on List C. This subparagraph (c) (3) does not affect the delivery of parts for the maintenance or repair of any existing system.

(4) Parts for items performing List A functions. No person shall knowingly deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any new parts for assembly into any item to perform the same functions as an item on List A. For example, a new condensing unit, low-side, refrigerant connections, or valves, etc., may not be acquired (together or separately) for assembly into or with an insulated enclosure to perform the functions of a "farm freezer" or "frozen food cabinet."

(5) Heating or humidifying equipment. No person shall deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any new industrial type extended surface heating equipment or industrial type humidifying equipment, except pursuant to an approved order.

(d) Approved orders. The following types of purchase orders for delivery of any new system or parts, or industrial type extended surface heating equipment or industrial type humidifying equipment, when rated AA–5 or higher, are "approved orders":

(1) Orders for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.

(2) Orders by a person and for a direct use, if any, as shown on List B. These orders, when not otherwise rated, are hereby assigned a preference rating of AA–5 within the limited uses specified in List B. The rating may be applied and extended in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3.

(3) Orders placed in accordance with any CMP Regulation (including CMP Regulation 1), any preference rating order of the War Production Board (including P–126), or Priorities Regulation 9.

(4) Other orders specifically rated and authorized as follows by the War Production Board on application of the proposed purchaser. The appropriate application form is indicated below:

Resale: Forms WPB–541 (PD–1A) or WPB–547 (PD–1X). These forms may be used by dealers or others who are not producers and who are purchasing for inventory or resale. The correct form depends on the nature of the purchase and of the buyer's business.

Export: Form WPB–541 (PD–1A). This form may be used where the applicant desires to export or acquire for export. Delivery of items by the exporter is subject to the restrictions of List C (see paragraph (c) (3)).

Large installation by ultimate consumer: Form WPB–617. This form is to be used if installation of a system is involved and the cost of the construction (exclusive of the cost of the prime mover, compressor (condensing unit), condenser, receiver, evaporator surface (low-side), controls, indirect cooling units, and cooling tower) is more than $5,000. The applicant should apply for the whole project, including the system, on this form.

All other applications by ultimate consumer: Forms WPB–1319 or 2449. These forms are to be used in all cases other than those above specified. Form WPB–2449 is to be used when the system or parts are required for use in any cold storage warehouse, industrial or commercial ice plant, frozen food locker plant, food processing plant (except equipment having a capacity of 5 H. P. or 5 tons (A. S. R. E. specifications) or less), industrial processing of products other than food, refrigeration equipment for stratospheric chambers, refrigerated railroad car, truck or ship, or any air conditioning installation of any size except evaporative coolers ("desert" coolers) of all sizes. For all other uses, Form WPB–1319 is the correct form and is to be filed in accordance with the WPB–1319 instructions manual. (Applications on Form WPB–2448 will continue to be accepted by the War Production Board until May 25, 1944 only, although any order authorized on this form continues to be an approved order.) If authorization is granted on either of these applications, it will be accompanied by any necessary permission to "begin construction" under Conservation Order L–41, and no separate application for that purpose need be made under that order.

Frozen food locker plants. An applicant for a frozen food locker plant, or for an addition to an existing plant, should first go to his local County Agricultural Conservation (AAA) Committee for instructions as to how to meet requirements prescribed by the War Food Administration concerning the persons who will rent the lockers in the plant. He must comply with these before his application may be filed with the War Production Board. When he has satisfied the AAA Committee that such requirements have been met, it will furnish him a certificate showing that fact, and he must file this certificate with his application, which cannot be considered unless this is done. Applications will be considered in sequence in which filed, in accordance with the rules of the War Food Administration, and whose other rules will also be applied, as well as those of the War Production Board.

Where applications are to be filed. All applications on Form WPB–1319 and all applications for a frozen food locker plant or an addition to an existing locker plant, are to be filed in duplicate with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the District in which the equipment is to be installed. Applications on Form WPB–617 are to be filed in accordance with Order L–41. All other applications are to be filed in Washington.

Exemptions

(e) Exemptions—(1) List A items. An approved order under paragraph (c) (1) is not necessary for the delivery of any complete item on List A which is fabricated and in stock, or which may be produced in accordance with paragraph (g).

(2) Loans not exceeding thirty days. An approved order is not necessary for the lease or loan of a new system or parts for a period not to exceed thirty days pending the performance of maintenance and repair service to a used system or parts, nor for the redelivery of the leased or loaned system to the lessor.

(3) Bankruptcy, etc. An approved order is not necessary for the transfer (to a trustee or receiver for the benefit of creditors) of title to, and/or delivery of, any new system or parts, through voluntary act or by operation of law in bankruptcy, receivership or assignment.

(4) "Upstream" deliveries. An approved order is not necessary for the return of unused systems or parts to the person from whom they were purchased.

Utilization of Replaced Parts

(f) Required utilization of replaced parts. (1) When any part is delivered for maintenance or repair to any person acquiring the same for use, he must dispose of the replaced used part, if it is made of metal, through regular scrap channels, within thirty (30) days after installation of the new part, unless he returns the same to his supplier (for such reconditioning or disposition as the latter may make). All replaced parts thus obtained by a dealer or producer during any calendar quarter must be either repaired and placed in his inventory, or returned to his supplier of new parts, or disposed of through regular scrap channels, during or within thirty (30) days after the end of that quarter. No block tin pipe shall be replaced unless an equal quantity thereof is returned to the supplier.

(2) The provisions of the preceding subparagraph (f) (1) shall not apply:

(i) Where parts are delivered for installation in any system located outside of the continental United States at the time of such delivery; or

(ii) Where the system requiring repair is being used directly by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration; or

(iii) Where the system requiring repair is owned by any Federal, State, or local governmental agency, bureau, department, or political subdivision which is prohibited by law from disposing of such replaced parts in the manner explained in the preceding subparagraph (f) (1).

Restrictions on Production

(g) List A items. No producer shall manufacture or assemble any item on List A, unless (1) 75% (by weight) of the total material to be incorporated in the item was fabricated and in the producer's inventory prior to April 6, 1943, and (2) the material cannot be used in the assembly of any system or parts not shown on List A. The manufacture and assembly of these List A items is subject also to all applicable provisions of Order L–126 and all other applicable orders of the War Production Board.

(h) Other items. During the calendar quarter starting January 1, 1944, and during each later calendar quarter, no producer shall manufacture or assemble more of any "class" of new systems and parts (other than parts for maintenance and repair) as shown on List D, than his quota for that class. This quota for any class is in terms of aggregate dollar volume (producer's sales price at the factory, exclusive of installation charges), and is the greater of the following two quantities:

(1) His dollar volume of all unfilled orders on hand rated AA–5 or higher for that class of new systems and parts, or

(2) One-sixteenth of the aggregate dollar volume of that class of new systems and parts (other than items on List A) manufactured by him during the calendar year 1940, in addition to his current production required to fill all orders for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

Producers may manufacture and assemble parts for maintenance and repair without reference to these restrictions, and should not include them in the above quotas.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, unless this order states otherwise.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order (or of Conservation Orders M–9–c or M–126 applicable to any systems, parts, or other equipment subject to the terms of this order) shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. This letter must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(4) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order (except appeals), unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–38.

Issued this 10th day of May 1944.

If the extent of the damage or injury is not sufficient to entitle the Owner to collect for an actual or constructive total loss under the provisions of any insurance on the Vessel in the absence of a declaration by the Charterer, then in addition to reimbursement of expenses as aforesaid, the Owner shall be entitled: (a) to charter hire at the rate of 3½ percent per annum on the then current valuation of the Vessel under valuation Option II, commencing with the date when charter hire would otherwise terminate and ending four months thereafter or on the date of such declaration, whichever date is earlier; and (b), if the Vessel is declared a constructive total loss more than four months after the date charter hire would otherwise terminate, then to charter hire in an amount equal to the use rate payable under Part I from the end of such four months until the date of such declaration.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

COMMONWEALTH UTILITIES CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 8th day of May 1944.

In the matters of Commonwealth Utilities Corporation, the Arizona Power Corporation, File No. 70–888; James C. Tucker, File No. 70–889. Notice of filing and notice of and order for hearing and order of consolidation.

Notice is hereby given that Commonwealth Utilities Corporation (C. U. C.), a subsidiary of The United Gas Improvement Company (U. G. I.), both registered holding companies, The Arizona Power Corporation (Arizona), a subsidiary of C. U. C., and James C. Tucker (Tucker), an affiliate of Arizona Electric Power Corporation, have filed with this Commission applications and declarations pursuant to sections 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12 of the Act and Rules U-44, U-50, and U-62 and any other applicable sections of the Act or rules thereunder with respect to various proposed transactions, all as more particularly hereinafter described.

All interested persons are referred to said documents, which are on file in the offices of this Commission, for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Pursuant to an agreement dated November 24, 1943, C. U. C. proposes to sell and Tucker proposes to buy all of C. U. C.'s holdings of stock of Arizona consisting of 14,920.15 shares of common stock without par value and 200 shares of preferred stock without par value for the sums of $999,650.05 for the common stock and $15,400.00 for the preferred stock. In addition, Tucker is obligated to purchase for $67 per share any additional shares of the common stock of Arizona which C. U. C. or other persons may deliver to Tucker simultaneously with the 14,920.15 shares of common stock now owned by C. U. C. Tucker proposes to consolidate Arizona with Arizona Electric Power Corporation (Electric) and The Arizona Power Company (the latter company owning no utility assets, but having been recently organized for the purpose of continuing as the consolidated company). Under the proposed agreement of consolidation, the outstanding funded debt of Arizona and of Electric is to be called for redemption. Holders of the preferred and common stocks of Arizona and of Electric are to exchange such stock for 4% mortgage bonds, 5½% cumulative preferred stock and common stock of the consolidated company as follows:

For each share held	Securities of consolidated company to be received
Arizona preferred	1 share preferred stock.
Arizona common	.968 bonds; .56 shs. common stock.
Electric preferred (all held by Tucker)	.882 bonds; .4274875 shs. common stock.
Electric common (all held by Tucker)	$15.1067 bonds; .188 shs. common stock.

Arizona proposes to solicit proxies from its preferred and common stockholders for the adoption or rejection of the agreement of consolidation. The obligation of Tucker to purchase is conditioned upon the delivery, simultaneously with the common shares, of proxies and consents of holders of not less than 70% of Arizona's outstanding preferred stock to vote in favor of the adoption of the consolidation agreement.

The preferred and common stockholders of Arizona dissenting from the proposed consolidation will be entitled to receive cash as provided by Arizona law. The application states that arrangements have been made, subject to certain conditions and limitations, for the sale by the consolidated company of securities not delivered to stockholders, and that the consolidated company is to receive for such undelivered common and preferred stock the par value thereof.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters, and that said declarations shall not become effective nor said applications be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission; and

It further appearing to the Commission that the issues presented by the declarations and applications of C. U. C. and Arizona (File No. 70-868) and by Tucker (File No. 70-869) involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated and heard together:

It is ordered, That the proceedings in both matters be, and they hereby are, consolidated and that a consolidated hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and rules of the Commission promulgated thereunder be held on May 23, 1944, at 10 a. m., e. w. t., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as the hearing room clerk in room 318 will at that time advise. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceeding shall file with the Commission on or before May 18, 1944, a written request relative thereto, as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission; and

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under the Commission's rules of practice; and

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said declarations and applications otherwise to be considered in this proceedings, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the considerations to be received, including all fees, commissions, and other remuneration to whomsoever paid in connection with the proposed transactions, are fair and reasonable;

2. Whether the acquisitions involved comply with the requirements of the applicable provisions of section 10 of the Act and particularly section 10 (c) (2) thereof;

3. Whether the proposed sale of the securities of Arizona is subject to the provisions of Rule U-30 with regard to competitive bidding, and if so, whether an exemption should be granted;

4. Whether the proposed solicitation of proxies by Arizona complies with the standards of section 12 (e) of the Act and Rule U-62 promulgated thereunder;

5. Whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose terms and conditions in respect of the proposed transactions, and if so, what the terms and conditions should be;

6. Generally, whether the proposed transactions are detrimental to the public interest and to the interests of investors or consumers or will tend to circumvent any provisions of the Act or the rules, regulations or orders promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That notice of the hearing aforesaid be given to the declarants and applicants and to all other persons; said notice to be given to the declarants and applicants and to the Arizona Corporation Commission by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the act, and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and is hereby reserved to separate, whether for hearing in whole or in part, or for disposition in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in this proceeding, or to consolidate with this proceeding other filings or matters pertaining to the subject matter of this proceeding and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an ordinary, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

By the Commission.

ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

AMERICAN FURNITURE COMPANY

CONSENT ORDER

Arthur Sauerbrunn, Phillip Beis and Sidney Kriger, operating a partnership under the name of American Furniture Company, 725 Florida Street, Memphis, Tennessee, are engaged in the business of manufacturing furniture. Said partnership is charged by the War Production Board with having consumed during the year 1943 essential metal parts in excess of its quota established under the provisions of General Limitation Order L-260. Said partnership admits the violation as charged, and agrees that because of the violation it used more lumber in the manufacture of furniture in the year 1943, than it would have used had the violation not occurred. The partners have consented to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Arthur Sauerbrunn, Phillip Beis and Sidney Kriger, doing business as American Furniture Company, the Regional Compliance Manager and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) During the year 1944, Arthur Sauerbrunn, Phillip Beis, and Sidney Kriger, doing business as American Furniture Company, shall figure their permitted usage of wood in the manufacture of furniture on the basis of a use of wood in the year of 1943 of 993,639 board feet of lumber.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Arthur Sauerbrunn, Phillip Beis and Sidney Kriger, individually, or doing business as American Furniture Company, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provisions contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 9, 1944, and shall expire on December 31, 1944.

DETERMINATION OF VESSEL OWNERSHIP

Notice of determination by War Shipping Administrator pursuant to section 3 (b) of the act approved March 24, 1943 (Public Law 17, 78th Congress).

Whereas on May 25, 1942, title to the vessel "City of Sacramento" (107848), (including all spare parts, appurtenances and equipment) was requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended; and

Whereas section 3 (b) of the Act approved March 24, 1943 (Public Law 17, 78th Congress), provides in part as follows:

(b) The Administrator, War Shipping Administration, may determine at any time prior to the payment in full or deposit in full with the Treasurer of the United States, or the payment or deposit of 75 per centum, or just compensation therefor, that the ownership of any vessel (the title to which has been requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, or the Act of June 6, 1941, (Public Law 101, Seventy-Seventh Congress)), is not required by the United States, and after such determination has been made and notice thereof has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than the title to such vessel shall be deemed to have been requisitioned for all purposes as of the date of the original taking: Provided, however, That no such determination shall be made with respect to any vessel after the date of delivery of such vessel pursuant to title requisition except with the consent of the owner. * * *;

and

Whereas no portion of just compensation for the said vessel has been paid or deposited with the Treasurer of the United States; and

Whereas the ownership of the said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States; and

Whereas the former owner of the vessel has consented to this determination and to the return of the vessel and the conversion of the requisition of title therein to a requisition of use thereof in accordance with the above-quoted provision of law;

Now therefore, I, Emory S. Land, Administrator, War Shipping Administration, acting pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of law, do hereby determine that the ownership of said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States, and that, from and after the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than title thereto shall be deemed to have been requisitioned, for all purposes, as of the date of the original taking.

Any prospective candidate may obtain authority for a preliminary physical examination if such examination is authorized by the member of Congress who intends to select him for nomination with a view to appointment. The member of Congress or the candidate will be informed of the result. (R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22) [Par. 38, Information Relative to Appointment and Admission of Cadets to the U. S. Military Academy, 1944, as amended by C1, 28 March 1944].

(c) Teeth. (1) No candidate will be accepted unless he has a minimum of 8 serviceable vital masticating teeth (bicuspids and molars) above and 6 below serviceably opposing and also 4 serviceable vital incisor teeth (incisors and cuspids) above and 4 below serviceably opposing. Therefore, the minimum requirement consists of a total of 12 masticating teeth and 8 incisor teeth, all of which must be so opposed as to serve the purpose of incision and mastication. In cases in which insufficiency of teeth may be remedied by the eruption of third molars, if an X-ray of the third molar region determines a normal third molar properly positioned and developed, it may be assumed that it will have a normal eruption, and the candidate may be credited with possession of this tooth.

• • • • •

(3) A tooth will not be considered serviceable if it is a deciduous tooth or if it fails to enter into serviceable occlusion with an opposing tooth, if it has an unfilled cavity, if it supports a defective filling or crown, if it is nonvital, or if there is destruction of the supporting tissues of the tooth, such as results from chronic gingivitis, pyorrhea, etc.

• • • • •

(d) Physical proportions for height, weight, and chest measurements for all candidates except Filipinos. The requirements of the following tables of physical proportions are for growing youths and are for guidance in connection with the other data of the examination, a consideration of all of which will determine the candidate's physical eligibility. Mere fulfillment of the requirements of the standard tables does not determine eligibility.

Height, inches	Weight, pounds		Minimum chest measurement at expiration inches
	Minimum	Maximum
66	120	170	30.50
67	124	175	30.50

NOTE: Fractions greater than ½ inch in height will be considered as an additional inch, but candidates must be at least 66 inches in height. Height to be taken without shoes and weight without clothes.

PART 1076—PLUMBING AND HEATING SIMPLIFICATION

CAST IRON BATHTUBS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L–42:

(a) What this direction does. The War Production Board having determined upon a program of production of metal bathtubs for the remainder of the year 1944, has authorized the production of 50,000 bathtubs for the second quarter. This direction tells by whom and for what purposes bathtubs may be made in order to produce the required 50,000 metal bathtubs, without utilizing labor in critical labor areas.

(b) Production of bathtubs. Prior to July 1, 1944, in addition to the bathtubs authorized by Direction #1 to Limitation Order L–42, the following manufacturers may produce at their plants at the addresses indicated, recess type cast iron bathtubs, no longer than those commercially known as five foot, and in quantities not exceeding the number indicated opposite their names:

NOTE: List amended May 11, 1944.

American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., Louisville, Ky	10,500
Crane Company, Chattanooga, Tenn	10,500
Eljer Company, Salem, Ohio	8,000
Kohler Company, Kohler, Wisconsin	10,500
Richmond Radiator Company, Uniontown, Pa	10,500

(c) Sale of bathtubs. These bathtubs may be delivered only to fill orders of or for ultimate delivery to the Army or Navy, or for export authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration, or for approved installation in projects rated in the P–19 series authorized by GA–1456 and in the P–55 series authorized by WPB–2896. This does not mean that a jobber or dealer may get these tubs to replace in his inventory tubs or other equipment he has previously delivered to fill such orders. It means that delivery to a jobber or dealer may be made to enable him to deliver the tubs to fill an actual order for an authorized project or building with a specified completion date, to or for the account of the Army or Navy, or for installation in a project rated by orders in the P–19 or P–55 series. Shipments for export may be made only if a license has actually been issued by the Foreign Economic Administration. A manufacturer may not accept a rating alone as evidence of his authority to deliver to a dealer, but must obtain, in addition to the standard certification accompanying the extension of the rating, applicable information of the following nature:

1. For delivery to the Army or Navy, the contract, purchase order, or rating certificate number.

2. For delivery to an authorized project of the P–19 or P–55 series, the number and location of the project.

3. For export authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration, the export license number.

(d) Crating. No manufacturer may use better than No. 3 quality grades of lumber in crating these bathtubs.

(e) Reports. Each manufacturer named in paragraph (b) shall report by letter on or before the 10th day of each month to the Plumbing and Heating Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., by size, the number of bathtubs produced and the number shipped under this direction during the preceding month. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Effect of other orders. The restriction of Schedule X–II to Order L–42 are superseded to the extent necessary to give effect to this direction.

Appendix C—Suggested form to be used by manufacturers in applying for ceiling prices under section 4 (b).

SECTION 1. Scope of this regulation—(a) Kinds of work gloves covered. The specified staple work gloves covered by this regulation are work gloves of the following kinds:

(1) Single thickness canton flannel gloves.

(2) Canton flannel gloves with double thickness palm.

(3) Fully-lined canton flannel gloves.

(4) Two-thumbed canton flannel gloves.

(5) Jersey gloves.

(6) Combination leather and canton flannel or jersey gloves. However, grain leather palm gloves are not covered by this regulation.

For the purposes of this regulation (except Appendix A) "gloves" means both gloves and mittens.

(b) Kinds of sales covered. This regulation applies to all sales including sales at retail, sales at wholesale and sales by manufacturers. These kinds of sales are defined as follows:

(1) Sales at retail. All sales to individual consumers are "sales at retail." Such sales may, of course, be made by someone who is primarily a wholesaler or a manufacturer.

Sales to industrial, commercial, governmental, and charitable institutions which do not resell are also considered "sales at retail" if made by a person who sells principally to individual consumers, and only incidentally to institutions of these kinds. If not made by such a person, sales to these institutions are considered sales at wholesale or sales by manufacturers.

(2) Sales at wholesale. A sale at wholesale is any sale which is neither a sale at retail as explained in (1) nor a sale by a manufacturer as explained in (3). For example, a sale by a jobber, who buys work gloves from a manufacturer and resells them to a retailer or to an industrial user, is a sale at wholesale. Sales from jobber to jobber, and from retailer to retailer are also sales at wholesale, but are called "special sales", as explained in section 3.

(3) Sales by a manufacturer. A sale by a manufacturer is a sale of work gloves by a person:

(i) Who fabricated the gloves sold; or

(ii) Who sold or consigned to the fabricator of the gloves any of the principal materials from which they were made; or

(iii) Whose business is under the same ownership or control as the person who fabricated the gloves.

(c) Where this regulation applies. This regulation covers sales in the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. How to find retail ceiling prices. Ceiling prices for sales at retail are listed in the table in Appendix B. The ceiling prices in the table are not given by the kind of glove, but by the supplier's net ceiling price. The table shows the retail ceiling price which corresponds to each different supplier's net ceiling price. Before using this table, the retailer must find his supplier's net ceiling price according to the following instructions. Retailers should also pay particular attention to section 6 (Marking of gloves).

(a) Where retailer does not know the supplier's ceiling price. If the retailer does not know the ceiling price of the manufacturer or wholesaler who supplies him, he may inquire of the supplier, who is required to disclose his ceiling price. Moreover, if the gloves to be priced are those specified in Appendix A, the retailer can find the ceiling prices for manufacturers in column (a) of the tables in Appendix A, and the ceiling prices for wholesalers in column (b) of these tables.

(b) Where retailer's suppliers have different ceiling prices. Some manufacturers have two ceiling prices for the same number—a Group I ceiling and a Group II ceiling. If the retailer pays the Group I ceiling price (or less), he takes that ceiling to figure his retail price; but if he pays the manufacturer a higher price, he takes the Group II ceiling. If, however, he buys gloves with the identical manufacturer's lot number or brand name at different prices, making one purchase at or below the Group I ceiling and another above, he must use the Group I ceiling to figure his retail price on all gloves of this lot number or brand name. Moreover, if he buys gloves with the identical manufacturer's lot number or brand name from a wholesaler and also from a manufacturer, he must take the manufacturer's ceiling, not the wholesaler's ceiling, to figure his retail ceiling price for this number.

Example. Retailer B buys work gloves of lot number 903, manufactured by the X Company, for $1.50 per dozen, which is the manufacturer's ceiling. Later he gets more gloves of lot number 903 from a wholesaler, who charges him $1.80 per dozen, the wholesaler's ceiling.

In figuring his retail ceiling for work gloves of this lot number, B takes $1.50 as his supplier's ceiling price, and finds $.17 per pair as his ceiling price for this lot number.

(c) Where gloves are bought at a "special sale". Sales which are neither sales by a manufacturer nor "regular sales" at wholesale are called "special sales". These include sales by retailers to retailers, sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers or like persons and sales of other types. (The difference between "regular" and "special" sales is more fully explained in section 3.)

If the retailer has bought a glove at a "special sale", he does not figure his ceiling price by taking the price of his own supplier. Instead, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the "special sale". If a succession of special sales has been made, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the first of these special sales. Thus, the retail ceiling price of a pair of gloves is the same as if the retailer had bought directly from the original supplier, without any special sale intervening.

Example 1. C, a retail chain, buys one dozen 8 oz. canton flannel gloves from a manufacturer at $1.50, which is the manufacturer's ceiling. C sells them to D, another retail chain, at $1.60 (which is equal to C's cost plus freight actually paid by him).

In figuring his retail ceiling D assumes his supplier's ceiling price to be $1.50 (the ceiling of C's supplier) not $1.60 (the price D actually paid). Consequently, D's retail ceiling is $.17 per pair (not $.19).

Example 2. E, an independent retailer buys one dozen 18 oz. double palm cotton flannel gloves from a jobber at $2.72½ a dozen (the jobber's ceiling). He decides to liquidate and sells them to an auctioneer for $2.30 a dozen. The auctioneer resells them to F, another retailer, for $2.90 (this being the price paid by E, plus transportation charges incurred by the auctioneer).

In figuring his retail ceiling, F takes $2.72½ as his supplier's ceiling price, so that his retail ceiling is $.31 (not $.34).

(d) Where retail sale is made by manufacturer. Where a sale at retail is made by a manufacturer, the retail ceiling is found from the table in Appendix B, as in other cases. But since the manufacturer has no "supplier", he takes the Group I manufacturers' ceiling for these gloves (found in column (a) of the tables in Appendix A) and uses this as his "supplier's ceiling price".

SEC. 3. How to find wholesale ceiling prices. Under this regulation, there are two kinds of sales at wholesale. They are called "regular sales" and "special sales", and are explained in this section. Different methods of pricing are provided for these two kinds of sales.

(a) Regular sales at wholesale—(1) What is a regular sale. A "regular sale" is a sale by a wholesaler to a person who sells principally at retail or is an industrial user, and whose business is not under the same ownership and control as the seller's.

A "wholesaler" is a person or business organization to which all the following statements apply:

(i) It sells goods to retailers in general, and not primarily to a single retailer, or to a group of retailers which are under common ownership.

(ii) It buys and sells goods in "wholesale quantities", as understood in the trade, and sells through traveling salesmen or circulated catalogs.

(iii) It carries at all times at its principal place of business a representative stock of work gloves, and makes at least 50% of its work glove deliveries from stock (as opposed to drop shipments).

(iv) It is not under the same ownership or control as the person who fabricates the work gloves which it sells.

(v) It extends credit, and carries its own accounts. It may, of course, entrust or assign its delinquent accounts to others for collection.

(vi) It is not (a) a buying office or other agency representing retailers, (b) a stock-carrying affiliate of retailers, (c) a central office or warehouse for stores which are commonly owned or controlled, (d) a drop shipper, (e) a broker, (f) a commission-merchant, (g) a selling-agent, or (h) a job-lot dealer.

A person who wishes to qualify as a "wholesaler" but was not such a wholesaler in 1942, must, before making any sales at ceilings for regular sales at wholesale, send a statement by registered mail to the Office of Price Administration ("Men's Clothing Section"), Washington 25, D. C. The statement must give the "wholesaler's" name and address, and the date on which he commenced business as a wholesaler.

(2) Ceiling prices for "regular sales". For the work gloves specified in Appendix A, ceiling prices for regular sales at wholesale are those stated in column (b) of the tables in that Appendix.

For work gloves not specifically priced in Appendix A and which a wholesaler had in stock on the effective date of this regulation, the ceiling prices for regular sales at wholesale are those established under the prior applicable price regulation (either the General Maximum Price Regulation [1] or Maximum Price Regulation 210 [2]).

In some cases, the Office of Price Administration may establish by individual order manufacturers' ceiling prices for work gloves not specifically priced in Appendix A. The individual order will also establish ceiling prices for regular sales at wholesale of these gloves and will require the manufacturer to notify the wholesaler of his maximum resale prices.

(b) Special sales. Sales at wholesale which are not "regular sales" as explained in paragraph (a) are "special sales". They include (but are not confined to) sales by wholesalers to wholesalers, sales by retailers to retailers, and all sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers, and like persons.

(1) Ceiling prices for special sales. The ceiling prices for a "special sale" is the net price actually paid by the seller (not exceeding the ceiling price), plus any charges for transportation actually paid by him. Moreover, any person who buys at a special sale and resells at another special sale must figure his ceiling price by taking the price paid by the seller in the first special sale.

Example 1. G, a large retailer, buys a dozen 8 oz. canton flannel gloves from a manufacturer at $1.50 per dozen, the manufacturer's ceiling price, and pays 10¢ per dozen for freight. He now wants to resell them to H, a second retailer.

G's ceiling price for this sale is $1.60—his cost plus freight.

Example 2. L, a wholesaler, buys a dozen hot mill gloves from a manufacturer at $3.50 per dozen, the manufacturer's ceiling price. L now liquidates and resells the gloves to auctioneer M for $3.00 per dozen. Now M wants to resell the gloves to another wholesaler.

In figuring his price for this second special sale, M takes as his cost $3.50 (the price paid by L) and adds freight paid by him. If M pays 7¢ for freight, M's ceiling is $3.57.

(2) Disclosure in special sales. In any special sale, the seller must mark the bill or invoice with the words "special sale", and must disclose any information required by the provisions of section 7 (a).

SEC. 4. How to find manufacturers' ceiling prices—(a) Work gloves specified in Appendix A. For the work gloves specified in Appendix A, ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers are those stated in column (a) of the tables in that Appendix. Column (a), however, states two manufacturers' ceiling prices for each glove specified—a Group I ceiling and a Group II ceiling. Some manufacturers must use the Group I ceiling only, some may use the Group II ceiling only, and some may use both, according to the rules stated in the following subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3).

(1) How a manufacturer finds his "wholesale percentage". (i) In order to find what proportion of his sales must be made at Group I prices, a manufacturer must find the percent of his 1941 deliveries which were made at wholesale prices. This is called the manufacturer's "wholesale percentages". A "wholesale price" means (a) any price at or below which a manufacturer, during 1941, normally supplied wholesalers, or any other large volume purchaser (e. g., chain stores and mail order houses) commonly known or regarded as "wholesale trade;" (b) any price at which industrial users or other purchasers (e. g., independent retailers) were supplied during 1941, if, during this period, the manufacturer's price to them was no higher than his price to "wholesale trade;" (c) any price during 1941 at which a manufacturer, who did not sell to "wholesale trade" during this period, normally supplied industrial users or other purchasers, if this price was no higher than the prices at which manufacturers supplying "wholesale trade" sold to such trade during 1941. In determining whether certain sales were made at "wholesale prices," allowance must be made for differences in gloves sold.

Example 1. During 1941, W, a work glove manufacturer, supplied only wholesalers, chain stores, and mail order houses. For the purposes of this regulation, all of the prices at which W sold these purchasers are "wholesale prices."

Example 2. During 1941, Y, a work glove manufacturer, supplied only wholesalers and industrial users. He sold the same gloves to both types of purchasers at the same prices. For the purposes of this regulation, all of the prices at which Y sold these purchasers are "wholesale prices."

Example 3. During 1941, Z, a work glove manufacturer, supplied only wholesalers and independent retailers. He sold the same gloves to independent retailers as he sold to wholesalers, but at higher prices. Only the prices at which Z sold to wholesalers are "wholesale prices."

Example 4. During 1941, V, a work glove manufacturer, supplied wholesalers and independent retailers. He sold a number to wholesalers at $4.75 a dozen. He also sold to independent retailers at $5.00 a dozen, a number which was similar except for an extra feature that was worth 25¢ a dozen. Both the $4.75 and the $5.00 sales would be considered sales at "wholesale prices."

(ii) A manufacturer will figure his "wholesale percentage" as follows:

(a) Find the number of dozens of staple work gloves covered by this regulation delivered to all purchasers in 1941.

(b) Find the number of these which were delivered at wholesale prices.

(c) Divide the number delivered at wholesale prices by the total of all deliveries (divide (b) by (a)). The resulting figure, expressed as a percent, is the manufacturer's "wholesale percentage".

Example 1. P, a work glove manufacturer, delivered 10,000 dozen staple work gloves in 1941. All these were delivered at prices generally charged to independent retailers, and none at "wholesale prices."

P's "wholesale percentage" is zero.

Example 2. R, a work glove manufacturer, delivered 100,000 dozen staple work gloves in 1941. All these deliveries were made to volume purchasers including jobbers, chain stores and industrial users and none were delivered at higher prices.

R's "wholesale percentage" is 100%.

Example 3. S, a work glove manufacturer, delivered 50,000 dozen staple work gloves in 1941. 20,000 of these were delivered to his volume trade at "wholesale prices", and 30,000 to independent retailers at higher prices.

S's "wholesale percentage" is 40% (20,000 divided by 50,000).

(2) How a manufacturer uses his wholesale percentage. Each manufacturer who delivered staple work gloves at "wholesale prices" in 1941 must, during the remainder of 1944 and each subsequent calendar year, make a certain quota of his deliveries of staple work gloves at Group I prices. This quota is that percentage of his total annual deliveries which is equal to his "wholesale percentage" (found under (1)). For example, if a manufacturer's "wholesale percentage" is 40%, and he delivers 300,000 dozen staple work gloves during the remainder of 1944, 120,000 dozen must be delivered at Group I prices. If, at the end of a year, a manufacturer fails to meet his quota, he has exceeded his ceiling prices to the extent of the deficiency, and will be liable to civil and criminal penalties accordingly. In calculating the annual quota of deliveries which must be made at Group I prices, follow these instructions:

(i) What deliveries are counted in finding the quota. In figuring the quota of deliveries which must be made at Group I prices in 1944, the manufacturer takes all deliveries made from May 16, 1944, to December 31, 1944, inclusive. In any subsequent year, all deliveries for the entire calendar year will be included.

Example 1. In 1941 the ABC Company sold 70% of its staple work gloves at "wholesale prices" and 30% at higher prices. Its "wholesale percentage" is 70%. From May 16, 1944, to December 31, 1944, its anticipated deliveries of work gloves are 250,000 dozen.

The ABC Company will determine its obligation as follows:

	Dozen
Anticipated deliveries	250,000
Quota to be delivered at Group I prices (70% of 250,000)	175,000
Remainder which may be sold at Group II prices	75,000

For convenience in meeting the quota of deliveries which must be made at Group I prices, it is suggested that a manufacturer keep a current record of deliveries at Group I and Group II prices made after May 16, 1944, in this form:

Date	Number of dozens delivered at Group I prices	Number of dozens delivered at Group II prices	Total number of dozens delivered

At periodic intervals (e. g., at the end of each month), the manufacturer should total deliveries at Group I prices and all deliveries. He should then divide the former total by the latter. If the proportion of deliveries at Group I prices is below his wholesale percentage, it would be advisable for him to ship only at his Group I ceilings until the proportion of deliveries at Group I prices equals the wholesale percentage. This procedure should be repeated for subsequent periods, until the end of the year.

Example 2. In 1941 the X Company sold all of its staple work gloves at "wholesale prices". Its "wholesale percentage" is thus 100%. In 1944, all of its deliveries must be made at Group I prices.

Example 3. In 1941 the Z Company sold none of its staple work gloves at "wholesale prices". Its "wholesale percentage" is thus zero. In 1944, all of its deliveries may be made at Group II prices.

(ii) Sales to particular purchasers not required. A manufacturer who may make deliveries at Group II prices may make these deliveries to any class of purchaser. Likewise, a manufacturer may make deliveries at Group I prices to any class of purchaser. Moreover, a manufacturer who delivers the required proportion of his work gloves at Group I prices may deliver as many more at Group I prices as he wishes.

(iii) Calculating and filing the "wholesale percentage." Every manufacturer of staple work gloves must keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration the records and the tabulation or work sheets which he used in figuring his "wholesale percentage". He is also required to file a statement of his wholesale percentage, as provided in section 8 (c) (2).

(3) New manufacturers. Any manufacturer who sells staple work gloves but did not do so in 1941, may apply to the Office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section), Washington 25, D. C. for the authorization of a "wholesale percentage." This application must set forth: (i) the manufacturer's name and address; (ii) the date when he commenced business; and (iii) the total number of dozens of staple work gloves delivered to each class of purchaser during the first 12 months of business, or, if the manufacturer does not have one year's experience, during such other portion of time as he has been in business. Until this authorization is granted the manufacturer must make all deliveries at or below Group I ceiling prices.

(b) Other work gloves covered by this regulation. For work gloves covered by this regulation but not specified in Appendix A, a manufacturer's ceiling prices are those authorized by the Office of Price Administration, on application by the manufacturer.

An application for the fixing of a ceiling price must be filed with the Office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section) Washington 25, D. C. The application must contain information in the detail indicated by the suggested form in Appendix C, and must be accompanied by a sample of the glove.

Pending action on such an application a person must not sell or deliver the glove except in accordance with the provisions of section 10 (b) (Adjustable pricing agreements).

SEC. 5. When taxes may be added. When a tax on a particular sale or delivery is imposed by a statute or ordinance which permits stating the tax separately from the price, the tax may be separately charged or collected in addition to the ceiling price. This applies only to sales taxes, gross receipt or gross proceeds taxes, and compensating use taxes, and does not apply to any tax imposed on a prior sale or delivery.

SEC. 6. Marking of gloves—(a) Marking required at retail. On and after June 21, 1944, every person is forbidden to sell or offer to sell at retail or display in a retail store any pair of staple work gloves which is not marked as required by this section. The marking must contain the following elements:

(1) The manufacturer's lot number or brand name for the glove.

(2) The retail ceiling price.

(3) Defects (if any).

If any part of the required marking has not been performed by the manufacturer, it must be supplied by the retailer.

(b) Marking and information required of manufacturers. On and after June 6, 1944, every manufacturer is forbidden to deliver any pair of work gloves which does not contain markings (1) and (3) listed in the preceding paragraph. Moreover, each manufacturer must supply each retail purchaser with a list of retail ceiling prices for staple work gloves supplied him. If the gloves are distributed through wholesalers, the manufacturer must supply the wholesaler who in turn must supply each retailer. This list must be forwarded by the manufacturer or wholesaler not later than the first invoicing or billing of any pair of staple work gloves covered by this regulation, or before June 6, 1944 (whichever is later). The manufacturer or wholesaler must keep this list up to date thereafter by sending supplemental lists to each retailer at the time of shipment of any new numbers subsequently sold. The list must be in substantially the following form:

[1] The gloves may be identified by trade-mark, or by manufacturer's or distributor's name.

[2] In appropriate cases, the list would be entitled "for work gloves bought from wholesalers" or "for work gloves bought from manufacturers at Group II prices".

[3] The number of the table, and the place in the table where the glove is described in Appendix A of RMPR 506. If the glove is not specified in Appendix A, write "none".

(c) Elements of marking. The elements required to be marked are explained in this paragraph.

(1) Lot number or brand name. The lot number or brand name must be different for each pair of gloves having a different manufacturer's ceiling price.

(2) Ceiling price. This must be the correct ceiling price for the circumstances in which the pair of gloves is offered for sale at retail.

(3) Defects, if any. If the pair of gloves is a "second" or imperfect, it must be so marked.

(d) Manner of marking. The required markings must be attached to at least one glove of each pair. The required marking must be attached by stitching, adhesive, pins or staples, or stamped on the glove itself, except where some other method is authorized. The required markings may be in one or more parts, and may be accompanied by other information, but all portions must be clearly visible to the purchaser.

EXAMPLE OF MARKING

RETAIL CEILING 17¢

SEC. 7. Disclosure—(a) Description of gloves. Any person who has sold for resale any staple work gloves may be required to supply any subsequent buyer with any information needed by him for the marking and pricing of these gloves. This information must be furnished in writing promptly upon receipt of a written request from the buyer. Unless he has reason to believe it is erroneous, the buyer may rely on the information so furnished. If the buyer does have reason to believe the information is erroneous, he may nevertheless act on it, providing he immediately sends to a district or state office of the Office of Price Administration a statement of the circumstances and a request for a determination of the facts.

(b) Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase must continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of previous custom, must give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the type of gloves sold, and the price received for it.

(c) Retail ceiling price list. Any retailer who has received from his supplier a "retail ceiling price list" must display it promptly to any person who requests to see it during regular business hours. If the retailer sells through more than one department or selling establishment, a copy of the list must be made available in each separate unit where staple work gloves are sold.

(d) Invoices. Every manufacturer selling staple work gloves and every person selling these gloves at wholesale, must give the purchaser an invoice showing: (1) The name and address of the purchaser; (2) the manufacturer's lot number or brand name for each different pair of gloves sold; (3) a description of each pair of gloves bearing a different lot number or brand name, in detail similar to the descriptions in Appendix A; (4) the quantity sold and the selling price of each different lot number or brand name; and (5) the terms of sale (e. g., 2/20 net 40, freight prepaid to city of destination).

SEC. 8. Records and reports—(a) Records to be kept by retailers. Every person who sells staple work gloves governed by this regulation at retail must keep the following records, and make them available on request, to the Office of Price Administration.

(1) Invoices and other documents received by the seller showing costs, descriptions and sources of work gloves sold by him.

(2) Such records as he has customarily kept showing prices charged by him for work gloves sold at retail.

(b) Records to be kept and filed by persons selling at wholesale. Every person who sells work gloves covered by this regulation at wholesale must keep the following records, and make them available on request to the Office of Price Administration:

(1) Invoices and other documents received by the seller showing costs, descriptions and sources of work gloves sold by him.

(2) Copies of invoices and other documents showing prices and identification by name, trademark, lot number, etc., of work gloves sold by him at wholesale.

Moreover, every person who wishes to qualify as a "wholesaler" under section 3 (a) (1), but was not such a wholesaler in 1942, must file the statement therein described before making any sales at ceilings for regular sales at wholesale.

(c) Records to be prepared, kept, and filed by manufacturers—(1) Price list. Every manufacturer of staple work gloves must prepare a list of all staple work glove items which he delivers on or after May 16, 1944. This list must show the lot number of each such work glove, and, following each lot number, a description of the glove and the manufacturer's ceiling price. If the lot number is sold at Group I prices, the list must show whether it is sold to retailers or to wholesalers or to both. The description, like the descriptions in Appendix A, should specify cut or pattern, weight, and kind of materials used, thickness of glove, type of wrist, additional features (if any), and size classification. This record must be prepared on or before June 6, 1944, and must be kept up to date thereafter by adding any new numbers or any changes in the description of old numbers. This list must be kept and made available on request to the Office of Price Administration, but need not be filed.

(2) Records and statement of wholesale percentage. Every manufacturer of staple work gloves must keep the records and work sheets from which he found his "wholesale percentage" as provided in section 4 (a) (1). These records must include a list showing: (i) each lot number of staple work gloves covered by this regulation delivered during 1941; (ii) a description of each such number, in detail similar to descriptions in Appendix A; (iii) each class of purchaser (e. g., jobbers, chain stores, mail order houses, industrial users, independent retailers) to which each number was delivered; (iv) the quantity (in dozens) delivered to each class of purchaser, and (v) the prices at which delivery was made to each class of purchaser. The records required by this subparagraph must be prepared on or before June 6, 1944, and thereafter must be kept and made available on request to the Office of Price Administration. Further, the manufacturer must file with the Office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section) Washington 25, D. C., on or before June 6, 1944, a statement showing the total number of dozens of staple work gloves delivered by him in 1941, and the number delivered at wholesale prices.

SEC. 9. Excessive prices forbidden. On and after the effective date of this regulation, the following practices are forbidden regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) Charging more than ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to sell or deliver any staple work gloves at a price higher than the ceiling price set by this regulation. A lower price may, of course, by charged.

(b) Buying for more than the ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to buy or receive any staple work gloves, in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the price set by this regulation.

(c) Combination sales. Every person is forbidden to require any purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other article, service, package or wrapper, in connection with the sale or delivery of any staple work gloves. But any seller may refuse to sell less than a minimum quantity of any one style number, if this minimum has been customary for the seller.

(d) Indirect price increases. Every person is forbidden to do any other act which directly or indirectly increases above the ceiling price the consideration paid by the purchaser for any staple work gloves. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher than ceiling price is as much a violation as outright raising of the ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation charges, premiums, taxes, special provisions, tying agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices.

(e) Indirect violations. Every person is forbidden to offer, attempt or agree to do any of the acts forbidden by this section.

(f) Stating prices above the ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to state a gross price above the ceiling price, except where the seller customarily allows a percentage discount on all sales to one or more classes of customers. To customers of these classes, a seller may state a price which gives the net ceiling price after deducting the percentage discount. Wherever such a gross price is stated, the seller must also state expressly the discount allowed, the net ceiling price and the retail ceiling price. The amount actually collected or paid must never exceed the net ceiling price.

Example: X, a jobber, customarily grants terms of 2% 10 days to all its customers. In selling a pair of gloves with a ceiling of $1.80, it may prepare the invoice as follows:

Terms: 2% 10 days.

Lot No.	Quantity	Description	Price	Amount
903	50 dozen	Men's 8 oz., single thickness canton flannel gloves, knit wrist, $1.80 per dozen. Retail ceiling price 17¢ per pair.	$1.836	$91.80

SEC. 10. Adjustable pricing agreements. Adjustable pricing agreements may be entered into notwithstanding the provisions of section 9, to the extent permitted by this section.

(a) When regulation fixes a ceiling price. In cases where this regulation fixes a ceiling price, a person may sell at that ceiling price, subject to an agreement with the buyer to charge a higher price if it becomes the legal ceiling price by the time of delivery. But one must never charge a price which is higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(b) Where regulation does not fix a ceiling price. In cases where a ceiling price is not fixed by the regulation, a person must not make any contract or sale unless the price is expressly subject to adjustment in accordance with any action which may be taken by the Office of Price Administration. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not make any delivery until a ceiling price has been fixed by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When specific authorization will be given. Specific authorization to deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery will be given only where:

(1) A request for the fixing or changing of a ceiling price has been filed; and

(2) The authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production; and

(3) It will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

This authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any other official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the power to grant such authorization has been delegated, and may be given by order, letter or telegram.

SEC. 11. Licensing and enforcement. (a) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or this regulation. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) Penalties. Any person who violates any provisions of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 12. Relation to other regulations. (a) Regulations superseded. The coverage of this regulation is stated in section 1. Where this regulation applies, it supersedes (except as indicated in section 3 (a) (2), the provisions of the following regulations:

(1) General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) Section 3.5 of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 (formerly § 1499.73 (a) (37) of Amendment 49 to Supplementary Regulation 14).

(3) Maximum Price Regulation 210 (Retail and Wholesale Prices for Fall and Winter Seasonal Commodities).

(b) Contractors' services. This regulation does not apply to charges for contractors' services, which are governed by Maximum Price Regulation 172[9] (Charges of Contractors in the Apparel Industry).

"Contractor" is defined in § 1389.52 of that regulation.

(c) War procurement agencies. This regulation does not apply to sales of work gloves made according to military specifications, when the sales are made to any war procurement agency as defined in Maximum Price Regulation 157[10] (Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes).

(d) Export sales. This regulation does not apply to export sales of work gloves. Such sales are covered by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[11]

(e) Import sales. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to deliveries made from points outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Such sales and deliveries are governed by the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[12] This regulation does, however, apply to domestic sales when the articles sold were originally imported.

SEC. 13. How this regulation may be amended. (a) Any person who seeks a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment of general applicability in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[13] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Pending an amendment, a person must not sell or deliver work gloves at prices other than those fixed in the regulation except in accordance with the provisions of section 10 (Adjustable pricing agreements).

APPENDIX A—TABLES OF CEILING PRICES FOR SALES BY MANUFACTURERS AND SALES AT WHOLESALE

(a) Instructions for manufacturers. 1. In using the following tables, bear in mind the rules for pricing by manufacturers which are stated in section 4 (How to find manufacturers' ceiling prices).

2. Prices are stated in column (a), per dozen pair of gloves. On shipments weighing 100 pounds, or more, the seller must prepay or allow transportation costs to the city of destination. However, where such shipments are made at transportation rates higher than freight rates, the seller is required to allow or prepay only that portion of the transportation cost which is equal to the freight cost on such shipments. On less than 100 pound shipments, the seller need not allow or prepay any transportation costs.

3. All prices are net 40 days, less 2% in 20 days. If the seller wishes, he may extend more favorable terms. But no seller may change these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

(b) Instructions for wholesalers. 1. In using the following tables, bear in mind the rules for wholesale pricing in section 3 (How to find wholesale ceiling prices). Notice especially that these prices apply only to "regular sales", not to "special sales".

2. Prices are stated in column (b), per dozen pair of gloves, f. o. b. seller's place of business.

3. Terms for sales at wholesale are net 30 days. If the seller wishes, he may extend more favorable terms. But no seller may change these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

APPENDIX B—TABLE OF CEILING PRICES FOR SALES AT RETAIL

Instructions. Ceiling prices for staple work gloves are not given by kind of glove, but by the supplier's net ceiling price. This price must be found according to the rules in section 2 (How to find retail ceiling prices). Read this section before using the table.

When you have found your supplier's net ceiling price, look in column 1 for the bracket in which this price belongs. Then look at the figure opposite in column 2; this is your retail ceiling price per pair of gloves.

For example, suppose your supplier's net ceiling price is $1.50. Follow down column 1 until you find the bracket $1.43–$1.51+. Opposite these figures, in column 2, you find the retail ceiling of 17¢. If your supplier's ceiling price had been $1.51½, your price would still be 17¢, since $1.51+ includes any fractional cent over $1.51.

(a) On and after the effective date of this order no motor rebuilder whose principal place of business is located in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia shall sell or offer for sale a reconditioned or rebuilt used automobile motor at prices in excess of those provided by this order. Lower prices may be charged or offered.

(1) The maximum prices established by this order, subject to the provisions of Section (b) hereof, shall be the present maximum ceiling prices of a particular rebuilder, as determined under Maximum Price Regulation No. 452, plus an amount not to exceed $15.00 per reconditioned or rebuilt used automobile motor.

(b) The following conditions must be complied with by the rebuilder before using the maximum prices authorized in paragraph (a) hereof and are conditions precedent to the use of the adjusted maximum prices.

(2) The prices set forth in the foregoing schedule are on a per ton basis (2000 pounds to the ton). No dealer may add to the schedule prices any additional charge for the extension of credit.

(3) The prices set forth in the foregoing schedule are for raw coal, i. e., coal which has not been treated. On all sales of treated coal, whether oil, paraffin, or calcium chloride treatment and regardless of whether such treatment was applied at the mine or by the dealer, the dealer may charge an amount not to exceed 10¢ per ton in addition to the schedule price.

(4) A deduction from the prices set forth in the foregoing schedule of not less than 25¢ per ton must be made on all sales made for cash on one ton or more of solid fuels covered by this order. "Sales made for cash," for the purposes of this order, means all sales in which payment is made on or before delivery.

(5) A deduction from the prices set forth in the foregoing schedule of not less than 50¢ per ton must be made on yard sales of solid fuels covered by this order in quantities of one or more tons. If the sale is made for cash, as the term is used and defined in the foregoing subparagraph (4), this deduction on yard sales must be made in addition to the deduction for sales made for cash as provided for in subparagraph (4) above. "Yard sales," for the purposes of this order, means sales in which the buyer takes delivery at the dealer's yard.

(6) The maximum price on all sales of small lots in quantities of less than one ton put into the buyer's car or other conveyance at the dealer's yard shall be 45¢ per hundredweight for high volatile fuels and 65¢ per hundredweight for low volatile fuels. In sales of this kind the buyer may be required to furnish the container. If the buyer does not possess a container, the dealer may require a deposit charge equivalent to the replacement cost when such container is furnished.

(7) An addition not to exceed 25¢ may be added to the fractional per net ton price set out in the foregoing schedule when the dealer sells and delivers ½ ton.

(d) Service charges. (1) Below and as a part of this paragraph (d) is a schedule that sets forth maximum prices which a dealer may charge for special services rendered in connection with all sales under preceding paragraph (c). These charges may be made only if the buyer requests such services of the dealer and only when the dealer renders the service. The prices for such services shall be separately stated in the dealer's invoice or bill of sale.

(i) A service charge not to exceed 75¢ per ton may be charged for the "carry in" service. The "carry in" service means the service of carrying in solid fuel from the curb or point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space to the buyer's fuel bin window. This service does not include the service of carrying fuel up or down stairs.

(ii) An amount not to exceed $1.25 per ton may be charged for the "double carry in" service. The "double carry in" means the service of carrying in solid fuel from the curb or point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space and up or down one flight of stairs to the buyer's fuel bin.

(iii) Where a dealer is requested to perform "carry in" services in addition to the services defined in subdivisions (i) and (ii), the maximum price for such additional services shall not exceed the price charged by the dealer for such services during December, 1941.

(iv) An amount not to exceed 25¢ per ton may be charged for the service of "trimming." Trimming means the arranging and placing of the fuel in the buyer's bin. This service charge for trimming shall be applicable only to the amount of the fuel actually handled.

(e) Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase; transportation tax; Missouri State sales tax—(1) The freight rate increase. Since the ex parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the dealers' freight rates are the same as those of December, 1941. Therefore, no dealer may increase any schedule price on account of freight rates.

(2) The transportation tax. Only the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be collected in addition to the maximum prices set out by this Order provided the dealer states it separately from the price of the fuel and lists it separately on any sales slip or receipt given to the buyer. This tax need not be stated separately on sales to the United States or any agency thereof, the State government or any political subdivision thereof (See § 1340.265 (b) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122). No part of this tax may be collected in addition to maximum prices on sales of ¼ ton or lesser quantities.

(3) The Missouri State sales tax. The seller may add to the prices listed in the schedule in paragraph (c) the sales tax required to be collected by the laws of the State of Missouri. This tax shall be separately stated in the dealer's invoice, sales slip or receipt.

(f) Addition of increase in supplier's price prohibited. (1) The maximum prices set out by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in purchase costs or in supplier's maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereof; but increases in the maximum prices set hereby to reflect such increases are within the discretion of the Regional Administrator.

(g) Power to amend or revoke. (1) The Price Administrator or the Regional Administrator of Region V may amend, revoke, or rescind this order, or any provisions thereof, at any time.

(h) Petitions for amendment. (1) Any person seeking an amendment to this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

This provides in brief that a license is required of all persons selling at retail commodities for which maximum prices are established. A license may be suspended for violation in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If a dealer's license is suspended, he may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(j) Records and reports. (1) Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the price charged and the kind and size of fuel sold. Where the minimum price schedules do not make specific mention of any size designated in this order, such size designations shall refer to the sizes of bituminous coal sold as such in the area subject to this order during December, 1941.

The said trustees having on April 18, 1944, filed an amendment to said plan of reorganization, designated as Amendment No. 3, eliminating certain exhibits and introductory statements from the original plan, as amended, in order to facilitate printing and mailing to creditors of the two estates in accordance with the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act;

The Commission having given notice of the filing of Amendment No. 3 under date of April 22, 1944, announcing that any interested person might, not later than April 29, 1944, request the Commission to hold a hearing on such matter, setting forth the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest;

(b) Transportation expenses. Transportation expenses from the home of the applicant (or place in which appointment is accepted) to the place or places in the United States, its Territories, or Possessions, where the studies and research are to be pursued, and return to the home of the applicant (or point of departure), including travel via Washington, D. (3) Steamer fare: [1] Not exceeding the lowest minimum first-class fare of the ship on which travel is performed. American vessels must be used if available (section 901 of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, 49 Stat. 2015. This requirement has been suspended with respect to appropriations for the fiscal year 1944 by section 302 of Public Law 216—78th Congress, approved December 23, 1943). No receipts are necessary.

(4) Airplane fare: [1] Transportation by air will be allowed regardless of the cost when authorized by the head of the respective bureau. PART 3289—RADIO AND RADAR

[Preference Rating Order P-133, Interpretation 1]

ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Preference Rating Order P-133:

Some things which cannot be bought under this order as maintenance, repairs or operating supplies: It appears that some persons who are entitled to use the priorities assistance given by Order P-133 for maintenance, repair and operating supplies have been applying those ratings for the purchase of items which are capitalized repairs, capital equipment or capital replacements. The following things are not items of maintenance, repair or operating supplies under Order P-133:

1. Recording or reproducing turntables.
2. Amplifiers.
3. Microphones.
4. Speech input consoles.
5. Transmitters.
6. Relay racks or cabinets.
7. Jack panels.
8. Frequency monitors.
9. Antenna towers.

This is not an all-inclusive list of products which are not MRO items under P-133, but simply includes those things about which questions have been raised.

The ratings assigned by Order P-133 must not be applied for the purchase of the things listed above; and any P-133 ratings which have been applied to purchase orders for those items have been improperly applied and should be cancelled at once. This does not mean, however, that necessary parts to maintain or repair those things may not be purchased with P-133 ratings.

How to distinguish the business of radio communication or radio broadcasting from other businesses of the kinds described in paragraph (a) (4): Persons engaged in the business of operating and maintaining electronic systems for the distribution of sound which are not radio communication or radio broadcasting systems are entitled only to use the AA-5 rating assigned by paragraph (a) (4) of Order P-133. The question has been asked as to how to distinguish between these businesses. No person is engaged in the business of radio communication or radio broadcasting who has not been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to operate a radio transmitter. No person who has not been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to operate a radio transmitter may use the AA-1 rating assigned by paragraphs (a) (1) and (a) (2) of Order P-133 for the businesses of radio communication and radio broadcasting.

WORK GLOVES

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of work gloves for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.336 General Conservation Order M-375—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Work gloves" means any of the following gloves and mittens customarily graded as men's, women's and children's:

Canton flannel gloves and mittens.
Jersey gloves and mittens
Leather combination gloves and mittens.

"Gloves" means both gloves and mittens.

(2) "Put into process" means the first cutting of material in the manufacture of gloves and mittens.

(3) All terms used in this order shall have their usual and customary trade meanings unless stated otherwise.

(b) General exceptions. The provisions of this order shall not apply to orders for the delivery of work gloves to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or to other persons pursuant to authorization by the Maritime Commission on Form WPB-646.

(c) General restrictions on processing and manufacturing of work gloves. (1) No person shall, after May 15, 1944, manufacture work gloves or put into process or cause to be put into process by others for his account any material for the manufacture of work gloves with:

(i) Canton flannel other than 4 harness construction.

(ii) Thumb seam welts or welts at thumb crotch seam, or thumb straps, on other than side split leather or grain leather construction.

(iii) Pairs tacked, stapled or otherwise fastened together.

(iv) Rider tickets.

(v) Imprints on hand portion other than manufacturer's trade mark.

(2) No person shall, after May 15, 1944, manufacture work gloves, or put into process or cause to be put into process by others for his account any material for the manufacture of work gloves, of any style, type and construction not listed in Schedule A of this order, or more numbers of any style than is specified in Schedule A.

Each person who manufactures work gloves or puts into process materials for the manufacture of work gloves shall, within 15 days after May 15, 1944, file with the War Production Board a list of the specific numbers of each style of gloves listed in Schedule A which he intends to produce. The numbers shall be listed in the sequence of Schedule A, and each number fully identified to conform with Schedule A. For example: only one number may be selected in Class 2 Men's Safety Cuff. The selection made should be stated in this form: "Class 2, Men's Safety Cuff, 8 oz. palm, 10 oz. lining, without turtle neck, white back, quilted." If this is the number selected no other number of this style may be made. No person may make any number not set forth on his list filed with the War Production Board, or change from the production of any number of any style set forth in his list to any other number of that style, unless he is authorized by the War Production Board in writing to do so.

(3) The War Production Board may on written application authorize the production and sale of work gloves, other than those enumerated in Schedule A, for specific occupational requirements.

(4) No person shall, after May 15, 1944, manufacture work gloves or put into process or cause to be put into process by others for his account any material for the manufacture of work gloves except in accordance with the specifications set forth in Schedules A and B.

(5) Exceptions. The provisions of paragraph (c) shall not apply to:

(i) Work gloves put into process or manufactured prior to May 15, 1944.

(ii) Work gloves made and sold to conform with state, county and municipal safety laws, codes and regulations and in effect on May 15, 1944, and specifically requiring the use of work gloves made otherwise than as specified in this order.

(iii) Work gloves manufactured in the home except when made for sale or for a contractor or jobber or other person who sells the work gloves.

(iv) Work gloves made from materials and supplies in the inventory of a glove manufacturer on May 12, 1944, or purchased by him prior to May 12, 1944, provided such materials and supplies are consumed in the manufacture of gloves before June 30, 1944. However, such gloves may be sold and delivered only before July 31, 1944.

(d) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. (1) No person shall sell or deliver work gloves which he knows or has reason to believe were manufactured or the material for which was put into process contrary to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this order.

(2) No manufacturer of work gloves may deliver work gloves packed less than one dozen pairs to a package.

(3) No person shall sell, deliver or accept delivery of any hot mill flannel gloves, except upon a preference rated order, or pursuant to allocation or direction of the War Production Board. However, these restrictions do not apply to sales or deliveries of hot mill flannel gloves by an employer to his own employees, or by a retail establishment from its stocks on hand.

(4) Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board, no person who purchases work gloves for distribution or sale to his own employees shall accept delivery of work gloves if by virtue of such acceptance his inventory of work gloves will be in excess of the minimum amount of work gloves required to supply the needs of his employees for a period of 30 days.

(e) Assignment and use of ratings. (1) The War Production Board may assign preference ratings for, or allocate, or direct the delivery of work gloves pursuant to application on Form WPB-541 filed with the nearest Field Office of the War Production Board. The War Production Board, in assigning a preference rating for work gloves may specify that the rating shall be valid only to obtain delivery from a designated manufacturer or supplier; in such case the manufacturer or supplier so designated may not reject the order on the ground that he has not in the past accepted or filled orders from that particular class of customer.

(2) No person shall apply, extend or give any effect to any preference rating for work gloves unless the preference rating has been assigned on Form WPB-541, and the order contains the certification required by Priorities Regulation 3 and, in addition, a notation substantially as follows:

This rating was assigned on Form WPB-541 Serial No. ---------- (fill in)

In the case where a specific source of supply has been designated the preference rating form must accompany and be attached to the order.

(The above requirements must be met regardless of Priorities Regulation 3. When this is done the requirements of M-328 are met, and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.)

(3) No person who is assigned a rating for more than 10 dozen pairs of work gloves may apply it to get any of them at retail prices. This does not prevent purchase at retail of more than 10 dozen pairs of gloves on an unrated order.

(4) Preference ratings for work gloves will be assigned on Form WPB-541 only to persons operating industrial plants, mines or lumber camps and to such other classes of persons as the War Production Board may from time to time designate. Each applicant for a preference rating must show:

(i) That the gloves are desired by the applicant for distribution or sale only to his own employees for use in their occupations.

(ii) That he has in effect or will put into effect the plan approved by the War Production Board to screen his orders and requisitions for work gloves and to eliminate unnecessary and wasteful use of such gloves. The plan will include a provision requiring each employee to turn in a worn-out pair of gloves before obtaining a replacement, and a provision requiring that soiled work gloves be washed or cleaned and used until they are worn-out. The Field Offices of the War Production Board will on request furnish the applicant with a copy of the approved plan and will assist applicants in working out practicable methods of conserving work gloves.

(iii) In the case of hot mill flannel gloves, the applicant must show that the gloves are required for his employees handling hot metals or ladles or other extremely hot materials requiring heavy insulation for handling and for which purposes other types of work gloves may not be practicably substituted. He must show the actual number of his employees so engaged.

(5) Any person to whom a rating has been assigned, applied or extended for work gloves who has difficulty getting his order accepted and filled, may apply by letter to the War Production Board, stating the facts, for a designation of supplier or direction.

(f) Obligations with respect to rated orders. (1) Each person who manufactures work gloves or puts into process materials for the manufacture of work gloves shall in each calendar quarter accept and fill rated orders for leather combination gloves, or set aside for later delivery on rated orders, in a total quantity that shall be not less than 40% of his total production of leather combination gloves. Production for and deliveries on orders of the U. S. Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration shall not be included in computing the above percentage.

(2) The War Production Board may from time to time establish minimum quantities of specific types of work gloves that each manufacturer of work gloves shall be required to produce.

(3) The War Production Board may from time to time establish percentages with respect to the maximum amount of rated orders that each manufacturer of work gloves is required to accept and fill, and the minimum amount of work gloves that each manufacturer must deliver on or set aside for delivery on rated orders.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Reports. Each manufacturer of gloves shall report monthly his production and deliveries of work gloves on WPB Form 3548. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed in writing, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing, and Leather Bureau, Washington (25), D. C., Reference M-375.

Issued this 12th day of May 1944.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Allocation Order M-340 as Amended May 12, 1944]

MISCELLANEOUS CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of the chemicals subject to this order for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.491 Allocation Order M-340—(a) Definitions. (1) "Subject chemical" means any chemical listed in Appendix A, as therein defined.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any subject chemical and includes a person who imports any subject chemical or has it produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who buys any subject chemical for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall deliver a subject chemical to any person except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board. No person shall accept delivery of a subject chemical which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorization or directions as to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB-2947 (formerly PD-602) which is to be filed by the supplier with War Production Board as explained in paragraph (g) below.

(3) If a supplier is authorized or directed by War Production Board to deliver a subject chemical to any specific customer or group of customers, but is unable to make the delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation or otherwise, the subject chemical shall revert to inventory, and shall not be delivered, or used, without further instructions.

(c) Exceptions for small deliveries. (1) Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of a subject chemical in a quantity not exceeding the quantity stated in Column 3 of Appendix B.

(2) The aggregate quantity of a subject chemical which any supplier may deliver in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), shall not exceed:

(i) The quantity which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix D, to deliver on small orders; or

(ii) If he is a distributor, the quantity which he acquired upon certification that it was required to fill small orders or the quantity which he acquired himself on such a small order, or

(iii) If he is a distributor who customarily delivers exclusively on small orders, any quantity.

(d) Exceptions for deliveries for other reasons. Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery of a subject chemical by any supplier to any other person for a purpose stated in Column 4 of Appendix B.

(e) Restrictions on use. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall use a subject chemical except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(2) Each person who with an order for a subject chemical furnishes a certificate required by paragraph (f) shall use the subject chemical delivered on such order only as specified on such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) War Production Board may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of a subject chemical to be delivered to, or then in inventory of the prospective user.

(f) Supplier to obtain from customer a certificate of use. No supplier shall in any calendar month (beginning in the case of each subject chemical with the calendar month in which the order becomes effective as to that chemical as stated in Appendix A) deliver to any person a greater quantity of such subject chemical than is stated in Column 3 of Appendix B unless he shall have received from such person a certificate as to the use for which such person is ordering such subject chemical. Such certificate shall be substantially in the form and shall be subject to the instructions stated in Appendix C and shall be in the hands of the supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver a subject chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe he may rely on the certificate

(g) Applications by suppliers for leave to deliver or use. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, a subject chemical during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. The application should be made on Form WPB-2947 (formerly PD-602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix D. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

BITUMINOUS COAL DELIVERED FROM MINE OR PREPARATION PLANT

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 120 includes Amendment 97, which amendment is effective March 16, 1944 with certain exceptions in §§ 1340.219 (b) and 1340.222 (b) as indicated by notes. The text added or amended by Amendment 97 is underscored with the exception of redesignations, deletions and changes in tables, which are indicated by notes.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of bituminous coal are threatening to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of bituminous coal prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. At the request of the Price Administrator the Bituminous Coal Division, United States Department of the Interior, has cooperated with the Price Administrator in the formulation of the maximum prices established by this regulation in accordance with the arrangement effectuated by the letters, dated March 9 and March 13, exchanged between the Price Administrator and the Secretary of the Interior. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected and have been previously promulgated and their use lawfully required by another Government agency.

[Preamble amended by Am. 62, 8 F.R. 12557, effective 9–11–43]

§ 1340.203 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

§ 1340.204 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to bituminous coal alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by the making of excessive charges for trucking or otherwise.

§ 1340.205 Records and reports. (a) Every producer and distributor making a sale of bituminous coal and every person making a purchase of bituminous coal from a producer or distributor in the course of trade or business, on and after May 18, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and of the person making the sale, the size, brand or trade name and quantity of the bituminous coal sold or purchased together with the name of the mine at which it originated and the mine index number of such mine; the method of transportation employed in the delivery thereof, and the price received or paid therefor.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 16, 7 F.R. 6272, effective 8–17–42]

(b) Not later than June 1, 1942, every producer and distributor of bituminous coal shall file with the Bituminous Coal Division, United States Department of the Interior, Washington, D. (c) Persons affected by Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 shall submit such other reports and keep such other records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

(d) Persons subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 shall not be required to observe the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1499.13 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[5]

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 16, 7 F.R. 6272, effective 8–17–42]

(e) Except where previously filed with the Bituminous Coal Division, every producer operating any mine the daily average capacity of which exceeds 50 net tons, shall for such mine file with the Solid Fuels Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., Form B. C. D. Nos. 288 and 350, issued by the Bituminous Coal Division, for each of the months April to July, 1943, inclusive.

Every producer for each such mine shall also file with the Solid Fuels Branch, OPA Form No. 653•499—Report of Operating Data Bituminous Coal Mines, issued by the Office of Price Administration, for the month of August 1943, and for each month thereafter, within thirty days after the close of the month for which the form is filed.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 60, 8 F.R. 11755, effective 8–23–43; amended by Am. 65, 8 F.R. 13175, effective 10–1–43]

§ 1340.206 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

C.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8–21–43]

§ 1340.206a Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[6] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[§ 1340.206a added by Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43]

§ 1340.207 Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment. (a) The Administrator may by order grant an adjustment of maximum prices to any producer who shows to the satisfaction of the Administrator that the sale of its mine's entire production at the maximum prices would return a realization less than the mine's representative costs of production.

(b) Any person seeking relief, for which no provision is made in the foregoing paragraphs of this section, from a maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 may present the special circumstances of his case in an application for an order of adjustment. Such an application shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 as amended, and shall set forth the facts relating to the hardship to which such maximum price subjects the applicant, together with a statement of the reasons why he believes that the granting of relief in his case and in all like cases will not defeat or impair the policy of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 to eliminate the danger of inflation. No application for adjustment filed after November 25, 1942, will be granted under this paragraph (b). But an application may be granted if filed prior to December 31, 1943 and if based upon hardship resulting from the fact that minimum prices established and in effect as of 12:01 a. m. August 24, 1943 by the Bituminous Coal Division prior to the expiration of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, were higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 69, 8 F.R. 14560, effective 10–30–43]

(c) The Office of Price Administration or any regional office thereof after clearance with the Solid Fuels Branch in Washington, D. C., may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation for bituminous coal in the case of any producer with a capacity of less than 50 tons a day or group of such producers when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of bituminous coal which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such producer and of like producers for such bituminous coal; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

[6] 8 F.R. 13240.

(d) (1) In petitions filed pursuant to the provisions of this § 1340.207, the petitioner should submit and the Office of Price Administration will consider all relevant cost and realization data and the necessity, in terms of the war effort, for the granting of such adjustment or exception. Where cost of production varies from month to month or does not conform to average cost as indicated by monthly reports filed with the Bituminous Coal Division prior to 12:01 a. m., August 24, 1943, petitioner must indicate which cost is regarded as representative and the reasons therefor, and also the reasons for the fluctuations.

(2) The Office of Price Administration may require in connection with any such application, filed under the provisions of this section, full data on costs, profits and other relevant factors. Applications for adjustment or exception pursuant to this § 1340.207 shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

The prices so established may be the same prices as are provided for similar deliveries made subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 or they may be such as will avoid diversions of supply which would disrupt an orderly pattern of distribution of coals in that area and areas nearby.

[Former § 1340.209 revoked by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8-21-43; new § 1340.209 added by Am. 71, 8 F.R. 15455, effective 11-15-43]

(1) Where the effective minimum price now or hereafter established by the Bituminous Coal Division for any shipment of coals to any particular destination or market area or for any particular use, or for movement by any particular method of transportation is higher than the maximum price provided in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 for such a shipment, the particular shipment may be made at not more than the applicable minimum price, in effect midnight, August 23, 1943: Provided, That no such shipments shall be made after December 31, 1943 at higher than the maximum price established by this regulation, except that such shipments may be made until April 30, 1944 if the coal is produced in District Nos. 8, 19 and 20.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8-21-43; Am. 70, 8 F.R. 15256, effective 10-30-43; Am. 80, 9 F.R. 794, effective 1-26-44; and Am. 90, 9 F.R. 2237, effective 3-2-44]

(2) The maximum prices established herein apply to all sales by a producer or a distributor at, or for delivery from, a mine or a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of a mine or mines to destinations in Continental United States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia and the Dominion of Canada: Provided however, That subject to such future regulation as may be appropriate, the maximum prices established herein shall not apply to the resale of United States bituminous coal by Canadian distributors who import such coal from the United States into the Dominion of Canada and resell it for consumption in the Dominion of Canada: And provided further, That maximum prices established herein do not apply to the sales of any bituminous coal for direct use as bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters or at tidewater as defined in § 1340.308 (a) (5) and (6) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 189, and set forth in § 1340.201, above. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 shall apply, however, to the sale or delivery of bituminous coal to another person who resells the same for use as bunker fuel, even though the resale by such other person may be subject to the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 189, Bituminous Coal Sold for Direct Use as Bunker Fuel, except that, where a supplier of bunker fuel does not have such fuel readily available (in storage or transportation facilities) to fuel a vessel at a particular port, and purchases the same from another bunker supplier who has such fuel available at that port, the sale by each supplier shall be subject to the maximum prices applicable under Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 to a direct sale by the particular supplier to the vessel in question.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 12, 7 F.R. 5835, effective 8-1-42; Am. 19, 7 F.R. 6744, effective 8-29-42; Am. 55, 8 F.R. 8504, effective 6-18-43; and Am. 69, 8 F.R. 14560, effective 10-30-43]

(3) All designations or definitions of classifications, price groups, size groups, mine index numbers, mine names, freight origin group numbers, subdistricts, seams, market areas, and other terms used in § 1340.212 to 1340.233 (Appendices A to V, inclusive) and in any order or authority issued under this regulation since May 18, 1942, are, unless otherwise specifically provided, the same designations or definitions of such matters set forth in the schedules of effective minimum prices for the same district, as established by the Bituminous Coal Division and as in effect midnight, August 23, 1943. References to classifications, price groups and size groups in §1340.212 to 1340.233 (Appendices A to V, inclusive) are to classifications, price groups and size groups in the schedule of effective minimum prices for the same district in respect to coal shipped all-rail for general commercial use, unless otherwise specifically noted. Thus, special classifications or size groups in the schedule of effective minimum prices for coal moving to a special use or by a particular method of transportation are not applicable, unless otherwise specifically stated.

In addition to references to minimum prices which were in effect on April 1, 1942, and October 1, 1942, wherever a minimum price is a necessary element in the determination of a maximum price established by this Regulation, then such minimum price as established by the Bituminous Coal Division and effective as of midnight, August 23, 1943, is hereby adopted for such purpose.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8-21-43; and Am. 78, 9 F.R. 573, effective 1-18-44]

(4) Where bituminous coal is delivered from a mine or preparation plant in any transportation facilities owned or subject to the control of the producer or a distributor or subsidiary or affiliate of the producer or distributor, or in any transportation facilities hired by the producer or a distributor, there may be added to the applicable maximum prices established herein a sum not in excess of the actual transportation costs incurred, determined in a reasonable manner, but in no event to exceed the lowest common carrier rate for a haul between the same points: Provided, That where deliveries are made in river transportation facilities owned or subject to the control of the producer or distributor, or a subsidiary or affiliate of the producer or distributor, via the Kanawha and/or Ohio Rivers and from mines or preparation plants located in District No. 8, there may be added to the applicable maximum price established herein a sum not in excess of the average charge made by the producer or distributor concerned, or by his subsidiary or affiliate during October 1941 for the same transportation service, or, in the case of a service which was not supplied in October 1941, the offering price therefor in October 1941: And provided further, That there may also be added by a producer or distributor, to the applicable maximum price established herein, an amount not in excess of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 if said producer or distributor incurred such tax, and if he separately states the amount of the tax in sales to all purchasers except the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, any state government or any political subdivision thereof.

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 8, 7 F.R. 5059, effective 7-2-42; Am. 20, 7 F.R. 6896, effective 5-18-42; Am. 27, 7 F.R. 10470, effective 12-1-42; Am. 61, 8 F.R. 12659, effective 9-20-43; and Am. 78, 9 F.R. 573, effective 1-18-44]

(5) In the event of the mixture of two or more sizes or classifications of coal to which different maximum prices are applicable, the maximum price for such mixture shall be not more than the weighted average of the maximum prices for each of the component sizes or classifications of coal in said mixture, on a per net ton basis.

(6) Prior to the sale of bituminous coal for which price classifications or maximum prices have not been established, the producer thereof shall file with the Price Administrator an application for specific maximum prices or price classifications, or both. The producer shall state the mine index number, if any, and the classifications, if any, assigned by the Bituminous Coal Division to the mine and coals involved, along with the name, location and mine index number of the nearest mine in the same seam, the coals of which are classified and sold subject to specific maximum prices, along with such classifications and prices. If there is no such mine in the same seam, the same comparative information shall be given for the nearest mine in a substantially similar seam.

For thirty days after filing the application, such coals shall be sold at temporary maximum prices no higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation for the coals which are produced at the nearest mine in the same seam or in a substantially similar seam and which are classified and sold subject to specific maximum prices. After thirty days from the filing of the application, if no prior action has been taken by the Price Administrator, the classifications and prices as requested in the application shall be the classifications or maximum prices, or both, for such coals.

(7) If no specific maximum price is established for a particular size of coal, the maximum price therefor shall be determined as follows:

(i) If the particular unpriced size is a lump size, the maximum price shall be not more than the lowest maximum price established for any size of lump coal for the same mine.

(ii) If the particular unpriced size is a double screened coal, the maximum price shall be not more than the lowest maximum price established for any double screened size of the same mine.

(iii) If the particular unpriced size is a resultant (slack or screening) size, the maximum price shall be not more than the lowest maximum price for any resultant (slack or screening) size of the same mine.

(8) (i) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this section or in §§ 1340.212 to 1340.233, inclusive, (Appendices A to V, inclusive) wherever lump, double screened coal, or mine-run coals (and coals of the same size group as mine-run coals) are crushed, the applicable maximum price shall be the maximum price for the size to which the coal is crushed, irrespective of whether the crushing is done by the producer for his own account or for the buyer's account.

(ii) Where a higher maximum price than is above provided for crushed coals is necessary to maintain or increase essential production of resultant screening sizes, a producer may file an application containing the information hereinafter set forth, requesting permission from the Office of Price Administration to sell crushed coal at straight run-of-mine prices. An original and two copies of such application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Solid Fuels Branch, Washington, D. C. Immediately upon such filing, the producer has permission to charge maximum prices for crushed coal as is hereinafter provided. Such permission will terminate for failure to file the monthly reports as required in § 1340.210 (a) (8) (iv), below, or may be terminated at any time in the discretion of the Administrator. On deliveries of bituminous coal made after such filing, (a) where the applicant's lump coals, double screened coals, or mine-run coals (and coals of the same size group as mine-run coals) are mechanically crushed to sizes normally sold by the applicant as screenings, and such resultant sizes are not screened, altered or modified (exclusive of mechanical cleaning or preparation), the maximum price applicable thereto shall be the maximum price for the coal produced at the mine involved which is classified as straight run-of-mine coal; (b) where mine-run coals

(and coals of the same size group as mine-run coal) are separated into two or more sizes and only the larger sizes are crushed, the smaller uncrushed sizes shall have the maximum price established under this regulation for the particular sizes involved; but if such smaller uncrushed sizes are re-assembled with the crushed sizes and shipped as re-assembled, the maximum price applicable to such re-assembled product shall be the maximum price for that coal produced at the mine involved which is classified as straight run-of-mine coal.

(iii) Such application shall include, in affidavit form:

(a) A complete identification of the applicant, including business name and address, mine name, mine index number, and number of producing district;

(b) A statement of the manner in which the requested permission will facilitate the economical and efficient production of slacks or screenings.

(c) For each month from October 1, 1941 to and including the month prior to the month when the application is filed, a statement of:

[Subparagraph (8) amended by Am. 22, 7 F.R. 7670, 7914, effective 9–26–42 and Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8–21–43]

(9) The rate of interest on overdue accounts or on a note, trade acceptance or other form of indebtedness accepted in payment of an account shall not exceed the rate charged by the seller on similar transactions during the period of October 1–15, 1941, inclusive.

[Subparagraph (9) amended by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8–21–43]

(10) The charges made for any special service, including (specifically but not exclusively) calcium chloride treatment, specially prepared sizes, split cars (containing more than one size), box car loading, truck loading from pockets at the mine, bags and bagging, and the making of local or retail deliveries from the mine or preparation plant, shall not exceed the charges made for the same service during the period October 1–October 15, 1941, inclusive, except as is otherwise provided in subdivisions (i) and (ii) below.

No person may pay and no person may receive a service charge over the maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation for the services rendered in the obtaining of supplies of coal or in handling shipments of coal by water unless the Administrator grants permission in writing to do so. Provision is made in subdivisions (i) and (ii) below for the obtaining of such permission; subdivision (i) states how and by what persons such permission may be obtained with regard to shipments other than those by lake and tidewater and subdivision (ii) states the same with regard to lake and tidewater shipments.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 87]

(i) With regard to shipments other than those by lake and tidewater a distributor may obtain such permission where the requirements of (a) below are met by filing two copies of a signed application containing the information required in (b) below with the Solid Fuels Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(a) Conditions under which permission to pay a service charge will not be granted. In no event will a service charge be permitted to be paid or received where:

(1) The distributor is or at any time since May 18, 1942 has been related to the producer or his sales agent directly or indirectly by ownership control or affiliation of any kind.

(2) In general the tonnage requirements of the person desiring to purchase from the distributor exceed 10,000 net tons per year, or the situation of the customer is such that the services of a distributor are not required.

(3) The coal to be procured by the distributor will be obtained from the same mine or the same producer or an affiliate of the same producer as the mine, producer or affiliate which supplied the customer of the distributor at any time since May 18, 1942. This condition shall not, however, be applicable where the customer of the distributor is operating a manufacturing plant which was converted from oil to coal since January 1, 1942 and such customer has since that date been supplied coal by a distributor, or where the customer of the distributor is in New England and is now receiving via all-rail transportation part or all of the coal requirements he formerly received by tidewater or where the customer's requirements are supplied by a distributor under a direction issued by the Solid Fuels Administration for War.

(b) Information which the distributor's application should contain. A signed application filed in duplicate with the Solid Fuels Branch shall disclose:

(1) The kind, size, tonnage, distributor's f. o. b. mine purchase price of coal which the customer of the distributor needs, the service charge the distributor proposes to make and to which the customer agrees, and the method of shipment of the coal.

(2) A brief statement of the kind, size and tonnage of coal as well as total tonnage purchased by the customer of the distributor since January 1, 1943 from each source of supply together with the name and address of each supplier. The source of supply shall be identified as producer or distributor and by the names, mine index numbers of, and the producing district in which the mines from which the coals are to be shipped are located.

(3) A brief statement as to why applicant's services are necessary to his customer in the proposed transaction.

(4) A statement from the distributor's customer that it will not base any request for an increase in its maximum price for any commodity or service in whole or in part upon the added cost of the service charge and if customer is a reseller of coal subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 that it understands that the service charge it proposes to pay to the distributor may not be added to its maximum price in the resale of the coal and if customer is a person eligible for compensation under Revised Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1 such service charge shall not be included in the current delivered cost of coal.

(c) Records to be kept by the distributor receiving permission to make a service charge. If such permission to make a service charge is granted, the distributor making such service charge shall maintain records for the effective period of this subdivision (i) in connection with any transaction on which such a service charge is made. The records shall disclose:

(1) The distributor's source of coal supply, including the name and address of each supplier, an identification of these suppliers as distributor or producer and the names, mine index numbers of, and the producing district in which the mines from which the coals are to be shipped are located.

(2) The tonnage of coal shipped the customer, maximum f. o. b. mine price; the purchase price the distributor paid f. o. b. the mine; the amount and kind of all special service charges made in the sale of the coal by the producer and distributor and the amount of the service charge made by the distributor under the Administrator's authorization granted pursuant to this subdivision (i).

(d) Permission to pay a service charge of not more than 17 cents per net ton may be granted by the Administrator by letter or telegram with respect to individual transactions on transactions of a continuing nature for either individual distributors or groups of distributors. In all cases the amount of the service charge shall be separately identified in the invoice for the coal.

[Subparagraph (i) added, former (i) redesignated (ii) by Am. 87, 9 F.R. 1905, effective 2–23–44]

(ii) The following special rule shall govern the compensation for distributors' service rendered in connection with lake or tidewater shipments of bituminous coal:

(a) Services rendered by a distributor in connection with bituminous coal shipments by lake or tidewater (e. g. assembling cargoes, chartering vessels, etc.) shall be deemed to constitute special services within the meaning of this paragraph, only if:

(1) The service charge does not exceed the weighted average of service charges made by him during October 1941 for similar transactions (e. g. for similar f. a. s., or f. o. b. dock or f. o. b. vessel transactions, as the case may be), or (if he had no similar transactions during that month) does not exceed the service charge which has been authorized pursuant to this subparagraph (10) (i) for similar transactions of a competing distributor.

(2) The distributor has filed with the Office of Price Administration, Solid Fuels Branch, Washington, D. C., two copies of an application for permission to make a service charge for such transactions and has received such permission, and

(3) The distributor separately identifies in his invoice the amount of the service charge authorized pursuant to this paragraph.

(b) The Office of Price Administration may approve, reject or modify a service charge proposed in an application filed pursuant to this paragraph (10) (i); approval shall be effective for all similar transactions of the applicant. Such application shall include on a form copied from the sample Form reproduced below:

(1) The purchase costs (showing discounts, allowances, or commissions), resale prices and service charges in October 1941 for the tonnages involved, such tonnages to be specifically identified by origin, grade, size, and name and address of persons from whom purchased; and the type of transaction (e. g., f. a. s., f. o. b. dock, f. o. b. vessel), and the capacity in which each transaction was handled by the applicant and the person selling to him;

(2) The weighted average service charge per ton for each type of transaction; and

(3) A breakdown, for each type of transaction, of the service elements involved in the total service rendered, together with a cents-per-ton allocation, insofar as practicable, of the total service-charge to each such service element:

[Subparagraph (10) amended by Am. 46, 8 F.R. 2873, effective 3–6–43 and as otherwise noted.]

(11) Any distributor selling smithing coal for shipment direct from the mine to the purchaser may add to the maximum prices established for such coal in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 an amount not in excess of the weighted average margin realized by such distributor on similar sales or deliveries of smithing coal during the period October 1 to December 31, 1941. If such distributor made no sales or deliveries of smithing coal during said period then such distributor may use the weighted average margin realized during the next preceding three months' period in 1941 in which such sales were made. Such weighted average margin shall be determined by subtracting the average purchase price f. o. b. mine, weighted by tonnage, paid by such distributor for the smithing coal so sold or delivered by him in the period October 1 to December 31, 1941 from the average sale price, weighted by tonnage, but exclusive of transportation costs, which he received therefor: Provided, That not later than September 7, 1942, each distributor of smithing coal shall report the average margin obtained on sales of smithing coal during the period October 1 to December 31, 1941, determined in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph (a) (11) of § 1340.210 to the Bituminous Coal Division of the Department of the Interior of the United States at 734 Fifteenth Street NW., Washington, D. C.

[Subparagraph (11) added by Am. 11, 7 F.R. 5827, effective 7-27-42; amended by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 11689, effective 8-21-43]

(12) Any amounts which by order or amendment are permitted to be added to maximum prices cannot be added to Bituminous Coal Division minimum prices which are higher than maximum prices and which may be charged under § 1340.210 (a) (1) or § 1340.226 (b) (1) (i).

(13) Any purchaser, lessee, or transferee of a mine for which maximum prices or price classifications have been established will take the maximum prices or price classifications previously assigned to the mine or to the seller, lessor, or transferor thereof.

(14) A producer may receive a direction from the Solid Fuels Administration for War requiring him to rescreen his mine's "resultant coals" to increase production of double screened coals. "Resultant coals", as used in this paragraph (14), refers to coals which were given the same price classification and permitted to be sold at the same minimum price as mine run coals under the minimum price schedules for the respective producing Districts Nos. 1 and 3 through 8, except that, as to high volatile coals produced in Districts Nos. 7 and 8, the term refers also to coals in Size Group No. 17. The rescreening of "resultant coals" will result in an increase in the tonnage of screenings in excess of that normally produced by him at the mine involved in the direction. This paragraph (14) provides a formula for pricing such excess production of screenings for such mines if in any of Districts Nos. 1 and 3 through 8; it is not applicable to screenings normally produced; or to any increased production of screenings resulting from causes other than compliance with the direction, or to a mine in any other District.

If the producer complies with the direction in whole or in part and if compliance requires a change in his screening practices from those in effect at the mine prior to such compliance, the increase in production of screenings may be sold at no more than the applicable maximum price plus an amount necessary to return to the mine the total realization which the mine would have obtained on sale at maximum prices of the original "resultant coals"; except, that where the maximum price for the double screened size is less than the maximum price for the "resultant coals", the latter price shall be the maximum price for both the double-screened coals and the screenings: Provided, That the producer shall have reported the following information to the Solid Fuels Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. before selling screenings at maximum prices computed under this paragraph (14):

First. The number of the direction of the Solid Fuels Administration for War;

Second. The tonnages of double screened sizes and screenings, if any, shipped from each mine involved in the direction during each of the three calendar months immediately preceding the month in which the direction was received;

Third. The tonnages of double screened coals, apart from the direction, which the producer has committed himself to ship from each mine involved in the direction during the period in which the direction will be effective;

Fourth. An estimated percentage yield of double-screened coals obtainable from the mine's original "resultant coals", along with the top size of such "resultant coals";

Fifth. The maximum price applicable to the mine's "resultant coals," and to its double screened coals and screenings computed without the benefit of this paragraph (14);

and,

Provided, however, That the producer shall report within 20 days after the end of the effective period of the direction the total tonnages of double-screened coals and the excess tonnage of screenings produced in compliance with the direction, and the amount by which the maximum prices of the latter were increased, and

Provided, further, That the producer, when computing a price for screenings or double screened sizes or both under this paragraph, shall state on his invoice that he has computed his maximum price for the coals involved under § 1340.210 (a) (14) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 120.

[Subparagraph (14) added by Am. 82, 9 F.R. 1181, 2237, effective when the first direction to increase production of double-screened coals is issued by Solid Fuels Administration for War but not later than February 5, 1944 nor before January 30, 1944]

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of special packing expenses to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(15) There may be added to the applicable maximum price, the amount of any sales, gross receipts, gross proceeds or use tax, levied by any statute or ordinance, under which the tax is measured by gross proceeds or units of sale, only if the statute or ordinance permits or requires the seller to state the tax separately and the seller does state it separately on his invoice or other memorandum of sale.

[Subparagraph (15) added by Am. 97, effective 5-16-44]

§ 1340.211 Effective date of Maximum Price Regulation No. 120. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 (§§ 1340.201 to 1340.233, inclusive) shall become effective May 18, 1942. [MPR 120 originally issued April 28, 1942]

(b) Mines within Freight Origin Groups 61, 63, 64, 123, 124, 128, 150 may ship coal to the C & O Railway Company, screened to order, for use for all on-line railroad fuel uses at the maximum price for run of mine coals: Provided, That within a period of time, previously specified in a single purchase order or contract, but not in excess of 12 months, the shipments of any size of coal which will pass through a 2¾" round hole screen shall not exceed the amount specified in the single purchase order or contract which shall be based upon the previously determined screening percentages of the mine or mines involved. The Solid Fuels Branch of the Office of Price Administration shall be notified of the screening percentage determination in effect as of March 24, 1944, for all mines and as redetermined or established from time to time.

The maximum price for the excess coal over the determined percentage passing through a 2¾" round hole screen shall be the maximum price for the actual size and grade shipped.

Purchase orders or contracts shall apply to a specific producer and to one mine in order that percentages of plus and minus 2¾ inch coal supplied on the order or contract will be related to the percentages of such sizes actually being produced. Provided, however, That any producer with two or more mines may fulfill a single purchase order or contract from any or all of his mines where the screening percentages are the same and where the mines maximum prices are the same or the purchase price is based on the mine with the lowest maximum price.

Each producer or his agent and each distributor selling coal at prices computed under this subparagraph shall state on all his invoices that the price charged has been computed under § 1340.219 (b) (1) (ii) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 120.

PART 1340—FUEL

MISCELLANEOUS SOLID FUELS DELIVERED FROM PRODUCING FACILITIES

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 121 includes Amendment 31, effective May 16, 1944. The text added by Amendment 31 is underscored.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of miscellaneous solid fuels are threatening to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has given due consideration to the prices of miscellaneous solid fuels prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1340.241 to 1340.250a, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

§ 1340.241 Maximum prices for miscellaneous solid fuels delivered from producing facilities. On and after May 18, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no person who is a producer or a distributor of miscellaneous solid fuels shall sell or dispose of miscellaneous solid fuels, at or for delivery from a mine or preparation plant operated as an adjunct of a mine or mines, or briquette plant, and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive miscellaneous solid fuels so delivered, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof; incorporated herein as § 1340.249; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of miscellaneous solid fuels to a purchaser, if prior to May 18, 1942, such solid fuel had been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

§ 1340.243 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

[§ 1340.243 amended by Am. 18, 8 F.R. 8065, effective 6-18-43]

§ 1340.244 Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to miscellaneous solid fuels, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 shall not be evaded by deterioration in the quality of miscellaneous solid fuels, in the form of substitution of a lower quality solid fuel for a higher quality product, or otherwise.

§ 1340.245 Records and reports. (a) On and after May 18, 1942, every producer and distributor making a sale of any miscellaneous solid fuel and every person making a purchase of miscellaneous solid fuels from a producer or distributor in the course of trade or business shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase, showing the date thereof; the name and address of the buyer and seller; the size, kind, quality, brand or trade name and quantity of the solid fuel sold, together with the name of the mine or plant at which it originated, the method of transportation employed in the delivery thereof; and the price paid or received therefor.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6002, effective 8-5-42]

(b) Not later than June 1, 1942, except where additional time may be granted by the Office of Price Administration in individual cases, every producer and distributor of miscellaneous solid fuels shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., a statement setting forth:

(c) Persons affected by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records as it may from time to time require.

(d) Persons subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 shall not be required to observe the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1499.13 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[4]

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6002, effective 8-5-42]

§ 1340.247a Applications for adjustment. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 121 in the following cases:

(a) In the case of any seller of miscellaneous solid fuels who shows:

(1) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of miscellaneous solid fuels; and

(2) Establishing for him a maximum price, bearing a normal relationship to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of miscellaneous solid fuels, will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices of miscellaneous solid fuels.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942, will be granted under this paragraph (a).

(b) In the case of any seller of miscellaneous solid fuels when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a miscellaneous solid fuel which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such miscellaneous solid fuel; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Each regional administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustments under this paragraph (b).

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 16, 8 F.R. 6957, effective 5-24-43]

(c) The Office of Price Administration, or any regional office thereof, after clearance with the Solid Fuels Branch in Washington, D. C., may by order grant an adjustment of maximum prices to any producer of a miscellaneous solid fuel, when it is established that the sale of its mine's or plant's entire production at existing maximum prices would not return a realization equal to its total costs of production.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 16, 8 F.R. 6957, effective 5-24-43; and amended by Am. 20, 8 F.R. 10358, effective 7-28-43]

(d) In connection with any application for adjustment filed under the provisions of this section, full data on costs, profits, price history and other relevant factors are required. The following forms must be used for filing the required data. Applicants operating a mine must use OPA Form No. 653-331, applicants operating a briquette or packaged fuel plant must use OPA Form No. 653-330. Two copies of each form used must be filed with each application. Copies of these forms may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration or any regional office thereof.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 16, 8 F.R. 6957, effective 5-24-43; amended by Am. 20, 8 F.R. 10358, effective 7-28-43; Am. 26, 8 F.R. 16662, effective 12-8-43; and Am. 27, 9 F.R. 455, effective 1-11-44]

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 16, 8 F.R. 6957, effective 5-24-43]

[§ 1340.247a added by Am. 3, 7 F.R. 5041, effective 7-31-42; and amended by Am. 7, 7 F.R. 8521, effective 10-20-42; Am. 8, 7 F.R. 8938, effective 11-4-42; and as otherwise noted]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 4087, 5665; 8 F.R. 6173, 6174) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Revised Supplementary Order No. 9 (8 F.R. 6175) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, excepting those which expressly prohibit such applications and certain specific regulations listed in Revised Supplementary Order No. 9.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1340.247b Provision for specific ceiling prices. In establishing prices for solid fuels by an area ceiling order or where prices have been established by such an order issued under § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122[2] the Office of Price Administration or any regional office thereof may also establish maximum area prices for deliveries of miscellaneous solid fuels made subject to this regulation from a mine, adjunct preparation plant, briquette plant, or other producing facility, to consumers in the same area and also for services in connection with the preparation of such solid fuels and their delivery. The prices so established may be the same prices as are provided for similar deliveries made subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 or they may be such as will avoid diversions of supply which would disrupt an orderly pattern of distribution of coals in that area and areas nearby.

This "average price" shall be determined by dividing into the aggregate of the prices charged by such person during December 15–31, inclusive, 1941 (before the deduction of any allowances or discounts or the addition of any special service charges), the aggregate of the tonnage sold by such person during December 15–31, inclusive, 1941, on sales of:

(1) The same size, kind and quality of solid fuel;

(2) In similar quantities;

(3) To purchasers of the same general class (e. g. domestic, commercial, industrial);

(4) By the same method of delivery (e. g. truck, rail, etc.); and

(5) Under the same terms of delivery (e. g. delivered to purchaser or f. o. b. transportation facilities at the mine, preparation plant, or briquette plant, etc.).

[Subparagraph (2) added by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4483, effective 6-16-42; and revoked by Am. 23, 8 F.R. 12314, effective 9-10-43]

(3) If the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the maximum price for the sale of miscellaneous solid fuel by a producer or distributor shall be the price set by the Office of Price Administration in line with the level of maximum prices established for competitive miscellaneous solid fuels. The producer or distributor shall apply by letter to Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for the establishment of such a maximum price, setting forth (i) a description of the miscellaneous solid fuel for which a maximum price is to be established; (ii) the reasons why such price cannot otherwise be determined; (iii) the maximum price requested by the applicant and a detailed explanation of how such price was determined; and (iv) the reasons why the applicant believes such price to be in line with the level of maximum prices otherwise established for competitive miscellaneous solid fuels. The Office of Price Administration may require the applicant to furnish additional relevant information, if necessary, and may approve, disapprove, or make adjustments in the maximum price requested. Any maximum price established pursuant to this subparagraph (3) shall be subject to adjustment at any time.

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 19, 8 F.R. 9992, effective 7-16-43; and amended by Am. 23, 8 F.R. 12314, effective 9-10-43]

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 23, 8 F.R. 12314, effective 9-10-43]

(d) (1) A producer of briquettes or packaged fuel may redetermine his maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration and in effect on November 23, 1943 in the manner and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth:

(i) There may be added to the maximum price in effect on November 23, 1943 the increase in the cost of solid fuel, f. o. b. mine, preparation plant or producing facility used in the manufacture of briquettes or packaged fuel actually incurred by the producer on or after November 24, 1943, except where such price has been adjusted by order of a regional office of the Office of Price Administration and reflects such increase in the cost of solid fuel: Provided, That the increase in the cost of Pennsylvania anthracite f. o. b. mine or preparation plant used in the manufacture of briquettes or packaged fuel shall not exceed the sum of 50 cents per net ton.

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions the addition of extra packing expenses to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(ii) If a mixture of solid fuels is used in the manufacture of briquettes or packaged fuel the increase shall be determined according to the percentage of each solid fuel used in the mixture as computed on OPA Form No. 653-432, hereinafter set forth.

(iii) There must be deducted from the maximum price in effect on November 23, 1943, or as redetermined under this paragraph or former paragraph (d) (4) the exact amount of any decrease actually incurred by a producer in the cost of the solid fuel f.o.b. mine, preparation plant or producing facility, used in the manufacture of briquettes or packaged fuel, Provided however, a producer's maximum price need not be decreased if he incurs a decrease in the cost of solid fuel by reason of substituting a percentage of Pennsylvania anthracite in the mixture of solid fuels used in the manufacture of briquettes or packaged fuel where, prior to November 23, 1943, only bituminous coal fines were used.

[Proviso added by Am. 31, effective 5-16-44]

(iv) Each producer whose maximum price in effect on November 23, 1943 has been increased under the provisions of this paragraph (d) (1) or former paragraph (d) (4) of this section as in effect prior to January 11, 1944, must report his redetermined maximum price and his method of computation on OPA Form 653-432 set forth below. The completed forms must be filed in duplicate with the Office of Price Administration on or before February 29, 1944, or within 30 days after a producer has redetermined his maximum price, whichever period is longer. Such report must be filed each time a producer redetermines his maximum price pursuant to this paragraph. Copies of these forms may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration or any regional or district office thereof.

PART I—INSTRUCTIONS

An original and one copy of this report must be filed with the Solid Fuels Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for each fuel (briquettes or packaged fuel) for which an increase in price is computed as a result of increased costs of solid fuel ingredients. The increase in price as computed on this schedule may be charged immediately after the schedule is filed, and will remain in effect unless later modified.

In Part IIA of this form list the kind and origin of each solid fuel used in making the product. In Columns 1 to 4 identify the solid fuel as to kind (anthracite, bituminous, coke, lignite, etc.), size and origin of the fuel. In Column 5 enter the percent of each kind of solid fuel used in the product; in Column 6 enter the F. O. B. mine or plant price per ton; and in Column 7 the cost of each solid fuel ingredient per ton of product. In Columns 8, 9, and 10 enter the current data for each fuel used in the product.

NOTE: Changes in solid fuel ingredients used may occur. The ingredients used previous to November 24, 1943, should be listed followed by the fuels used currently.

In Part IIB record the increase, or decrease, permitted by § 1340.249 (d).

In Part III record the increase, or decrease, as it affects the maximum price of the producer for each class of purchaser.

The list of methods of determining the original maximum prices is given below. This list is to be used in connection with Part III to indicate how your maximum prices were determined.

LIST OF METHODS OF DETERMINING ORIGINAL MAXIMUM PRICES

(a) Under paragraph (a) § 1340.249 of MPR 121, "The maximum price . . . shall be the price specified in the last price circular, list or schedule issued by such person on or before December 31, 1941, and in effect during any portion of the period December 15-31, inclusive, 1941."

(b) Under paragraph (b) "If the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraph (a) . . . the maximum price for the sale of miscellaneous solid fuel . . . shall be the 'average price' charged by the same person during the period December 15-31, inclusive, 1941."

(c) (1) Under paragraph (c) (1) "If the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a) or (b) the maximum price shall be the price of any other producer or distributor of miscellaneous solid fuel, as specified in any price circular, list or schedule issued prior to December 31, 1941, and in effect for any portion of the period December 15-31, 1941, inclusive."

(c) (2) Under paragraph (c) (2) if the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) (1) above, the maximum price shall be the price for the most similar sale of miscellaneous solid fuels.

Other. In addition to these four methods the maximum price may have been determined by an order. (Check Column 7 of Part III.)
